MAYOR CURLEY WELCOMES UNITED STATES CONFERENCE OF MAYORS IN CHICAGO — AS PRESIDENT OF ORGANIZATION HE GIVES OUTLINE OF ITS GROWTH, THE PURPOSES OF ITS FOUNDING, ITS ACCOMPLISHMENTS, AND PAYS HIGH TRIBUTE TO PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT AND CONGRESS FOR EFFORT AND SUCCESS IN SAVING MUNICIPALITIES FROM POSSIBLE BANKRUPTCY DURING DISTRESSING TIMES NOW DEPARTING.

Mayor Curley made the following address of welcome to the delegates of the United States Conference of Mayors who are assembled in Chicago at the Century of Progress Exposition:

It is an exceeding pleasure, as President of the United States Conference of Mayors of the major cities of the United States, to welcome the delegates here assembled in this magnificent monument, symbolic of the courage and progressive spirit of the citizenship of Chicago. This structure and the World's Fair now being conducted here are typical of the pioneering spirit of the women and men through whose undaunted courage and God-given vision, the great Western country with its virgin territory became a contributing factor in the development and enrichment of the American Republic.

This great enterprise, which today is attracting visitors from every portion of the world, was undertaken at a period in the life of the nation when the sky was overcast, when fear possessed the hearts of men, and when the dread specter of want and famine was in evidence in every portion of the land. The example of faith and fortitude furnished the nation by the citizenship of Chicago was a potential factor in the destruction of fear, the revival of hope, and the establishment of that confidence which is today manifest throughout the entire country through the genius and inspiring leadership of America's present great President, Franklin Delano Roosevelt.

First Appeals for Aid.

The mayors' conference was the outgrowth of a meeting held in Detroit in 1931, called by the then mayor, Frank Murphy, for the purpose of devising ways and means to protect the American people from starvation during the winter of 1931-1932. As a result of the initial meeting the President of the United States, Herbert Hoover, and the Congress were induced to enact legislation through which the people were safeguarded from famine. The recommendations of the committee at the initial meeting provided for $300,000,000 in direct aid to the cities, with $500,000,000 additional to meet maturing obligations, which, due to general unemployment and the inability of property owners to pay taxes, was imperatively required, and a further recommendation for a Public Works Program of five billions of dollars. The failure of Federal officials to make provision for the five billion dollar public works construction program was unquestionably responsible for the continuance of the depression, which in 1931 represented seven million men without employment in America and in 1932 more than ten million men without employment.

In 1932 a meeting was arranged in the capital city of the nation for the purpose of safeguarding the people during the winter of 1932-1933 and remedial legislation was enacted for the accomplishment of this most worthy and necessary purpose, but again the project for a major construction program failed to receive approval.

Shortly after President Roosevelt was inducted into office a third conference was held in Washington for the purpose of preventing the collapse of municipal government generally throughout the nation. Between August 1, 1932, and February 1, 1933, more than one thousand American cities were in a condition of insolvency with bankruptcy proceedings apparently the only method of relief, while three states of the Union were in a similar position. Legislation was sought through which municipalities unable to meet their maturing obligations might be permitted to secure relief through the bankruptcy courts in the same manner that is enjoyed by a private individual or corporation, and this relief was provided.

It was the contention of the municipal executives assembled at the Washington conference that the stability not alone of municipal structures, but of banking and business institutions, as well as the nation itself, was at stake, and the response of Congress to the appeal was most gratifying. The outlook for the American nation upon the day that President Roosevelt was inaugurated was one of the darkest ever witnessed in the history of the United States. Every banking institution was closed, the number of unemployed had increased to some thirteen million and the psychology of fear as to the future terrorized the most courageous of our citizenship.

President as Dictator.

With a realization of how feeble and futile man is without the aid of Almighty God, the President of the United States in his inaugural address, in his appeal for the guidance of Divine Providence in the discharge of his duties coupled with an appeal for the protection and well-being of the people of the nation, sounded a note, whose responsive chord inspired the people with the faith in him that has made possible the prosperity and progress during the past six months which is today reflected in a revival of industry and a reduction in the ranks of the unemployed. Recognizing his great ability as a leader, Congress has accorded him rights and privileges which no other president has been permitted to enjoy, making of him virtually a dictator of the destinies of the entire nation.

MAYOR CURLEY APPEALS FOR PUBLIC AID IN CHARITY BALL GAME TO BE PLAYED ON SEPTEMBER 27 BETWEEN BRAVES AND RED SOX TO AID IN WELFARE RELIEF WORK — CALLS ATTENTION TO BURDENS PLACED ON CITY BY DEPRESSION AND TASKS OF PRIVATE CHARITABLE ORGANIZATIONS DURING PAST FOUR YEARS — HOPES TO REALIZE $50,000 NEEDED FOR BALANCE OF YEAR.

Mayor Curley over WNAC on September 18 spoke, in part, as follows:

Friends of the Radio Audience.

One of the problems that the city has been obliged to contend with during the period of depression has resulted from the inability of private agencies to secure the necessary funds from philanthropic, public-spirited women and men that were required for the operation of those splendid functions to which they devoted time and attention for so many years.

In 1922 as a consequence of the inability to raise funds, it was necessary for the Child Hygiene Association to transfer the bulk of its activities to the City of Boston and the city has been conducting its activities since that time at a cost of about $140,000 a year. During the period of depression it has been necessary for private individuals, who formerly never hesitated to employ first-class physicians and specialists in the event of illness, to seek medical advice and assistance from the Boston City Hospital and municipal agencies generally.

As a consequence you have some idea of our problems when you realize that in 1932 the applications for admission for treatment, either as out-patients or as patients to be admitted to beds in the hospital, numbered 1,600 every day for the entire year of 1932, or some 600,000 persons, out of a total population of 780,000, and you can realize how much more difficult this task would have been at the hospital were it not for the extension of the George Robert White Fund health units, to which units somewhere in the vicinity of 1,000 persons repaired every day for advice and treatment or for aid of some character.

HOW BURDENS GREW.

Perhaps one of the heaviest burdens has been borne by our Institutions Department. The Institutions Department, under ordinary circumstances in ordinary times never was required to take care of more than 450 children. The number has grown with the breaking down of private charitable agencies until it reached the figure of 1,400 children.

From the period of from July, 1930, to October of 1932, the City of Boston was conducting an extension of the transit facilities at Governor square, which project provided employment for 1,500 men at a wage of from $5 to $15 per day for men who had served their country in the hour of need, the war veterans. Upon the completion of that work, within ninety days after the completion at least 70 per cent of these men, due to their inability to find work elsewhere, were again forced to seek the aid of the City of Boston.

There has been a tremendous improvement in Boston as a consequence of the N. R. A. and more particularly because of the courageous, and brilliant leadership of the present President, Franklin D. Roosevelt, since his assumption of office on the fourth day of March, but this has been more in evidence in the small cities and towns of the country than it has been in the capital cities of the country and so while the expenditures have fallen from 15 to 40 per cent in public welfare and soldiers' relief work in many of the cities and towns in the country, the decrease in Boston has been less than 4 per cent and as a matter of fact, at the present time, we find it necessary to provide for the requirements of somewhere in the vicinity of 118,000 men, women and children, or one in every seven of the entire city population.

Our soldiers' relief expenditures are now running at the rate of $1,000,000 for the full twelve-month period and provided the Governor's Emergency Finance Board will cooperate with President Roosevelt and the municipality, we can start work on the Huntington Avenue Subway and provide employment for three thousand men for a period of two or more years at a wage of from $5 to $15 per day, taking them off the public welfare and soldiers' relief rolls and giving them an opportunity to retain their self-respect, and earning a sufficient amount to provide for their necessities and an occasional luxury for the members of their families.

Now, then, anticipating some possible contingency which has arisen, we endeavored, at the beginning of the year, to cut down the expenditures of each municipal department almost to the vanishing point. Many of the departments were allotted less money for 1933 than was actually expended by them in 1929, or even in 1923, and yet with all of the economy it will be exceedingly difficult to save a sufficient sum of money to avoid doing that which I have no desire to do and which would only add to the misery of the community, and which I stated at the outset of the year that they either economize to the fullest extent or it might be necessary to suspend all city employees for one week during the last month of the year. Now, then, under those circumstances, with no desire to bring hardship to any city employee, it will be necessary, due in large part to the action of the Governor's Board in not permitting the extension of the Huntington Avenue Subway, we are confronted with a choice of either making up the necessary funds in some other direction or compelling the employees of the city to suffer as a consequence of the action of the Governor's Board.

CHARITY BALL GAME.

So arrangements have been made for a baseball game on Wednesday, September 27, at Braves Field, between the Braves and the Red Sox. This game is contributed voluntarily and gratis by the Red Sox and Braves management. They have agreed not only to give us the grounds but to pay for the policing of the grounds and the ticket sellers and to give us every dollar of revenue that is received as a consequence of the game. We are going to try to raise $50,000 in one day and if we succeed in doing that it will be possible for us to avoid, perhaps, a lay-off at the close of the year, and it will be possible for us to meet the mounting cost of public welfare and soldiers' relief in Boston.

We have succeeded in inducing the cooperation and securing the pledge of substantially every civic, military, fraternal and social organization in Boston. The program which has been arranged not only contemplates a championship ball game but in addition the representatives of all of the amusement enterprises in the city have agreed to send numbers from their program, and we anticipate there will be 100 first-class artists representing the theatrical profession. A tug of war match has been arranged between the Police Department and the Fire Department and the Public Works Department and the Park Department. We have secured the promise of Francis Ouimet, George Wright and Jesse Guilford. They will give an exhibition of golf driving and putting on that day. The various bands and drum corps of Boston have volunteered their services and we anticipate the Aleppo Temple Band in full uniform, and the Firemen's band to the number of 125. There will be relay races between the members of the Braves and Red Sox. We have secured the pledge of Harriet Smith, championship pitcher of the Hollywood Women's Baseball Team, and she will appear in shorts and give an exhibition of baseball pitching. There will also be an exhibition of baseball throwing by Josephine Lally, record holder for the longest baseball throw in the United States.

$50,000 FUND GOAL.

We would like to have everyone listening in to understand the purpose of this affair to be held on the 27th day of September. We are going to try to sell a sufficient number of tickets to net a revenue of $50,000. There is not one dollar to be expended for the services rendered by any individual. The Donnelly Advertising Company have agreed to provide the billboard posters gratis, the newspaper sport writers are to give their services without cost including the dean of Boston sport writers, James C. O'Leary. Also our good friend, Judge Fuchs who has been generous in every movement for the relief of the unemployed and needy of Boston, is likewise giving of time, talent, energy and even money to the success of this enterprise. It was Judge Fuchs, if you will recall, who, earlier in the winter season made possible sufficient money to start the penny luncheon that has been so successfully conducted by the Volunteers of America who have fed men and women to the number of 1,200 every day and who were given opportunity to secure first-class nourishing meals at a cost of 6 cents down to 1 cent. I sometimes wonder what would happen in a large city if there were not men of the type of Judge Fuchs and women of the type of Mrs. Duncan, whose hearts go out to the needy and whose thought is continuously devoted to making the lot just a little easier and a little happier, and so we ask everyone to assist in this great work.

We realize that the depression is about over and we are started on the high road to prosperity. It is probably the last call that the city will make this year for public assistance to make a success of any movement in which the city has been engaged. Kindly make reservations now by calling Laf. 1100, and help insure the success of this great entertainment program. It will be a sell out on the day of the event and we want everyone to come out and cheer these two teams and to have a day in the open with the sunshine and enjoy the best entertainment ever witnessed in the history of Boston.

CIRCULAR LETTER NO. 26.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,

BOSTON, September 19, 1933.

To the Heads of Departments.

GENTLEMEN,—You are hereby directed to grant leave of absence, without loss of pay, to employees of the city who are of Jewish faith, for their observance of the New Year upon Thursday, September 21 and Friday, September 22, and the Day of Atonement upon Saturday, September 30, 1933.

Respectfully,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

ADDRESS OF MAYOR CURLEY.

He has lived up to the fondest hopes of the American people and the success of the N. R. A. program as enunciated by him marks a new epoch in the life of the nation. Good women and men for more than a half-century have sought legislation, having for its purpose the emancipation of women and children in industry, but without any great measure of success.

We revere the memory of the great emancipator who represented this state in the Congress of the United States for that masterly leadership, which made possible the striking of the shackles from the black man without the loss of state to the Union or star to the flag. Succeeding generations will revere the memory of our present great leader. Franklin Delano Roosevelt, for his destruction of child slavery and the exploitation of women in industry; primarily, for the well-being of women and children, and, secondarily, for the added opportunities that will be created for the absorption of men in industry at a living wage, who prior to the abolition of child slavery were deprived of an opportunity for a livelihood in the richest country of the world.

The conference of Mayors of the United States assemble for the purpose of considering a program through which the success of the National Recovery Act may be insured. We recognize the necessity for safeguards in the proposed expenditure for public works of ten billion dollars by the nation and the subdivisions of the nation, and we likewise recognize that only through the vision and courage of Franklin Delano Roosevelt has this most potential asset to recovery, denied by his predecessor, been made possible by him.

We recognize that the need of the hour is to provide employment for those without opportunity for employment, and we likewise recognize that the great fundamental for the preservation of industrial prosperity is work and wages; that work and wages may be made possible for the people of America, we assemble to consider ways and means of foundationing the success of the N. R. A. recognizing that its success means a larger measure of happiness and comfort in the home and patriotism in the land, and so invoking divine guidance upon our deliberations and with a realization of their importance to the entire American people, I bid you welcome.

LOCATION OF STREETS.

The Mayor has approved the following votes of the Board of Street Commissioners:

Voted, That the location, direction, width and grade of the private way designated as Radford place, in the Hyde Park district, as shown on a plan approved in writing by the Board of Street Commissioners, and on file in the office of the Street Laying-Out Department, be, and the same hereby are, approved.

Voted, That the location, direction, width and grade of the private way, in the Dorchester district, designated as Ruskin road, from Thatcher street to Wood avenue, as shown on a plan approved in writing by the Board of Street Commissioners, and on file in the office of the Street Laying-Out Department, be, and the same hereby are, approved.

SUPPLY DEPARTMENT.

Boston, August 25, 1933.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,

Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—Bids were publicly opened for furnishing and equipping the new Pathological Building, Boston City Hospital, on July 7, 1933.

Under item No. 6 the Museum cases were awarded to Remington-Rand, Incorporated, the lowest bidder. To complete the installation, additional museum cases are required. Remington-Rand, Incorporated, inform me that if an order for the additional equipment is received before work is started on the original order for museum cases, the city may have the advantage of the original low price.

Therefore, I respectfully recommend that a contract be awarded to Remington-

Rand, Incorporated, without publicly advertising, for furnishing to the new Pathological Building, Boston City Hospital, the following:

Museum cases, with $\frac{3}{8}$ -inch glass shelves, as per specifications and blueprint, delivered and installed for a total net price of \$1,910.

POLICE RETURN BASEBALL TICKETS.

His Honor the Mayor on September 20, was informed through his office that the Police Department has returned, unsold, all the tickets recently transmitted to them for the charity baseball game to be held at Braves Field, upon Wednesday, September 27. He thereupon issued the following statement:

Last year the Police Department accepted five thousand tickets for the charity baseball game and sold 4,572. The refusal of the Police Commissioner now to cooperate because of his belief that the Police Department should not be required to sell tickets is but a flimsy pretext and an insult to the intelligence of the philanthropic women and men who are engaged in a splendid endeavor to raise funds for the relief of the needy of the city. It is to be regretted that the Police Commissioner refuses to co-operate.

FIRE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Order No. 34.

I. CHARITY BASEBALL GAME.

As has already been announced to the department, a baseball game, between the Braves and Red Sox, will be held at Braves Field on Wednesday, September 27, 1933. This game is being held under the personal direction of his Honor Mayor James M. Curley, with the generous assistance and cooperation of the Boston American and Boston National League Baseball Teams. Every dollar of the gross proceeds from the game will be given to the Unemployment Relief Fund of the City of Boston. No charges will be made by the Braves or the Red Sox either for the use of the field or the services of the clubs. In addition spectacular vaudeville acts of the highest quality will provide continuous entertainment until the game begins. The program being arranged is an unusually attractive one and the actors are giving their services free of charge. There will be plenty of action at Braves Field on Wednesday, September 27, 1933, from 11 a. m. until after the game. The Boston Fire Department Band and three other military bands are to participate in the program.

This attraction will give the City of Boston an opportunity to earn $50,000 which is equivalent to saving $50,000. The fullest cooperation is being given not only by the Red Sox and Braves, but also by newspaper writers, theaters, broadcasting stations, and many others outside of municipal and county personnel. The wholehearted support of every city employee is expected in order to make this event a wonderful financial success. It should be borne in mind that the City of Boston is one of the very few cities in the country which has met its pay roll without fail every week. This has been due to the judicious and intelligent management of the city's finances by his Honor the Mayor. His Honor has stated that this would be the last appeal of this character for funds for unemployment relief for the remainder of the year.

Within a few days representatives of the department will call upon every member of the department to interest him in the purchase of tickets. Every member should buy tickets and make it his business to interest his friends in purchasing tickets so that the Fire Department will make its usual good showing in the returns. The Mayor, the baseball clubs, the newspapers, the actors and others are doing their part. The Fire Department must and will do its part.

II. FIRE DEPARTMENT BAND.

There will be no meeting or rehearsal of the Fire Department Band this week.

The rescue was made by Hoseman Mullen after he had encountered hazardous and difficult conditions, particularly in view of the fact that entrance to the attic was heavily charged with smoke.

This case is referred to the Board of Merit for further consideration.

HISTORICAL DATA ABOUT WARDS.

The term "ward" first appears in a fire-protection order, approved by the Town on August 29, 1679, dividing the Town into 4 quarters with 2 wards each. The 8 wards had previously been military districts.

On August 11, 1713, the Selectmen "agreed upon a distribution of the Town into distinct Wards or Precincts."

On February 1, 1715, it was "voted to make a new division of the Town into eight distinct Wards."

On March 9, 1735, it was voted to divide the Town into 12 wards to facilitate the work of the Overseers of the Poor.

On March 13, 1822, the Selectmen divided the Town into 12 wards on the basis of the U. S. Census of 1820.

By an ordinance which took effect on the second Monday of December, 1838, there was a revision of the wards.

On April 29, 1850, the City Council accepted Chap. 167 of the Acts of 1850, which altered the wards on the basis of legal voters rather than on the number of inhabitants.

By ordinance taking effect on November 15, 1865 new ward lines were established.

In the annexation period, 1865-1875, the number of wards was increased from twelve to twenty-one.

By Chap. 243, Acts 1875, the City Council was ordered to cause a new division of the City into twenty-four wards in the year 1875 in such manner as to include an equal number of voters in each ward. This division was made, taking effect on December 13, 1875. On May 27, 1876, the City Council, in accordance with Chap. 242, Acts of 1876, divided one of the wards in two, making a total of 25 wards for the City.

By ordinance passed April 20, 1895, under authority of Chap. 437, Acts of 1888, and Section 96 of Chap. 417, Acts of 1893, ward lines were established on the basis of the number of voters registered at the City election of 1894, there still being 25 wards.

The annexation of Hyde Park, effective January 1, 1912, made an additional ward.

By enactment of December 28, 1914, under authority of Chap. 630, Acts of 1914, the City Council redivided the City into 26 wards.

The latest redivision, established December 30, 1924, under authority of Chap. 410, Acts of 1924, consists of 22 wards.

POLICE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Order No. 281.

Sergt. Herbert E. Schultz, Patrolmen Albert F. Clifford, James J. Mahoney and John F. Adams, all of Division 15, are commended in General Orders and each granted two days' additional vacation for efficient police duty performed in accomplishing the arrest of two men who had held up a lunch room at gun point in Charlestown on July 16, 1933.

The commissioner is pleased to recognize the zeal and perseverance shown by these officers in effecting the arrest of these dangerous characters.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

EUGENE C. HULTMAN,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 282.

FOR THE INFORMATION OF THE DEPARTMENT.

The members of the Memorial Committee, so far as now constituted, who have so kindly volunteered their services and co-operation, for the erection of a worthy monument in memory of the late Superintendent of Police Michael H. Crowley, which will serve as a memorial to departed comrades of the Boston Police Department, will consist of:

Hon. Herbert Parker, former Attorney General of Massachusetts.

Eliot Wadsworth, President, Boston Chamber of Commerce.

Charles F. Weed, Vice-President, First National Bank.

General Francis Peabody, lawyer.

General Samuel D. Parker, realtor.

John R. Macomber, banker.

William P. Long, Park Commissioner, City of Boston.

Other gentlemen, not yet available for conference, may be added to this number.

As the first feature of plans now in active course of development for the raising of funds for this Memorial, a carnival of athletic events will be presented to the public at the Boston Arena beginning at eight o'clock on the evening of September 21, 1933.

The carnival will be conducted by the Boston Arena and the net proceeds are to be entrusted to the Memorial Committee, who will have charge and control of the administration of the funds obtained and the selection of the location and form of the proposed Memorial. The meeting at the Arena will be, in fact, a splendid popular exhibition by the best known exponents of athletic sports. The athletes have gratuitously offered their services as their tribute of affection, respect and admiration for the late superintendent.

W. J. Smith of the staff of the Boston Arena, whose generosity and co-operation makes this proposed athletic carnival possible, is in charge of the carnival, and has already effected arrangements for its complete presentation, in which he acts also as secretary for the Memorial Committee.

It is hoped that Gen. Samuel D. Parker will act as directing officer in the presentation of the several features of the carnival program. Gen. Francis Peabody will, as a member of the Advisory Committee, participate in the selection and presentation of the features or events of the exhibition.

I sincerely hope that all the members of this department will lend their co-operation to make this carnival a grand success, and that all those who are able to do so will be present, as a splendid entertainment will be furnished.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

EUGENE C. HULTMAN,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 233.

Louis F. Neuert, a signalman in the Police Signal Service of this Department, having arrived at the age of sixty-four and three-twelfths years, having performed faithful service in the Police Department for thirty-eight and six-twelfths years, and having requested to be retired from active service,—it is, therefore, hereby Ordered, His Honor the Mayor having approved the same, that the said Signalman Neuert be retired from active service in the Police Department under the provisions of chapter 402, Acts of the year 1904 (accepted by the City Council, December 27, 1917), as affected by chapter 387 of the Acts of 1930,—and his name placed upon the Department Pension Roll with pay at the rate of one thousand and fifty (1,050) dollars per annum, said sum being one-half of the amount of compensation received by him in the office from which he is retired, previous to a fifteen per cent reduction in pay, which went into effect April 21, 1933.

Note.

By Chapter 121, Acts of 1933 (having to do with reductions in pay), provision is made for the retirement of those in a non-contributory system, at half of the rate of compensation received before such reduction.

The retirement of Signalman Neuert, as herein provided, will take effect at 7.45 o'clock, a. m., Thursday, September 21, 1933.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

EUGENE C. HULTMAN,
Commissioner.

ASKS FINANCE COMMISSION TO PASS ON ZOO PURCHASES.

Mayor Curley on September 14 sent the following letter to Frank A. Goodwin of the Finance Commission:

I am in receipt today of a communication from the chairman of the Park Commission and which recommends that a trade be made in the nature of an exchange with a Mr. Josephs of Australia, who is agreeable to exchanging two yearling male llamas, two immature male llamas and one male yak in exchange for an adult male tapir, one gibbon (small man-like ape), one pair Orinoco geese, one pair red-billed tree ducks, one pair Cuban tree ducks and two Illiger macaws.

In view of the comment made by the Finance Commission with reference to trading in realty matters, I hesitate to give approval to this offer to barter until such time as I am in receipt of an opinion from your Commission as to the ethics of the same.

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

The Commissioner's letter follows:

PARK DEPARTMENT.

Boston, September 12, 1933.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,

Mayor of Boston.

DEAR MR. MAYOR.—We have at present an excess of males in our llama collection—the same condition exists among the yaks. There is very little demand for llamas and yaks throughout the country, especially males, most of the Zoological Gardens being stocked.

I have been attempting to make arrangements for the sale of our surplus stock, but without success. I have also tried to make exchanges. There is only one dealer who would consider the matter and offer a favorable exchange. That is Mr. Josephs of Australia.

Mr. Josephs' offer is as follows:

He will take two yearling male llamas, two immature male llamas, and one male yak in exchange for:

One young adult male tapir for which he has been asking $800).

One gibbon (a small man-like ape—has never been represented in our collection), valued at $225.

One pair Orinoco geese, valued at $100.

One pair red-billed tree ducks, valued at $25.

One pair Cuban tree ducks, valued at $25.

Two Illiger macaws, valued at $30.

The total value of mammals and birds offered by Mr. Josephs for our excess male llamas and male yak is $1,005. I respectfully recommend that the department be allowed to make this exchange.

Very respectfully yours,

WILLIAM P. LONG,
Chairman.

CONSTRUCTION WORK.

The Acting Mayor has approved the request of the Public Works Department for the following construction work.

A surface drain of 12-inch pipe and one catch-basin in Hillcroft road, between Centre street and Cedarwood road, in the West Roxbury district, at an estimated cost of $1,500.

Five catch-basins in Laurie avenue, between Caledonian avenue and Billings street, and Caledonian avenue at Laurie avenue, in the West Roxbury district, at an estimated cost of $2,500.

A sanitary sewer of 10-inch pipe in Glenham street, between Atlantis street and 110 feet southwesterly in the West Roxbury district, at an estimated cost of $600.

A sanitary sewer of 12-inch pipe and a surface drain of 3-foot circular concrete in private land off Hill Top street, between Hill Top street and Neponset river, in the Dorchester district, at an estimated cost of $6,000.

LAND-TAKING IN BRIGHTON.

The Mayor has approved the order of the Board of Street Commissioners for the taking of land for a public improvement consisting of the laying out and construction of Chestnut terrace, Brighton district, as a highway, from Chestnut Hill avenue westerly, with the name of Chesterman street or some other distinctive name, bounded and described as follows:

A highway named Embassy road is hereby laid out, from Chestnut Hill avenue to Chiswick terrace, and ordered constructed.

Said highway and the land, exclusive of trees or structures standing upon or affixed thereto, in which an easement for street purposes is hereby taken, is bounded and described as follows:

APPROPRIATION FOR INSTITUTION STEAMERS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, September 11, 1933.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I submit herewith an order providing for the transfer of $3,499.49 from the Reserve Fund to the budget of the institutional steamers "Hibbard" and "O'Meara." This transfer is made necessary owing to the fact that it is now apparent that the expenditures for the maintenance and operation of the steamer "O'Meara" will be considerably in excess of the original budget allowances. Moreover, it is planned to retain the steamer "Hibbard" in city service as an auxiliary boat for use when either the "Perkins" or "O'Meara" are laid up for repairs. Under this arrangement it is anticipated that considerable savings will result to the city because there will be no need of hiring, on the outside, boats to substitute when the institutional steamers are temporarily out of service.

The average annual expenditure for boat hire by the Institutions and Penal Institutions Departments for the past four years has been $8,652. It is estimated that the "Hibbard" can be maintained as an auxiliary boat at an expense much less than this annual expenditure. I therefore respectfully recommend adoption of this order by your honorable body.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

Ordered, That under authority of chapter 261 of the Acts of 1893 the City Auditor be, and hereby is, authorized to transfer:

From the appropriation for Reserve Fund, $3,499.49, to the appropriation for Institutions Department, Steamers "Hibbard" and "O'Meara," A, Personal Service, 1, Permanent Employees, $636.49; 2, Temporary employees, $550; C, Equipment, $113; D, Supplies, $2,000; E, Materials, $200.

Referred to Executive Committee.

OFFICE SUPPLIES, SOUTH BOSTON DISTRICT COURT.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, September 11, 1933.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—The original budget allowance for office supplies in the South Boston District Court is now exhausted.

The clerk of this court estimates that $150 will be necessary to take care of the requirements under this item balance of the year. Since funds are not available within the budget of the court to provide for this amount, it has been found necessary to secure the additional appropriation from another county department.

I submit herewith the necessary transfer order and respectfully recommend adoption by your honorable body.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

Ordered, That under authority of chapter 261 of the Acts of 1893 the City Auditor be, and hereby is, authorized to transfer:

From the appropriation for Suffolk County Courthouse, Custodian, A-1, Personal Service, Permanent Employees, $150 to the appropriation for Municipal Court, South Boston District, D-1, Supplies, Office, $150.

Charles J. Fox,
Budget Commissioner.

Dear Sir,—For the reasons as below explained, will you kindly approve and forward to the Mayor the following request for transfer within the appropriations of the Municipal Court, South Boston:

From the appropriation for Available Sources, $150, to the appropriation for D-1, Office Supplies, $150.

The appropriation for D-1 is nearly exhausted.

Respectfully,
EDWARD L. LOGAN, Justice.

Referred to Executive Committee.

TRANSFER, CITY HOSPITAL.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, September 11, 1933.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—The Board of Trustees of the City Hospital have requested that a small transfer within existing appropriations be made. I submit herewith the necessary order and respectfully recommend its adoption by your honorable body.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

Ordered, That under authority of chapter 261 of the Acts of 1893 the City Auditor be, and hereby is, authorized to transfer:

From the appropriation for Hospital Department, Laundry Building, $500, to the appropriation for Hospital Department, Tunnel for Hospital Buildings, $500.

Charles J. Fox,
Budget Commissioner.

Dear Sir,—For the reasons as below explained, will you kindly approve and forward to the Mayor the following request for transfer within the special appropriations of the Hospital Department:

From the special appropriation for Laundry Building, $500, to the special appropriation for Tunnel for Hospital Buildings, $500.

The original appropriation of $41,000 is inadequate to take care of the unforeseen expenses which have arisen in connection with the contract for tunnel for hospital buildings.

Respectfully,
JOSEPH P. MANNING,
President.

Referred to Executive Committee.

INCOME SERVICE, WATER DEPARTMENT.

The following was received.

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, September 11, 1933.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—At the suggestion of the Commissioner of Public Works I have approved the creation of the Water Income Service of the Public Works Department. This action has been deemed necessary because of the expansion during the last few years of the activities of this branch of the Water Service. It is intended that the new service will control the collection of all water revenues of the city and also be responsible for the installation and maintenance of water meters.

With the establishment of a new service it is necessary to set up a budget to cover the work of the service for the balance of the year. This will be possible by transferring from the budget appropriations, already made for the Water Service, the various amounts which it is estimated will be required in administering the activities of the Water Income Service, for the remaining four months of the current fiscal year.

I submit herewith a transfer order to cover the necessary adjustments and respectfully recommend its adoption by your honorable body.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

Ordered, That under authority of chapter 261 of the Acts of 1893 the City Auditor be, and hereby is, authorized to transfer:

From the appropriation for Public Works Department, Water Service, A, Personal Service, 1, Permanent Employees, $77,500, to the appropriation for Public Works Department, Water Income Service, A, Personal Service, 1, Permanent Employees, $77,500.

From the appropriation for B, Service Other than Personal, $7,000, to the appropriation for B, Service Other Than Personal, $7,000.

From the appropriation for C, Equipment, $20,000, to the appropriation for C, Equipment, $20,000.

From the appropriation for D, Supplies, $3,150, to the appropriation for D, Supplies, $3,150.

From the appropriation for E, Materials, $4,350, to the appropriation for E, Materials, $4,350.

From the appropriation for F, Special Items, $600, to the appropriation for F, Special Items, $600.

Boston, September 1, 1933.

Charles J. Fox,
Budget Commissioner.

Dear Sir,—For the reasons as below explained, will you kindly approve and forward to the Mayor the following request for transfer within the appropriations of the Public Works Department:

From the appropriation for Water Division, A, Personal Service, $77,500, to the appropriation for Water Income Division, A, Personal Service, $77,500.

From the appropriation for B, Service Other than Personal, $7,000, to the appropriation for B, Service Other than Personal, $7,000.

From the appropriation for C, Equipment, $20,000, to the appropriation for C, Equipment, $20,000.

From the appropriation for D, Supplies, $3,150, to the appropriation for D, Supplies, $3,150.

From the appropriation for E, Materials, $4,350, to the appropriation for E, Materials, $4,350.

From the appropriation for F, Special Items, $600, to the appropriation for F, Special Items, $600.

These transfers are occasioned by the creation of the Water Income Division as distinct from the Water Division.

Respectfully,
C. J. CARVEN,
Commissioner.

Referred to Executive Committee.

RESERVE SIGNAL EQUIPMENT, FIRE ALARM OFFICE.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, September 11, 1933.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—When the Fire Alarm Station was constructed in the Pens, space was provided within the building for expansion of the system when the facilities of the original signal equipment were completely utilized.

I am in receipt of a communication from the Fire Commissioner in which he informs me that of the one hundred box circuits originally installed, ninety-eight are now in service and one more will be made up shortly, thus reducing the expansion facilities of the station to one circuit.

In the opinion of the commissioner steps should be taken immediately to provide additional reserve equipment in the Fire Alarm Office to allow for necessary and natural expansion. According to estimates received an appropriation of $50,000 is required to provide for the expansion the commissioner has in mind. This sum, if made available, will permit the installation of additional equipment for forty box circuits. With this reserve equipment all subsequent expansional needs of the Fire Alarm System will be provided for for many years to come.

Since an adequate Fire Alarm System is essential and necessary for the proper and efficient functioning of the Fire Department, I submit herewith a loan order in the desired amount and respectfully recommend adoption by your honorable body.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

Ordered, That the sum of $50,000 be, and the same hereby is, appropriated, to be expended under the direction of the Fire Commissioner, for Fire Alarm Signal System, Extension of, and that to meet said appropriation the City Treasurer be authorized to issue, from time to time, on request of the Mayor, bonds or certificates of indebtedness of the City of Boston to said amount.

City of Boston,
Fire Department, September 6, 1933.
Hon. James M. Curley,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—At the present time there is equipment for one hundred box circuits in the fire alarm office, with ninety-eight circuits now in service and one more to be made up shortly, leaving equipment but for one more circuit.

It is very apparent that if the fire alarm system is to be maintained in its present high standard a sufficient amount of apparatus must be available to use as the service expands, therefore an expenditure is necessary at this time.

A very thorough and careful study has been made in order that the city might be able to carry out an extension of the fire alarm system at the lowest possible figure. Three propositions have been carefully considered and one for $50,000 is the only one which I would care to recommend for this very valuable part of the Fire Department service.

Without doubt and by acknowledgment of the greatest fire engineers in the country, the City of Boston today possesses the finest and best equipped fire alarm station in the country.

When the station was built several years ago allowance was made to provide for the normal growth of the fire alarm system. As the city has grown it has become necessary to install additional fire alarm boxes with the consequent increase in the number of circuits and facilities must now be provided for additional box circuits. Space has been provided for these future expansions and the work should be done to carry out the original plan.

I respectfully request therefore that your Honor ask for a special loan of $50,000 to take care of the additional circuits, storage boards, box line panels, protector boards, etc., necessary.

This addition to the fire alarm system is absolutely necessary at the present time. Any delay in providing this extension to the system will seriously interfere with the efficient operation of the system.

I will be glad to furnish any further information that may be desired.

Yours very truly,
EDWARD F. McLAUGHLIN,
Fire Commissioner.

Referred to Committee on Finance.

PROPOSED PURCHASE OF YOUNG'S HOTEL.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, September 11, 1933.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I have received from the present owners of the Young's Hotel property an offer to sell this property to the city at an exceptionally low figure. The property has been occupied temporarily, during the construction of the new Federal Building, by the Post Office Department and the Federal Courts. Prior to their occupancy, however, the Federal Government expended in excess of $100,000 in alterations in order that it might be available for office purposes.

Acceptance by the city of this offer would permit the housing, in city-owned property, of eight important municipal departments, which, at the present time, are occupying quarters outside of City Hall and for which the city is required to pay annually in rentals the sum of $68,920. The eight departments are as follows:

School Buildings, Transit Department, Medical Examiner Service, Northern Division, Finance Commission, Law Department, Licensing Board, Boston Port Authority, Traffic Department.

Purchase of the Young's Hotel property would not only result in a saving to the city of the rentals now paid for the offices of these eight departments, but would also centralize the activities of municipal departments.

Action along this line is desirable at the present time in view of the fact two of the departments previously mentioned are facing the problem of securing either new or enlarged office accommodations. Due to the natural expansion of the activities of the Licensing Board as a result of the legalization of the sale of beer and the probable repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment, the quarters now occupied by this department are wholly inadequate. I have received several communications from the Board requesting my approval of the rental of additional quarters, but, at my request, no action has been taken on the matter to date. I have also received requests from the Police Commissioner that the quarters now occupied at police headquarters by the Traffic Commission be vacated in order that contemplated rearrangement of office space within the Police Department might be carried out. The Traffic Commission has not been required to pay any rental for its present quarters so that if, following the request of the Police Commissioner, this department is forced to secure new quarters an additional rental burden will be imposed upon the city.

It is estimated that approximately 40,000 square feet of office space is now occupied by the eight municipal departments previously mentioned. According to the plans on file in the office of the Building Commissioner, approximately 58,500 square feet of office space is available in the Young's Hotel property. It would, therefore, not only be possible to house these eight departments, but additional office space would be made available for other municipal departments, the present quarters of which are admittedly inadequate. I have in mind particularly the Collecting Department. During the period for the collection of real and personal property taxes the present facilities of the Collecting Department are greatly overtaxed. The space is so small that taxpayers are forced to stand in long lines and waste considerable time. Moreover, proper ventilating facilities for so large a number of people are not available, and, as a result, many complaints of these unsatisfactory conditions are received annually. The ground floor of Young's Hotel would make an ideal location for the Collecting Department and would certainly relieve the disagreeable features which at present attend the annual collection of taxes.

According to the records of the Assessing Department the property in question covers 17,553 square feet of land and is assessed for $1,300,000. The owners of this property have offered to sell it to the city for $700,000—an amount slightly in excess of 50 per cent of the assessed valuation. Because of the location of this property, the fact it may be readily utilized for office purposes, and the added fact that its occupancy by the city would permit the annual saving of approximately $70,000 in rentals, it appears to me that the city should take advantage of this exceptionally low figure at which the property is now being offered. I therefore submit a loan order providing for the purchase of the property at the offered figure and respectfully recommend adoption by your honorable body.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

Ordered, That the sum of $700,000 be, and the same hereby is, appropriated, to be expended under the direction of the Superintendent of Public Buildings, for City Hall, Additional Accommodations, and that to meet said appropriation the City Treasurer be authorized to issue, from time to time, on request of the Mayor, bonds or certificates of indebtedness of the City of Boston to said amount.

JUSTIFICATION OF ATTACK DEMANDED.

The following was received:

A. G. Tomasello & Son, Inc., Contractors,

September 1, 1933.

Members of the Boston City Council.

Gentlemen,—On August 25, 1933, I wrote to City Councilor Norton a letter reading as follows:

"For a long time I have been watching the official chronicles of Boston municipal affairs as set out in the City Record and have followed the reported speeches made by you. In many instances you have made references to contractors, and have particularly singled out Tomasello for an attack in some form. In the last issue of the City Record, dated August 19, 1933, you have seen fit to make further attacks.

"I cannot let this matter go unchallenged any further. I now make request upon you to inform me what proof you have to justify your attacks. I think I am entitled to know the grounds upon which you may speak to justify your statements.

"If I do not hear from you on or before the 30th of August next, I shall assume that you either cannot justify your acts or do not care to reply to my letter."

This councilor has seen fit not to reply. I now make request upon the City Council to produce and pass an order requiring Councilor Norton to give proof which will justify the attacks referred to in my letter.

I request this of the City Council in order that Councilor Norton shall have an opportunity to justify recurrent attacks which are made under the guise of his membership with your body.

Very truly yours,

JOSEPH A. TOMASELLO.

SIDEWALK SCHEDULES AND ASSESSMENTS.

Notice was received from the Commissioner of Public Works of the cost of construction of artificial stone sidewalks on Washington street, Ward 22, amounting to $3,119.66, with an accompanying order assessing half the cost of same on the estates concerned, bordering on Washington street, Champney street to Burton street, Ward 22, the same being ordered to be certified and notice given to the persons whose names are set forth in said order.

REPORT ON CITY TRUCKS.

The following was received:

Boston, August 31, 1933.

To the Honorable the City Council.

Gentlemen,—The Finance Commission submits the following reply to the order adopted by the City Council on August 7 requesting that the commission "look into the matter of the recent purchase of reflectors for City of Boston trucks."

The Finance Commission has found that the purchase of these reflectors was necessitated by the operation of a requirement that on and after July 1 trucks be so equipped.

The city purchased a reflector made by a Connecticut manufacturer, which reflector is one of a small number approved by the State of Massachusetts. The list price of this reflector is $3. The city purchased 280 at a cost of $1.75 each. It is cadmium-plated, water-tight, dust-proof and rust-proof, spot-welded, and has large eyes set firmly in sockets.

The Finance Commission has not felt it necessary to investigate the cost of manufacture which of necessity entails an expense that the commission believes is not warranted. It has been stated, however, in your honorable body, in criticism of the city's purchase, that the state was able to buy reflectors for 80 cents apiece. As far as the Finance Commission has been able to learn, the state has purchased 350 of an entirely different type which lists for $1.25.

The reflector purchased by the state is of enamel and held together by machine screws without nuts. It does not appear to have any of the important advantages mentioned above in connection with the reflector purchased by the city. The reflector purchased by the city is to be used on the large city trucks. The commission believes the type purchased by the state would not meet the requirements of the City of Boston.

Members of the Council who are in doubt about the relative merits of the two reflectors can inspect samples at the office of the Supply Department.

Respectfully submitted,

THE FINANCE COMMISSION,

FRANK A. GOODWIN, Chairman.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT APPOINTMENTS.

The following notices were received from the Mayor:

Notice of resignation of Joseph A. Rourke as Commissioner of Public Works, effected at the close of business August 31, 1933; received and accepted.

Appointment of Christopher J. Carven, under date of August 31, 1933, to be Commissioner of Public Works for the term ending May 1, 1937.

Notice of reorganization of the divisions of the Public Works Department, in accordance with section 33, chapter 27, of the Revised Ordinances, as follows:

Bridge and Ferry Division: Division Engineer, Leo B. Reilly.

Highway and Lighting Division: Division Engineer, Joshua Atwood.

Sewer Division: Division Engineer, George W. Dakin.

Sanitary Division: Division Engineer, Adolph J. Post.

Water Division: Division Engineer, Daniel M. Sullivan.

Water Income Division: Division Engineer, James J. McMurry.

The above reorganization is made effective by Commissioner Carven as of September 1, 1933, with the notation that "In all divisions except the Water Income Division the Division Engineer is a civil engineer of recognized standing in his profession and an expert in the duties which may devolve upon him. In the Water Income Division, while the title of the head will be that of Division Engineer, the duties of this division will not call for a civil engineer of recognized standing, but Mr. McMurry is an expert in all matters coming under the duties outlined in sections 24-25, etc., of chapter 27, Revised Ordinances.

In case of each of the new appointments above made (Daniel M. Sullivan, Leo B. Reilly and James J. McMurry) Commissioner Carven states that the appointee in each case "is a civil engineer of recognized standing in the profession, that in my opinion he is an expert in the work which will devolve upon him, that he is a specialist by education, training or experience to perform the duties which may devolve upon him, and that the appointment is made solely in the interest of the city."

POLICE RADIO DESIRED.

Coun. RUBY offered the following:

Resolved, That his Excellency the Governor be requested by his Honor the Mayor to immediately instruct his appointee, the Police Commissioner, to police radio equip the Police Department of the City of Boston.

Coun. RUBY—Mr. President, much as I regret introducing an order like this at this time, I do so because I feel that every other method that could possibly be adopted by members of the City Council to obtain the object desired has failed. In spite of the fact that in 1931 this honorable body went on record as being desirous of doing everything possible to furnish radio equipment for the Police Department, and in spite of the fact that months ago $75,000 was appropriated for this purpose, nothing has as yet been done. While I agree that some delay might possibly be desirable and necessary, in order to examine thoroughly into the best possible equipment for the Police Department, the fact remains that nothing seems to have been started. Several months ago we read items of news to the effect that the Police Commissioner had agreed on two-way radio equipment for the department. But still nothing has as yet been done. With all due respect to the Police Commissioner, with whom I have no quarrel, I believe it is time that something should have been begun looking to radio equipment for the department. Certainly it seems to me that a start should be made. While I agree that a certain amount of cable system reconstruction may be necessary in the Police Department, I do not think it is fair to ask the members of this body to appropriate at this time the sum of $300,000 in one year, especially when the members of the body and the Mayor are the subjects of such strenuous appeal to reduce taxes, and when they have already succeeded in reducing the tax $2.70 per thousand. I believe that if a considerable expenditure for cable equipment for the Police Department is necessary, it should be spread over a period of years. If the work were carried out over four or five years the burden in any single year would not be great, which would be particularly important if the money is to be taken out of the tax levy. I certainly believe, however, that the Police Commissioner should not wait until some catastrophe occurs, such as the murder of that venerable gentleman, which we all remember, a year or two ago, or a similar occurrence at about the same time near Forest Hills. I certainly feel that some progress should be made by the Police Commissioner with radio equipment for his department. If it cannot all be done at once, at least let us have a start made. We have done all that we can do. We have supplied money, and we are now simply waiting. The Police Departments in every large city of the country are radio-equipped, and it is the consensus of opinion that police departments so equipped have increased their efficiency one hundred per cent in the detection and prevention of crime. I think the Police Commissioner is in duty bound to the citizenry of Boston to immediately proceed to the radio equipment of his department. Money has been furnished by the Chief Executive of our city and by the City Council, and a start at least should be made. Therefore, I respectfully request a suspension of the rule and the passage of the order.

Coun. BURKE—Mr. President, I am having prepared at the present time an order asking for the appropriation of a definite sum of money to be given to the Police Department in order to at least install part of the cables that will be necessary to replace the worn-out underground cables of the department. I believe installation of the radio system is absolutely essential for the proper protection of the people of Boston. It seems to me, also, that we must be bound by the opinion of many experts who have investigated the situation in Boston, having in mind the necessity of radio equipment. As I understand it, there are two or three of those experts believe that a cable system should be installed as an auxiliary to the radio system. I have been informed by Mr. Hayes of the Police Department—who, I believe, is the man who is making the investigation for the department—that a radio system can be installed for $75,000, but that it will not be 100 per cent efficient unless cables are replaced in certain parts of the city. He stated that when a cruising car is out perfect reception could not be had at the central office at Berkeley street unless a trunk line were run to a local station in that vicinity, having the message carried from there to the central office, with the return message. It seems that the City Council, the Mayor and the Police Commissioner are at loggerheads in regard to what should be done. I have expressed my opinion sufficiently in the past, to the effect that a radio system is absolutely necessary in the Police Department to make the department one hundred per cent efficient. I believe, therefore, that we should cooperate with the Police Commissioner, giving him, say, $50,000 a year, so that the cable work can be carried through over a period of years and such a radio system may be installed in the department as will give the citizens of Boston proper police protection.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, I have been one of those members of the Council who have believed that the City of Boston has been very lax in not taking action, through the installation of a modern radio system, that would place this city on a par with other cities in the country which have already installed a radio system. But during the last few weeks I have changed my mind to this extent, that I believe when the Police Board of Boston installs a radio system it should be one second to none in America. The Police Commissioner made it clear to me a few weeks ago that wonderful results can be obtained with a two-way car. There are certain dead spots where it is impossible with the ordinary radio reception to get proper communication with the department; but it seems that with this two-way car it is possible to talk back and forth with headquarters continually under the most extraordinary circumstances—for example, overcoming the difficulties that arise in connection with subways and in other places, getting high-grade reception in places where there are usually the most horrible conditions to combat. With such a system it will be possible to carry on perfect communication between the car and headquarters in any place in Boston. If the Police Commissioner gives the City of Boston that wonderful system, it will certainly be worth what we pay for it. I believe the Police Commissioner is working along the right line. I went to the Institute of Technology and talked with Professor Dugald C. Jackson, supposed to be the best authority on police radio, and even with President Karl Compton; and when I saw the line along which Commissioner Hultman is working I was ready to retract what I had formerly said. I believe, if the Police Commissioner is going to give Boston this two-way system we are going to get the best system in the world, and therefore I am in favor of giving him a few more weeks to work the thing out.

Coun. COX—Mr. President, I have been very much interested and pleased in listening to the last speaker eulogizing the work of our Police Commissioner. I remember the criticism directed by the speaker a short time ago towards the Police Commissioner, and I remember having at that time said, "If we hire a man to do a job, why not let him do it?" I am awfully glad to hear the councilor from Ward 18 (Coun. Norton) today eulogizing the Police Commissioner of Boston, who, I think, is a very capable man.

The resolution was passed under suspension of the rule.

PROPOSED DELAY IN TAX SALES.

Coun. KELLY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Mayor of Boston order the City Collector not to sell any real estate for failure to pay taxes until the Home Owners Loan Corporation appointed by President Franklin D. Roosevelt have an opportunity to pass on all applications of home owners now before them for loans.

Coun. KELLY—Mr. President, in asking the members of the Council to go on record as favoring this particular order I have introduced, which calls upon the Mayor of Boston to order the City Collector to sell no more pieces of real estate in this city until the applications of the home owners have been acted upon either favorably or unfavorably by the Federal Board known as the Home Owners Loan Corporation. I believe in the case of such mortgaged property, where the home owners are now paying interest and part payment on the principal from year to year, if they continue with their payments on the mortgage and interest, no harm will be done to anybody if there is this requested delay, where there is no violation of the terms and conditions of the mortgage, and I think it is in the public interest in times like these that there should not be immediate foreclosures in such cases. There are many thousands of applications pending before the board referred to, and I believe the action suggested in this order will benefit the home owners of Boston. I feel that we should give to them every possible chance, that they should not be unnecessarily embarrassed under the present circumstances, and I think that object will be attained if the Mayor of Boston orders the City Collector, one of his appointees, not to sell real estate until the owners have been given this opportunity—particularly as we always have a lien against anybody for unpaid taxes. We certainly ought to give these people this chance until their petitions are passed upon one way or the other by the Home Owners Loan Corporation, appointed by Franklin D. Roosevelt, who, I must say, is doing good work.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

PROPOSED DELAY IN FORECLOSURES

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Corporation Counsel of Boston, through his Honor the Mayor, be requested to draft a bill to be presented to the Legislature to permit judges to grant stays not exceeding one year in mortgage foreclosure proceedings against homes. Also to prohibit the forced sale of any such property for a sum less than its appraised or assessed valuation, whichever is the greater.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, various states in the Union are passing laws giving the home owners an opportunity to at least recover their homes after foreclosure proceedings. It is certainly important in times like these to grant whatever relief we can. In New York State, through the initiative of Governor Lehman, a moratorium of a year has been granted. I would like to see the Mayor of Boston bring this matter up before the Legislature through a bill to accomplish the end sought for, so that the home owners of Boston may be given the relief that is allowed in other states of the Union.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

PAST ASSESSMENTS ON YOUNG'S HOTEL.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Board of Assessors, through his Honor the Mayor, be requested to furnish the Council with the assessments on the Young's Hotel property for each of the past ten years.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

DESIRABILITY OF PURCHASING YOUNG'S HOTEL.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Finance Commission of the Boston City Council hold public hearings upon the proposal of having the city buy the present Young's Hotel property, if the matter is presented to the Council for action.

Referred, on motion of Coun. DOWD, to the Committee on Finance.

INFORMATION ABOUT DEPARTMENT RENTALS.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Corporation Counsel, through his Honor the Mayor, be requested to report to the Council in full detail regarding leases, if any, the time that they are to run, and the amounts to be paid under them, by departments whose rentals are now paid by the City of Boston. Also, regarding the rentals now paid by the City of Boston, for any department, where leases have not been issued.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, this in an order requesting the Corporation Counsel to inform this body regarding the leases of property by city departments or about property rented by the city departments, wherever the rent is paid by the city. We are going to hear a good deal in the next few weeks about buying property alongside of City Hall, and the information I have asked for, which is merely preliminary to the final action in that matter, to possibly prevent wasting the city's money at this time in acquiring unnecessary buildings.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

INVESTIGATION OF YOUNG'S HOTEL SITE.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Finance Commission be requested to investigate and report on the proposed matter of having the City of Boston purchase the present Young's Hotel site.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

PROPOSED ADDITION TO POLICE FORCE.

Coun. RUBY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Police Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to appoint immediately 300 patrolmen in the Police Department.

Coun. RUBY—Mr. President, I have introduced this order requesting his Honor the Mayor to ask the Police Commissioner to immediately appoint three hundred more men to the Police Department of the city because I believe, in spite of what we may hear or read to the contrary, that the Police Department of our city is undermanned by seven hundred or eight hundred men, as compared with what it should be. The day before the schools opened I requested the captains of three stations in my district—Divisions 9, 11 and 19—to station men at certain dangerous street intersections in the district, where there is heavy automobile travel, prior to the morning sessions of the schools and after the close of the afternoon sessions, for a short time, for protection of the children. I was informed that they did not have men available for this purpose. If we do not have sufficient policemen so that a few can be spared for such a purpose, to safeguard small children who are obliged to go across dangerous crossings on their way to and from schools, I say it is about time that that situation is remedied. Even if these are times when economy is necessary, times when we have to closely scrutinize expenditures and attempt to reduce the tax rate of the City of Boston, it is certainly criminal for us to economize to an extent where the lives or the safety of our children going to the public schools is endangered. I am informed that the personnel of any particular police division in this city should comprise from 115 to 120 men. In one division in my district, Division 19,—which covers the section from Dorchester Lower Mills through the heart of the Roxbury-Dorchester section, from Columbia road to American Legion Highway to Mattapan square,—there are at the present time, with the exception of the captain, sergeants and lieutenants, a little over seventy men, working on three shifts in twenty-four hours. There are, therefore, available for police duty in that section, covering miles in extent, less than twenty-five men in an eight-hour shift. Every man in that division is covering four or five beats, and those of us who know the length of the heat of an ordinary policeman can see that it is physically impossible, under the circumstances, for a police officer of our city to do proper work if he has to do the work of three or four men. The result, as I have said, is that the police captains will tell you that they cannot spare men for duty at crossings to protect the school children—such crossings, for example, as Morton street and Wellington Hill, where 700 children must cross Morton street, a traffic highway which is a race-track for automobiles. Certainly, children in such places should be safeguarded, and I say that an economy which prevents such safeguarding is unwise and criminal. I believe that in every section of Boston—because I do not talk alone for my district—there are large numbers of children who must cross dangerous thoroughfares in order to get to and from their respective schools, and that at certain times of the day they should be properly safeguarded by the police. We must safeguard children going to school, as we try to do while they are in the school. With automobiles traveling as they do today, it is not an uncommon thing for a child leaving his or her home to be never heard from again—such cases as we have recently heard about in Somerville. I feel that we are in duty bound to use every precaution and safeguard in taking care of our children under such circumstances. I have stood at the corner of Morton street and Wellington Hill myself and assisted children in getting across; but the children all over our city are not able to get the assistance of the ordinary citizen in crossing the street to go to school. I dare say that the condition I have referred to here is prevalent throughout our city. It is not a situation that exists in my district alone. In 1926 we gave to the former Police Commissioner 300 additional men. That was six years or more ago, and it was then stated that the suburban police divisions were being neglected and entirely undermanned. In spite of that fact the then commissioner took the 300 men and put them on traffic duty in the heart of the city. A year later, when some of the members of the body thought that the pay of the policemen should be increased, he told us that if we would give him 125 additional men he would increase the salaries; and this body voted for 125 additional men, and those men were again put on the traffic department in the City of Boston. Since that time, in spite of resignations, in spite of suspensions, in spite of deaths, in spite of men retiring on pensions, in spite of the fact that the department is so greatly undermanned, no additional police officers have been appointed in this city. Even if it should be claimed that crime is not prevalent in our city, even assuming that we were free of crime, certainly it cannot be claimed that our Police Force is adequate when even a few men cannot be assigned to dangerous crossings at certain times in the day to protect our children going to and from school. It is time for us to realize that one of the most important things in this city is to bring our Police Department up to a 100 per cent personnel. For that reason I am asking his Honor the Mayor to request the Police Commissioner to place 300 or more men in the department, having in mind largely the needs of the suburban district—Hyde Park, Dorchester, Roxbury and West Roxbury, every other section where men are needed to meet the legitimate needs of the department. Let us bring those divisions up to the point where they should be brought, so that when we make a decent, fair and proper request, looking simply to the safety of the children in our respective districts, we can get the help and safeguarding that are needed. Therefore, Mr. President, I ask for suspension of the rules and passage of the order.

Coun. MURRAY—Mr. President, while I agree with the gentleman in his stand in regard to the Police Department, I believe also that the Fire Department should be brought up to the point where it will be a proper fire-fighting force. I would therefore ask of the gentleman to accept an amendment to that effect. The Fire Department today is not up to the point of efficiency in numbers that it was several years ago. I ask, therefore, that the gentleman accept an amendment which will include the Fire Department in his order; that that department be added.

Coun. RUBY—Mr. President, while I have no objection to that being done, and will vote for a similar order which relates to the Fire Department, I believe the two orders should be distinct, because they refer to two distinct and separate departments. I shall, however, be pleased to vote for an order similar to the one suggested by the gentleman from Ward 19.

Coun. MURRAY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Fire Commissioner, through his Honor the Mayor, be requested to bring the Fire Department up to its full quota of men.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, when it comes to putting 300 extra policemen on our force, I simply wish to say that I do not think that is a step that will necessarily prevent crime or add to the efficiency of our Police Department. For purposes of the record I would like to say that the policing of this city now costs us $100,000 a square mile for 47 square miles in this city, more than the cost in any other city except New York. If I thought that placing these additional police in the department would prevent crime, I would not have a word to say, but there is no evidence to the effect that merely adding to the force in Boston in this way will aid in the prevention of crime. Such a conclusion is not warranted according to the views of former Chief Vollmer of Berkeley, California, who wrote the Wickersham Report. As a matter of fact, Mr. President, Boston is a law-abiding city. We have here no such crimes as the Leopold and Loeb murder, or crimes of that character. And certainly, Mr. President, this is a matter that we in Boston can well leave in the hands of our Police Commissioner.

The orders offered by Coun. Ruby and Coun. Murray were passed under suspension of the rule.

PROPOSED LEASE OF BOSTON ELEVATED LAND.

Coun. FITZGERALD offered the following:

Ordered, That the Park Commission be directed, through his Honor the Mayor, to confer with the Trustees of the Boston Elevated Railroad, for the purpose of leasing the vacant land owned by the Boston Elevated Railroad, bounded by Willard, Barton and Brighton streets, in the West End, and to negotiate with them to lease same for $1 per year for playground purposes.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

PROPOSED FENCE ON FREEPORT STREET.

Coun. McGRATH offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to take up in conjunction with the officials of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad the matter of erecting a fence along their tracks from Dorchester avenue to the bridge at Freeport street, on the easterly side, to correspond with the fence running this entire length on the westerly side of the road, in order to prevent further deaths among children using adjacent beaches.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

SIDEWALKS ON DEWEY AND DACIA STREETS, WARD 13.

President McGRATH offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works make sidewalks along Dewey street, from Blue Hill avenue to Howard avenue, and Dacia street, from Brookford street to Quincy street, Ward 13, in front of the estates bordering thereon; said sidewalk to be from 3 to 10 inches above the gutter adjoining, to be from 5 to 12 feet in width, and to be built of artificial stone, with granite edgestones, under the provisions of chapter 196 of the Special Acts of 1917.

REQUESTED REMOVAL OF HOSPITAL EMPLOYEE.

Coun. DOWD offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor request the Hospital Trustees to remove Miss Nellie Cutler from her present position as assistant matron and to give her a position where she will not have the handling of employees.

Coun. DOWD—Mr. President, during many years as a member of this body I have never before introduced an order asking that any officials be removed from office. But conditions have got to such a point in the Boston City Hospital that an assistant matron by the name of Cutler has been acting in a way that calls for the introduction of such an order. Before anybody can obtain a position there they must present a voting certificate; but, lo and behold! Miss Cutler, who has direct charge of some 1,200 employees there, has never voted in the City of Boston, according to the records of the Election Department, which must be correct. As a matter of fact, this same Miss Cutler is the largest taxpayer in the town of Natick where she votes yearly. Still, she has a splendid position in this city. I don't mind that. Somebody has to fill those positions. But when anybody is so arrogant, so insulting that one is led to believe that the days of slavery have come back again; when an individual who goes to work there and through sickness is forced to stay out one day must present a doctor's certificate stating that he or she was sick on that day, I say it is a ridiculous situation. A person who may be out one day with a heavy cold or anything else must send for a doctor and pay him $2 or $3 to get a certificate showing that he or she was really sick. When a girl is working there, if Miss Cutler does not take a fancy to her, regardless of the work she is supposed to do, she puts her down on her hands and knees, giving to the girl work that she is not suited for. I say it is about time that Miss Cutler realized, what is realized elsewhere in the City of Boston, that better results are obtained with a friendly smile and a kindly spirit than through the lash of a whip. There is just room for criticism of some of this spirit that is being displayed in the City Hospital. Miss Cutler is not the only one to be criticized, and if conditions are not corrected I shall go down the line and name each individual there. They are there because the taxpayers of Boston are paying them their salary, and they ought to be thankful to the Almighty that they have their positions, instead of driving poor unfortunates as if they were not human beings. We cannot get much satisfaction out of the trustees, we cannot get much satisfaction out of those in charge at the hospital, because it is very evident that even the maids are afraid of this same Nellie Cutler, the mattress voter from Natick. Does any individual here believe that if this city is good enough to make a living in, obtaining a nice salary from the city, it is not good enough to vote in? Some apparently do not believe so, and that is the sort of thing that we have been fighting for years. The Mayor of Boston is well acquainted with Miss Cutler. He knows her, as well as every member of the City Council knows her. You know how she treats those who go to her with a letter from what she calls a politician. I say it is about time that the trustees, who spend millions and millions of our money, should have backbone enough to stand up and tell Miss Cutler from now on that she has got to use the 1,200 or 1,300 employees working there like human beings and not like slaves.

The order was referred to the Committee on Hospital Department.

ACTION URGED ON HUNTINGTON AVENUE SUBWAY.

Coun. POWER offered the following:

Resolved, That his Excellency the Governor instruct the Emergency Finance Board to reconsider its action on the proposed Huntington Avenue Subway, in order that the people of that district may receive adequate car service, and in order to reduce the enormous expenditures of the Public Welfare and Soldiers' Relief Departments.

Coun. POWER—Mr. President, I hesitate to talk upon this resolution, so much has been said for some time past about the Huntington Avenue Subway, but in the last week or so the hearts have been taken out of three thousand veterans in the City of Boston, and so, as a Democrat coming from a Democratic district, I am appealing to a Democratic Governor to give to Boston the home rule which he was advocating when he was seeking election. The chairman of the Emergency Finance Board says that the Huntington Avenue Subway is not a necessary proposition. Well, about half an hour ago I wish he could have walked out there and seen five starters and about five car inspectors of the Boston Elevated trying to herd five thousand or ten thousand school children on the cars, while at the same time two or three hundred women with children in their arms were trying to get on the cars at Huntington avenue. This would be a good time to go out there and see whether we need better transportation facilities on Huntington avenue. Ten years ago this proposition came up and was killed in the Legislature. At that time the cost was estimated to be about $12,000,000. A year ago it came before the Legislature and the Legislature passed it and our Governor signed it; and now his Board, appointed by him, the Emergency Finance Board, appointed by that same Governor, insults the Governor, saying to him, "You were wrong a year ago; the Huntington Avenue extension is not necessary." They say that no really impressive appeal was made in the matter for the car riders. Well, I don't know what else could have been done in representing the wishes of the people. Many others appeared there besides myself—other councilors, fifteen representatives and four senators—but we are told that no really impressive appeal was made for the car riders! We could have herded five thousand or ten thousand car riders into the Gardner Auditorium, but I felt and others felt that we were properly representing the people whom we serve in the matter. The car riders were certainly represented. People living in my district, as a rule, do not own automobiles. They have to ride for a mile and a quarter and probably two miles distance from Park square, and it takes them three quarters of an hour. People can go to Newton and Belmont in far less time than it now takes to travel that short distance. And still we are told that this proposed extension is not necessary. We were not born with silver spoons in our mouths out there. We have to count our dimes. We need better service. There is no question about that. We have there the best hospital center in the country if not in the world, at Longwood and Huntington avenues; we have the greatest school center in the world. And yet we are told that we do not need this extension. Next year they will finish the Worcester Turnpike coming in to Huntington avenue. And it is admitted that things are pretty bad now, but what will happen when that is finished and this additional travel is put into Huntington avenue? And they say this extension is not necessary! And so, Mr. President, I am asking the Governor in this resolve to speak a word to this Emergency Finance Board appointed by him, so that they may not insult him and may not insult the Legislature of a year ago, or the City Council and the Mayor of Boston. I am asking them to reconsider that disapproval and to approve of this proposition. It was estimated ten years ago that this would cost about $12,000,000. Under the present set-up it is estimated that it will cost about eight and one-half millions today. This, with the 30 per cent for public works there will be two millions off of the eight and one-half millions. It will put about three thousand veterans at work for the next two years, and thus will reduce the amount that would otherwise be spent for veterans' aid by two millions. Mr. President, let us go ahead and do it, and let the Democratic Governor recognize this Democratic district that gives him ten thousand votes every year. This whole thing will be a wonderful help to Roxbury, Jamaica Plain and other districts. I trust that the resolution will be passed under suspension of the rule, Mr. President.

The resolution was passed under suspension of the rule.

The question came on the motion to take from the table.

The question came on passage of the order.

Coun. RUBY—Mr. President, nothing has happened since the submission of the budget that would make me change my attitude with reference to No. 9 on the calendar. On the contrary, I was quite interested to see a notice in one of the leading papers in Boston yesterday morning to the effect that a certain clerk in one of our courts—and I was at once interested, as a practicing attorney, with offices in the very same county—was without paper and without the necessary supplies; that he had something, and there was an intimation that he might be compelled to go to the Supreme Court to compel the members of this body to pass this particular item in the budget. I say to you, Mr. President, and to every member of this body who is interested in the fair, honest and decent employees of this city, that we should all stand up here and continue to take the same position that we took originally when we held this item up, some time in March or April. What has brought about the change that necessitates taking this from the table and passing it? Is it because Councilor Ruby has been threatened by someone in the Suffolk County Court House, that some one might go out into Ward 14 and help lick Ruby in the Council fight because of his not voting for this order? Mr. President, they can go out there if they want to do so. We are not holding this up for any personal reason. We say to them, as to every other department head of our city, that if the taxpayers of Boston are going to pay for printing and office supplies it is the duty and obligation of every department head in the City of Boston or in the county to have his printing work done in the printing establishment that is paid for and supported by the City of Boston. I say to the councilor who has called this up from the table that I dare say some of his constituents are working in our Printing Plant. There are 140 men working in that department, and they are now working on a three or four day week. There is absolutely no reason why they should not be earning the same week's pay that is earned in every other department in the City of Boston. But because certain men have flaunted the thing in our faces, have been adamant and stubborn, we have held this thing on the table. We are not saying that we are holding the appropriation up because it is not necessary, that the money is not being spent properly. On the contrary, I, personally, have, as I know other members of the Council have, the highest regard for every county official in the Suffolk County Court House. But they will have difficulty in convincing me that they have a right to take this item of $50,000 or $60,000 of the taxpayers' money of the City of Boston to give work to private personal friends when the City of Boston is running a printing plant that is supported by the citizens and that is entitled to this work. If they can convince me that that is fairer than to allow our Printing Department to do the work, I shall be ready to quit and vote with them. But nothing in this situation has changed. When they say to us that they are willing to spend the money with the Printing Department of the City of Boston, of course, we will give them the money. We are not, however, to be scared, threatened or cajoled in this matter. We voted in good faith months ago to lay this matter on the table, simply in the interest of men who are employees of the City of Boston, and believing that, even if these court officials are county officers we pay the freight and that they should recognize the claim of these 140 men in the Printing Department of our city, a union plant, properly equipped to handle any kind of work of either a public or a private nature. I believe there is no better equipped printing plant in our city than the new City Printing Plant in the North End, an up-to-date plant fully equipped to do any kind of printing; and when we ask these officials to spend the money we appropriate in our own department, are we not making a fair request? I say to the councilor from Ward 20 (Councilor Cox) that in our respective districts we try to get the people to trade with the tradesmen there; and certainly in our city work, where we have a city department that handles certain work, it is nothing but right that the money of the taxpayer should be used for the support of such a department. Therefore, are we unfair to the clerks of these courts when we say to them, help us to keep these 140 city employees employed, so that their wives and families may get a square meal three times a day, the same as your family and my family. These men are city employees, as entitled to a living as the councilors and their families. This order has been laid on the table in their interest. I certainly am not willing to admit that any man working in the City Printing Plant has not the same right as every other city employee. For these reasons I feel that at the present time the matter should not be taken from the table. My feeling in the matter is not a personal one. Perhaps as an attorney I should be on the other side of the fence. But with me it is a question of principle. I think we should be fair to all of our city employees, and I ask the members of the Board, in fairness to the 140 employees of the Printing Department not to take this matter from the table.

Coun. FISH—Mr. President, I move that the matter be put back on the table.

Coun. MURRAY—Mr. President, I still take my original position on this question, as a matter of fair play. If this same question should arise in regard to some of the clerks themselves, I wonder how they would feel about it, if they were to be laid off? The employees of the Printing Department are in our official family and they should all be treated alike. I believe, in fairness to ourselves, that if some of these clerks want to push the matter, they should be allowed to go to the highest court in the land. Let us stand by the employees of the Printing Department, and let us help them so far as possible to get a living wage, because they really need it.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, I am heartily in favor of what has been said by the councilor from Ward 14 (Coun. Ruby) and the councilor from Ward 19 (Coun. Murray). I wonder how these different clerks in their various departments would like it if the work they are doing was farmed out to private concerns in Boston? Mr. President, we have, I believe, the finest printing plant in America, and we have there, I understand, 143 men, some of whom—men like John Cosgrove, Patrick Keefe and Robert Hunter—have worked in that department, in that plant, for the last twenty-five or thirty years. Just imagine the feelings of such men when they get only a few days' work in a week and then are simply told that there is no money to pay them, that the plant has to close down. Why should not such men be recognized as city employees? Why should not work that is paid for by the city be done through a city plant established for just that purpose? Let us give proper recognition to the employees of that plant, some of whom have been there for twenty-five and thirty years, or over.

Coun. COX—Mr. President, in moving that this matter be taken from the table I did so with no intention of creating a disturbance. Neither have I any objection to the boys getting up and telling how laying this item on the table was in the interest of the employees of the Printing Plant. But, Mr. President, we have here an item of $42,950, and out of that there is about $11,250 allotted for printing and the balance of $31,700 is for office supplies. Certainly that sum will not take care of 143 men. I did not read anything in the paper yesterday about any clerk, or what he proposed to do, and I know nothing about that. I am not a practicing attorney, but I have been told that it is no possible to go into some of these offices and get a sheet of paper on which to make a notation. I certainly do not think that, under the guise of protecting the City Printing Plant, we have any reason to hold up $32,000 worth of office supplies. This item is divided between $31,700 for office supplies and $11,250 for printing. But all I have heard here is about 140 printers. I feel that the clerks of the courts should send their printing to the City Printing Plant, but I don't feel like taking the responsibility of holding up the business of the courts of this Commonwealth.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, for purposes of the record, no one wants to hold up the business of the courts. Every member of the body wants to stand back of the courts. But here is the opening wedge. There may be $31,700 here for stationery, but when you buy stationery you also buy printing. There may be only $11,250 for printing. But this is only the opening wedge in the battle to have the Printing Plant of the City of Boston perform strictly city work—that is, work for which the City of Boston pays. That is the question. We wish to keep on the job men who have been working for the city faithfully and well for twenty-five years or more.

Coun. COX—Mr. President, in regard to keeping men out of the job I understand that this work has never gone to the City Printing Plant.

Coun. MURRAY—Mr. President, I would like to say that for twenty years previous to the coming of the councilor here four years ago this work was done by the City Printing Plant and done satisfactorily. There have been many recommendations and indorsements to that effect. But, of course, you cannot blame the councilor for what he did not know before those four years! The motion to take the order from the table was declared lost.

Coun. NORTON, for the Committee on Soldiers' Relief, submitted report recommending passage of order for payment of aid to soldiers and sailors and their families in the City of Boston for the month of September, 1933.

ADDITIONAL TENNIS COURTS AT FRANKLIN PARK.

Coun. BRACKMAN offered the following: Ordered, That the Park Commissioner be requested by his Honor the Mayor to build additional tennis courts at Franklin Park.

Coun. BRACKMAN—Mr. President, just a word upon this order. Recently there has been a great deal of interest in the playing of tennis by the school children of Boston, and the facilities afforded have been hardly adequate. You have to go there early in the morning to get the use of a court. We have plenty of room on Franklin Park to build courts, and there are plenty of men on Public Welfare who could build them at little expense to the city. I hope the order will pass.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

Coun. BURKE—That is the order I spoke about a short while ago. I think if this $25,000 is now given to the Police Commissioner he can start the installation, and, if possible, be thereby enabled to sooner put through installation of the radio system.

The order was referred to the Committee on Finance.

IMPROVEMENTS IN WARD 17.

OFFICIAL CHRONICLE OF BOSTON MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

VOL. 25.

No. 39

BOSTON'S CHARITY CARNIVAL AND BASEBALL GAME FOR UNEMPLOYMENT RELIEF MOST SUCCESSFUL EVER STAGED—BALL GAME BETWEEN BRAVES AND RED SOX FULL OF THRILLS FOR 17,000 FANS AND CITY EMPLOYEES—MAYOR CURLEY'S PLAN FOR INCREASING WELFARE DEPARTMENT'S RELIEF EFFORTS FOR REMAINDER OF YEAR FULFILLED.

Success of the most complete sort ever to have been by the City of Boston climaxed the charity carnival, entertainment and baseball game on Wednesday afternoon when between 17,000 and 19,000 municipal workers and their friends gathered at Braves Field to aid the city in securing funds with which to eke out the unemployment aid for the remainder of the year. The carnival and entertainment were a success and the baseball game was a success in that it was well and closely played as any close major league contest could have been. The Braves won the game but the Red Sox won fully as much praise for their contest and with the score only 2 to 1 everybody was satisfied.

The turnout was a great tribute to Mayor Curley, who sponsored and organized the event. It was a credit to Judge Fuchs and Eddie Collins for their magnanimous contribution, and it was a tribute to the ball players, the athletes and the entertainers who gave the fans and guests a treat that will not be forgotten for ages. And incidentally the Welfare Department will have a fund that will go far toward accomplishing what was desired, the assurance of enough funds to complement what the city provided so that no one might go hungry or suffer during the remainder of the year.

Comedy Furnished by Experts.

The baseball game between the Braves and Red Sox was carded as the feature attraction, but the old clowns of the diamond, Nick Altrock and Al Schacht of the Washington Senators, aided and abetted by Boston's own Rabbit Maranville, well repaid the fans for their admission fees with their own line of mirth-producing antics. Nick and Al and Rabbit were never any funnier and they perhaps will never be as funny again.

Altrock had a very busy day. He was selected as master of ceremonies and he had the crowd in a panic as he introduced the various stars before the ball game got under way. The long program included band contests, tug-of-war clashes, sprint races, baseball throwing, girls who toss the spheroid like the gals used to toss rolling pins in the days gone by, pony races, drills and many song and dance acts from Boston's leading theaters.

Miss Louise Stokes, the flying amazon from the Onteora Club, Malden, easily proved the star in the 50 and 100 meter races that were arranged for the women athletes. The New England champion had plenty of competition in both the dashes across the field, but finally won both events in the times of $6\frac{1}{2}$ and $12\frac{1}{2}$ seconds, respectively.

Finishing next to the Malden flash was Olive Hasenfus of the Boston Swimming Association and Charlotte Rafferty in the 50-meter run, while the order was the same in the longer dash, only Miss Margaret Burke of the Brockton Girls' Club managed to finish third.

Miss Josephine Lally of the Boston Swimming Association also gave an exhibition of baseball throwing which not only made a hit with the crowd but the ball players especially. Miss Lally hurled the horsehide some 250 feet, which proved why the Boston girl is the New England champion.

Tug of War Contests.

The afternoon's entertainment started before noon when a tug-of-war contest was held. But the real entertainment did not get going until about two o'clock. From that time on there was not an idle moment, for the different actors kept the ball rolling well on until it was time for the ball game to start. All in all the afternoon proved a gala occasion and is a great tribute to the committee.

The following acts were staged by Mr. James J. McGuinness of the Allied Theatres of Massachusetts: Perry Twins and Travers from the Howard Theatre; Les Costello, Bowdoin Square Theatre; Bagley, Ray and Dixon, Bowdoin Square Theatre; The Lighting Duo, Keith's Theatre; Loew's Orpheum Orchestra under the direction of Dave Lesberg; Joe Harris and Larry Jenkins, Loew's State; Bob Hall, Loew's Orpheum; Miss Ruth Brent, Loew's Orpheum; Johnny Dowd, Metropolitan booking offices; Victoria Frank, Metropolitan booking offices; the Three "R's," Keith's Theatre; Main Street Rollins, Scollay Square Theatre; Hickory Nuts, Keith's booking office, and Tak Wah Chan, Bowdoin Square.

Bands Furnished Music.

No small share of the entertainment was furnished by the bands which included the Boston Fire Department band, William L. Harris Post, No. 196 band, Old Dorchester Post No. 65, champion drum and bugle corps American Legion, and the House of the Angel Guardian band. In connection with the band music, Drum Major Miss "Dot" Slamin of Waltham, American champion at the Century of Progress Fair at Chicago, gave an exhibition of stick twirling. In the tug-of-war contest the Roxbury tug-of-war four defeated the South End division.

Fred Hoey, the popular announcer, also was introduced to the crowd. The well-known announcer who will radio the first and fifth game in the World's Series received a great reception.

"O Boston, fair City enthroned like a radiant queen,
From thy hills looking down on the ship-teeming plain of the ocean,
May thy future be bright, thy skies beam with light all serene,
Ensured by thy sons' and thy daughters' unselfish devotion!"

NATHAN HASKELL DOLE.

The City of Boston bond issue, on which bids were opened on Wednesday, September 27, was awarded late in the afternoon by City Treasurer Dolan to a group of banking houses through the chief financial centers of the country.

High bidder for long-term bonds was a syndicate composed of the City Company of New York, Incorporated, the Guaranty Company of New York, the Bankers Trust Company, the First of Boston Corporation, R. At the private sale, so called, the City Company group bid 100.1009 for $2,000,000 of the tunnel bonds due in 1963 as 4½ and $2,000,000 due in 1983 as 4½ and agreed to take the balance of the bonds at the original coupon rates. These issues were $3,500,000 municipal relief 4s due on October 1, 1934, to 1938 and $1,000,000 street, sewer and highway 4½s due from 1934 to 1953.

A syndicate composed of the Chase National Bank, F. S. Moseley & Co., Lehman Brothers, Brown Brothers, Harriman & Co., Stone & Webster and Blodgett, Incorporated, Peabody & Co., Salomon Brothers & Hutzler and R. W. AUTHORITY TO DO WORK.

OFFER TO SELL YOUNG'S HOTEL PROPERTY WITHDRAWN.

The following communication has been received in the Mayor's Office:

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR MR. MAYOR,—Referring to our letter in which we offered to sell to the city the so-called Young's Hotel property, with an assessed value of $1,300,000, comprising 17,553 square feet of land with the buildings thereon, for the sum of $700,000.

We realize that this purchase would mean a large immediate saving to the city by the very considerable amount of rents now paid to private owners for the departmental quarters. We believed further that the addition of this large area to the present site of City Hall and City Hall Annex would permanently keep City Hall in its present location. We thought that this result would be approved of and commended by the taxpayers and real estate interest generally because it would stabilize and maintain down-town real estate values with resultant benefit to the city and its citizens and taxpayers. For these reasons we agreed to a price of $700,000 which we believed to be far below the fair value of the property.

While we know that the criticisms of the proposal are unjust and utterly unwarranted, the publicity given to it has brought about negotiations which may lead to the transfer of this property to other interests.

Under these circumstances, the Y-H Corporation hereby withdraws its offer to accept from the city $700,000 for the so-called Young's Hotel property.

As taxpayers we are sorry that this course seems necessary, as when the city later is compelled to take these premises it is probable that it will have to pay $1,500,000 or more for the property which by prompt action might have been obtained for $700,000.

Respectfully yours,

Y-H CORPORATION,
W. R. SCUDDEN, President.

MAYOR CURLEY PRAISED FOR SUCCESS IN GUIDING CITY THROUGH STRESSFUL TIMES.

Mayor Curley received the following communication from the Chesebrough Building Company, 24 State street, New York:

YOUR HONOR,—Your advertisement of the financial standing of the City of Boston in the New York Times today is an encouraging sign to the American people.

Europeans have referred to the management of our American cities with such criticism in the last few years. I trust they will study the splendid exhibition as published today.

I read same with satisfaction and pride and I approve your gesture of high endeavor in city management. Also that you were willing to tell others of your work.

With respects,

Sincerely yours,

CHESEBROUGH BUILDING COMPANY,
ARTHUR J. HOPPER,
Secretary.

5. Build brick catch-basins at the locations as shown on the plan, all according to the specifications in the contract for constructing manholes and catch-basins.

For each cubic yard of brick masonry constructed, the contract price per cubic yard of $25 will be added to your contract price.

6. Construct roadway within the city's portion of the traffic circle, of bituminous macadam, according to the standard specifications for bituminous macadam of the Metropolitan District Commission.

For each ton of crushed stone, stone dust, etc., furnished, delivered, spread and rolled for this bituminous macadam, the sum of $1.40 will be added to your contract price.

Furnish, deliver and spread clean earth filling for extending slope between new boulevard and caretaker's house, the low area between the boulevard and the high hill to the north near Centre street, the low area of the bridle path where it crosses the brook, and the low area on the southerly side of the boulevard in the triangle at West Roxbury Parkway.

For each cubic yard of earth filling furnished, delivered and spread, the contract price per cubic yard of 60 cents will be added to your contract price.

12. Furnish and erect, complete, a highway guard fence along the northerly side of the southerly roadway where the southerly roadway is at a higher elevation than the northerly roadway. The highway guard fence is to be constructed of spruce post eight (8) inches in diameter and set six (6) feet into the ground and set sixteen (16) feet on centers. General Order No. 288.

Patrolman Harry Brooks of Division 10 is commended in General Orders for his alertness and attention to duty shown on September 2, 1933.

While patrolling his route Patrolman Brooks discovered hidden in a clump of bushes a very substantial part of a lot of wearing apparel which had been stolen in a break in a store during the night of August 24, 1933, and which was made the subject of a superintendent's order.

The commissioner is pleased to commend Patrolman Brooks for his keen observation and his earnest attention to duty.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

EUGENE C. HULTMAN,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 289.

Patrolmen Henry T. Doherty and Charles E. White of Division 11, are commended in General Orders for meritorious duty performed on April 1, 1933.

While cruising in a police car these officers observed a car bearing registration numbers which the officers immediately realized had not been issued by the Registrar of Motor Vehicles. The officers gave chase and overtook the car and neither of the occupants possessed an operator's license or a certificate of registration. Upon searching the car the officers found a fully loaded revolver and a set of dealer's plates which had been altered and which had been reported stolen. Examination of the plates attached to the car showed that they were issued in 1931 and the last figure of the date had been cleverly changed so that it appeared to be a 1933 registration.

The commissioner is pleased to recognize the initiative and keen observation shown by these officers in performing this efficient police duty.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

EUGENE C. HULTMAN,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 290.

Patrolmen William J. Dacey and John J. Downes, both of Division 13, are commended in General Orders and each given two days' additional vacation for efficient police duty in the early morning of July 6, 1933.

While patrolling in a cruising car, these officers observed a man sitting in a parked automobile at the side door of a chain store. The officers approached the car and while one of the officers questioned the man in the car, the other officer investigated and found that the store had been broken into. Upon entering the store Patrolman Downes discovered a man hiding behind a counter. A quantity of merchandise was found on the floor ready to be removed. Upon searching the automobile, several burglar's tools were found.

The commissioner is pleased to recognize the alertness and attention to duty shown by these officers in the apprehension of these felons.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

EUGENE C. HULTMAN,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 291.

Sergeant Edward J. Sullivan of Division 17 is commended in General Orders for his prompt response in an emergency on September 8, 1933, when it was reported at the station that a woman had left her home and contemplated committing suicide by jumping into the Charles river. Sergeant Sullivan went immediately in a cruising car to the bank of the Charles river, where a woman, answering the description given to the police, was observed on the bank of the river on the Dedham side, about ten feet from the water. Sergeant Sullivan ran about two hundred yards and caught her as she was about to jump into the river.

The commissioner is pleased to recognize the prompt and effective service rendered by Sergeant Sullivan on this occasion which probably prevented the loss of life.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

EUGENE C. HULTMAN,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 292.

Patrolman Thomas A. Gibbs of Division 11 having arrived at the age of sixty and four-twelfths years, having performed faithful service in the Police Department for thirty and one-twelfths years, and having requested to be retired from active service, it is hereby Ordered, His Honor the Mayor having approved the same, that the said Patrolman Thomas A. Gibbs be retired from active service and that his name be placed upon the department pension roll with pay at the rate of ten hundred and fifty (1,050) dollars per annum (payable monthly), said sum being one half of the amount of compensation received by him in the office from which he is retired, previous to a fifteen per cent reduction in pay, which went into effect April 21, 1933.

Note.

By chapter 121, Acts of 1933 (having to do with reductions in pay), provision is made for retirement for those in a non-contributory system, at half of the rate of compensation received before such reduction.

The retirement of Patrolman Thomas A. Gibbs, as herein provided, will take effect at 7.45 o'clock a. m., Thursday, September 28, 1933.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

EUGENE C. HULTMAN,

General Order No. 293.

Sergt. Francis H. McGeever and Patrolmen John S. Rice and John R. Donovan, all of Division 15, are commended in General Orders for efficient police duty performed on September 15, 1933, in the arrest of three persons who were involved in an automobile accident in the Charlestown district. After the accident, the three men abandoned the car and ran through School street, left two revolvers in a doorway and then proceeded to the Haymarket Relief Hospital where they were treated for injuries received in the accident. Sergeant McGeever and Patrolmen Rice and Donovan, upon receiving word from the hospital, investigated, recovered the guns and placed the three men under arrest. After questioning, the men admitted their guilt.

The commissioner is pleased to recognize the thorough and effective manner in which these officers performed their duty.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

EUGENE C. HULTMAN,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 294.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

EUGENE C. HULTMAN,
Commissioner.

BOSTON AS A TOWN.

From its foundation until 1755, or a period of 125 years, Boston was not only the most outstanding but the most populous town in the American colonies. In 1760, Philadelphia's population was ahead, viz., 18,756, Boston's then being 15,631 and New York's about 14,000. In the last year of town government, viz., 1821, Boston's population was about 45,000 and its public debt $100,000, all incurred for new county buildings.

The history of Boston as a town during a period of nearly two centuries surpasses in civic interest that of Boston as a city because of the untiring zeal and successful efforts of its townsmen to realize more of true democracy than had ever been attained before. Their obligations were held as sacred as their liberties.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, September 18, 1933.
To the City Council.

City of Boston,
Park Department, September 15, 1933.
Hon. James M. Curley,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—I am in receipt of an order from the City Council that the Park Commission be requested to build additional tennis courts at Franklin Park. I will be pleased to make a personal investigation of conditions, and if it is possible to comply with this request, it will be a pleasure to do so.

The area at Franklin Park devoted to tennis courts at the present time is quite large, and in order to lay out additional courts a considerable amount of grading would have to be done.

Very respectfully yours,

Chairman.

TRAFFIC LIGHTS, NORTH END.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, September 18, 1933.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I am advised by the members of the Boston Traffic Commission that the installation of signal lights in Keany square and on Hanover street are deemed necessary in order to control automobile traffic in these locations and to protect pedestrians. Statistics compiled by the Traffic Commission indicate that a number of serious accidents have occurred at these spots because of the heavy flow of motor vehicle traffic and the absence of any system of control of such traffic. According to estimates prepared by the Traffic Commission the installation of lights in these locations will involve an expenditure of approximately $20,000. There is available at the present time in the appropriation for the installation of lights on Commonwealth avenue, between Arlington street and Governor square, an unexpended and unencumbered balance of $8,435.44. Since the work for which this loan was authorized has been completed, I propose to transfer this unexpended balance to the North End project and secure the remainder of the amount necessary for this latter project, namely $12,000, by the issuance of a loan order.

I accordingly submit herewith two orders, one providing for the transfer of the unexpended balance on the Commonwealth avenue installation, and the other for a loan in the amount of $12,000.

I respectfully recommend adoption of these two orders by your honorable body.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

Ordered, That the sum of $12,000 be, and the same hereby is, appropriated, to be expended under the direction of the Boston Traffic Commission for automatic traffic signals, North End section, and that to meet said appropriation the City Treasurer be authorized to issue, from time to time, on request of the Mayor, bonds or certificates of indebtedness of the City of Boston to said amount.

Ordered, That under authority of chapter 261 of the Acts of 1893 the City Auditor be, and hereby is, authorized to transfer:

From the appropriation for Automatic Traffic Signal System on Commonwealth Avenue, from Arlington Street to Governor Square, $8,435.44, to the appropriation for Automatic Traffic Control Signals, North End Section, $8,435.44.

SALE OF LAND TO MASSACHUSETTS GENERAL HOSPITAL.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, September 18, 1933.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—Under date of August 15, 1931, I submitted to your honorable body an order authorizing the sale of certain property in the vicinity of Fruit and North Grove streets, formerly used by the Fire and Public Works Departments, to the Massachusetts General Hospital. This order provided for the sale of approximately 25,000 square feet of land at a price of $6 per square foot. This order was approved by the City Council under date of October 19, 1931. Because of financial complications no action was ever taken on this order and ownership of the property still rests in the City of Boston.

I am now in receipt of an offer from the Trustees of the Massachusetts General Hospital for the purchase of this property at a price of $4 per square foot. This reduced tender is made by the trustees because of the more or less general depreciation in real estate values which has occurred in the city during the past two years. I am advised by experts, with an intimate knowledge of real estate values in the West End section of the city, that in view of existing conditions the present offer of the Hospital Trustees is reasonable and fair. In view of the fact that the property in question is no longer needed for public purposes and that its sale at the price offered will afford the city approximately $100,000 in revenue, I submit herewith a new order providing for its sale at the proffered figure.

I respectfully recommend passage of the accompanying order by your honorable body.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

Whereas, The City of Boston is the present owner of property situated at the corner of North Grove street and Fruit street, in said City of Boston, and is also the owner of property situated on the northwesterly side of said North Grove street, between Fruit street and Cambridge street, and formerly used as an engine house of the Boston Fire Department and now used by the Sheriff of Suffolk County; and

Whereas, 23,005 square feet of land with a frontage of about 162 feet on said North Grove street, with the buildings thereon, are no longer needed for public purposes, and about 1,460 square feet of land, with the building thereon, and formerly used as an engine house of the Boston Fire Department, as aforesaid, with a frontage of about 29 feet on said North Grove street, are no longer needed for public purposes; and

Whereas, The Massachusetts General Hospital, a corporation duly organized under the laws of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts and having an usual place of business in Boston in said Commonwealth, desires to purchase for hospital purposes the above described parcels of land with the buildings thereon;

Now, therefore, it is hereby ordered, That his Honor the Mayor, be, and he hereby is, authorized to affix the corporate seal of the City of Boston and to sign in the name and behalf of said City of Boston an instrument in writing, satisfactory in form to the Law Department of said City of Boston, wherein the said City of Boston grants to the said Massachusetts General Hospital about 23,005 square feet of land with the buildings thereon situated in said Boston on the southerly side of Fruit street and on the northwesterly side of North Grove street, at the corner of said streets, and having a frontage of about 162 feet on North Grove street, and wherein the said City of Boston also grants to the said Massachusetts General Hospital about 1,460 square feet of land situated on the northwesterly side of said North Grove street, between Fruit street and Cambridge street, and having a frontage of about 29 feet on the said North Grove street, together with the building thereon which was formerly used as an engine house of the Fire Department of the City of Boston as aforesaid.

And it is further ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be, and he hereby is, authorized to deliver the said written instrument to the said Massachusetts General Hospital, conveying the land and buildings above described to it upon the payment to the said City of Boston by the Massachusetts General Hospital of four dollars per square foot for the said land with the buildings thereon.

September 16, 1933.

Mr. Christopher Carven,
Superintendent of Public Works, Boston.

Dear Sir,—The Massachusetts General Hospital hereby offers to purchase from the City of Boston the two following parcels of real estate for the price of four dollars ($4) per square foot.

The first of said two parcels of land is bounded easterly by the westerly line of said North Grove street, one hundred sixty-two and 41-100 feet; northerly by the southerly line of Fruit street, one hundred thirty-three and 41-100 feet; westerly by land of the City of Boston, fourteen and 61-100 feet; northerly again by land of the City of Boston, seventeen and 23-100 feet; westerly again by land of the City of Boston, thirty and 47-100 feet; northwesterly by land of the City of Boston, thirteen and 42-100 feet; westerly again by land of the City of Boston by two measurements, seventy-nine and 13-100 feet and thirteen and 51-100 feet, respectively; southerly by land of the City of Boston, one hundred forty-seven and 20-100 feet, containing 23,005 square feet of land more or less.

The second of said parcels of land is bounded easterly by the westerly line of said North Grove street, twenty-eight and 73-100 feet; southerly by land supposed to belong to said The Massachusetts General Hospital by two measurements, forty-three and 90-100 feet and seven and 10-100 feet, respectively; westerly by land of the City of Boston, twenty-eight and 27-100 feet; and northerly by land of the City of Boston by the northerly face of the northerly wall of the brick building upon this second parcel of land, fifty-one feet; containing 1,460 square feet of land more or less.

The above described parcels of land are shown on a plan marked "City of Boston, North Grove Street, Boston Proper, November 19, 1931, William J. Sullivan, Chief Engineer, Street Laying-Out Department," and said plan is on file in the office of said department.

Very truly yours,
MASSACHUSETTS GENERAL HOSPITAL,
by PHILIP KETCHUM.

REINSTATEMENT OF JOSEPH A. CALKINS, JR.

Notice was received from the Board of Election Commissioners of proposed reinstatement of

Referred to Executive Committee.

THE YOUNG'S HOTEL PROPERTY.

The following was received:

The Finance Commission of the City of Boston,
Boston, September 13, 1933.
To the Committee on Finance, Boston City Council.

Gentlemen,—The Finance Commission desires to submit the following facts in regard to the proposal now before your honorable body to borrow $700,000 for the purchase of the old Young's Hotel property and to make use of that building as a second City Hall Annex.

It has been stated by his Honor the Mayor that the purchase and remodeling of this parcel will enable the city to house in its own building departments which now pay approximately $68,000 a year for rent of leased quarters.

In the first place, it is not agreed between the Mayor and the departments he has mentioned that it is advisable to place all of these departments in the same building with numerous other municipal activities.

Next, in the matter of economy, the saving of this $68,000 expenditure will be more than offset by the overhead cost of the proposal, including approximately $28,000 a year for interest on the loan. The taxes on the Young's Hotel property for the year 1932 amounted to $45,500. The cost of remodeling and renovating to meet the city's requirements and the cost of janitors, light and heat would put an actual annual expense upon the city of from $25,000 to $50,000.

The Finance Commission believes that within a short time there would be an agitation which city officials would not combat to tear down this old structure and replace it with a new building.

The valuation of the Young's Hotel property at present totals $1,300,000 of which $116,200 is on the building and $1,183,800 on the land. The Finance Commission does not believe the assessors' valuation is a correct indication of the real value of the parcel, as the following facts in regard to its purchase a year ago by the interests that are now trying to sell it to the city will show:

The Young's Hotel parcel was acquired by the Y. H. Realty Corporation in a swap for the parcel known as the Province Building.

Three real estate operators—William J. McDonald, Max Shoolman and Bernard Goldfine—found that the Olympia Realty Company would sell its equity in the Province Building for $240,000 cash plus a second mortgage to be placed by the speculators on the Young's Hotel property after acquisition by them in the sum of $180,000, which second mortgage would be subject to a first mortgage of $270,000, also to be placed by them, plus 1,000 shares or 40 per cent of the preferred stock in the Realty Company, which would hold the equity in the Young's Hotel property.

They then induced the Fifty Associates who owned the Young's Hotel free and clear to agree to swap the property with them for the Province Building subject to the then existing mortgages upon it, plus $100,000 in cash.

The deal was completed by the Fifty Associates transferring title to Young's Hotel to a straw designated by the real estate operators. The straw then executed a first mortgage on the property in the amount of $270,000 to the real estate operators who, in turn, pledged it and Liberty Bonds as collateral with the First National Bank for a loan of $145,000, so that without paying out any money themselves the real estate operators took the $100,000 from the Fifty Associates and the $145,000 raised from the First National Bank on the first mortgage on the Young's Hotel property, totaling $245,000, and paid the Olympia Realty Company $240,000 and had $5,000 for incidental expenses.

The straw at the same time gave the second mortgage of $180,000 to the Olympia Company as agreed and then transferred the equity in the Young's Hotel property to the Y. H. Realty Corporation in exchange for all of its stock, designating that the Olympia Company should receive 40 per cent of the preferred stock, or 1,000 shares, and the real estate operators should receive the remaining 60 per cent of the preferred stock and all of the common stock. So, when the transaction was complete the real estate operators had a first mortgage on the Young's Hotel property of $270,000, pledged for a loan of $145,000, and all the common stock and 60 per cent of the preferred stock in the corporation that owned the equity in the Young's Hotel property, without the outlay of a dollar.

Thereafter, in the summer of 1933, the real estate operators paid $5,000 and securities of a face value of $130,000 to the Olympia Company, or its assignee, the New England Theatres, Inc., for a discharge of the second mortgage on the Young's Hotel property and its 1,000 shares of preferred stock in the Y. H. Realty Corporation.

The First National Bank acquired as further security upon the loan of $145,000 an assignment of the rents paid by the United States Government. As a result of this assignment of rents, the obligation of the operators had been reduced from $145,000 to the present figure of $69,875.83.

In short, the only expense the real estate operators have been to in acquiring the Young's Hotel property has been $5,000 in cash and securities of a face value of $130,000 plus the balance of their obligation to the First National Bank in the amount of $69,875.83. Therefore, if the city pays the real estate operators $700,000, they stand to make half a million dollars.

The Finance Commission has been aware for many months that efforts were being made to unload the Young's Hotel property on the city.

The new Post Office Building is completed and the Federal Government is now relinquishing occupancy of Young's Hotel. The Federal Government paid rental for Young's Hotel of $115,000 a year. The prospects of obtaining another tenant are and were so poor that a representative of the Fifty Associates admitted that they were very anxious to dispose of the parcel.

The Finance Commission has been informed that one of the conditions named by them before they agreed to take the Province Building in a swap was that the assessment on the Province Building parcel must be reduced, as they considered it too high. A reduction of the assessment from a total of $2,790,000 to $2,247,900 was speedily obtained in 1932 by the interests now owning Young's Hotel, but no reduction was obtained on the assessment of the Young's Hotel property at that time or since.

The Finance Commission is of the opinion that this is another case of the city being asked to pay a handsome profit to real estate speculators for property that will add to the taxpayers' burdens and be of little or no advantage to the city at this time.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSEPH A. SHEEHAN,
JOSEPH JOYCE DONAHUE,
CHARLES M. STOREY,
The Finance Commission.

CHARTERS OF CLUBS.

The following was received:

The Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Officer of the Secretary

Boston, September 16, 1933.

Board of Aldermen, Boston.

Gentlemen,—This letter concerns the matter of charters in your city for the carrying on of clubs and other organizations incorporated under the provisions of chapter 180 of the General Laws, and is sent because of the apparent failure of local officials in some cities and towns to understand their responsibilities concerning such organizations.

Please consider this as sent not in the spirit of criticism but rather in the hope that better cooperation may result in the control of chartered resorts. As you know, this office has no police powers and any action taken in granting such charters or revoking them is based on reports received from you.

Section five of said chapter provides for investigation and report by the mayor and aldermen, selectmen or police commissioner of Boston, of all incorporators and officers of any new club that is proposed, and also whether the location is a suitable one. No charters are issued from this office unless the report is favorable. This investigation should not be a perfunctory one but should be thorough and the report should fully state your findings and recommendations.

Section twenty-seven of said chapter makes it mandatory for city and town officers to immediately give notice to this office of convictions for violations of liquor or gambling laws on the premises of any club that the charter may be revoked, but this office has no authority to revoke the charter unless your local authorities give the required notice.

Rather frequently in the news appears the report of a raid upon some chartered club but there is no authority to take away its charter until the final conviction in the courts. If there is such a conviction in your city and the immediate notice is sent as required by law, this office will take immediate action in declaring such corporation void.

Knowing every city and town official is desirous of cleaning up any disreputable chartered resorts in his own community, I am calling attention to these provisions of the law in order that this office may have sufficient authority to take prompt and effective action.

Very truly yours,

F. W. COOK,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

DAYS OFF FOR JEWISH EMPLOYEES.

Coun. RUBY offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor instruct all department heads to allow days off with pay on September 21, 22 and 30, for all Jewish employees because of the Jewish holidays.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

JEWISH EMPLOYEES TO BE PAID SEPTEMBER 20TH.

Coun. RUBY offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor instruct the various departments through which Jewish recipients are paid this week, that they be paid on Wednesday, September 20, instead of Thursday and Friday of this week, because of the Jewish holidays.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

JEWISH WELFARE RECIPIENTS TO BE PAID SEPTEMBER 20TH.

Coun. RUBY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Welfare Department be instructed through his Honor the Mayor to pay the Jewish recipients of aid on Wednesday, September 20, instead of Thursday, and Friday of this week, because of the Jewish holidays.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

TRAFFIC LIGHTS, COLUMBIA ROAD.

Coun. RUBY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Traffic Commissioner be requested through his Honor the Mayor to install traffic lights on Columbia road and Geneva avenue, and corner of Columbia road and Washington street.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

RECREATION HALL, LONG ISLAND.

Coun. RUBY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Institutions Commissioner be instructed, through his Honor the Mayor to permit the nurses and doctors at the Long Island Hospital to use the recreation hall after 8 o'clock p. m., when they are not on duty.

Coun. RUBY—Mr. President, information has come to me that, in spite of the fact that we have spent about $300,000 for one of the most beautiful buildings in the city—namely, the recreation building at Long Island—even though the nurses and doctors are off duty after that time and are still obliged to be on the island, they are unable to use the recreation building because of an order of the commissioner. I understand that the inmates of Long Island are out of that building by eight o'clock at night. In view of that fact, and in view of the further fact that the building has facilities for partial entertainment, at least, of the employees and attaches at the island, who are obliged to be on the island twenty-four hours a day and who should be allowed some form of entertainment, that building cannot be used by them. I cannot understand why the building is not thrown open, because, as a member of the committee considering the nature of that building at the time, we were informed that it could be made available for the inmates of the hospital and the attaches as well. I understand that the nurses and doctors might use a part of the building for entertainment in the form of dances, bridge parties, games or other such amusements, but are not now able to do so. It is not available after eight o'clock at night. I think unless the commissioner has some good reason to the contrary, the building should be thrown open to the attaches of the hospital after eight o'clock, when the doctors and nurses are not on duty. Therefore, I ask a suspension of the rule and passage of the order.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

INFORMATION FROM POLICE COMMISSIONER.

Coun. RUBY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Police Commissioner be requested through his Honor the Mayor to furnish the Boston City Council with the following information:

1. The number of mounted patrolmen on duty in 1928.
2. Number of patrolmen resigned, removed, or retired or vacancies created through death from 1928 to September 1, 1933.
3. Amount of patrolmen in each division on September 1, 1933.
4. Amount of patrolmen assigned to stations outside of 1, 2, 3, 4, and 5 by the abolition of Stations 20 and 21.

Coun. RUBY—Mr. Chairman, information I have received, if it is correct, has convinced me that there are at the present time five or more less police officers in the City of Boston now than there were in 1927, the last time when the City Council authorized an increase of 125 men, which was in addition to 300 men authorized the year previous. Those 425 men at that time were placed in the Traffic Division and stationed on traffic duty in the heart of Boston. Up to that time there had not been an additional man put in the suburban Boston stations—referring now to Charlestown, South Boston, Roxbury, Dorchester, or Hyde Park, West Roxbury and Jamaica Plain. In fact, even as far back as 1926 there has not been an additional man put on in any of these station houses, in spite of the fact that men have resigned, have died, have been removed and retired. In spite of the fact that all these men have left the service, not one additional man has been put into the department. Nevertheless, there have been men who were charged particularly to the so-called suburban station houses, assigned to different parts of downtown Boston, like the Police Headquarters and other parts of our Police Department. If that is a fact, and I understand that it is, I cannot understand the statement made by the Police Commissioner last Tuesday morning—and I still have no quarrel with the Commissioner—to the effect that he did not have enough money with which to put on the 300 men asked for by the City Council. I don't know how the budget of the Police Department is run, but I do know that around April, May or June a budget is submitted to us for the entire personnel of the Police Department, and included in that is every possible man employed in our police service. If there are vacancies arising through death, retirement, resignation, removal or advancement, it occurs to me that that money should be available in the budget. I don't think we are asking that the tax burden on the city be increased when we ask the Police Commissioner to keep his personnel, because, after all, the captains, lieutenants and sergeants have no performance of duty which brings them in direct contact with the matter of protection of the citizenry of Boston. It is the patrolmen who is charged with the duty of such protection, not only with the apprehension of crime, but the protection of the small girl or boy in the public schools of our city. So it is not a question of whether we can afford to safeguard the lives and safety of the children who live in our city. To make a statement that it is would be absolutely unwarranted, especially in view of the fact that our Police Commissioner is asking us for $300,000 simply for the radio equipment of the Police Department. That is, if my information is correct, one of the newspapers of Boston quotes him today as asking for $300,000 in order to furnish radio equipment to the department. For the information of that newspaper, if it so stated—and I have not read the article—and for the information of the Police Commissioner, if it is true that he says he does request $300,000 for two-way radio equipment for the department I might say that we have been informed that $75,000 will pay for the two-radio equipment, and that the other money required will be for the relaying of cables, so that there may be connection not only between the automobile and the station house but between the various police boxes of the city. Even if it would cost $300,000 for two-way radio equipment I would not hesitate to vote in this body, because I believe such equipment is essential and that it would represent wise economy to spend the $300,000 if necessary for two-way radio police equipment. But that is not what we have been told by the Technology experts. We have been told that the bulk of the amount needed would go for cables. I do believe, however, that every station house in Boston should be properly manned and equipped for police protection, and for that reason I am asking for this information. I trust that the order will be passed under suspension of the rule.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

Ordered, That the Superintendent of Public Buildings of the City of Boston be, and he hereby is, authorized in the name and behalf of the City of Boston, with the approval of the Mayor of the City of Boston, and in form satisfactory to the Law Department of the City of Boston, to lease for post headquarters to Oliver Ames Post No. 117, the American Legion, for the term of five years, at an annual rental of one dollar a year, fire station at the corner of Longwood avenue and Brookline avenue, when vacated, with the right to cancel said lease by giving thirty days' notice in writing of its intention so to do.

Report accepted; order passed.

EXTENSION OF WATER MAINS.

Coun. BRACKMAN offered the following:

Ordered, That under authority of section 1, chapter 324, of the Acts of 1914, the sum of $600,000 be, and hereby is, appropriated, to be expended under the direction of the Commissioner of Public Works, for extension of water mains, and that to meet said appropriation the City Treasurer be authorized to issue from time to time, upon request of the Mayor, bonds or certificates of indebtedness of the city to said amount, the same to be issued outside the statutory limit of indebtedness.

Coun. BRACKMAN—Mr. President, this is not a new order in this body. On July 11, 1932, the Mayor of Boston sent to the Council a message and order concerning extension of water mains, and in the message he said:

"Gentlemen: I am advised by the Commissioner of Public Works that he desires to reinforce and supplement the water service of the Elm Hill section of Roxbury and the entire Dorchester district by the construction of a 48-inch main to connect with the Metropolitan District Commission's high service main at the Arborway and Pond street, and extending from that point to the existing 36-inch high service main at Geneva avenue and Columbia road. This extension will provide much better domestic service and will greatly improve fire protection facilities. According to the Commission the estimated cost of this extension is $600,000. In accordance with the provisions of section 1, chapter 324, of the Acts of 1914, the loan covering this project may be issued outside the debt limit and financed from water income."

This is a situation that has existed in one of the finest residential sections of Boston for many years. We have a situation there wherein a tenant living in an apartment house cannot get a sufficient water for his or her needs, a condition that should not exist in these days of proper plumbing facilities. There are a great many complaints made because of the situation. First, people were able to put larger pipes into the houses. This, however, did not remedy the difficulty, and we had the ridiculous spectacle of people carrying buckets of water in these enlightened days to their homes for their use. For years the situation existed until I finally introduced two orders asking for an investigation and calling upon the Public Works Commissioner to make a report to this body, and then the Mayor saw fit to introduce an order to expend $600,000 for the purpose. At that time, because of some negotiation with the state, involving a tacking in to the main line, there seemed to be a possibility of saving $100,000, and the bill was dismissed without prejudice. The next time we see it appear here in the Council in connection with the Federal appropriation of $23,000,000, in the Mayor's schedule submitted to the body, wherein an amount was set apart for this purpose. We all know that that plan has been withdrawn, and the situation now is that there is no money in sight for it. I think it would be a serious slight to the people of Roxbury, Dorchester and Jamaica Plain to permit this condition to exist another week, because in those parts of Boston practically the highest taxes are paid. The people out there are entitled to at least adequate water service when they are paying high water bills. This should not really cost the City of Boston a penny. It will be financed out of water income. If we get the proper means to which we are entitled the people will use more water and there will accordingly be more income for the city. I have taken the initiative in filing this order. I have not taken the opportunity of consulting with the Mayor with the idea of introducing another loan order to cover this project, but I feel that if the body will pass this order the Mayor will approve it, because I think he is truly cognizant of the situation that exists and knows that it should not exist any longer. I respectfully request, therefore, that we suspend the rule and pass the order and send it along for the Mayor's signature.

The rule was suspended and the question came on the passage of the order!

The clerk started to call the roll, when Coun. Brackman said: Mr. President, as the attendance is very scanty at the present time, may I move that the matter be assigned to the next meeting?

The order was assigned to the next meeting of the Council.

CONFIRMATION OF EXECUTIVE APPOINTMENTS.

On motion of Coun. HEIN, the Council took from the calendar under Unfinished Business Nos. 3 to 6, inclusive, viz.:

3. Action on appointment submitted by the Mayor September 11, 1933, of Roderick G. Maginnis, Jr., to be a Constable, without authority to serve civil process.

4. Action on appointments submitted by the Mayor September 11, 1933, of Ruth Lovejoy and T. F. Rynne, to be Weighers of Coal.

5. Action on appointment submitted by the Mayor September 11, 1933, of Alfred Meade, to be a Weigher of Goods.

6. Action on appointment submitted by the Mayor September 11, 1933, of Ruth Lovejoy, to be a Measurer of Wood.

The question came on confirmation, and the President appointed as the Committee to receive, sort and count ballots, Coun. Fish and Hein.

Whole number of ballots, 14; yeas, 14, and the appointments were confirmed.

RECLAIMING HARBOR FRONT LANDS.

Coun. McGRATH offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to confer with Secretary Ickes for the purpose of submitting a plan for the Federal Government to purchase all the land between the Mile road, the tracks of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad, and the line running along from the end of Dillingham street to the junction of Old Colony road, and to erect a seawall from the property at the end of the Mile road, now or formerly owned by the Boston Consolidated Gas Company, to a point at the Old Colony Boulevard, near the junction of Old Colony terrace, then, by the use of suction pumps on either side of the Mile road, to fill in the area which is now filled in great part by numerous dumps.

This would reclaim practically 640 acres of land which could be then sold as harbor front building lots on a basis of about five lots to the acre. The return from these desirable lots would pay off the entire cost of the construction work, and would, in the meantime, give employment to hundreds of our unemployed.

Referred to Executive Committee.

POLICE AND FIRE STEP INCREASES.

Coun. BURKE offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to restore the step-rate increases to all members of the Boston Police and Fire Departments who are entitled to same.

Coun. BURKE—Mr. President, there are many good reasons why these men should receive their step-rate increases back immediately, and I am calling upon his Honor the Mayor to give them back.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

HEALTH UNIT FOR CODMAN SQUARE.

Coun. BURKE offered the following:

Ordered, That the trustees of the George Robert White Fund be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to consider the erection of a health unit in the Codman square section of Dorchester.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

RESURFACING STREETS IN WARD 17.

Coun. BURKE offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to resurface the following streets in Ward 17. Southern avenue, Tremlett street, West Tremlett street, Moultrie street, Lindsey street, Park street, Claybourne street, Whitfield street, Wheatland avenue.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

LAYING OUT COTTAGE STREET, WARD 7.

Coun. LYNCH offered the following:

Ordered, That The Board of Street Commissioners be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to accept and lay out Cottage street, Ward 7, as a public highway.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

ADDITIONAL DRAWTENDERS, BRIDGE SERVICE.

Coun. LYNCH for Coun. DONOVAN offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to increase the number of drawtenders and assistant drawtenders in the Bridge Service and to fill all vacancies that exist on the various bridges in the City of Boston.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

RE PURITY OF BOSTON'S WATER.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Health Commissioner, through his Honor the Mayor, advise the Council regarding an editorial appearing in the "New England Journal of Medicine" for September 14, 1933, regarding the purity of Boston's water.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, the foremost medical journal in New England, I understand, is the "New England Journal of Medicine," and under date of September 14, 1933, they made this statement in regard to the condition of Boston's water, editorially, under the caption, "Boston's Lead Poison Problem." This editorial deals with the condition of a patient in the Children's Hospital in Boston recently, which led to repeated X-ray examination of the child. As the result of the examination the question of lead poisoning was raised. The case was reported to the State Department of Public Health and an examination of the water supply of the house in Dorchester in which the patient lived was requested. The facts found were that the connection to the street water main was by a one-inch lead pipe approximately 100 feet long, with house service of brass pipe. An analysis of the water standing in the pipe of this house over night showed a lead content greater than that which is known to cause lead poisoning. Substitution of cement-line pipe for the lead pipe was recommended. The editorial goes on to say,

"More or less general conditions in Boston relating to the use of lead pipe are disconcerting, because it was the custom in earlier years to make house connections to street water mains by lead pipes and the Deputy Commissioner of the City Health Department has informed the Journal that many of these connecting lead pipes still exist; further, that analyses of water from various localities in Boston have demonstrated the presence of lead to an objectionable degree. Standing water in the house in which the case cited lived showed .0657 parts of lead to 100,000 of standing water with .0314 parts in running water. Other samples of water supplied to the City of Boston show about the same proportion of lead, the highest proportion being 0.114 to 100,000 parts of water. Two systems of water supply to Boston are employed, a high and a low pressure system. An example of water taken from a house supplied by the high pressure system showed 0.124 parts of lead per 100,000, and the supply contained free chlorine. The Deputy Commissioner of Health of Boston states that 'The water which most of the people of Boston are drinking contains an amount of lead which cannot be ignored. Furthermore, the amount may be increased because the action of chlorine in water is to dissolve in the old lead water main connections the protective coating which was built up before the water was chlorinated. At present new water main connections are copper pipes, but a very small proportion of buildings in Boston have such connections.' The danger of the use of lead pipe for conducting drinking water has been 'confirmed by the United States Public Health Service in a communication received from Surgeon-General Cumming under date of July 11,' by the Boston Health Department. In a reprint of the United States Public Health Report July 28, 1922, a summary is given which states, 'No water to be used for drinking purposes should contain lead compounds in a quantity greater than what would correspond to a half a part of lead to a million of water. Lead to the extent of 0.025 per 100,000 is sufficient to condemn a potable water and 0.36 per 1,000,000 may be poisonous.' As the Deputy Commissioner further has stated in his report that 'We are finding in Boston water from 0.60 to 1.14 parts of lead per million of water.' This amount certainly justifies the statement that the amount of lead in Boston water is near the danger point and that a comparatively small increase would bring it up to an amount which has been known to cause wholesale symptoms of poisoning from a public water supply."

So I am simply asking the Health Commissioner of Boston to be good enough to answer this editorial emanating from the organization of which he and all his fellow-workers in the Health Department are members, and that he advise the Council of the best way to meet the situation. If this is correct, it might well be that the Mayor should take these hundreds of thousands of dollars that it is proposed to expend for Young's Hotel, and use them to benefit the health of the people of the City of Boston through purifying their water supply.

Coun. HEIN—Does it mention there that the Deputy Commissioner wrote this article?

Coun. NORTON—It does not say that, but he is mentioned here in this connection, as I have quoted.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

SURVEY OF SPACE AT CITY HALL.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Finance Commission be requested to make a survey of space at City Hall with a view to recommending whether or not in their opinion more space is necessary.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, we already have more space in our Boston City Hall than there is in any City Hall in a city of the same size in America. Therefore, I claim that if the departments will properly use the space at their disposal we will find that there is too much instead of too little space at present. A comparison with Cleveland, Pittsburgh, Baltimore, St. Louis, or any other city of about the size of Boston, will show that we have 25 to 40 per cent more space for our city departments than any of these other cities, performing the same municipal functions that Boston performs. Therefore, I am asking the Finance Commission to make such a survey and find out whether the space we have is properly used and whether it is necessary to involve the City of Boston in hundreds of thousands of dollars of more expense through buying the Young's Hotel property.

Coun. BURKE—Mr. President, some months ago I introduced the same order that the councilor has introduced today and received back from the Public Buildings Commissioner a report to the effect that the space now used in Boston City Hall is so allocated that the various departments are cramped. It was my opinion at that time that the space might be so allocated to certain departments that departments outside of City Hall might be provided with space in this building. I am interested in the matter, because I want to find out whether the report made at that time was honestly made or made by persons familiar with the allocating of space in a building such as ours.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

Adjourned at 3.53 p. m., on motion of Coun. NORTON, to meet on Monday, September 25, 1933, at 2 p. m.

APPEALS TO RADIO PUBLIC AND ALL STRAIGHT-THINKING CITIZENS TO URGE BUILDING OF HUNTINGTON AVENUE SUBWAY AS NECESSARY UNEMPLOYMENT RELIEF MEASURE—MAYOR CURLEY ADDRESSES AUDIENCE FROM CITY HALL STATION, TELLING OF MAYORS' CONGRESS AND URGING SUPPORT OF PRESIDENT IN HIS RECOVERY PROGRAM—ASKS CITIZENS TO APPEAL TO GOVERNOR.

Mayor Curley, speaking over Station WNAC on October 2, spoke in part as follows:

The success of the national recovery program as outlined by President Roosevelt is dependent entirely upon the cooperation extended President Roosevelt and those in charge of the public works construction program in the various states and subdivisions of states of the Union.

During the past week a congress of mayors of the United States was held in the city of Chicago for the purpose of reaching a definite agreement with regard to the procedure in order that this work, which really represents the foundationing of the national recovery movement, might be prosecuted with added vigor. We found the Secretary of Interior, Mr. Ickes, a very much overworked man and a very little understood man in the work he is endeavoring to carry on. As a result of our conference we discovered that while some five hundred petitions had been received from the states and subdivisions of the states, only two contracts had been awarded to the present time.

As a result of our Congress in Washington it was decided to double the number of attorneys to pass upon the legal aspects of the applications received, to treble the number of engineers necessary to pass upon the engineering features of the applications and plans and to increase fourfold the clerical force, so that every effort is being made by the Federal authorities to expedite the work and reduce the number of unemployed in the nation.

Contrast With State.

In striking contrast with the action of the Federal Government is the program adopted in our own Commonwealth. More than two weeks ago the City of Boston submitted what, in the opinion of city officials, was the soundest proposition that could be presented; that is to say, those proposals which provide employment for the largest number of men. It is known as the Huntington Avenue Subway extension at an expenditure of $8,500,000 and we believe from a careful check of figures as to the consequence of this expenditure and conducting the job on a day-labor basis, we would provide employment for 1,000 men on three eight-hour shifts, or 3,000 men for a period of two years at wages ranging from $5 to $15 a day in accordance with the work they perform. We submitted in addition a program of three million dollars for sewers, to replace old sewers which have been a prolific source of disease for a long period of time; two million dollars for street construction; one million dollars for a high school in West Roxbury and one million dollars for an intermediate school in South Boston; two million dollars for the completion of the City Hospital building program, six hundred thousand dollars for new police and fire stations; eight hundred thousand dollars for extension of the high pressure water system, and one million five hundred thousand dollars for the completion of the Strandway construction in South Boston.

The chairman of the State Emergency Finance Board, appointed by the Governor, turned down the proposition for the Huntington Avenue Subway and informed me that the total amount to be allotted to the City of Boston would be ten million dollars, while the program as drafted by Congress and presented by the President of the United States and Secretary of the Interior made provision for an average of 1 per cent of the valuation of the community for the preceding three years. The valuation of the City of Boston was about one billion, nine hundred million dollars, so that nineteen million dollars could be expended. We were notified by the chairman of the Emergency Finance Board that our total allotment would be but ten million dollars and that no money would be made available for the Huntington Avenue Subway.

I propose to submit to the radio audience our program and if you are in agreement with it I would like to have you write Governor Joseph B. Ely for the approval of this most necessary project.

All Agencies Approve.

Every responsible agency which has given real study to the Huntington Avenue Subway extension has approved and recommended it, and this includes the Metropolitan Planning Division, the directors of the Boston Elevated, trustees of the Elevated, trustees of the Metropolitan Planning District, the Metropolitan Transit Council and the Boston City Council.

In the newspapers of December 30, 1926, there appeared an editorial in which they commented on the report of the Metropolitan Planning Board recommending the construction of the Huntington Avenue Subway as follows: "But this much may be said, for example, of the plan for two new subway routes which the Planning Division recommends should at once be adopted, one from East Boston to Brighton and the other from Lechmere square to Huntington avenue in Roxbury. These routes, one can promptly agree, would accomplish the greatest single betterment of Boston's transit system which can be devised anywhere on the lines of the Elevated System."

"O Boston, fair City enthroned like a radiant queen,

From thy hills looking down on the ship-teeming plain of the ocean,

May thy future be bright, thy skies beam with light all serene,

Ensured by thy sons' and thy daughters' unselfish devotion!"

CONGRESS OF MAYORS OF UNITED STATES IN CONFERENCE AT CHICAGO DRAFTS RESOLUTION LOOKING TO SIMPLIFICATION AND SPEEDING UP OF PLANS FOR USING FEDERAL APPROPRIATIONS TO GIVE UNEMPLOYMENT RELIEF — MAYOR CURLEY PRESIDES AT MEETINGS.

The following is a copy of the resolutions drafted at the Congress of United States Mayors at their meeting in Chicago on September 21 and 22. The resolution urged the adoption of measures to simplify and speed up the expenditures of moneys appropriated by the Federal Government for unemployment relief. The resolutions read:

The Mayors' Conference of the United States recognize that the most essential fundamental for the success of the National Recovery Program is work and wages and are in full accord with the policy of providing every safeguard to prevent waste, inefficiency or corruption in connection with the expenditure by the Federal Government of three billion, three hundred million dollars and an amount twice as great by the cities and towns of the nation. We are fearful that in our anxiety to prevent the evils which have ever been present in connection with the expenditure of public money that the system of checks and balances and safeguards devised are so intricate and involved, or in other words, are so enmeshed with red tape as to defeat the very purpose for which the N. R. A. was created, namely, to end in America, unemployment.

TO PREVENT SUFFERING.

We are likewise of the opinion that unless a simpler system is devised and put in operation that it will be difficult, if not impossible, to prevent great suffering and possibly starvation in all sections of America during the winter of 1933-34. In theory the safeguards and red tape are admirable, but in practice, to the present time, it has prevented the adoption of any sizeable construction in any city or town in America. The charter provisions governing cities and their expenditure of public money beyond the limit of indebtedness varies in nearly every state of the Union so that there are few states in which the municipalities are in a position to cooperate with the Federal Government in this program until such procedure receives the sanction of state authorities or a referendum vote by the people. There are many states that, due to the duration of the depression, would experience extreme difficulty in floating that portion of the bond issue which municipalities are required to bear and unless methods are devised through which they may participate it will be impossible for them to assist and this is true in certain states where the burden has been greatest and the need is most imperative.

For example, in California participation is not possible until referendum vote by the people authorizing an expenditure has been taken. In Chicago the severity of the depression, coupled with the inability of the taxpayers to meet their obligations, has been such as to seriously impair the credit of the city, thereby making the sale of bonds extremely difficult, notwithstanding the fact that Chicago has met its maturing bond obligations in every instance during the entire depression and every reasonable measure of economy has been put in operation. In Massachusetts none of the municipalities can participate until such time as the state-appointed commission authorizes such action. Under the circumstances it is not altogether fair to place the entire burden of responsibility upon Secretary Ickes, who has, from the outset, demonstrated not only a willingness but a real desire for expediting the public works program.

SPEEDIER PROCESSION NEEDED.

The Conference of the Mayors of the United States, in meeting assembled, are unanimously of the opinion that measures should be adopted at once for the simplification of the process of speeding up the public works construction program. It is the consensus of opinion of the Mayors' Conference of the United States, representing a majority of the inhabitants of the United States, that approval of the federal engineer, appointed to pass upon projects for each state as recommended by municipal authorities, subject to review by the Secretary of the Interior, or a single individual representing each state, to be designated by him or a committee of three to be selected by him or by the President of the United States, would provide ample protection and result in the elimination of red tape and make possible an early resumption of work upon contemplated projects by the unemployed of the nation. Early sanction of a program by federal authorities would then be passed upon by state authorities or in those states where a referendum is required, by the people, and permit of the drafting of plans and specifications during the interval of approval or rejection by the people or by the state authorities.

The Conference of the Mayors of the United States have a profound admiration for the supreme courage, wisdom and humanitarianism of President Roosevelt and, recognizing his anxiety and desire to safeguard the people of America, are prepared to cooperate to the fullest extent in the furtherance of the federal construction program as a necessary essential to the success of the National Recovery Act.

LAND-TAKING IN WEST ROXBURY.

The right and easement is taken to lay and maintain sewerage works in the following described lands, exclusive of any interest in trees, buildings or other structures standing thereon, reserving to the owners thereof the right to use the lands for any purpose except such as may injure or obstruct said works, and except for placing or maintaining any structure on said lands not authorized in writing by the Mayor of said city; trees, buildings or other structures standing upon or affixed to the land in which an easement is hereby taken are to be removed therefrom within sixty days following a notice of the city's intention to enter upon said taking for the purpose of constructing said sewerage works. Said lands are in that part of Boston formerly West Roxbury and are bounded as follows:

BROADCAST BY MAYOR CURLEY.

Again in an editorial of February 9, 1927, in the heading, "Delay Building Subways" the newspapers called upon the Legislature to immediately authorize the subway extension previously recommended by the Metropolitan Planning Division which included the Huntington avenue extension and stated "Procrastination is always a foe to immediate public improvements and is the bright particular enemy of rapid transit. It involves the suspense, dormancy of any and all needed projects for the development of new rapid transit lines and the improvement and extension of existing lines.

In the issue of March 6, 1928, reference was made to the impressive referendum taken by the Boston Chamber of Commerce, in which 733 of the 1,162 members voting gave unqualified support to the program of the Metropolitan Planning Division, providing for the extension of subways to serve Huntington avenue, North Somerville, East Boston and Brighton. In his annual address to the Legislature in 1928 and in a special message to the Legislature later in the same year, Governor Fuller urged action of the Elevated situation so that rapid transit extensions, including the Huntington Avenue Subway, might be undertaken immediately.

In 1929 Governor Allen, in his inaugural message, made the following statement, "I urge the Legislature to look with favor on a program for liberal extension of rapid transit lines, based on the thought that such extension and improvement of service benefit not simply those who ride upon the cars and trains but the whole community. It increases property values and stimulates business. There we have two governors going on record in favor of the Huntington Avenue Subway.

A Boston newspaper editorial in the issue of December 23, 1930, stated "After years of study, the routes ratified last night by the Metropolitan Transit Council consisting of the mayors and chairman of the Boards of Selectmen in the district—the Huntington avenue to Orient Heights line and that from Allston to Arlington—have been recognized as the two best and most pressing routes for new rapid transit construction if we are to have any at all.

VIEWS OF PAST SOUND.

These editorial views of the past are as sound today as they were when they were expressed. The events of the past few years have furnished additional powerful arguments in favor of a Huntington Avenue Subway project. The public works construction program, advanced by President Roosevelt as one of the most important measures for lifting the nation out of the slough of depression, has for its immediate aim giving employment to millions of our people. The Federal Government is contributing in the form of a grant of 30 per cent of the cost of construction. While other states of the Union have already received their share of the federal funds we find that in our own state the Emergency Finance Board is pursuing a policy of obstructing President Roosevelt's program. Unless there is a change in this attitude Massachusetts will find herself in this unenviable position; while the other states will have availed themselves of their allotment of federal funds, Massachusetts will receive little or none, and as one of the leading federal income tax paying states of the nation, Massachusetts will be paying for unemployment relief in other sections of the country and at the same time denying assistance to her own unemployed.

The need for the Huntington avenue route has been demonstrated from every standpoint. The facts are:

1. The present service along the Huntington avenue route is abominable. The proposed subway will serve a territory having 100,000 population, as large as the population of such cities as Cambridge, Somerville, Lynn or Lowell. The present running time from Peter Bent Brigham Hospital to Park street is forty-four minutes. A subway will reduce this running time to twenty-six minutes, or a reduction of 40 per cent.

2. A recent survey shows that the yearly attendance at public and private schools, hospitals and exhibition halls in this Huntington avenue area is 7,000,000 persons. No argument is needed that this tremendous group is a lucrative field in which to develop the car-riding habit.

3. The work of construction of the proposed subway will provide employment for a maximum of 3,000 men, who would be taken from the Civil Service lists. In accordance with the statutes, preference is given to war veterans, a large proportion of whom are now receiving soldiers' relief and public welfare aid. The savings in soldiers' relief and public welfare effected on the Governor square job indicate that similar savings on the Huntington avenue project will approximate $1,500,000.

4. Huntington avenue is the natural artery for connecting the Worcester turnpike which will be opened within a year. Unless the tracks and reserved space are removed from the surface the worst traffic congestion in the history of the city will occur.

These are the basic reason which establish the need of the Huntington Avenue Subway. They refute the generalizations of critics of the plan, and prove that the action of the State Emergency Finance Board was not based on intelligent or careful study. They confirm the soundness of the favorable reports made by the various public bodies which have investigated and reported on this project in the past, and they justify the favorable action taken by the Elevated trustees, the Elevated directors, the Legislature, the last three Governors of the Commonwealth and the Boston City Council.

NEW MUNICIPAL REVENUES NEEDED, SIMEON E. LELAND, MEMBER OF THE ILLINOIS STATE TAX COMMISSION TELLS THE UNITED STATES CONGRESS OF MAYORS AT SESSION IN CHICAGO. DEMANDS FOR SERVICE CLASH WITH DEMANDS FOR RETRENCHMENT IN FACE OF INCREASED BURDENS DUE TO UNEMPLOYMENT AND DEPRESSION. ALSO SAYS STATE OWES OBLIGATION TO CITIES.

The following is the address of Simeon E. Leland, member of Illinois State Tax Commission, at the United States Conference of Mayors at Chicago on September 22. His subject was, "Needed—New Municipal Revenues."

In the few minutes at my disposal it is impossible to solve either individually or collectively our own revenue problems. The only worse chore I ever had was to attempt in ten minutes to reform the Illinois tax system.

I need not call to your attention the fact that the financial predicament of cities is daily growing worse. The city is faced, on the one hand, with colossal demands for service requiring the collection of huge sums of money, now made more acute by the demand for relief and public work, and on the other hand it is faced with demand for retrenchment, reduction in property taxes and the curtailment of normal operations.

The business man, in many instances, would have you solve your revenue problem by the elimination of useless surpluses, by the elimination of useless functions, balancing what they think are budgets and solving the problems most generally by the reduction of salaries. They are not genuinely interested in the measure in order to help the cities meet their new financial problems or even their old ones, but rather as a means of saving taxes to themselves.

Fundamentally the revenue problem cannot be solved by looking on the expenditures. New sources of revenue or additional funds somehow secured are essential by tradition enforced by charters, statutes, and even constitutions. The revenues of the city have been confined largely to property taxes, supplemented to a minor extent by fees and other miscellaneous revenues.

If the city seeks to expand its property tax levy, it means on all sides strenuous opposition, whatever may be the limited possibilities for increasing these levies and some increases have and will be inevitable regardless of all desires to the contrary. Added revenues must be secured. Yet, when you seek aid you find that neither your needs nor your problems are generally understood.

The state, to which you frequently turn for aid, regards the municipalities as subordinate units whose welfare is relatively unimportant unless the municipality is about to default on its bonds or on its debts or unless there is evidence of civil disobedience. In spite of the difficulties which Chicago has had in the last few years, the state of Illinois did not become interested in the problems of the city of Chicago until its own surplus funds were exhausted. That, of course, is typical of the situation which you find in many other localities. The cities are regarded as mere villages, small towns whose problems have been small compared to those of the state.

STATE RURAL IN OUTLOOK.

The attitude of the state, on the other hand, is provincial. Its mind is dominated by rural interests. Its functions are primarily rural in character except for the preservation of peace and the maintaining or the guaranteeing of justice. The state's services may be typically classified into those which are designed to maintain a minimum of services in areas too poor or too sparsely settled to provide them, for building roads, providing educational opportunities, some equality throughout the state and for generally equalizing functionally and on a service basis the opportunities between rural and urban areas.

But as a unit of government the American state today is traditionally rural in attitude and function. The traditional manner or ranking governments has been on an acreage basis. We rank our government with the Federal Government first, the state second, the county third, the city, the village and so on down the line, and territory has been the dominant way in which governments have been regarded. But when you turn from an area to a functional basis you see a different set of relationships, except for the prevention of invasion and the maintenance of domestic tranquillity.

You probably put the Federal Government first as the most important unit and will, on that basis, need to do it, so long as the maintenance of the army and navy is necessary. After you have passed that point, the most vital, the most necessary and the most interesting and the most proximate function is serving the collective human need of our population, served by the American cities; health, sanitation, education, police and fire protection, to mention only a few of them, are of vastly greater importance in the lives of our people than the functions traditionally performed by the American cities. Though, of course, in our hierarchy of government, the cities owe some obligation to the states in the regulation of conduct uniformly throughout their territory.

CITIES IMPORTANT UNITS.

Legally, of course, the local government is merely an agency of the state government, but economically and physically the cities are more important units. Fifty-six per cent of the nation's population is now contained in urban areas. That the cities are more important than the states can be seen from the revenues collected or the expenditures necessary. After you rank the Federal Government first, realizing that it collects and spends about seven times more than the city of

New York, which is our second most important government. The state of New York outranks Chicago and the state of Pennsylvania, but Los Angeles, Detroit and Philadelphia come ahead of California and Michigan.

The ten largest governments in the United States are the Federal Government, five cities and four states. One hundred sixty-five governments must be listed in order to secure all of the forty-eight states. Nevada, which comes last on the list, is separated from New York by thirty-six. The eight cities, Chicago, New York, Los Angeles, Detroit, Boston, St. Louis, Baltimore and Seattle are more important fiscally than the states that contain them. Cleveland and Cincinnati together spend more than the state of Ohio, but with state expenditures on highways excluded, the fiscal operations of Cincinnati alone are equal to those of the state.

New York City spent more on education in 1930 than the cities of any one of 160 fiscally most important governments, a list which included forty-six states. It spent more on the retirement of city employees or on the retirement of its teachers on the health department or board of child welfare than was listed by the state of Nevada for all purposes. The combined expenditures of that city on these four services exceeded the expenditures of Nevada, New Mexico and Arizona. The police department of that city spent more than the state of Indiana, Mississippi, or any one of thirty-five states. The fire department spend more than Florida, Arkansas or West Virginia, not to mention eighteen other states.

The Chicago police department spends more per annum than the state of Mississippi, Delaware or Utah. It spent more on street cleaning and garbage removal than was expended for all of the governmental functions of the state of Nevada. And so you can go on cumulating the evidence to indicate that from a fiscal standpoint the major governments of the United States are, on the one hand, the Federal Government and on the other the American cities, and yet when you turn to the state for aid in solving your problems you meet generally with a cold response. The problems become more acute as the size of the city becomes larger. As the size of the city increases, the common functions must be more intensively performed and, secondly, new functions not common to smaller localities must be added, all of which is due to population, congestion, higher utilization of land, industrialism that are the accompaniments of the modern city.

POPULATION CONCENTRATED.

The importance of the financial problem of the large city thus becomes evident. Although sixty-eight million people live in urban territory, fifty-four million, or 45 per cent of the nation's population, live in ninety-eight metropolitan regions. The ten largest cities contain 25 per cent of the nation's population.

To serve the needs of these ninety-six centers requires over two and almost three quarter billions of dollars annually, which is about one half billion more than the combined expenditures of all the states in the Union. Yet, because of tradition and legalism, the state enjoys a prestige in the average mind greater than that of the city. Yet, next to the President of the United States, the greatest and most difficult job is that of being mayor of some of our larger cities.

Beside the job of mayor, that of governor of the state seems to me to pale into insignificance. So that, prevailing opinion to the contrary, one of the things which is most necessary to do is to get a proper orientation in thinking with reference to the problem of the city and the city's position socially, economically and fiscally before you can get a proper consideration of your problems.

There are a few cities in this country which are free to solve their own municipal finance problems. When they turn to the states for aid, they discover that the states, in most instances, are trying to take all of the available sources of revenue for themselves. Some states, such as Kentucky and California, develop their state revenue systems at the expense of local governments. California, after it having appeared that was done, did attempt to make some compensation to the localities, but Kentucky, among the many other states, has not yet admitted its sin.

So, when the cities try to help themselves, what do they find? They find that they can do only what the state allows them to do, that they cannot, as a rule, freely impose the taxes which they desire. The choice of revenue devices is restricted. Their rates of taxation are generally limited and some would solve the problem by limiting them even more, so that even their borrowing powers, granted they have a good market for their collateral, are greatly curtailed. Even when these impediments are absent, what the city can do for itself in the revenue raising field is limited both by economic fact and by administrative discoveries.

The two or three most important sources of revenue which are available today cannot be enacted upon a municipal basis. Local sales and income and privileged taxes cannot be successfully enacted. Their enactment simply means a change in the habits, the traits of the people or the inciting of a movement of population beyond the legal confines of the city, and enough of that has gone on already. So you find that many of the people whose economic allegiance ought to be to the city where they earn their daily bread now have their political allegiance outside its territory, living in the suburbs, either in tax colonies or parasitic agencies which get all the benefits of city government and yet which cause them neither to contribute to the political life in their voting nor to contribute to the financial support by the direct payment of taxes. Those are facts with which you must deal and yet when you attempt to enact the most successful revenue raising devices which are available, you find that it cannot be done upon a local basis. Nor can you expand your miscellaneous revenues to such a point where they can carry the load which is needed. Nor can you turn your water works or other public utility enterprises into profit making undertakings for the general revenue funds.

What is left? The only thing that is left is that you must turn to the state for aid and force the state to share with you those sources of revenue which they alone can administer successfully and to which you are entitled to a share of the proceeds. Your claim is a good one for the sharing of state administered revenues. First, your needs are vastly greater than those of states which control the manufacture of revenue systems. I would say they are manufactured. Second, that the obligation which the state owes you is clear. The state does not owe an obligation, as I see it, to any political subdivision. They are a matter of no consequence whatever. The people have simply organized themselves in order to satisfy some of their needs. The important thing is that the citizens have a right to local municipal services and the state has an obligation to see to it that the people are provided with those services they need adequately, and that the costs are equitably defrayed. It is not a question of getting revenues for the support of our city governments. It is a question of providing funds, public funds, so that sixty-eight million people can be served. And the same citizens who are members of your municipality are also citizens of the state.

The obligation, it seems to me, is a clear one. The state owes to its citizens the obligation to give them a well balanced and equitably distributed revenue system and the only way the municipal revenue system can be either equitably distributed or properly balanced is with the aid of the state government in sharing with the local governments a proportion of the fund which they alone can collect.

It seems to me the unity of interest which the city and the state have in the development of a revenue system ought to be fairly clear and that you as city officials ought to interest yourselves more in the development, execution and formulation of the state revenue devices, that you ought to help plan the state revenue systems recognizing that you are not asking for aid or asking for a bounty but are demanding what is rightfully yours, a means of supporting the needs of your community out of funds which, after all, are collected not from things but simply from people.

So if that is proper, you can study your own revenue system and if you have ever devoted any scientific study to municipal revenues and can proceed from there to a greater interest in the state revenue system, it seems to me that in the future, looking ahead somewhat, you may get many states to do for you what the state of New York has done for its local governments, collect and share with you the proceeds of those taxes which rest upon acceptable principles of taxation, and which only the state government can administer.

POLICE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Order No. 295.

A trial board consisting of Captains McKinnon, Kavanagh and Casey, having heard by reference a complaint against Patrolman James V. Stanton of Division 18, charging him with disobedience and absence without leave, viz.:

Charge 1: Disobedience.

Specification: In that on the 19th day of August, 1933, the said Patrolman James V. Stanton was ordered to report at Division 3 at 2.30 p. m., and negligently failed to do so.

Charge 2: Absent without leave.

Specification: In that on the 20th day of August, 1933, the said Patrolman James V. Stanton did absent himself from the 12:45 a. m. roll call (police day) without assigning reason therefor or being excused by the officer in charge,— reported a finding of guilty as charged to the commissioner, in accordance with which the said Patrolman James V. Stanton was on September 8, 1933, dismissed from the Police Department.

Due written notice of such dismissal with the reasons therefor was duly and specifically given in hand on September 8, 1933, to the said James V. Stanton.

On the 12th day of September, 1933, the said James V. Stanton requested in writing through his counsel, a public hearing as provided by law, and the Police Commissioner set down Tuesday, September 26, 1933, at 9.30 o'clock a. m., at the office of the Police Commissioner as the time and place of said hearing, and duly notified the said James V. Stanton. The said James V. Stanton was present at said time and place with counsel and was heard, and thereupon after consideration of all the evidence and argument of counsel, the Police Commissioner, having in mind his duty as Police Commissioner for the City of Boston, finds the said James V. Stanton guilty as charged, and further finds that the said James V. Stanton shall stand dismissed from the Police Department.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

EUGENE C. HULTMAN,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 296.

A trial board consisting of Captains Campbell, Dickinson and Daley, having heard by reference a complaint made by Thomas F. Casey, captain, Division 10, against Harland E. Hall, patrolman, Division 10, for alleged violation of Rule 41 of the Rules and Regulations of the Police Department, to wit:

Charge 1: Neglect of duty.

Specification: In that on the thirteenth day of September, 1933, the said Patrolman Harland E. Hall did fail to properly patrol his route by getting into a Ford sedan, registration number not known, at or about 11.15 p. m., he not being on police business.

Charge 2: Conduct unbecoming an officer.

Specification: In that on the fourteenth day of September, 1933, the said Patrolman Harland E. Hall, while in uniform and on duty, was under the influence of intoxicating liquor to such an extent that he was unable to perform the duties of a police officer if called upon so to do, and that, by so doing, he was guilty of an act contrary to the good order and discipline of the department and tended to bring into disrepute and criticism his associates on the force and the department as a whole.

Charge 3: Insubordination.

Specification 1: In that on the fourteenth day of September, 1933, the said Patrolman Harland E. Hall did refuse to obey the order of Lieut. William D. Donovan, in charge of Station 10 at the time, to go upstairs and go to bed in the station house.

Specification 2: In that on the fourteenth day of September, 1933, when asked by the said Lieut. William D. Donovan certain questions relating to the condition of Patrolman Hall did answer in disrespectful language, namely, "None of your damn business,"— has submitted the following finding and recommendation:

"The Board having heard and carefully considered all the evidence as presented by witnesses, finds the said Patrolman Harland E. Hall guilty as charged. While the Board realizes that the charges of which Patrolman Hall has been found guilty justify dismissal, it has considered the fact that Patrolman Hall had not been complained of before for the use of intoxicating liquor while on duty, or for insubordination.

"The Board therefore respectfully recommends that the said Patrolman Harland E. Hall be suspended from duty, with loss of pay, for a period of thirty days, effective from Thursday, September 14, 1933, at 7.45 o'clock a. m., and that at the expiration of the said period of suspension the said Patrolman Harland E. Hall be ordered to perform two hundred and ten hours of punishment duty."

The commissioner accepts the finding and their recommendations of the Trial Board and hereby orders that the said Patrolman Harland E. Hall be suspended from duty for thirty days, with loss of pay, effective as of Thursday, September 14, 1933, at 7.45 o'clock a. m., and that at the expiration of the said period of suspension, the said Patrolman Harland E. Hall perform two hundred and ten hours of punishment duty.

Civil Service Rule 23, Section 3, requires approval of the Civil Service Commission before reinstatement.

Rule 23.

Section 3. "With the consent of the Commissioner, upon good cause shown, an appointing officer may reinstate in the same position or in a position in the same class and grade any person who has been separated from the service provided, however, that the Commissioner shall not allow reinstatement of a person discharged for cause."

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

WOULD LEASE OLD POLICE STATION.

The Mayor has approved the following plan suggested by Public Buildings Department:

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—This department is in receipt of two offers concerning old Police Station 4, La Grange street, Boston, as described below.

1. Albert S. Wingersky, 27 School street, offers to rent the property after demolishing the present structure and pay to the City of Boston an annual rental of $900 and use the site for parking purposes.

2. Alfred DiPisa, president of the Show Boat, Pier 1, Northern avenue, Boston, offers to rent the property on a five-year lease at $3,000 a year, remodel the building for restaurant purposes at no expense to the City of Boston and to pay all water bills. He also requests preference in case the city wishes to sell the property.

I feel that the second offer is a very satisfactory one and if it meets with your approval, will you be kind enough to present an order to the City Council authorizing the leasing of said property under the above mentioned terms.

Respectfully yours,
JOHN P. ENGLERT,
Superintendent of Public Buildings.

HUNTINGTON AVENUE SUBWAY.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, September 13, 1933.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I beg to forward herewith copy of communication which I have this day submitted to his Excellency the Governor, the same being in conformity with order adopted by your honorable body on September 11, 1933, and copy of which is attached.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, September 13, 1933.
Hon. Joseph B. Ely,
State House, Boston.

Your Excellency,—The Boston City Council, under date of September 11, 1933, adopted an order, a copy of which I here submit. This order, adopted unanimously by the Boston City Council, represents the wishes, so far as I have been able to ascertain, not only of the majority of the citizenship of Boston, but of service men's organizations generally.

The reconsideration of the action taken by the State Emergency Finance Board with reference to Huntington Avenue Subway and approval of this project would, as has been pointed out many times, be a substantial contribution to the recovery program of President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

The people are in need of work and they want work, not dole, and action in conformity with the order adopted by the City Council would make work possible.

Trusting that as a consequence of your intercession with the State Emergency Finance Board, they will reconsider its action, thereby permitting the employment within thirty days of three thousand men, I beg to remain

Sincerely yours,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

Resolved, That his Excellency the Governor instruct the Emergency Finance Board to reconsider its action on the proposed Huntington Avenue Subway in order that the people of that district may receive adequate car service, and in order to reduce the enormous expenditures of the Public Welfare and Soldiers' Relief Departments.

Placed on file.

APPROPRIATION FOR BOARD OF APPEAL.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, September 23, 1933.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I am in receipt of the attached communication from the chairman of the Board of Appeal which is self-explanatory, and in accordance with the request I am submitting the accompanying transfer order.

Respectfully,
JOSEPH McGRATH,
Acting Mayor.

City of Boston,
Board of Appeal, September 12, 1933.
Hon. James M. Curley,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—The appropriation allowed by your Honor for the Board of Appeal under A-1 Members was but $7,000, although the maximum compensation allowed by law is $10,000. In addition to the original reduction, another reduction of $500 was made making the actual compensation granted the Board for the year $7,000. Each member of the Board receives $9 per diem for services actually rendered (including salary reduction ordered under date of April 21, 1933 (chapter 121 of the Acts of 1933), the original compensation being $10 per diem.

The appropriation allowed the members in the 1933 budget was exhausted for services actually rendered by the members of the Board on September 6, 1933. I estimate the amount necessary to remunerate the members for services actually rendered from now until December 31 to be approximately two thousand dollars ($2,000) and I therefore ask for this additional appropriation for A-1 Members, from some available source. This amount will not exceed the legal compensation allowed by law and includes the salary reduction in accordance with the provisions of chapter 121 of the Acts of 1933.

Respectfully submitted,
For the Board of Appeal,
JOSEPH A. TOMASELLO,
Chairman.

Ordered, That under authority of chapter 261 of the Acts of 1933 the City Auditor be, and hereby is, authorized to transfer:

From the appropriation for Reserve Fund, $2,000, to the appropriation for Board of Appeal, A-1, Permanent Employees, $2,000.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

PARKMAN FUND APPROPRIATION.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, September 25, 1933.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—In the compilation of the budget of the current year an amount equivalent to the estimated income to be received during the year from the George F. Parkman Fund was deducted from the budget allowance of the Park Department. This deduction was made in anticipation of the appropriation of the income from this fund for the maintenance expenses of the department. There is now available in the fund income to the amount of $49,000. I submit herewith an appropriation order and respectfully recommend its immediate passage by your honorable body.

Respectfully,
JOSEPH McGRATH,
Acting Mayor.

City of Boston,
Park Department, September 20, 1933.
Hon. James M. Curley,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—By vote of the Board of Park Commissioners you are respectfully asked to request the City Council to transfer from the income of the George F. Parkman Fund the sum of $49,000 which is now available to be expended under the direction of the Park Commissioners as follows:

Common and Parks in existence on January 12, 1887, Maintenance and Improvement of, $49,000.

When the budget estimates were made up for the year 1933, a sum equal to the total yearly income of the George F. Parkman Fund was deducted from Item A-1, Permanent Employees, with the understanding that this deduction was to be replaced by the total yearly income of said Parkman Fund for 1933, to be transferred as it accrued from time to time during the year to the regular appropriation of the Park Department.

Respectfully yours,
DANIEL J. BYRNE,
Secretary.

Ordered, That the sum of $49,000 be, and hereby is, appropriated from the income of the George F. Parkman Fund, to be expended under the direction of the Park Commissioners, for the Maintenance and Improvement of the Common and Parks in existence on January 12, 1887, as follows:

Common and Parks in existence on January 12, 1887, Maintenance and Improvement of, $49,000.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

PAYMENT OF AID TO SOLDIERS AND SAILORS.

Coun. NORTON, for the Committee on Soldiers' Relief, submitted report recommending passage of order for payment of aid to soldiers and sailors and their families in the City of Boston for the month of September, 1933.

Report accepted; said order passed.

WAGES PAID BY JOHN BOWEN COMPANY.

Coun. DOWD offered the following:

Ordered, That the subcontractor employed by the John Bowen Company on the destruction of the old laundry building at the City Hospital be compelled to pay the rate of wages as stipulated, namely, 50 cents an hour.

Coun. DOWD—Mr. President, some weeks ago I introduced an order into this Council asking the trustees of the Boston City Hospital, because of conditions existing among contractors, to furnish the City Council with a list of names and addresses of every individual working on any city job. Up to date they have failed to comply with that request. I have in hand a pay envelope of a subcontractor hired by the John Bowen Company, it being stipulated in the contract that they shall pay 50 cents per hour. This subcontractor, having charge of the destruction of the old laundry, is paying, and has paid employees 37½ cents an hour. I say to you, Mr. President, and to the Mayor of Boston, that if the Mayor is sincere in the love he claims to have for laboring men and women he will call in Mr. Bowen and say, "Either you will pay to the men the wages they should receive, or we will cancel your contract,"—for in Bowen's contract is the stipulation that every laboring man shall be paid 50 cents an hour. I offer in proof that but 37½ cents an hour is being paid this pay envelope, and I feel that, either the trustees of the hospital or the Mayor of Boston should be called upon to cancel Bowen's contract or at least see that these men receive the wages they are justly entitled to.

Coun. KELLY—Mr. President, I agree with the remarks of the previous speaker, and I think while the Mayor is performing that act, if he will do so, he should also call in another notorious contractor in Boston, a gentleman by the name of Matthew Cummings, a gentleman who hires citizens of adjoining cities and towns in preference to Boston men on his jobs, which are paid for by the taxpayers of Boston. That gentleman also is paying his men less than the contract calls for. That gentleman should be put in the same position as the contractors in every other city are being put by their respective mayors and compelled to live up to the terms of their contracts. I know that it is not legal, that you cannot compel a contractor under the law to hire residents of the City of Boston. But the Mayor of Boston can do the same as is done by mayors of other cities,—call in a contractor and say to him, "Mr. Contractor, if you do not hire only citizens and residents of Boston, I will not approve another contract for you." What is wrong about that? I understand that this grafting contractor, Matthew Cummings, has announced that he will spend $10,000 in Kelly's ward to defeat him. I welcome Matthew Cummings and every member of his thieving organization there. I invite them to come down to Ward 15, along with Coleman Brothers, another contracting firm that is not complying with the terms of its contract with the City of Boston. The result in my ward will be the same as it was two years ago, when the greatest fakir of all, like Judas himself, Mayor Curley, came into the ward and tried, with the aid of city employees and others, to bring about my defeat. But they would not listen to him. They are used to his cheap, sneaking propaganda, through men who have absolutely no standing in the community. I say that the sooner the Mayor desists and tries to forget his idea of playing with the mayors and powers that be in other cities and towns, the better. He simply does it because he is going to be a candidate for some state-wide-elective position. President Roosevelt has got tired of him, and would like to see contributions that he received in the presidential fight that he has not turned over. Alfred E. Smith has his experience with him. But he is simply acting in this way because he has in mind being a candidate for some state-wide position, and he hasn't the courage to fire these men on contracting jobs who do not pay to their employees the amount required under their contract. If Curley is sincere—and I know he isn't—he should fire some of them, and give Boston money to Boston residents.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

ALLOTMENT FOR PUBLIC WORKS.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Mayor of Boston be requested to immediately present to the State Emergency Finance Board proposals for spending part or all of the $10,000,000 for public works allotted to Boston.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, the Mayor of Boston requested the State Emergency Finance Board to allow him to spend $8,000,000 on the so-called Huntington Avenue Subway Extension. That was some weeks ago. The State Board turned down the Huntington Avenue project, and the Mayor of Boston has since said nothing or done nothing, I understand, but promise to bring the matter to the attention of the President of the United States. The President of the United States says that all requests of Mayors must go first to the State Emergency Finance Boards. We hear much about work and wages for the unemployed. As a matter of fact, when it comes to this subway work, it means mostly using ready-mixed concrete, putting simply a few people at work and spending the rest in land damages. A great argument has been put up about how this would help out the veterans, surrounding it with the American flag, and take a large number of people off of the welfare list. But, as a matter of fact, Mr. President, most of the money would go for ready-mixed concrete, for the employment of comparatively few men, and for land damages. As a matter of fact, we all know, and I have had occasion many times to call to the attention of this body, the condition of streets in Boston. We have 650 miles of streets and it has been estimated by good authority that it would take $60,000,000 to put them in condition. There is work that might well and profitably be done, and that would employ men, work on the repair of the streets. Where is the Mayor of Boston the last few weeks, when public projects that would result in employment and also in work for the public benefit, have not been brought to the attention of the State Emergency Finance Board? The Huntington Avenue proposition has been turned down, but the Mayor can still suggest to the State Board public works that might be well done both for the profit of the unemployed and of the city. So I have introduced this order requesting the Mayor to present to the State Board proposals for spending a part or all of the $10,000,000 for public works allotted to Boston.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

REPAIRING BOSTON STREETS WITH HAND LABOR.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Mayor of Boston be requested to consider the advisability of requesting permission from the State Emergency Finance Board and the Federal Emergency Finance Board to spend at once, $5,000,000, repairing the streets of Boston, with hand labor.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

DECENTRALIZING OF PUBLIC WELFARE DEPARTMENT.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Public Welfare Department of the City of Boston be decentralized.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, I have introduced this order no less than fifty times in the last few years. At last we seem to be beginning to get somewhere. At the Hyde Park Municipal Building we now have perhaps a dozen welfare employees, and they tell me that they are going to do most of the Hyde Park work there. That is a help and an encouragement. But there is one little chance for improvement yet, because the folks out there still have to come down to the central Public Welfare headquarters to make their original application. As I have long contended, and it can be forcibly supported by argument as well as by the practice of every other welfare department in any large city of this country, we need a real decentralization of our Welfare Department. There is not a city anywhere passing out relief to its citizens that compels the recipients to go in the first instance to a central department. Just imagine people seeking welfare in South Boston obliged to go elsewhere than to their own municipal building, the people of Roslindale being not allowed to go to the Roslindale Municipal Building, and the same with residents of other outlying sections of this city. Doesn't all the logic of the situation point to the necessity for decentralization of welfare work, to the importance of residents of different sections going to municipal quarters in those sections? We have, as I say, made a start in Hyde Park. Welfare work is being done there now, with the exception of the original application or request, and I trust that there will now be a complete decentralization. I advise members of the Council from other outlying districts to make the same request for their section. Why should a man from East Boston be required to go down to this house of horrors? Why shouldn't he go to some municipal headquarters in East Boston to make his application? Now that the start has been made, I am in hopes that before two months have gone by we will have local accommodations in every ward of Boston in connection with this welfare work.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

ADDITIONAL CITY HALL ACCOMMODATIONS.

Coun. CURTIS offered the following:

Ordered, That the order for $700,000 for additional accommodations for City Hall, etc., be withdrawn from the Committee on Finance.

Coun. CURTIS—Mr. President, it seems to me that we ought to act on this $700,000 Young's Hotel proposition today. The offer has been withdrawn, and we don't want the thing to go by default. The order is on our calendar today, to be in effect after November 10, 1933. In my short experience in City Hall, I have seen orders go into effect here because they have not been acted upon by the body. That order has been heard at length by the Committee on Finance, and the offer has now been withdrawn. I think, therefore, that the committee should report recommending the defeat of this order today, so that the thing may be settled.

President McGRATH—The Chair would say that there has been a call from the Mayor asking that the matter be held here for the time being, until it has been officially withdrawn. Of course, the owners of the property having withdrawn their offer, as I understand it, there is nothing to do ultimately but to defeat the order. But I suppose we should, as a matter of courtesy, pay some attention to the request.

Coun. CURTIS—Mr. President, the matter was sent to the Council and referred to the Committee on Finance, and I think, in order to protect the people and the voters of Boston, there is nothing to do at the present time, the offer having been withdrawn, except to defeat the order. Consequently, I would like to see it killed by the body today. I see no reason for waiting any longer. We know what we want to do on the measure, and I suggest that it be taken up now on the floor of the Council and acted upon.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, as one who has fought the project very vigorously from the start, and who feels that there is not a member of the body who will vote for it, I still feel that we should honor the Mayor's request. So far as the fate of the order is concerned, I think it is already defeated. But I don't want to be unfair to the Mayor or to anybody. I think every member of the body is ready to defeat the proposition, and it has now been killed by the withdrawal of the offer itself. As for the Committee on Finance, I cannot speak for the chairman, but it seems to me that in effect the order is as dead as it can be.

Coun. DOWD—Mr. President, might I say, as chairman of the Committee on Finance, that we have given the matter very thorough consideration. We had two preliminary hearings and we even went so far as to call a public hearing. We held that public hearing, and the result seemed to indicate that after all it was nothing but a political football. We saw men appearing here and having their say upon the matter who, if they were not candidates for office, would not have come. As far as I am personally concerned, I feel as Councilor Norton does. I called a meeting of the Committee on Finance today to consider the matter. Because of the fact that the Mayor has sent to us a message requesting that the matter be held up until he has an opportunity to get back to his office, we feel that he is at least entitled to that consideration. For that reason, and for that reason alone, it has been held up. If it were not for the Mayor's desire to hold the matter up, it certainly would have been reported upon this afternoon, and the report would have been unfavorable.

President McGRATH—Does Councilor Curtis desire to press his motion?

Coun. CURTIS—No, Mr. President.

COURT PRINTING AND OFFICE EXPENSES.

Coun. COX called up No. 6 on the calendar, viz.:

6. Ordered, That to meet the current expenses payable during the financial year beginning with the first day of January, 1933, for performing the duties and exercising the powers devolved by statute or ordinance, or by vote of the City Council during the year, upon the County of Suffolk or the departments or officers thereof, the respective sums of money specified in the tables, and schedules hereinafter set out be, and the same are, hereby appropriated for the several departments and for the objects and purposes hereinafter stated, that the same be raised by taxation to the amount of $12,950 upon the polls and estates in the City of Boston, and that all orders heretofore passed by the City Council relating to appropriations and taxes and the interest thereon apply to the taxes herein provided for.

B-1. Printing and Binding..... $1,200
D-1. Office..... 4,200

Coun. COX—Mr. President, at a recent meeting of the Council I asked that these appropriations for courts of Suffolk county be passed, and there was considerable talk at that time about protecting the employees of the Printing Department. I now ask that, under Superior Court, Civil Session, Clerk's Office, the Item D-1, office, $11,000, an item for office supplies, be taken up at this time; also that under Superior Court, Criminal Session the Item D-1, for office supplies, $8,500, be taken up; and that under Probate Court, a similar item of $8,000, and under Registry of Deeds, the item of $4,200, for office supplies, be taken up, and that these four items be passed today. In making that request I want it distinctly understood that these items have nothing whatever to do with the Printing Plant. I understand that the great proportion of this money is for United States stamps, that the rest is for office stationery. So I do hope that no member will get up here and say, in connection with these items, that he is trying to save 143 printers on the city pay roll, because the office supplies in the courts have nothing whatever to do with the Printing Plant. I ask that these items be acted upon today.

The question came on Coun. Cox's motion to take No. 6 from the table.

Several members addressed the President.

President McGRATH—The question is not debatable. The question now comes on Coun. Cox's motion to take these items from the table.

The motion to take from the table was lost.

RECESS.

On motion of Coun. COX, the Council voted at 3.12 p. m. to take a recess subject to the call of the Chair. The members reassembled in the Council Chamber and were called to order by President McGRATH at 4.14 p. m.

Report on message of Mayor and order (referred today) appropriating $49,000 from income of George F. Parkman Fund for maintenance and improvement of Common and Parks in existence on January 12, 1887—that same ought to pass.

road, now or formerly owned by the Boston Consolidated Gas Company, to a point at the Old Colony Boulevard, near the junction of Old Colony terrace, then, by the use of suction pumps on either side of the Mile road, to fill in the area, which is now filled in great part by numerous dumps,—recommending reference to Committee on Public Lands.

Report accepted; said reference ordered.

On September 11, 1933, the foregoing order was read once and passed, yeas 16, nays 0.

Severally passed under suspension of the rule.

WIDENING OF SHIRLEY GUT.

Couns. BARKER and GREEN offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to take up with the proper authorities the matter of obtaining an appropriation for the widening and deepening of Shirley Gut, between Deer Island and Winthrop, for the improvement of navigation and for the better protection of the county institutions on Deer Island.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

WELFARE COST.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Finance Commission of the City of Boston be requested to make an investigation and report to the Council as to why welfare costs in thirty-eight cities of the Commonwealth, since April, 1933, have dropped from 40 to 60 per cent, while the drop in Boston has amounted to but 4 per cent.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, the State Commissioner of Public Welfare has drawn attention to the fact that some thirty-eight cities of the Commonwealth, and some of those that have been hardest hit by the depression,—such as New Bedford, Fall River, Lynn, Lawrence and Lowell,—have since April last dropped their welfare costs from 40 to 60 per cent, while I understand that that expenditure in Boston shows the smallest decrease of any large city, only 4 per cent, although thousands of young men have been sent into the Reserve Corps of the Forestry Division and their families have been taken off the welfare roll. I would like to know why there is no greater diminution in the amount spent for welfare in Boston.

Coun. COX—Mr. President, so far as the cities which the councilor has referred to by name are concerned, most of them are cotton mill cities, and the cotton industry has picked up a good deal in the last six months. That is why their welfare list has decreased. Unfortunately, or fortunately for us in Boston, we are not an industrial city, and as a result we have not seen the boom that Fall River, New Bedford and other cities in Massachusetts and some in New Hampshire, have experienced, resulting in a reduction of their public welfare expenditures.

Coun. DOWD—Mr. President, while I shall vote for the councilor's order, it seems to me it must be very evident to anyone who has studied the situation throughout the country why welfare costs are what they are at the present time. I don't think the councilor believes that people who are on welfare should not receive proper aid. The fact that Boston is paying more today than some other cities simply means that we are paying to our welfare men and women the highest rate that is paid by any large city in America, something to which I believe nobody should object if those payments are properly made. But I believe we are not paying them an amount which is in accordance with the higher cost of living in the last four months. I cannot allow myself to take any action which would look to a decrease in the proper payment we are making for welfare. If we are told that we are paying the highest amount of any city in America, the statement which the councilor from Hyde Park has made on this floor time and time again, I for one want to say that I would like to see those poor unfortunates given an increased amount, which will accord with the increased cost of living.

Coun. BURKE—Mr. President, I want to say a few words on this order, myself. I have been in welfare work the past fourteen years, and I think the greater part of our duty as city councilors at the present time deals with welfare work. I have stood in my place here on many occasions and introduced orders asking that appropriations be made so that men and women out of employment could be put at work, and I have sat here and heard other councilors from other districts oppose the work and wage program that the Mayor has sent out, with the backing of many great economists. The Boston Welfare Department probably has not been able to take advantage of opportunities that have presented themselves to many other cities, because Boston is not primarily an industrial city, and many industries have found it impossible to do business in Boston and have gone to other cities and towns where they have been able to do business and to secure labor at a much lower rate. I might call attention to the fact that the United States Government a short time ago, through the program of the National Economy League, threw an additional burden on the City of Boston, in so far as the work of relief was concerned, and in so far as the City of Boston was concerned. Many of those men using that money from the Federal Government use it for the purpose of supporting relatives and persons dependent upon them, who, because of lack of cooperation from the Federal Government, are obliged to have those relatives and dependents go to the Welfare Department. Two or three weeks ago I introduced an order asking the Mayor to give 20 per cent additional to the recipients of welfare due to the increased cost of living at the present time. I did that because the Mayor himself submitted an order asking that the Hospital Department be allowed 20 per cent more for food, due to the additional amount of money that has to be paid for food. If it was true that the hospital needed additional money for food because of increased prices, in order to carry on the work of their department, it was also true that the Welfare Department needed more money to carry on its work and supply the wants of the welfare recipients. I find that in the last six months a number of people who had previously been fortunately able to keep away from the Welfare Department, due to the fact that they had been able to save enough in boom days to support themselves up to that time, have been obliged to appeal to the department because of the depression. I believe also that we have to realize that conditions are no better now than they were a year or two years ago, notwithstanding the fact that every effort is being made by the President of the United States under the N. R. A. to bring prosperity back to this country through increased employment. We have to face the fact also that the Mayor of Boston has failed up to the present time in his effort to initiate public works that would take many men off of our welfare roll; we have to face the fact that the State Emergency Finance Board has turned down one of the greatest propositions that the Mayor put up to them, the Huntington Avenue Tunnel; and we have to face the fact that we are not getting cooperation from the Governor of the Commonwealth or his executives along public works lines. We must also face the fact that the Governor himself has failed, in connection with the action taken by the Legislature at the last session, to furnish work to the unemployed through public works to be undertaken by the state. The Public Welfare Department of the City of Boston, in my opinion, is doing the best it can under present circumstances. I understand that a great number have been taken off the rolls in the Welfare Department, but in certain directions the demands upon the department because of increased prices have increased. If the amount expended by the department has been cut down 4 per cent, I am glad to hear it, but I know that a great deal still remains to be done along the line of helping out the unfortunates who have to go to the Welfare Department. When I went down there the other day I found it almost impossible to walk through the corridors or to get up to the second and third floors, because there were hundreds of people crowding the corridors and the staircases waiting for a little money that they wanted to take home. I don't want to see the Finance Commission go down there at this time. Some time ago I took the stand that the Finance Commission should go down there, and at that time the chairman of the Finance Commission told me that he had made investigations down there and had brought about certain changes in the system, certain improvements in the way of carrying out the work. There have been certain plans inaugurated and carried out in the Welfare Department. There has been a certain amount of decentralization and additional investigators have been put on and, while there have probably been some things that should have been corrected there, I am sure that in a short period of time they will have been corrected by the welfare officials. I think that we should call upon our public Welfare Department to give us the information we seek, and if we find that the explanation they give us is not satisfactory, if they do not properly point out why the decline in their expenditures has been only 4 per cent as compared to 40 to 60 per cent in other cities and towns, we can then ask the Finance Commission to give us that information. For these reasons I am going to vote against the order introduced by the gentleman from Ward 18.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, I had thought that it must be very clear to everybody that my activity during the last two years in opposing certain proposed expenditures of money by the Mayor has been due to my feeling that the depression would be prolonged and that we should be very careful in the expenditures that we made. It is, of course, very easy for certain councilors to twist my remarks and try to make it appear that I am against the work that is being done by the Welfare Department. That certainly is not so. I do think, however, in view of some things that have been brought to our attention, from time to time, that careful scrutiny should be observed. We know what our President, when Acting Mayor of Boston, brought out some months ago in regard to a number of the cases that have been handled in that department, and we know of a number of other things that have been brought out in the last three years. In the light of such publicity, in the light of what has been presented, in light of the fact that a local judge in one of our courts said recently that there was "evidently a very bad condition down there in dealing out dole," it does seem to me that a great deal of care should be exercised. Now, Councilor, I don't want to stop a child from getting one pair of shoes or two or three pairs of shoes, if necessary. I probably get more letters from people who are in need than any other member of the Council. I have here a letter asking me to please try to put an order through which will enable this person to get shoes and rubbers for his children from Public Welfare, because the children all go to school and the shoes are starting to wear out, and there are no rubbers that they can wear. Nobody sympathizes more than I do with those who are in that situation, and when I opposed the Young's Hotel order I did so that there would be more money available to these poor people for just that sort of thing. We have these demands from Orient Heights to Hyde Parke from people needing something to eat and something to wear, and it is more important to meet demands of that kind, from thousands of families, than it is to turn over large sums to racketeers. So when you interpret my order to mean that I am asking for a decrease of money to be allowed for the unfortunates, you are wrongly interpreting it; and, along that line, I ask you to read my remarks in this body for the last few years. No, Mr. President, I want the Finance Commission simply to investigate and to tell us more about the graft down there. The Boston newspapers have been publishing some articles based on information that they have been able to collect, showing the condition that is said to exist at the present time, indicating that this welfare business has become a source of graft and rackets. We are told that there is a work card racket by which large numbers of recipients of welfare have been able to collect aid money without working for it, through the connivance of foremen and of other sub-officials of various city departments who have stamped or punched their cards for them, and that the matter is being investigated by high officials at City Hall; that in some of the cases of fraudulent stamping of these cards, welfare officials believe, the men receiving the money have actually paid small sums of graft to the persons who marked them. And officials admit that they have no accurate gauge on the situation and cannot estimate how widespread the racket has become. I want to drive those men out of that department. I want to drive officials responsible for or assisting in that sort of thing out of that department. Our Welfare Department is the most important department in the city government and will be for a long time. That, Mr. President, has been my effort. Then, I have a statement here from one of the judges of our municipal court, to which I have already referred, speaking of the bad condition down there in dealing out dole. I also submit a statement here from one of the leading newspapers of Boston, referring to conditions that exist in that department. I am not here, Mr. President, trying to decrease the amount spent for welfare, but to increase it if it can be done in deserving cases, and I think the way to do that is to drive these grafters out of the department. I have asserted for years that the department was wrongly run, lacked executorship, and I believe, taking into consideration what the President of this body found when he was Acting Mayor of Boston, what the judge in one of our local courts found, and what has been set forth in newspaper headlines, as well as statements that have been made to members of this body, there is a serious condition there which should be promptly corrected. What I want is an investigation and the stopping of some of the present practices so that we may have more money for the worthy cases and less for the unworthy.

Coun. GREEN—Mr. President, I arrived in time to hear a part of the speaker's statement, and I would like to hear a clarification by the honorable and courageous gentleman who has just taken his seat of his statement. I want to ask him a question. I think he has been quoted wrongly. I don't think it is the intent of the gentleman who has introduced this order to decrease the amount to be received by recipients of public aid in worthy cases. So I would like to have him speak a few words qualifying his position, for purposes of the record.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, I think if the councilor had heard all of my remarks he would realize that I fully qualified them. As a matter of fact, the State Emergency Finance Board also stated recently in plain language that the payments by the Boston Welfare Department are not properly supervised, something that I have maintained for a long period of time. I have also felt, Mr. President, for a long period, that it would have been a great improvement, and that there would be better supervision, if we had decentralization of the department, and something is now being attempted in that line. I have tried not to be unreasonable in this matter, but I do feel that with proper supervision much more work might be done by the department and more suffering might be alleviated, and that the unworthy cases could be eliminated. Much could be done overnight, but so far it has not been done. The good work is going on very, very slowly. So I think there is no disagreement in the Council or on the record as to where I stand with reference to welfare recipients. My idea is to get the racketeers and the grafters out of the department, and I also feel that with a proper working out of the decentralization idea, handling in different districts—Dorchester, East Boston, Hyde Park, and so on,—the cases belonging in those districts, and not compelling people to go down to that pest house in the West End, relief can be very much expedited, that the cases can be quickly brought to the attention of officials of the department in different sections and attended to promptly without the present delay, a delay which in many instances results in continued and unnecessary suffering. There is no reason why relief should not be afforded in worthy cases in a few hours at the longest.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

PROPOSED RESIGNATION OF WELFARE BOARD MEMBERS.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Mayor of Boston be requested to consider the advisability of requesting the resignation of the chairman and members of the Welfare Board of the City of Boston.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, I believe, as a result of the exposures recently of graft and improper things going on in the Welfare Department of the City of Boston, the Mayor should ask for the resignation of the chairman and every member of the Welfare Board of this city.

Coun. RUBY—Mr. President, I cannot stand by, in view of what is said in this order that we have just heard read, without saying something about it. I have the highest regard for the chairman of the Board of Overseers of Public Welfare. For years he has given, understandingly and without pay, his services to our city, and in all the investigations of the Welfare Department that have gone on—first, by the Finance Commission, then by the Mayor's own secret board and then through the police of Boston—at no time has anybody intimated that the chairman of the Board of Overseers had done anything which even the minutest way suggested graft in the department. I believe the chairman of that Board stands 100 per cent, so far as his reputation is concerned, personally and as the head of the department. And I think that the same holds true of every member of that Board. I think the same thing holds true of everyone there giving his or her time without paying, if you please Mr. President, to see that the unfortunates of our city are properly taken care of. I do not believe that at any time any of the investigations we have had have disclosed a thing that could be laid at the door of the Board of Overseers of Public Welfare. So it is not fair, Mr. President, to have these orders coming in here, orders that may leave a blemish on the reputation of noble men and women, who have, in spite of scurrilous attacks that have been made upon them, refused to resign. I think that shows the high type of manhood and womanhood we have in that department. Might I mention that there is one woman on the Board of Overseers of Public Welfare who lives in my district, and whom I am proud to have as a constituent. I refer to an elderly lady by the name of Mrs. Gookin. There is not a man in Boston who can connect her with anything unfair or wrong with reference to the millions of dollars that have been distributed in the city in public welfare. When we have accusations made here, we want to have the proof. Noble men and women should not be indicted and have aspersions cast upon them because of scurrilous statements, made on the floor of this body. It is unfair to them. They are an unpaid group of public-spirited citizens giving of their time and energy to see that the poor of Boston get what little we can give them. These accusations are not fair, because they leave a feeling of suspicion, which I don't think the councilor from Ward 18 is warranted in arousing. There is not a man or woman on the Board of Overseers of Public Welfare to whom any member of this body can point the finger of suspicion. For that reason, I don't think an order of this kind, accompanying the statement that we have heard here, is fair. It ought not to be forgotten that during the past session of the Legislature the chief executive of this city tried to create a paid executive, so that there could be put on the shoulders of an individual any possible responsibility that might be connected with the work of that department. But the Legislature in its wisdom saw fit to defeat that bill. The Mayor of Boston has done everything he can. So I sincerely hope that no man or woman on this Board, which has worked during all these investigations and refused to quit, will be subjected to the stigma that might arise from the passage of such an order. I trust that we will not even suggest the advisability of the Mayor asking for the resignation of those noble men and women, who have done so much for this city without one cent of pay.

Coun. BURKE—Mr. President, I go down to the Welfare Department frequently and, as I have said before, I know something about welfare work. Now, how are you going to blame the executives of the Welfare Department if one or two or a greater group of individuals are dishonest? It is absurd, in my opinion, to ask for the removal of anybody when it may appear that some recipient or somebody else happens to be dishonest, without the knowledge of the executive who has charge of the particular individual, or group of individuals. Walter McCarthy is an expert in the welfare field. The Overseers, as the councilor from Ward 14 (Coun. Ruby) has said, are public-spirited men and women, citizens of this city, working without compensation. They should be commended instead of being reprimanded or having an order of this kind brought before the City Council without any basis for the charges against them. Of course, I, and I trust that the same is true of other members here, are going to vote against the order.

Coun. GREEN—Mr. President, I move reference of the order to the Executive Committee.

The vote was put, and, the Chair being in doubt, a rising vote was ordered, by which vote the order was referred to the Executive Committee.

APPROPRIATION FOR WELFARE DEPARTMENT.

Coun. BURKE offered the following:

Ordered, That the Mayor of Boston make arrangements to have fifty thousand dollars appropriated for the use of the Welfare Department to purchase shoes and clothing for recipients.

Coun. BURKE—Mr. President, I was down at the Welfare Department the other day with a man who has six children unable to go to school because they have no shoes, and I was told that they have no money there for shoes. I think it is the duty of the Mayor of Boston, in conformance with his inaugural promise to take care of every needy person in Boston, to give an adequate appropriation for this purpose. I think that $50,000 would be sufficient to provide shoes for children who are forced to stay home because of lack of them.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, I cannot understand my colleague. At one moment he tells us that everything is fine in the Welfare Department, and hands them a great compliment, and the next moment he is asking for an appropriation for shoes. I don't remember about the Welfare Department asking the Mayor of Boston for extra money for shoes in the last few months. We have just listened to praise of the Welfare Department. Everything is fine. As far as orders I introduce are concerned, I don't expect that any order I introduce here will receive unanimous approval. On practically every order that is introduced into the body, an order of any importance, there is a controversy. But there seems to be one department that there should be nothing said against, and that is the Welfare Department, which is headed, as my colleague says, by such fine people. Mr. President, if that department needs more money for a purpose of this sort, why do they not ask for it? I ask the colleague, when has that department asked the Mayor for money to enable it to furnish shoes? And if they have not done so, and money is needed for that purpose, I would call your attention to the fact that they have been lax. I am told that by passing such an order as I introduced we would be impugning, the personal character of the Overseers of the Welfare Department. No, Mr. President, I raise no question of the character of the folks holding the offices in question. I am not questioning their personal character at all, but their acts as officials at the head of the department. As I remember, Mr. Hecht and others resigned in a body in the previous administration. So there is nothing new to them in the matter of resignations. They are used to that. And we are told that this is an unpaid Board. Mr. President, what difference does it make whether a board is paid or unpaid, so far as the performance of the duties it has assumed are concerned? What difference can it make when they are supposed to perform their duty, whether they are paid or unpaid? Woodrow Wilson fired 100 men, dollar-a-year men, and leaders of industry through the country. Regardless of the fact that they were unpaid, they were simply told to get out. The boys were waiting for eighteen months at the front for airplanes, and were not getting them. The boys were there but without the planes, and he demanded that these men get out. And while many of our people are hungry and their children need shoes, we have the colleague from an adjoining ward standing here and telling us what a fine welfare board this is, that it is doing its best. And then he says that the Governor is a bad man, that he has failed deplorably. He objects to any criticism of the Boston Welfare Board, and then attacks the Governor. What justification is there for that, Mr. President? The Governor has had a good record in these depressing times, and I feel that there is no justification for writing the word deplorable into that record, particularly in light of the way that he stands and of conditions at City Hall. No, Mr. President, the Governor has not failed deplorably. He has been a good Governor, with a heart for the poor. He has not failed deplorably. We at City Hall have failed deplorably, and I think we must feel when we see the criticism that has been made of our Welfare Department by judges of courts, by leading newspapers, and by the State Emergency Finance Board, that there has been laxness in the department. We must also remember the fact that a few years ago the Mayor of Boston demanded the resignation of every member of the Board on account of conditions there, when we did not have a tenth of the load that we have today. Therefore, I am at a loss to understand the colleague's order calling for more money to purchase more shoes, when a few minutes previous he stated that everything was fine so far as the executorship of the Welfare Department was concerned.

Coun. BURKE—Mr. President, they say that iteration and reiteration makes its imprint even upon the dulled mind. I am not trying to intimidate that the councilor from Ward 18 (Coun. Norton) has a dull mind, but I do think he was either reading some of the newspaper statistics he has in front of him or was not paying attention to what I said, when he makes this commentary upon it. I did not say that everything was all right in the Welfare Department. I hardly think it is necessary for me to repeat to the other members of the body what I did say. I am an experienced welfare worker, for fourteen years with the United States Veterans' Bureau, and he knows it.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, I rise to a point of order. In light of the statement of the gentleman in regard to what he said in his remarks, I would like to be allowed to read into the record, verbatim, the statement he made in regard to this matter of welfare.

Coun. BURKE—Mr. President, I said that there wasn't a system that could be brought forth by the human mind—

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

Coun. BURKE—You have asked a question, and I will answer it at the present time.

President McGRATH—So far as the point of order is concerned, there is no objection to your later reading into the record whatever the councilor from Dorchester said.

Coun. BURKE—Mr. President, I said that there never was a system of welfare work that was not subject to fraud, so that certain gold-brickers, as we call them, might get around it dishonestly. He knows that as well as I do. That applies to the Soldiers' Relief Department and to the Welfare Department, in both of which departments there are men receiving aid who are not entitled to it. I do not deny that, but I do say that the Welfare Department are doing the best they can under the circumstances and that the executives of the Welfare Department scrutinize carefully every claim that comes before them. And if, after a careful, honest, diligent investigation by men who are supposed to be experts in that particular line, it is found as a result that the people are entitled to the money, they receive it. But I say that the most clever social workers in all the land would find it impossible to investigate thoroughly every welfare case, so that a certain percentage of individuals not entitled to what they are asking for would get by. Of course, under any system there are some not entitled to welfare who will get it. But I reiterate what I said about the Governor of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, that he should cooperate with the Mayor of Boston, and the Mayor should cooperate with him, and with the efforts of both of them immediate action might be invoked and carried out in a public works program that would result in putting a large number of people at work, thus taking them off of the welfare and soldiers' relief rolls. I am not giving the Emergency Finance Commission at the State House any credit for turning down the Huntington Avenue Tunnel project, because I think in doing so they made a big mistake. I think it was the greatest project we had on the program to put men at work immediately, and, in so far as the veterans are concerned, it would have allowed the City of Boston to take a large number of them off the pay roll, and would have also resulted in taking many of the recipients of welfare off the roll. In regard to this order, the situation is simply that the department at the present time needs this additional money. They have been doing their best to relieve unemployment, with the result that there is not enough money at the present time to buy shoes and clothing for these children. This is not in any sense a criticism of the department. There is simply not the money available for shoes and clothing for children who need them, in order to go back to school, because it has been used for the relief of unemployment. You cannot blame the welfare officials for that, because I know as a positive fact that they do ask for the money, and that the Mayor of Boston is at the present time endeavoring to secure money for that purpose. But these children should not be required to wait any longer. The money is needed now, so that they may not be forced to stay home from school at the present time. I have differed with the councilor from Ward 18 (Coun. Norton) on other occasions. I at times have not believed in waiting, and he has. He does not believe in public works projects, and I do. I believe that one of the best ways to take the country out of the depression is to put men at work and pay them wages. He may believe in cutting wages. If I disagree with him, I want him to know that I have a basis for my opinion, which I formulate and express here, as I suppose he must have for his.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, I was interested to hear the last statement. Fine! He was interested in cutting wages.

Coun. BURKE—Mr. President, I rise to a point of order. The gentleman's statement is incorrect. I was not in favor of cutting wages, and am not now.

Coun. NORTON—I am going to assume that the gentleman on my left at least understands the English language. I used the personal pronoun, third person singular, when I said that the councilor said "He favors cutting wages." If you don't understand that I meant myself, I don't know any way of explaining it. It was plain English. Now, that sounds nice, to intimate that "he favored cutting wages." Alexander Sullivan, you will remember, said that only a fool would fail to recognize the fact that reductions had to come, so far as city employees were concerned. But you will remember the ground on which I fought that question. While I recognized that reductions had to be made, I favored grading them according to the amount received by the employee, that those getting $1,600 a year, for example, should be cut only one fifth of the percentage of those getting $5,000 a year. In other words, I tried to have my colleague and the other members of the Council demand from the Mayor of Boston that when he put the pay cut into effect he would say to a man getting $5,000 a year, "I am going to cut you five times as much as I cut the man getting $1,000 a year." So I put in a schedule, a list, figured mathematically on the 22,000 employees of the city, providing that no city official should collect more than $6,000 a year, and that the man getting $5,000 should be cut five times as much as the man getting $1,000. Wasn't that fair? But you provided that scrubwomen should be cut the same percentage as the man getting $10,000 a year was cut. It was my contention that those who could best afford to hear it should take the heaviest percentage cut, and there were members here who wanted to literally murder me at that time. So I finally stood on this floor and agreed to a 10 per cent cut.

Coun. RUBY—Mr. President, will the councilor yield for a question.

Coun. NORTON—No, Mr. President, I will not yield just now. So there is my answer to this colleague. He stood for a 15 per cent cut for lower paid employees of Boston.

Coun. RUBY—Mr. President, I rise to a point of order. The utterances that are being made at the present time will become matters of public record, and it is unfair for the councilor from Ward 18 to stand on the floor of this honorable body and intimate to the citizenry of Boston that this City Council voted salary reductions such as he suggests. That is entirely unfair to the other twenty-one members. We had nothing to do with the salary reductions and did not vote 5, 10 or 15 per cent reductions. It is certainly unfair to the other twenty-one colleagues for the member to make these utterances as a matter of public record.

President McGRATH—The point is well taken. I will ask the councilor to explain what he means.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, what I mean is this, that if this Council had refused to vote $5, except for hospitals, welfare and pay rolls, if they had supported the position I took in that matter, within a week we would have had such a schedule as I have suggested submitted by the Mayor so that the underpaid city employees would have only a 5 per cent reduction, and those better able to afford it would have had to submit to a larger percentage of reduction. I have stood here time and again and tried to get the Council to take action along that line. How long would it take the Mayor of Boston to do something of that sort—

Coun. ROBERTS—Mr. President, I rise to a point of order. The councilor is making another statement about the power of this body, what this body could do. It is the Mayor who has the power to deal with salaries of city employees. The Council has no right to raise or decrease salaries.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, I have not been talking about raising salaries. I have been talking about the rearrangement of the pay rolls, so that the lower paid employees would not have to stand such a great proportional cut as those getting more. That was my contention, and if we had taken the stand I suggest on that matter I think we would have seen results. But I did not bring the matter into the discussion. It was brought in by the colleague. I could go into the matter at greater length and show that that was so, but I do not wish to unnecessarily take up the time of the body. The colleague says that I was against public works projects. I have been against such projects as I thought were unnecessary that would not really furnish any employment to speak of. I was against Huntington Avenue. I believed it was unnecessary. I wanted to put men at work and give them plenty of work, repairing streets. When you are talking of spending over $8,000,000 on that subway, the major portion of the money was going for ready-mixed concrete and for land damages. I am not ready at the present time to spend over $8,000,000 on a subway that is unnecessary, when we can employ men on necessary work. I had not intended to go into the Huntington Avenue Subway, but the colleague brought it up here. Now, regarding another statement that the colleague made here in reference to the Welfare Department, I took down the statement of the gentleman from Dorchester verbatim. It was to the effect that the Welfare Department is doing the best it can under the circumstances and that the executives of the Welfare Department scrutinize every expenditure. Well, I believe the evidence presented to a judge of our court sufficiently repudiates that statement.

The order was passed, under suspension of the rule.

LIGHTING OF THOMAS J. ROBERTS PLAYGROUND.

Coun. BURKE offered the following:

Ordered, That the School Committee be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to cooperate with the Park Commission by allowing the spotlights at the Dorchester High School for Boys to be used in lighting the Thomas J. Roberts Playground evenings for football practice.

Coun. BURKE—Mr. President, last year we had some difficulty in getting these two departments to cooperate. At the Dorchester High School for Boys there are two spotlights which could easily be turned around on occasion, simply by turning a knob, on the football playing field. The schoolhouse custodian wanted to charge a fee of $8 or $9 an evening for taking care of that. I believe it would be economical for the city to have some agreement made between the School Committee and the Park Commission, allowing the custodian to receive his money from some appropriation. That would be a very fine thing to do for the next two months, using the spotlights in that way, and I am, therefore, asking that the departments get together so that some such arrangement can be put into effect.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

ELEVATED BUSES ON ASHMONT STREET.

Coun. BURKE offered the following:

Ordered, That the trustees of the Boston Elevated Railway Company be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to stop Elevated buses from running through Ashmont street, from Dorchester Avenue to Washington street, Ward 17.

Coun. BURKE—Mr. President, some time ago the Elevated received a permit to run buses over Ashmont street, and at that time they promised that they would make a study of transportation facilities in that area and as soon as possible take the buses off Ashmont street, which is a residential street. They have so far failed to carry out the promise they have made. I have therefore requested in this order, through the Mayor, that they kindly take some action, removing the buses from that residential street.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

HOLES ON CODMAN STREET.

Coun. BURKE offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to repair the numerous holes on Codman street, Ward 17.

RESURFACING OF WARD 17 STREETS.

Coun. BURKE offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to resurface the following streets in Ward 17: Claybourne street, Allston street, Mora street.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

LAND AT GALLIVAN BOULEVARD AND CODMAN STREET.

Coun. BURKE offered the following:

Ordered, That the Park Commission be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to clean up the triangular piece of land at the junction of Gallivan Boulevard and Codman street, Ward 17, also to repaint the dilapidated fence which now encircles that plot of land.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

TIME TO PROVE WHICH IS STRONGER THE AMERICAN PEOPLE OR THE POWER OF THE DOLLAR IN HANDS OF BANKING FRATERNITY, MAYOR CURLEY TELLS AUDIENCE DURING COLUMBUS DAY ADDRESS AT PARKMAN BANDSTAND ON COMMON—PRESIDES AT EXERCISES IN COMMEMORATION OF GREAT DISCOVERER.

His Honor the Mayor, presiding at the Columbus Day exercises on Boston Common on October 12, addressed the gathering as follows:

Ladies and Gentlemen.

I wish it were possible for my unseen audience to be here on Boston Common to view these exercises conducted under the auspices of the Boston Public Celebrations Committee, the services of whose women and men have been given gratis to this work since 1912 when the first meeting was arranged for the promotion of more friendly relations between America and our sister Republics to the south. The program today is equal in character to any that has been presented since 1912, and, due in part, perhaps, to the beautiful day itself, there is a larger gathering assembled here than in a long period of years.

After all, it is fitting that we should assemble upon this anniversary of Christopher Columbus, the discoverer of America, to whom as an individual we owe more possibly than to any other, and to whose country and to whose women and men we are indebted for inspiration, not only along spiritual and moral lines but also along cultural lines that mark the upward progress of the world, and to Italy we owe more than to all other races in the world combined. Italy has dominated the spiritual world from almost the beginning of Christianity; Italy, whose contribution to art, science and literature, and to all that spells progress, has been outstanding in the annals of the nation and of the world. At the present hour we find the entire world, including our own nation, turning toward Italy not only for spiritual guidance but for an industrial and financial program that will restore the equality of opportunity that is the constitutional right and privilege of every American citizen.

Tribute to Mussolini.

No individual in the world has demonstrated greater capacity or greater ability than the present great leader of the Italian people, Premier Benito Mussolini. In 1920, succeeding the World War, when there was every indication that the forces of Bolshevism would overrun the World, it was through his splendid leadership that the mad march of Communism and Bolshevism was stopped and Christian civilization preserved for posterity. The same sublime courage that marked his work in 1920 was again in evidence in the last four years when under his leadership the old wound, opened more than sixty years ago, between the Italian Department of State and the Vatican, was closed through the courage and vision of Benito Mussolini.

I am discussing Mussolini because the orator of the day is going to discuss Columbus and I don't want to trespass upon his prerogative.

It was my very great privilege to visit Italy three years ago and again six months ago and I wish that some of the laws and some of the practices that have been adopted in Italy might be put into operation in the United States of America.

It might have been the means of restoring to the people of America a larger measure of industrial opportunity. In Italy during the reconstruction period when a man, whether he was a banker or laborer, refused to carry out the policy that was deemed best for the security of the nation and the well-being of the people, he was first given a dose of castor oil and if that wasn't efficacious, his right arm was broken. There were 10,000 bank failures in America between 1920 and 1930 and we have had 5,000 since 1930 to the present time and in the same period of time they have only had one bank failure in Canada. We do not differ materially from the Canadian people; they have the same aspirations and ideals; we are the same character of people in America that you will find in Canada, but in Canada when a banker goes wrong he goes to jail, and in America he is rarely punished.

No Bank Failures in China.

In China they haven't had a bank failure in 100 years. When a bank fails in China everybody connected with the bank is beheaded. I am wondering if we are not rapidly approaching the time in America when we will have to adopt the same method employed in China and Italy, in order to restore equality of opportunity for a livelihood for millions who are tramping the streets without prospects of employment due in part to the obstructing policy of the bankers.

MAYOR CURLEY URGES ALL TO JOIN IN "BUY NOW" MOVEMENT TO AID IN RETURN OF PROSPERITY—POINTS WITH PLEASURE TO A RAPID RETURN FROM DEPRESSION TO NORMALCY UNDER REGIME AND PLANS OF PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT—IN RADIO BROADCAST FROM CITY HALL STATION HE RECOUNTS INDICATIONS OF BETTER TIMES.

In his radio speech Monday, October 9, Station WNAC, Mayor Curley spoke as follows:

Friends of the Radio Audience.

The City of Boston in conformity with the request made by President Franklin Delano Roosevelt inaugurated the "Buy Now" movement in a rather unusual manner. As Mayor of Boston it was my very great privilege some ten days ago to accept an invitation from Admiral Byrd to be present upon the occasion of the departure of the ship which is to take him to the Antarctic region. It seemed fitting and proper to present him with the flag of the City of Boston as well as to present him with the N. R. A. flag to place at the South Pole, and this he agreed to do.

The ship that is to carry Admiral Byrd, his crew, dogs and cattle and other necessities to the South Pole is by a singular freak of circumstances named after one of America's greatest brew masters, "Jacob Ruppert," who is the head of one of the largest breweries in New York. It is one of the ships that came into the possession of the United States as a consequence of the termination of the World War, and it has been anchored at one of the bases for a period of more than twelve years. Of course, this ship is not in the best of condition, but is a much better ship than the "City of New York," that brought back the Byrd party upon the occasion of the last visit to the South Pole.

The singular thing about these Antarctic trips is the zeal that possesses the men who participate and their willingness to undertake the adventure regardless of the difficulties confronting them. For example, in conversation with Admiral Byrd, today I was informed by him that they required $70,000 to meet the expenses of the expedition. This young man, who is one of the most talented and courageous, embarking on that journey and not knowing whether the journey will be successful or unsuccessful, finds it necessary to devise ways and means to raise the $70,000 in order to discharge the obligation, in addition to that which is already incurred and must be borne by those in charge of the expedition, which means so much to science, navigation and so much to the future of mankind.

WISH HIM GOOD LUCK.

I do not know of anything nicer of any individual, who is in a financial position to do so, than to pen him just a little note of good cheer and enclose a bill of some kind, whether it is one dollar, ten, or a thousand, because it would be helpful and a lovely message to give him upon his departure from the City of Boston. I have not been requested to solicit funds for this expedition, but if there is anyone willing to help this game, upstanding, highly courageous and exceptionally able American, who is doing so much not only for the present generation but for posterity, you may address Admiral Byrd, at the Boston Navy Yard.

It was interesting to look over the cargo on board that ship today. There were 125 dogs, which were either in cages or chained up. The Deerfoot Farms Company sent along two Jersey cows and I was particularly anxious to find out the age of the cows.

During the World War a patriotic citizen made a tender of a portion of the cattle on his farm, and they were exhibited on Boston Common, at which place I authorized the sale of them, the first one of its kind that had been held in more than a century. They were the sleekest, loveliest looking cows ever assembled together. They had never been milked by human hand, but were milked by electrical milking machines, while a phonograph played so that the milk might not sour, and lo and behold, during the night time they took away this herd and substituted in their place a collection of equally attractive cows, which were over twenty-five years of age. At that time in Boston a gentleman whose wife was troubled with tuberculosis, and whose children were not very strong, decided he would secure one of these Jersey cows that he had seen the night before so that his children might have fresh milk from one cow, and he paid $385 for one. He proceeded to march it home on foot and would not allow anyone to go near the cow. When he arrived home he started to milk the cow, and at the end of two hours wondered why no milk would come. He said to himself, "Why is it I cannot get milk from this cow?" He then decided he would send for a veterinary. Upon the arrival of the veterinary he asked, "Why is it I cannot get milk out of this cow?" The veterinary answered, "this cow has not given any milk for twelve years, and is thirty-two years old."

When I told this story to Admiral Byrd he was greatly interested in finding out the age of his cows, and was greatly pleased to learn that they were only five years old.

In addition to these supplies, leading companies of the United States are making contributions, but the real contribution he needs is money, and after all the N. R. A. starting out with Admiral Byrd on his expedition to the Antarctic may be an omen of good to the people of America. While in this section of the United States there has not been the same evidence of prosperity that may be found in other sections of the country, nevertheless, the fact remains that in our New England district factory employment has increased 24 per cent. That means some measure of prosperity to our industrial cities and towns, such as Fall River, New Bedford, Lawrence, Lowell and other manufacturing centers of this Commonwealth. Industrial production in New England has increased 71 per cent, and the strike of shoe workers in Brockton has ended satisfactorily, and people have returned to work in large numbers. Business failures were nearly 56 per cent less in August than one year ago that time. Of course, prices are going up, and everybody rejoices that the prices of farm products have advanced. Prosperity is dependent more upon the success of the agriculturist than upon any other element of the population. Just so long as there is a limit to the demand for agricultural products with consequent limit to purchasing power there will be general depression in the country. Now, farm prices are up 33 per cent in the month of September as against the same month of a year ago, and this 33 per cent represents a tremendous increase in the purchasing power of the American farmer.

I know that if I were out of employment tomorrow (I will be in January), and I was seeking a profitable source of employment, I would enter the painting, glazing and screening business, for, during my travels through twenty-five states during the presidential campaign and during the last six months, I venture to say that every third house, except those in the large cities is in dire need of a coat of paint, and now that the pay rolls throughout the United States have been increased 40 per cent, much of this money will go toward this line of business. Car loadings have increased 23 per cent. The college boys are purchasing sporting cars once more, which is partly responsible for the increase of 38 per cent in automobile production. A short while ago nearly all the railroads were headed for bankruptcy, and were obliged to borrow money from the Government, and now that conditions have improved they turn down this opportunity to borrow, and this is because of an increase of 100 per cent in gross earnings over a year ago.

"BUY NOW" URGED.

The "Buy Now" movement, inaugurated by President Roosevelt, applies largely to those persons, who have not suffered greatly during this depression that is passing on in history, the "hoarders." Here in New England they are called the "Thrifty" people. They always have an umbrella up for a rainy day. That day has come and gone. There are not going to be any more rainy days for a long time. Open up that stocking, that mattress, or that little tin box, such as they have in New York in political circles, and compel the owners of mercantile establishments to put on additional help, which will mean additional purchasing power of the communities, and when we buy goods make sure that we give preference to the goods made in the United States of America, and permanent prosperity will be speedily restored, and the long period of depression but an unpleasant memory.

ADDRESS BY MAYOR CURLEY.

Four hundred and forty-one years ago Columbus gave to the waiting Old World the news that a new land had been discovered. His success was due wholly to his faith in Almighty God, his faith in himself and his faith in the men associated with him in the enterprise. We absorbed that faith and through that faith, under the leadership of George Washington, carried on a war for eight years with the mightiest nation of the world and made possible the liberty of the American people. Thomas Jefferson, one of the signers of the Declaration, was sufficiently animated by that faith to incorporate the word "Equality" in the Declaration of Independence at a time when the old Divine Right theory was ripe in the world. It was an expression of courage and confidence in his fellowman such as the world had never previously known and yet to the principle of equality as contained in the Declaration of Independence may be traced the progress and prosperity of the American nation.

The same sublime faith possessed by Abraham Lincoln brought us through four years of internecine strife which resulted in striking the shackles of slavery from the black man without loss of a star to the American flag or a state to the nation. It was the same character of faith which made possible the wresting of victory from defeat during the period of the World War; it is the same character of faith now being exemplified by America's great leader, Franklin Delano Roosevelt.

Roosevelt has asked us to stand with him for the emancipation of child slavery in industry and give to every child what Lincoln gave to the black race in '61, namely, the right to mental and physical development until they have arrived at an age that will permit of their working without injury to mind or body. His program to provide a shorter working day, a shorter working week and a larger distribution of created wealth is necessary if the Republic is to continue in existence. We find the banking fraternity largely responsible for the "Stop N. R. A." movement. Perhaps the time has come in our day as in Jackson's day when one thing must be demonstrated—which is the stronger, the American people or the power of the dollar as represented by the bankers. We want to serve America; we want to serve posterity; there is only one way to do it and that is to make a success of the N. R. A.; so on this Columbus Day let us rededicate ourselves to our country, and a spirit of faith through which the nation may be preserved to posterity.

BOSTON WAS ABLY REPRESENTED AT THE CONFERENCE ON PLANNING AND NATIONAL RECOVERY HELD IN BALTIMORE—MAYOR CURLEY DELEGATED MISS ELISABETH M. HERLIHY OF CITY PLANNING BOARD TO ATTEND—SECRETARY OF THE INTERIOR, MR. ICKES, AND OTHERS DISCUSSED PLANNING AND WHAT THE GOVERNMENT IS DOING TO RELIEVE CONDITIONS.

Mayor Curley authorized the attendance, as representative of the City of Boston, of Miss Elisabeth M. Herlihy, secretary of the Boston City Planning Board, at the Conference on Planning and National Recovery held in Baltimore, October 9 to 11, inclusive, one of the most vital meetings of the kind connected with President Roosevelt's new deal.

The Secretary of the Interior, Harold L. Ickes, was the principal speaker at a great civic dinner held during the conference. The city of Baltimore was the host to the National Conference on City Planning and the American Civic Association which were jointly calling the conference.

As the administrator of the public works program set-up in the National Recovery Act, Mr. Ickes is directing the spending of over three billion dollars on public works. How this tremendous task is handled and the importance that it bears to national recovery was the theme of Mr Ickes' address. Baltimore and Chicago are the only cities which have persuaded the secretary to leave his desk in Washington for a public address.

SLUM CLEARANCE SUBJECT.

The civic dinner on Monday closed the first day's session of the conference. The second day was taken up with slum clearance and city planning. Robert D. Kohn, Director of the Housing Division, Public Works Administration, under whose supervision many millions are being spent on model housing, was the principal speaker.

"Regional and Rural Land Planning" was the subject of the third day's session. Dr. Arthur E. Morgan, chairman of the Tennessee River Valley Authority, discussed a most thrilling experiment in regional planning now being carried on under federal auspices in the Tennessee River Valley.

Other speakers at the Monday evening dinner were Frederic A. Delano, chairman of the National Planning Board and president of the American Civic Association; Alfred Bettman of Cincinnati, president of the National Conference on City Planning.

The Conference on Planning and National Recovery, held in Baltimore from Monday, October 9, to Wednesday, October 11, was the first conference since the announcement of the new deal, to show the importance of comprehensive state and city planning in the public works program of the National Recovery Act. It drew the leaders of the Public Works Administration from Washington to Baltimore.

The second day's session of the conference was taken up entirely with the subject of "Slum Clearance and City Planning." The architects, builders and realtors of the country had a vital message from Robert D. Kohn, Director of Housing of the Public Works Administration, under whose supervision many millions of dollars are being spent in clearing blighted districts and erecting model housing. A most interesting feature was a forum session in the evening on "Legislative and Administrative Problems of Slum Clearance." Speakers from many cities which have sent their housing schemes to Washington for approval, were heard at this time. Other opportunities for getting first hand information from Washington leaders at round table meetings was at noon on Monday and at breakfast on Wednesday. These round tables were led by Mr. Bettman.

Wednesday's session considered "Large Scale Regional and Rural Land Planning." Dr. Arthur E. Morgan, chairman of the Tennessee River Valley Authority, discussed a most thrilling experiment in regional planning now being carried on under federal auspices in a great river valley region which embraces six states.

Invitations to the conference were extended to the administrators of all states and cities, to plan commissions, to architects, engineers, realtors and others in professional and business life who are interested in the proper planning of city and state.

ELECTION DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON, September 28, 1933.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—The Board of Election Commissioners respectfully request that permission be given them to award the contract for printing the city election ballots to the firm of Wright & Potter Printing Company of 32 Derne street, Boston, without advertising for bids, at a price of twenty-eight hundred seventy-five dollars ($2,875) for supplying not in excess of 345,000 ballots and the usual quantity of specimen ballots, the price being approximately eight dollars and thirty-three cents ($8.33) per thousand for the ballots. In the event that additional ballots are necessary, in excess of the 345,000, ballots will be supplied at the rate of seven dollars ($7) per thousand.

The ballots for the city election will contain three hundred sixty-two (362) precinct changes, twenty-two (22) ward changes, and twenty-two (22) changes for council candidates in the make-up.

Great care will be required on the part of the printer as the time for printing such ballots and making a delivery to this office is but seven week days. Sample ballots for posting must also be delivered at this office three days after receipt of copy.

The Wright & Potter Printing Company is the only printing concern especially equipped to do this work, having printed the state and City of Boston ballots for a long period of years.

For the reasons as stated above, and to safeguard the voters of the city as far as possible against error, this request is made.

Respectfully yours,

BOARD OF ELECTION COMMISSIONERS,
PETER F. TAGUE,
Chairman.

Quincy Dry Dock and Yacht Corporation, total bid, $4,890. Total number of days to complete the work twenty.

Richard T. Green Company bid to complete the work $6,866. Total number of days to complete the work twenty-one.

The Marine Company bid $6,903. Total number of days to complete the work twenty-eight.

The General Ship and Engine Works bid $10,124. Time to complete the work twenty-one days.

The Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corporation, Limited, bid $13,682. Length of time to complete the work twenty-three days.

These repairs and alterations are essential in order that the steamer "Michael J. Perkins" may be available for service during the winter months.

Sincerely yours,

FIRE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Order No. 39.

I. FIRE PREVENTION WEEK.

Fire Prevention Week will be observed in Boston and the nation during the week of October 8, 1933. The Fire Department will participate in the observance of this week in the following manner:

Fire stations will be open to the public between the hours of 12 m. and 9 p. m., for inspection and information as to how the department functions and on fire prevention matters, in addition to instructions as to the proper method of sending in an alarm of fire. During this period that houses are open to inspection they should be in good order, no gatherings or loitering on the main floor, and the man on patrol should wear his full uniform, including blouse, cap and badge. If visitors come he should summon the commanding officer who will either show the visitors around or assign someone to do it. Children under twelve should not be allowed in the house unless accompanied by an adult.

All schools will be visited by a district chief and such officers as they may assign to assist them in so doing; fire drills are to be held and permission requested to address the pupils on the subject of fire and fire prevention, the pupils to be assembled for that purpose.

In the presentation of facts concerning Fire Prevention Week members and officers of the department in quarters and in public should emphasize to hearers and guests that 60 per cent of all fires occur in homes, and a home goes up in smoke somewhere every four minutes—a home that ought not to have burned. Home fires are probably responsible for the greater proportion of the 10,000 lives annually taken by fire, approximately 6,000 of which are women and children, the loved ones and the helpless ones who contribute so much to the real happiness of a good home. It is the mission of firemen to impress upon the public the cause for home fires and how the exercise of a little care will eliminate them. It is a well-known fact that the careless use of matches and smokers' articles is one of the responsible causes of our enormous national fire loss. Heating equipment is another frequent cause of home fires. Frequent inspections of heating equipment, chimneys and flues will show any weakness that may exist. For example, the customary defects are cracks in chimneys, sooty or clogged flues and chimneys, stoves, stovepipes and other hot pipes too near woodwork. The remedies for such defects are known to all. Defective and amateur electric installations present a serious hazard. It hardly seems possible that anyone in these days of the twentieth century would attempt to increase or quicken a slow fire by the use of gasoline or kerosene. Nevertheless such unexplainable methods are followed occasionally with the customary tragic results. Home fires frequently start in kitchens which condition can be quickly corrected by the application of good housekeeping rules.

Next to fires in the home fires in industry should be of great concern to the homemaker and wage earner of the family. Fires in industry throw people out of employment, deprive the laborer of his wages and the owner of his profits. Fire destroys the foundation of wealth.

There are nine principal causes of fires listed by the Actuarial Bureau of the National Board of Fire Underwriters, namely:

Exposure from other buildings; matches, smoking, etc.; defective chimneys and flues; stoves, furnaces and pipes; misuse of electricity; spontaneous ignition; sparks on roofs; petroleum and its products; unknown (suspicious).

There are many other causes but the foregoing are the principal reasons for our terrible loss.

The facts outlined herein should be borne in mind by all officers and members in order that the public may be properly impressed with the principal causes of fire and the remedies which should be applied.

II. ACTING DISTRICT CHIEF.

Capt. Allan Jarvis of Ladder Company 10 has been designated acting district chief of District No. 12 as of September 22, 1933.

Notice has been received from the Park Department that the name of the Park roadway located along the northerly boundary of the Back Bay Fens and the Riverway, now known as Audubon road, from its intersection with Boylston street in the Back Bay Fens to its intersection with Audubon circle near Beacon street, will be known hereafter as Park Drive.

By order of Fire Commissioner EDWARD F. McLAUGHLIN.

HENRY A. FOX,
Chief of Department.

General Order No. 40.

I. FUEL OIL INSPECTIONS.

Many applications are now being received for permits to store fuel oil in connection with range burners and domestic heaters. The commissioner wishes to emphasize the necessity of district chiefs and other inspecting officers who are called upon to pass upon the installation of tanks and heating equipment to see that the rules and regulations of the State Fire Marshal, effective April 1, 1933, are strictly complied with in every instance. Inspecting officers have no authority to waive any of the rules or regulations set forth by the Fire Marshal. Particular attention should be paid to the following:

(a.) Under section 6 no fuel oil burner can be installed or maintained in any building unless it has been approved by the State Fire Marshal and has affixed thereto a tag certifying to such approval. No installation should be approved unless it has a tag.

(b.) Section 15 describes the gauge of metal that is required for the storage of various quantities of oil and the tests which the tanks must pass. No tank is to be approved unless it has attached thereto a tag giving the name and address of the maker, together with the gauge, thickness of the metal of which the tank is constructed, the capacity of the tank in gallons, and also certifying that the tank has been subjected to the test required.

WITHDRAWAL OF LOAN.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, September 25, 1933.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I respectfully direct to your attention the attached communication received from W. R. Scudder, president of the Y-H Corporation withdrawing offer to sell to the city the so-called Young's Hotel property and outlining the reasons therefor.

Accordingly, and because of the reasons as set forth in the accompanying communication, I withdraw order submitted by me to your honorable body under date of September 11 in the sum of $700, and entitled, "City Hall, Additional Accommodations, etc."

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

Boston, September 22, 1933.

Hon. James M. Curley,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Mr. Mayor,—Referring to our letter in which we offered to sell to the city the so-called Young's Hotel property, with an assessed value of $1,300,000, comprising 17,553 square feet of land with the buildings thereon, for the sum of $700,000.

We realized that this purchase would mean a large immediate saving to the city by the very considerable amount of rents now paid to private owners for the departmental quarters. We believed further that the addition of this large area to the present site of City Hall Annex and City Hall would permanently keep City Hall in its present location. We thought that this result would be approved of and commended by the taxpayers and real estate interests generally because it would stabilize and maintain down-town real estate values with resultant benefit to the city and its citizens and taxpayers. For these reasons we agreed to a price of $700,000, which we believed to be far below the fair value of the property.

While we know that the criticisms of the proposal are unjust and utterly unwarranted, the publicity given to it has brought about negotiations which may lead to the transfer of this property to other interests.

Under these circumstances, the Y-H Corporation hereby withdraws its offer to accept from the city $700,000 for the so-called Young's Hotel property.

As taxpayers are sorry that this course seems necessary, as when the city later is compelled to take these premises it is probable that it will have to pay $1,500,000 or more for the property which by prompt action might have been obtained for $700,000.

Respectfully yours,
Y-H CORPORATION,
W. R. SCUDDER, President.

Placed on file.

CALL FOR CITY ELECTION.

Coun. GALLAGHER offered the following:

Ordered, That meetings of the citizens of this city qualified to vote for city officers be held at the several polling places designated for the purpose by the Board of Election Commissioners on Tuesday, the seventh day of November, 1933, to give in their votes for Mayor, two members of the School Committee, and for one member of the City Council in each ward. The polls at said meeting shall be opened at eight o'clock a. m. and closed at eight o'clock p. m.

Ordered, That the City Clerk be directed to give notice of said meetings by publishing the same as required by law.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

RESTORATION OF PAY CUTS.

Coun. RUBY offered the following:

Resolved, That the Boston City Council hereby respectfully petitions his Excellency the Governor to convene the Legislature in special session to authorize the restoration of the amounts cut from the pay of employees of the City of Boston.

Coun. RUBY—Mr. President, since the time that the employees of the City of Boston have been decreased in salary, the cost of living has increased to even a greater extent than the amount of the cut. In view of that fact and further in view of the fact that our government has been ready and willing at all times to start such projects and expend such sums of money as will relieve the calls upon our Welfare and Soldiers' Relief Departments, I respectfully urge the passage of this resolution, with a view to having the pay cuts restored immediately through action to be taken at a special session of the Massachusetts Legislature.

Coun. DOWD—Mr. President, I may be wrong, but as I understand the law, the restoration of salaries is entirely optional with the incoming Mayor.

Coun. RUBY—Yes, Mr. President, but I ask that it be done at once before December 31. After December 31 the restoration will be incumbent on the new chief executive, but I understand that the present situation will remain in effect until December 31 unless some contrary action is taken by the Legislature. Therefore, trusting that action may be taken as soon as possible, I have introduced this resolution.

The resolve was referred to the Executive Committee.

LIGHTS AT CAR STOPS.

Coun. RUBY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Trustees of the Boston Elevated Railway be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to install a light of some kind at every car stop.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

CIVIL SERVICE RULES.

Coun. DOWD offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to communicate with his Excellency the Governor to have him request the Civil Service Commission not to suspend their rules as asked by the Police Commissioner.

Coun. DOWD—Mr. President, it appears from the communication which the Police Commissioner has sent to the Civil Service Commission that he desires to set himself apart from other city and state departments, saying to the commission in effect that "I, the Police Commissioner, should have the right to take any man I wish off the list and appoint him lieutenant, captain, or whatever the position may be." Let me say to the Police Commissioner that his first duty is the protection of the lives and property of the people of Boston, a duty which to my mind he has not performed or accomplished during his administration. Through this order I am, through the Mayor, asking the Governor, through the Civil Service Commission, not to allow the Police Commissioner to appoint any individual whom he desires to these positions. He has refused to appoint as captain, Jack Dalton, who has served faithfully year in and year out, a man who is now at the top of the list but, because of the fact that Commissioner Hultman does not like him, cannot be advanced. I don't know whether the refusal to make such an advance is because of creed or not. But the commissioner now wants carte blanche to go down the line and say who shall be captain or lieutenant in the Police Department without any hindrance from the Civil Service Commission. I say to the Mayor that we as citizens and representatives in Boston are all vitally interested, because after all we pay all the bills; and I say that Commissioner Hultman's duty is first to act as Police Commissioner, and that the duties now expected of the Police Commissioner will take all of his time. I certainly hope that the Civil Service will not break their custom of years and allow a person who happens to be the commissioner in that department to appoint whomsoever he desires, whether efficient or inefficient. These men at the head of the list have taken examinations and are in line for appointment. If they did not have ability they would not occupy that position at the head of the civil service list. But Commissioner Hultman doesn't want to appoint them, for some unknown reason. Certainly, we don't know the reason. But we do know that he wants to go down the list and appoint whomsoever he pleases, whether it is the hundredth or the two hundredth man. I certainly hope that the Civil Service Commissioners in their wisdom will absolutely ignore his request.

The order was referred to the Executive Committee.

COURT APPROPRIATION ITEMS.

Coun. DOWD moved that No. 5 be taken from the table, viz.:

5. Ordered, That to meet the current expenses payable during the financial year beginning with the first day of January, 1933, for performing the duties and exercising the powers devolved by statute or ordinance, or by vote of the City Council during the year, upon the County of Suffolk or the departments or officers thereof, the respective sums of money specified in the tables and schedules hereinafter set out be, and the same are, hereby appropriated for the several departments and for the objects and purposes hereinafter stated, that the same be raised by taxation to the amount of $42,950 upon the polls and estates in the City of Boston, and that all orders heretofore passed by the City Council relating to appropriations and taxes and the interest thereon apply to the taxes herein provided for.

The motion to take from the table was carried.

Coun. DOWD—Mr. President, I now move that the order be indefinitely postponed. I do so because the tax rate for this year has been declared and the City Council has no more power of appropriation. Therefore, whether we leave it on the calendar or not, it is automatically dead. So I move that it be indefinitely postponed.

The order was indefinitely postponed.

CONFIRMATION OF APPOINTMENTS.

Coun. HEIN moved to take from the table under unfinished business in No. 3 on the calendar, viz.:

LAND FOR MASSACHUSETTS GENERAL HOSPITAL.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Mayor of Boston be requested to advise the Council why the city never offered a deed to the Massachusetts General Hospital for the 25,000 square feet of land the hospital desired to buy in order to eliminate a city stable located in close proximity to the hospital.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, on July 10, 1931, through a letter sent by the Massachusetts General Hospital to Mr. John Beck, real estate appraiser for the City of Boston, the hospital offered to buy from the city at $6 a square foot approximately 25,000 square feet of land, one lot being on the corner of North Grove and Fruit streets and the other being the old engine house lot on North Grove street. In pursuance of that offer the City Council in October, 1931, passed an order authorizing the conveyance of said property to the hospital at that price, but at no time since the passing of the order has a deed been tendered to the hospital. I was rather surprised recently to find that such was the fact. On January 18 of this year the hospital, in a letter to the Commissioner of Public Works, stated that it "does not desire to have a continual offer outstanding, and it is informed that the order of the City Council is now, in effect, in abeyance and is unlikely to be acted upon without further action by the City Council." The hospital, therefore, revoked its offer of 1931. I have now offered this order so that we may get some information upon the matter, so that we may find out why it is that, since the passage of the order authorizing the conveyance by the City Council in October, 1931, no deed has been tendered to the hospital.

Coun. RUBY—Mr. President, in view of the fact that, as I understand, we now have before the Committee on Public Lands an order involving the sale of land to the Massachusetts General Hospital, I would now like to know whether this letter which the councilor refers to concerns the original order we passed, for the sale of land to the hospital at $6 a foot, and whether that refers to the land concerning which we have an order now pending for sale at $4 a foot.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, this letter to which I am referring is dated January 18, 1933, and just came to my notice. I will read the letter if desired. It is perfectly clear.

Coun. RUBY—I raise this question because it is only recently, within two or three weeks, that we have had submitted to us by the Mayor an order concerning the sale of land to the Massachusetts General Hospital. I understand that to be the case.

President McGRATH—Coun. Ruby is correct. That order is now pending before the Committee on Public Lands, proposing to sell land to the Massachusetts General Hospital for $4 a foot.

Coun. RUBY—And if that refers to this same land, the recent order could not have been introduced unless the previous offer had been withdrawn.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, I think if I read this letter in full it will be self-explanatory.

Massachusetts General Hospital,
1 Federal street, Boston, January 18, 1933.

Mr. Joseph A. Rourke,

Commissioner of Public Works.

Dear Sir,—On July 10, 1931, through a letter sent by the Massachusetts General Hospital to Mr. John Beck, real estate appraiser for the City of Boston, the hospital offered to buy from the city, at $6 a square foot, approximately 25,000 square feet of land, one lot being on the corner of North Grove and Fruit streets and the other being the old engine house lot on North Grove street, the boundaries of the two lots being more fully described in the above mentioned letter.

In pursuance of said offer the City Council of the City of Boston in October, 1931, passed an order authorizing the conveyance of said property to the hospital at that price, but at no time since the passing of said order has a deed been tendered to the hospital.

The hospital does not desire to have a continual offer outstanding and it is informed that the order of the City Council is now, in effect, in abeyance and is unlikely to be acted upon without further action by the City Council.

The hospital, therefore, sends you this notice revoking its offer contained in the letter of July 10, 1931, to Mr. Beck.

Will you kindly acknowledge receipt of this revocation.

Very truly yours,

PHILLIPS KETCHUM,
Treasurer.

President McGRATH—The Chair would suggest that, if the councilor is willing, that letter might be turned over to the chairman of the Committee on Public Lands.

Coun. NORTON—Well, Mr. President, my intention in requesting this information was to find out why the City of Boston did not turn over this property to the Massachusetts General Hospital, after the action taken by the City Council in authorizing the sale. It certainly seems very strange to me, when the hospital has asked the city to remove the menace coming from manure, from the presence of a stable near that wonderful institution, that the city did not, following the action that was taken in 1931, when the hospital had offered $6 a foot for this land, even tender a deed to the hospital. When it comes to a question of proper treatment of such an institution as the Massachusetts General Hospital, which is continually engaged in a work of relieving suffering humanity, when they wish to have a stable removed, with its menace of manure, horses, flies, and when it has offered $6 a square foot for that property, and the City Council has passed an order authorizing the conveyance of the property, it would seem to me that the city should immediately have acquiesced and should have tendered a deed to the hospital, turning the land in question over to them.

Coun. HEIN—Mr. President, I move that this matter be referred to the Executive Committee.

Coun. NORTON—Let us not get the issues here confused. I am simply asking for information. I want to know why, under the circumstances, at the time when this action was taken, a deed was not tendered to the hospital.

Coun. GREEN—Mr. President, I think we should not act definitely upon this matter today in the absence of the councilor from Ward 3 (Coun. Fitzgerald). I think he should be here, because he is vitally interested. He was interested when the matter was under discussion some time ago. Therefore, in his absence I am going to ask that this be referred to the Executive Committee.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, I think the members misunderstand my position. My order simply requests information, asks why the order passed by the Council in 1931 was not put into effect and why the deed at that time was not tendered.

Coun. GREEN—Mr. President, I still think that the councilor from Ward 3 (Coun. Fitzgerald) should be present before we take any action upon this order. I trust that this will be referred to the Executive Committee.

The order was referred to the Executive Committee.

MORTGAGE MORATORIA.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Mayor of Boston request the Corporation Counsel to draw up a suitable bill to be presented to the incoming Legislature that will allow, under certain circumstances, mortgage moratoria in Massachusetts.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, every day we have small home owners in the suburban wards of Boston losing their homes, unable to pay their taxes or their mortgage principal and interest. It does seem that Massachusetts should do something for the relief of these home owners, something that will result in their holding their homes as long as possible. I would like to place in the record some of this foreclosure moratoria, as relating to moratoria legislation in different states of the Union. It does seem to me that, where all the states here set forth have passed legislation looking to the relief of home owners and farmers who cannot at the present time meet their interest and tax charges, Massachusetts should take action along the same line.

Following is the material presented by Coun. NORTON:

Coun. BURKE—Mr. President, I think the order is a good order. Some time ago the Home Loan Bank system was inaugurated by the Federal Government, and we thought that the work of the banks would be in cooperation with and supplementary to the work of that department of the government, in order to help out poor people who were hard pressed in meeting mortgage payments on their homes. But I have had a case called to my attention today of a man about to lose his home, a man who has been out in my district for fourteen or fifteen years. He applied for relief at the Home Loan Bank and they informed him that he could get the relief he desired by application to his bank. But he found that the bank refused to cooperate, perhaps because they could thereby get an opportunity to foreclose. Apparently, unless it is for the interest of the bank to do so, they will not cooperate. So I say that teeth should be put into the law so that there would be the proper cooperation from the banks and so that people will not lose their homes. I am therefore in favor of the order offered by the councilor.

Coun. MURRAY—And I, Mr. President, am entirely in accord with the order. I know personally of a man who was dealing with one of the largest banks in Boston, paying interest on a mortgage; and it was a good prospect for the bank, with a chance to foreclose and make a good profit, and they did not want the thing turned over to the Home Loan Bank.

The order was referred to the Committee on Rules.

SALE OF HOMES FOR TAXES.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:
Ordered, That the Mayor of Boston consider the advisability of not selling homes for taxes, over a period to be defined by him, where, in the opinion of the Board of Assessors, the owners have made every reasonable effort to pay the taxes, but through no fault of the owner or owners, has or have been unable to do so.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, Boston as a city steps in and sells a home after a certain period for nonpayment of taxes. Many of the large cities of America allow the home owner to retain his home for a certain space of time, giving him an opportunity to meet his obligation. I would like to refer to the position taken in this matter in Jersey City, New Jersey, the Mayor of which is Frank Hague. This will throw some light on what is done in at least one of the large cities of the country, and I think it furnishes a very good idea to us. I wrote to Mayor Hague, accordingly, and received from his secretary this answer under date of September 21:

"Under our state law we are required to advertise all property on which taxes have not been paid for two years and dispose of it at public sale. Because of the depression and unemployment Mayor Hague took it upon himself to ignore this mandatory law in the hope that the situation would improve and it would not be necessary to sell out the many small home owners who were delinquent."

Mr. President, this, I understand, is merely symbolical of the procedure that is followed in many of the large cities of America. But we in Boston have been cold-blooded and have put homes up for sale. I think we can all imagine what that means to these home owners. If other cities have been more lenient than we have been to home owners, it seems to me we should consider following such a policy in cases where the assessors feel that the owners have made every reasonable effort to pay the taxes and through no fault of their own have been unable to do so.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

WORK FOR BOSTON CITIZENS.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:
Ordered, That the Mayor of Boston be requested to immediately make provisions for spending the money now available to him to spend in order that work and wages may be given to a maximum number of Boston's citizens.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, when the Council was in the Mayor's office some months ago he said in answer to my question as to what he would do with $20,000,000, that work and wages were the one remedy he knew for the depression. America's foremost protagonist of that theory said that "work and wages" was the answer, that he wanted to put men at work. On September 5 the State Emergency Finance Board announced that Boston would be permitted to borrow a maximum of $10,000,000 for public works projects under the N. R. A. but that it would not approve the Huntington Avenue Subway. Incensed at the rejection of the subway, the Mayor withdrew his application for money for sewers and streets, and he has since announced that he will not apply for permission to carry on any public works until the sub-way is approved. Therefore, although there is $10,000,000 thus available, he has made no application for it. The Mayor wants work and wages; the State Emergency Finance Board says that it will not approve the Huntington Avenue Subway, but asks the Mayor to look over the different projects and decide on other things for which the money might be expended. But the Mayor, who believes in work and wages, will not apply for this money for any other purpose. What is the trouble, Mr. President? What is the matter? What has become of that "work and wages" slogan? $60,000,000 should be spent on the streets of Boston. I am not asking for that amount, but the Mayor can ask for money to be spent for that purpose. It will put men at work, and it will give them wages, on Boston's streets. But why has nothing been done? Why is the Mayor waiting? The Mayor had available, under the debt-incurring power of the city on August 31, $1,728,000. That means that today the Mayor can spend $1,728,000 on any project he sees fit. Why hasn't it been done? Winter is coming on, and it cannot be spent next month. What is the matter? What is the trouble? On April 26, 1932, a loan order of $550,000 was passed for the making of highways by this Council, and signed by the Mayor. Again on March 11, 1933, an additional loan order of $500,000 was passed. Those two orders totaled $1,050,000. Only $200,000 has been borrowed from this total for the making of highways, and that was only last week. Why? On March 11, 1933, an order was passed for borrowing $800,000 for sewerage works. Only half of this has been borrowed, and that was only borrowed last week. Unused authorizations exist in a number of smaller items, which, though small in each case, make a large total. Now, here is an opportunity for the Mayor of Boston to spend over $10,000,000, in addition to these amounts which he has been given the authority to borrow. And nothing has been done. Work and wages? Put men at work? What is the matter? What is the trouble? He has the money down there, and he has the right to apply for this large amount of money. And he has the right to borrow this large amount of money, to which I have referred, through the State Emergency Finance Board, $10,000,000 for public works projects under the N. R. A. There is besides the debt-incurring power of the city on August 31 of this year of $1,728,000 in addition to the loan order of $550,000 of April, 1932, for the making of highways and the $500,000 allowed in March of this year for borrowing $500,000 for sewerage works, only half of which has been borrowed. And yet the Mayor says he is in favor of wages and putting men at work. What is the trouble? I would like an answer. Therefore I have made the request embodied in this order.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

INFORMATION REQUESTED FROM CITY TREASURER.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That the City Treasurer, through his Honor the Mayor, be requested to advise the Council regarding the alleged charge that an advertisement depicting the financial condition of the City of Boston, appearing in newspapers on September 26, 1933, over the signature of the City Treasurer and the Mayor, contained inaccurate statements.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, there appeared in various papers under date of September 26, 1933, an advertisement purporting to be a financial statement of the City of Boston, signed by the Mayor and the City Treasurer. The statement itself is so inaccurate in many places as to lead one of the leading financial papers in the country, the New York Herald-Tribune, to state that it had glaring inaccuracies in it, and to wonder in what position Boston would be if this were used to sell bonds under the new securities code which has been drawn up. Without desiring to take up the time of the Council by reading in full all these inaccuracies, nine in number, I might perhaps refer at this time simply to the first one,—

"Net bonded debt (service to be met from taxes) $53,701,771.37." The correct figure, as shown in the Auditor's monthly exhibit dated August 31, 1933, page 55, is $66,754,640.01,—or $13,052,868.64 more. Error is due to subtracting gross "enterprise debt" instead of net "enterprise debt" on the line above. This in effect results in the double subtraction of rapid transit sinking funds in the table. In addition, of course, the rapid transit debt is not truly self-supporting, nor will the tunnel debt be. For these reasons also the computation is misleading. But I have here these nine inaccuracies in this advertisement that was issued on September 26, and I would like to have the City Treasurer, through the Mayor, advise us in regard to the matter.

Coun. BURKE—Mr. President, I wonder if many of the financial statements that are put out in this city by banks and other financial institutions are one half as accurate as the statements that are issued by the city. While mistakes may sometimes be made in statements issued by the city, there is not the dishonesty that appears in what bankers of this city and of the United States have had to say in statements they have issued to the public. Time and time again we have seen statements issued from these financial concerns that were entirely inaccurate and misleading, particularly in so far as many of the closed banks are concerned, and it is the fault of the banks themselves that many people have been deprived of their bread and butter and are in a state of poverty at the present time. That has happened because of the inaccurate and false statements that have been issued to the people of Boston and other communities, by which people have been induced to bring their money in and then have it thrown to the winds and to see the bank closed. Many people in my section and in other parts of Boston have lost their life's savings through these dishonest banks in Boston and other places and, certainly, if the city is to be criticized for perhaps having made in some cases inaccurate statements, certainly the bankers should be criticized for the not only inaccurate but dishonest statements they have made, and which have resulted in much more damage to the people than any statements that could have been issued by the city.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, I find it rather hard to see what the colleague is driving at. I would ask him if he approves of these erroneous statements?

Coun. BURKE—No.

Coun. NORTON—Then, Mr. President, I don't see what all the firing is about. I am not going to stand here and make a political stump speech about bankers. While I will agree that what the gentleman has said about them is undoubtedly correct—

Coun. BURKE—All right.

Coun. NORTON—What has it got to do with this?

Coun. BURKE—Only that the Herald-Tribune is quoting what the bankers have had to say about this statement, and I take exception to that. I say that what they have done is far worse than what officials of the City of Boston have done, because the dishonest and inaccurate statements issued by the bankers have in the final analysis done much more injury to the people in general, while, if there are any inaccuracies in the statement issued by the city, to which the gentleman refers, they were probably due to no fault of the officials of the City of Boston. As for the bankers, the phony statements that they have issued are still doing injury, and have been in large part the entire cause of the depression.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, my fight is not against the bankers. I am simply asking why that statement was put out in this erroneous fashion. The gentleman replies by saying that the bankers have made not only inaccurate but dishonest statements. Admitting that that is so, and while I am not apologizing for the bankers, that has nothing to do with this matter to which I am calling attention. We all agree with what you say in regard to the bankers, but I want to know why this official statement was put out by responsible officials of the City of Boston with these errors in it. Two and two do not make six.

Coun. COX—Mr. President, regarding this statement which was issued, and which is being criticized, the published criticism, I suppose, was really from some bonding house that was attempting to discredit the bonds of the city. We are not at all sure that the errors referred to are important. It is fairly possible that they may be minor errors, such errors as frequently occur in newspaper offices in setting up articles or advertisements. The question is, how much do they really amount to? If we are attacking minor errors that do not really affect the standing of the city, I cannot see the importance of that.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, will the gentleman yield for a question?

President McGRATH—Does the gentleman yield?

Coun. COX—When I get through.

President McGRATH—The gentleman does not yield.

Coun. COX—Mr. President, I don't think it behooves us to come in here in regard to published statements of this sort, when we don't know how accurate the criticism may be, or how important the errors criticized are, and take public action in this chamber which may cast discredit on the financial standing of the city. A proofreader on the best paper in the country can easily go over an article or an advertisement and find inaccuracies which may or may not be important. But why blame it on the city, when we don't even know whether the inaccuracies complained of are important or not? Why take action or make statements here that may affect the credit of the city? The main issue here is this, is the credit of the City of Boston sound? Regardless of two or three errors of more or less importance that may be found in an advertisement of this kind, I feel that the credit of the City of Boston is sound, and I feel that any bonds that the City of Boston has issued or will issue will be backed up by the City of Boston and will be redeemed by the city at its full face value, with the help of God.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, the Boston Tribune here states on page 1 that "an item of $13,000,000 was subtracted by somebody twice to arrive at a figure purported to show the net bonded debt of the municipal government as $53,701,771.37, whereas the correct amount on this obligation is $66,754,640.01. Considerable mystery surrounds the mistake at City Hall, what with City Auditor Rupert Carven, who usually passes his expert eye over all such statements, telling the Tribune reporter that he had not even seen the statement until it was published. "Go and see Mr. Dolan, the City Treasurer, and let him explain," said Mr. Carven. Edmund L. Dolan, the portly treasurer, whose signature accompanies that of Mayor James Michael Curley on the statement, declared as he ran up the stairs from his own office to that of the Mayor, that there was no mistake in the statement." I don't want to take the time of this body to go in detail into the nine glaring errors that appear in this financial statement.

Coun. BURKE—Mr. President, I believe in regard to that $13,000,000 item, why it was not added to the total debt has been explained. They expect to get that money back, and I think that has been gone into.

Coun. COX—Mr. President, I did not understand from the councillor from Ward 18 (Coun. Norton) in referring to the paper from which he quoted originally, that there was any difference of $13,000,000 as compared with the advertised statement. But he is now quoting what is referred to as the Boston Tribune. This is a different paper. I understood that he was at first talking about some inaccuracies in the advertised statement that were brought out by a financial paper, and I did not know that it was there claimed that there was this discrepancy of $13,000,000. Does he mean to say that $13,000,000 should be added to the published statement?

Coun. NORTON—This Boston Tribune, from which I have just been quoting happened to be here on my desk. But it is also true that, according to the statement in the Herald-Tribune of New York that this $13,000,000 should be added. You can get the Herald-Tribune of last Saturday and find the whole statement there in regard to the inaccuracies of this published statement of the City of Boston. It says here that the Rapid Transit Debt is not truly self-supporting, nor will the tunnel debt be. For these reasons also the computation is misleading. You have the $19,000,000 tunnel debt; and imagine the foolishness of claiming that that is going to be paid for through tunnel tolls. In order to have such the case, there would have to be 13,500 cars passing through that tunnel every day, the number of passenger vehicles that passes the "Metropolitan" in a day. Where could anybody get the idea that there was going to be that amount of traffic through the tunnel? Where would it come from? So when they say that the traffic is going to pay for the upkeep, you can see the foolishness of any such statement. But this incorrect statement in regard to the net bonded debt is only one of nine inaccuracies set forth here. It says here on the first page of the Boston Tribune that "according to Carven's figures, shown on page 55 of the auditor's monthly exhibit, August 31, 1933, the net bonded debt is achieved by combining the net city debt of $65,818,990.95 with the net county debt of $935,649.06, giving a total of $66,754,640.01. Only by figuring the Rapid Transit Debt in twice, and an obvious error, could the figure of $53,701,771.37, the one which was published, have been obtained." And when it comes to the tunnel debt, how can anybody claim that it is self-supporting in light of the facts? The Elevated is not self-supporting; the subways are not self-supporting. Then it says, pointing out No. 2 in these errors, the statement that "there are no loans, temporary or term, outstanding against uncollected taxes," that "the city on September 26, the date of the statement, had already sent out tax bills due on September 15, 1933, and outstanding against the uncollected taxes of the 1933 levy were temporary notes totaling approximately $35,000,000." Well, it is too warm a day to continue with all of these inaccuracies that have been pointed out here. So I will simply close by asking for the passage of the order under suspension of the rule.

Coun. HEIN—Mr. President, I move reference to the Committee on Rules.

The motion to refer was lost, and the order was passed, under suspension of the rule.

EXPENDITURE OF $10,000,000.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Mayor of Boston be requested to immediately present to the State Emergency Finance Board, projects for spending part or all of the $10,000,000 which said Board will allow Boston to spend under the N. R. A.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

HUNTINGTON AVENUE SUBWAY.

Coun. BURKE offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to communicate with his Excellency the Governor, asking him to instruct the Emergency Finance Board to approve the Huntington Avenue Subway project in connection with the national public works program.

Coun. BURKE—Mr. President, "work and wages," I have heard that cry before this afternoon! I have heard the councillor from Ward 18 (Coun. Norton) ask why the Mayor has not been able to put men at work. Some time ago the City Council passed an order calling for the construction of the South Huntington Avenue tunnel, and we passed it because of the fact that it would put men at work. We expected that 3,000 men would thereby be put at work for a period of two years, and that, although most of those would be veterans, there would also be money with which others could be put at work, and that the whole thing would result in lightening the load of the Soldiers' Relief and Welfare Departments. The Mayor had that idea when he placed that item in his program. There was an effort made to induce the State Emergency Finance Corporation to assist in putting men at work in this way. But no, that commission turned to State street, to the bankers, the First National Corporation, and through the dictation of such interests the project was blocked, so that it is now difficult for people in this city to get money to live on. I am therefore asking the Governor to request the State Emergency Board to review their decision, so that there may still be an opportunity to put 3,000 men at work on this important proposed project at Huntington avenue. If we can get that started, giving the veterans the preference on that job, with the millions we will have otherwise available we can put other men at work, and therefore go a long way towards solving the unemployment problem.

Coun. COX—Mr. President, we have heard a lot of talk about work and wages. I don't think the putting through of the Huntington avenue tunnel is going to result in providing any great amount of work. This talk about the thousands who will be put at work for a long period of time is, of course, all foolishness. On the other hand, if in Councilor Burke's district, Councilor Norton's district and my own district, we could have work done in connection with the numerous unaccepted streets that get so blocked up in the winter-time that people cannot get out of their homes, and the city cannot afford to plough them out, we would be accomplishing something. And there are not only those streets, but there is much sewer work that should be done, and I know of no better way to put men at work than by having them dig sewers and put in cracked stone for the repairing and building of the streets. I know of no way in which the taxpayers of those streets will get a better break for their dollar. In that way more men can be put at work, doing street work in the City of Boston, than could by any possibility be put at work in that proposed subway, which can progress only as fast in construction as the bridging and the concrete work. We can do away with a great overhead of concrete in street construction, but you cannot do away with it in tunnel construction. It would be an easy matter with eight and a half million dollars to put at least 10,000 men at work on different streets throughout our city, but it is not a physical possibility to put 3,000 men at work in the Huntington Avenue Subway.

Coun. BURKE—Mr. President, during the past year out in my ward a number of streets have been constructed. There is Norfolk street, one mile long, Dorchester avenue, one mile long, in addition to many shorter streets—for example, Tonawanda street, Bloomfield street, School street, Owenscroft road, Alicia road, Croftland avenue, Richmond street, Adams street, Groveland street, New Morton street, Lithgow street, Aspinwall road, Darlington street and Codman street. There are also other streets that I cannot bring to mind on the spur of the moment. But let me tell you that there have not been seventy-five men placed at work on any one of those jobs, even on the one-mile jobs. Samuel Tomasello, on work costing in the vicinity of $73,000, did not at any time have more than forty-three men at work. Now, I am in favor of putting all the streets of Boston in proper condition, if we have the money to do it. That work is needed, and Councilor Cox, Councilor Norton, myself and all the rest of the councilors have in our wards a lot of streets that should be attended to, a number that should be reconstructed. In the Mayor's program there is ample money to take care of those streets. But when you come to real public works, something that will give employment to thousands, you have to look to something else. What is the use, if you want to give men work, of spending a couple of million dollars on streets and simply putting a couple of hundred men at work at most for six or seven weeks? No doubt if the Huntington avenue tunnel was started, 3,000 men could be kept at work for a period of two years, and many of those poor fellows would be able to secure much needed employment that would help them and their families out. It would be what might be considered a real public works program if by an undertaking of that sort, with other work that might well be carried out, we could put 6,000 or 7,000 men at work. Of course, I am in favor of having streets fixed up, the same as the rest of the councilors, but that will not put men at work in any great number. You have to have some big public works program that will absorb thousands of men who will then be taken off the rolls in the Welfare and Soldiers' Relief Departments and thus help to cut down the current expenses of the City of Boston.

The order was passed, under suspension of the rule.

FIVE-DAY WEEK.

Coun. BURKE offered the following:
Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to place in operation in all city departments a five-day week for engineers and firemen.
Coun. BURKE—Mr. President, I have been informed by a number of firemen and engineers that the five-day week, given to all the other municipal employees, was not extended to them. I am, therefore, calling upon the Mayor to make an investigation to see if it would not be possible to put the firemen and engineers on a five-day week, the same as other employees.

Coun. MURRAY—Mr. President, I would like to offer an amendment that would include draw-tenders.

Coun. BURKE—Mr. President, I shall be glad to accept that amendment.

The order was amended by adding at the end "and drawtenders" and as amended was passed under suspension of the rule.

REPAVING OF WARREN AVENUE.

Coun. ROBERTS offered the following:

HISTORICAL DATA ABOUT WARDS.

The term "ward" first appears in a fire-protection order, approved by the Town on August 29, 1679, dividing the Town into 4 quarters with 2 wards each. The 8 wards had previously been military districts.

On August 11, 1713, the Selectmen "agreed upon a distribution of the Town into distinct Wards or Precincts."

On February 1, 1715, it was "voted to make a new division of the Town into eight distinct Wards."

On March 9, 1735, it was voted to divide the Town into 12 wards to facilitate the work of the Overseers of the Poor.

On March 13, 1822, the Selectmen divided the Town into 12 wards on the basis of the U. S. Census of 1820.

By an ordinance which took effect on the second Monday of December, 1838, there was a revision of the wards.

On April 29, 1850, the City Council accepted Chap. 167 of the Acts of 1850, which altered the wards on the basis of legal voters rather than on the number of inhabitants.

By ordinance taking effect on November 15, 1865 new ward lines were established.

In the annexation period, 1865-1875, the number of wards was increased from twelve to twenty-one.

By Chap. 243, Acts 1875, the City Council was ordered to cause a new division of the City into twenty-four wards in the year 1875 in such manner as to include an equal number of voters in each ward. This division was made, taking effect on December 13, 1875. On May 27, 1876, the City Council, in accordance with Chap. 242, Acts of 1876, divided one of the wards in two, making a total of 25 wards for the City.

By ordinance passed April 20, 1895, under authority of Chap. 437, Acts of 1888, and Section 96 of Chap. 417, Acts of 1893, ward lines were established on the basis of the number of voters registered at the City election of 1894, there still being 25 wards.

The annexation of Hyde Park, effective January 1, 1912, made an additional ward.

By enactment of December 28, 1914, under authority of Chap. 630, Acts of 1914, the City Council redivided the City into 26 wards.

TAX LEVY, 1932.

NAMING OF NEW SCHOOL

The Chairman offered the following:

ORDERED, That the Committee on Naming of School Buildings present now to this Committee the name of Patrick J. Kennedy for the newly erected school-house in the Emerson District, East Boston.

The motion passed and Dr. Mackey for the Committee on Naming of School Buildings, presented the following:

ORDERED, That the new thirteen-room elementary building on Saratoga Street, East Boston, in the Emerson District, be named the Patrick J. Kennedy School, in memory of Patrick J. Kennedy, for many years an outstanding citizen of East Boston. Mr. Kennedy was a leader in all civic enterprises, and a man in whom everyone had the fullest confidence. He served in the Massachusetts Senate, 1892 and 1893; in the Massachusetts House of Representatives, 1886, 1888 to 1890; as Election Commissioner, City of Boston, 1899 to 1901; and as Wire Commissioner, City of Boston, 1902 to 1908. In addition, Mr. Kennedy served on the Board of Directors, as Vice-President, and finally as President of the Columbia Trust Company, East Boston, which latter position he held until the date of his death, May 18, 1929.

The rules were suspended and the order passed, the five members voting in the affirmative.

In connection with her vote, Mrs. Pigeon made the following statement:

I am very glad indeed that this recommendation has been made by the Chairman and by the Chairman of the Committee on Naming of School Buildings. As a resident of East Boston over a long period of years, I remember the late Patrick J. Kennedy and the place he filled in the life of East Boston. I also recall the splendid community work done by his son, Joseph P. Kennedy.

CORRECTION OF ELIGIBLE LIST

The Chairman made the following statement:

The School Committee in Conference, December, 1925, accepted and adopted a recommendation of the Board of Superintendents, as follows:

"In future ratings, 50 points be allowed as a maximum credit to a disabled veteran whose injuries are certified by the Director of School Hygiene as not being such as to prevent his performing efficiently the duties of an instructor in military drill, or to a veteran who has received a medal of honor from the President of the United States."

It has come to the attention of the School Committee recently that Edward F. Corbett, a successful candidate of December, 1931, for Certificate XI. Special: Instructor of Military Drill, was not given the credit to which he was entitled, under the approval plan, as a disabled veteran of the World War.

The School Committee therefore has agreed that Mr. Corbett now shall be given the credit to which he was entitled at the time of examination, and that his rating as it appeared on the 1932 list, namely—882—shall be increased by the fifty points for disability, giving him a total on the forthcoming Eligible List of 932.

On motion, the Board of Superintendents was instructed in preparing the 1933 Eligible List to give to Edward F. Corbett a rating of 932 on the list of holders of the Instructor of Military Drill Certificate.

The Committee adjourned.

CITY RECORD

OFFICIAL CHRONICLE OF BOSTON MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

VOL. 25.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 21, 1933.

No. 42

ELECTION OF DISTRICT ATTORNEY WILLIAM J. FOLEY AS MAYOR URGED UPON CITIZENS BY MAYOR CURLEY — SAYS SUCH A CHOICE IS ESSENTIAL IF DEMOCRATS ARE TO BE SUCCESSFUL IN 1934 — CALLS SUCH ACTION CLEAR DUTY OF EVERY CITIZEN, ALSO, BECAUSE POLL OF VOTERS BY BOSTON NEWSPAPER SHOWS HE IS POPULAR CHOICE — DUTY OF PARTY CLEARLY DEFINED, HE SAYS.

On October 18 the Mayor issued the following statement:

On September 7, 1933, I stated that I was not supporting any candidate for the mayoralty, but in the event that a canvass of Democratic voters was made through the United States mail, or in the event that the candidates could agree among themselves on one man, I should do everything possible to elect that individual.

The nonpartisan system of election in Boston was adopted solely with a view to creating a situation that has been in evidence in every mayoralty campaign since its adoption, namely, a multiplicity of candidates, a creation of division, and a minority candidate permitted to obtain control of the affairs of the municipality.

It is unfortunate that in dealing with this important phase of political life a Republican Legislature has constantly refused to permit of a change in the law whereby a bipartisan system of nomination of candidates for the mayoralty in Boston would be possible.

Attempts were made to induce the various candidates for Mayor to agree upon one of their number to be the standard bearer of the Democracy, but without success.

In the Presidential election of 1928 Honorable Alfred E. Smith, as Democratic candidate for the Presidency, carried Boston by a majority of 98,835, and in the recent Presidential election Franklin D. Roosevelt carried the city by a majority of 101,533.

The election of a Democratic Governor and the re-election of the Honorable David I. Walsh in 1934 will depend in a large measure on the Democratic vote cast in Boston. Under these circumstances, the election of a Republican Mayor might result in the defeat both of a Democratic Governor and of United States Senator David I. Walsh.

Democratic Boston is entitled to elect a Democratic Mayor, and the importance of electing a Democratic Mayor, not alone from the standpoint of the welfare of the city and state, is even more vital from the standpoint of the nation, in that the Democratic Mayor elected would unquestionably support the program and policies of our present great leader, Franklin D. Roosevelt.

A Boston newspaper has conducted a postcard canvass of enrolled Boston Democrats and this canvass has been in progress for the past five weeks. The choice of that canvass is the present District Attorney, William J. Foley, and it is clearly the duty of every citizen who believes in a Democratic primary and desires to voice his or her protest against the failure of a Republican majority in the Commonwealth to accord this privilege to the citizenship of Boston to support for the office of Mayor—William J. Foley.

The Democracy of Massachusetts owes a debt of gratitude to the Boston newspaper responsible for the conduct of this canvass through which the path of duty to the Democratic party is clearly defined.

It is my purpose to abide by the result of this canvass and to request not only every friend of mine, but every individual interested in Democratic success to do likewise.

The acceptance of the decision arrived at by a majority of the voters canvassed and the election of William J. Foley, means an end of the Nichols, Innes, Bottomly machine, an end to the pernicious and obnoxious interference by the nonresident, tax-dodging members of the Good Government Association, and possibly the permanent adoption of a system whereby hypocrisy and chicanery of the political sharps of the Republican party can be permanently frustrated.

This is Democracy's opportunity and its acceptance means a continuance of Democratic control by the citizenship of Democratic Boston with William J. Foley as Mayor.

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

"O Boston, fair City enthroned like a radiant queen,
From thy hills looking down on the ship-teeming plain of the ocean,
May thy future be bright, thy skies beam with light all serene,
Ensured by thy sons' and thy daughters' unselfish devotion!"
From Boston Centennial Poem by
NATHAN HASKELL DOLE.

BOSTON RANKS NUMBER ONE AMONG ALL THE LARGE CITIES OF THE UNITED STATES FROM STANDPOINT OF MEETING ALL OBLIGATIONS, FINANCIAL OR HUMANE, AND UNTIL THIS YEAR DIRECTLY OUT OF THE CITY'S TAXES—MAYOR CURLEY, IN WEEKLY BROADCAST FROM CITY HALL, REVIEWS BRIEFLY HIS TERM OF OFFICE. ITS DIFFICULTIES, AND POINTS TO WHAT LIES AHEAD—WARNS AGAINST LOOTERS OF THE PUBLIC TREASURY.

In his regular weekly broadcast from City Hall Station, on Monday, October 16, Mayor Curley spoke as follows:

Friends of the Radio Audience.

It would appear but proper that something be said at this time with reference to the municipal election to be held on the seventh day of November in Boston.

The registration at the present time is 290,600. The registration on July 1 of this year was 269,000, so that some 21,600 have been added to the Voting List since registration opened. There are eligible for registration about 400,000 women and men in Boston and it would appear that the interest of every single one of these citizens of Boston would justify that a larger number than 290,600 be registered at the present time.

This registration represents 14,000 less than was registered at the close of registration one year ago. Registration of voters in Boston will close on Wednesday night, October 18, at 10 p. m. Arrangements have been made at considerable expense to the city to provide available facilities for those persons who desire to register.

For example, in East Boston, registration may be made at the Paul Jones School, Horace and Byron streets. Ward 2, Bunker Hill School, Baldwin and Bunker Hill streets.

Ward 3, Ward Room, Blossom street.

Ward 4, Public Latin School, Avenue Louis Pasteur.

Ward 5, Prince School, Ward Room, Exeter street, corner of Newbury street.

Ward 6, Frederick W. Lincoln School, East Broadway, near K street.

Ward 7, William E. Russell School, Roseclaire street.

Ward 8, Municipal Building, Dudley street, corner of Vine street.

Ward 9, Roxbury Courthouse, Roxbury street.

Ward 10, Lowell School, Centre street, corner of Mozart street.

Ward 11, Ward Room, Minton Hall, 4 Hyde Park avenue.

Ward 12, Roxbury Memorial High School, Townsend street.

Ward 13, Edward Everett School, Pleasant street, near Savin Hill avenue.

Ward 14, Pauline Agassiz Shaw School, corner of Morton and Norfolk streets.

Ward 15, Benjamin Cushing School, Robinson street.

Ward 16, Ellen H. Richards School, Beaumont street.

Ward 17, Gilbert Stuart School, Richmond street.

Ward 18, Municipal Building, River street.

Ward 19, Municipal Building, Washington street and Cummins Highway.

Ward 20, Basement, Branch Public Library, Centre street, near Mt. Vernon street.

Ward 21, Alexander Hamilton School, Chestnut Hill avenue.

Ward 22, Old Town Hall, Ward Room, Washington street, near Market street.

URGES REGISTRATION.

One who is not on the Police List as of April 1, 1933, must register at the Election Department, first floor of City Hall Annex, at any time between 9 in the morning, and 10 in the evening, up to Wednesday, October 18.

It is highly important that every individual eligible for registration take advantage of the opportunity that is afforded him at considerable expense to the taxpayers by the establishment of outside registration. I feel it is needless for me to dwell upon either the present or the future. Every individual who is listening in on the radio, and particularly every home owner, taxpayer and rent-payer, has some appreciation of the change in conditions, as they affect the individual, his family, his position and his future, that have occurred during the past four years. That there is no immediate prospect of a restoration of the old conditions that obtained prior to 1929 is apparent to every thoughtful citizen. In our own city, in 1930, in anticipation of the prolongation of the depression and of the conditions that have developed as a consequence of the depression, we found it necessary to institute the same measure of economy in the conduct of the affairs of the city that every individual has found necessary in the conduct of his affairs, in his own home.

Now, I have an appreciation of the seriousness of this election. It is borne in on me with a realization of the work of the past four years; of the difficulties it was necessary to surmount; of the heartaches that one must be required to bear so that no woman, or man or child in the entire City of Boston might suffer from starvation or might suffer from cold during the past four years.

It has been an extremely difficult and expensive task to meet our obligations, and in all probability were it not for the character of program that has gone on for a long number of years in the City of Boston, we might find ourselves in the same position that nearly every other American city finds itself in at the present hour. Now it is generally understood that Boston occupies a most unique position among American cities in the matter of the conduct of its School Department.

In 1916, with a view to meeting the changing conditions, we adopted a pay-as-you-go policy in the conduct of the public schools of Boston, and at that particular time the total estimated value of the school buildings and land in Boston was about $22,000,000, but the outstanding bonded indebtedness was about $16,000,000, and so we adopted the system of paying out of taxes for all school land and buildings that might be acquired and constructed for the city. At the present time the estimated value of our school land and buildings is about $58,000,000, and the outstanding indebtedness in school land and buildings is a little less than $4,000,000. In other words, we have added somewhere in the vicinity of $40,000,000 to the value of municipal property during this period of time and added it entirely outside of taxes. Now, no other American city has done this.

RETIREMENT PENSION SYSTEM.

We have adopted a retirement pension system. Under the retirement pension system some 1,500 beneficiaries are retired who have grown too old to work at about half-pay for life. We have found it necessary to build up a retirement wage fund which called last year for the setting aside of $2,300,000. It is a contributory system. The individual contributes 4 per cent of his salary each week and the city contributes a like amount, plus a reserve center, and at the present time, in that fund, started in 1916, there is somewhere in the vicinity of $18,000,000, and at the end of thirty years it will be no longer necessary to make available a single dollar, since the income will be sufficient to take care of all of the requirement.

We found it necessary in 1930, as a means of avoiding an exorbitant tax rate to do away with the home telephone service of employees of the city at the expense of the city, and we likewise found it necessary to adopt the "drive yourself system" in the operation of automobiles in substantially every city department. Some were excepted for very excellent reasons.

In response to the demands of the bankers, who refused to advance the necessary money with which to operate the city pending receipt of taxes, it became necessary to reduce salaries, and so we adopted a system of 5, 10 and 15 per cent reduction of salaries, effective April of the present year. We were the last city in America to adopt the salary reduction system. It was necessary to do it in order to secure the assistance from the bankers, in order to avoid payless weeks and in order to meet the current obligations of the city. We have, during this entire depression, maintained our employees' rolls without discharging a single person in the employ of the city during the entire period of the depression. True, we have not appointed many in the last three years, for the very excellent reason that we believe, where the bankers and the railroads and big business and every other agency had secured welfare relief in the form of advances of money from the Federal Government, without loss of dignity, without loss of standing, it was clearly the duty of the city to preserve the standing and character and dignity and self-respect of its citizens, who were without employment and without prospect of employment through no fault of their own and so we developed a system of public works for the service of men and their families who were being aided direct by the municipality and might have an opportunity to make some return in work to the city.

Now, then, notwithstanding the fact that in 1932 the expenditures in public welfare were approximately in excess of $10,000,000 and, notwithstanding the fact that we estimate the requirements for this year, 1933, will approximate $14,000,000, we found it possible to reduce taxes while meeting all of our obligations, so that the tax rate for 1933, of $32.80, is only $1 on the thousand more than the tax rate in 1926 and in 1926 the expenditures for public welfare were only $2,225,000 as against $14,000,000 for 1933. The tax levy in 1932, last year, was $67,598,000. The tax levy this year is only $58,000,000, or more than $9,000,000 less than was actually expended in 1932.

WARNS OF TREASURY LOOTERS.

You listen to some of these candidates for public office, the office of Mayor, on the radio, and you get the impression that Boston did not rank very high financially among American cities. I want to say to you that on the authority of the Mayors' Conference, representing all of the major cities of the entire United States with populations of fifty thousand or more inhabitants, that Boston ranks number one among all of the large cities of the entire United States from the standpoint of meeting every obligation, financial and humane; that where nearly every other city in the entire country has found it necessary during the last four years to borrow money in order to meet public welfare obligations until this year, when direct aid from the Federal Government became possible, Boston met every obligation directly out of taxes. We emerged from the depression and start along the high road of prosperity in a much better condition financially and in a much better position from the standpoint of efficiency and economy of administration of public affairs than we have possibly been at any time during the last quarter of a century.

My friends, Boston has been efficiently and honestly and most capably administered during the last four years, and the record of the last twelve years will compare more than favorably with any city in the entire United States. Now, just a word as to promises in a campaign. Candidates for the office of Mayor, desirous of securing election, can be relied upon to make every conceivable character of promise. There is only one thing I want to promise you, that whoever takes this office of Mayor, if he will devote the same amount of time, thought, attention and study and the same amount of real hard work to his labors that I have during the last four trying years, he will find it exceedingly difficult, even doing all that, to avoid an increase in the tax rate during the four years that lie immediately ahead. He will find it extremely difficult to dispense with the service of competent officials at the heads of various municipal departments, and he will find it more difficult, provided he is obligated to the officials of that organization known as the Good Government Association; he will find it extremely difficult, if not impossible, to avoid imposing burdens upon the city that can only be discharged with injury to the small home owner and the ordinary every-day citizen of our city.

This group represents that hypocritical element that is found in substantially every American community that hides under the cloak of good government and who are the raiders of the city treasury. Their raids during the last year in the matter of tax abatements alone represented a loss to the city of more than $1,000,000. They are the individuals who are responsible for the creation by legislative enactment of the State Tax Appeals Board, a Board created primarily to obtain justice in its fullest measure for all property owners in the city but a Board that has functioned from its very inception solely in the interests of the wealthy tax dodgers who appeal to that Board not only for an abatement of the assessed valuations of property for the current year but demand and receive in most cases abatements extending back from a period of from one, two, three, four and five years—extending back to the prosperity years and receiving refunds from the city for money paid during prosperity years at the rate of 6 per cent at a time when the city receives no interest on money deposited in banks in this city.

My friends, unless you wish to increase the burdens that already are heavy on the City of Boston, you will examine with extreme care the character and the personnel of the individual who is indorsed by the looters of the public treasury, the Good Government Association and their allies, the tax raiders.

TO PROSECUTE WELFARE AID FRAUDS TO LIMIT.

Executive Director Walter V. McCarthy of the Public Welfare Department reported to Mayor Curley, on October 13, that a counterfeit stamp has been utilized during the past week upon the work cards of recipients of aid.

Taking the ground that the recipient of aid who would resort to this means to avoid equitable return in the line of work for aid received should be deprived of aid, his Honor the Mayor directed Executive Director Mr. Walter V. McCarthy to strike from the list of persons receiving aid from the city all those whose cards have been stamped with counterfeit stamps.

His Honor the Mayor further directed Executive Director Walter V. McCarthy to make full use of the legal machinery of the city for the apprehension of the person or persons responsible for this method of defrauding the city.

MAYOR CURLEY SENDS DELEGATE TO WATERWAYS CONVENTION.

Mayor Curley, on October 11, addressed the following communication to Manager Bradbury F. Cushing, of the Hotel Statler:

MY DEAR MR. CUSHING,—The City of Boston is extremely desirous that you act as its representative at the annual convention of the Atlantic Deeper Waterways Association to be held in Baltimore, Maryland, on October 17 to 21, 1933.

The program for the development of American waterways fostered and promoted by the Atlantic Deeper Waterways Association marks one of the most constructive movements undertaken in the history of the United States and is deserving of encouragement and aid of every forward-looking American.

I regret exceedingly it is impossible for me to be present, but I rejoice that you have been selected and have agreed to attend, since no individual in Boston is better informed as to the needs of the Nation in the matter of waterways or more capable of properly presenting the same than yourself.

Sincerely,

JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor.

PAYS GLORIOUS TRIBUTE TO CHRISTOPHER COLUMBUS AND POINTS TO PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT AS THE COLUMBUS OF HIS TIME, LEADING TO THE GOAL OF SUNSHINE OF PEACE AND HAPPINESS—CHAIRMAN WILLIAM A. REILLY, OF THE SCHOOL COMMITTEE, THE ORATOR OF THE DAY, DELIVERS COLUMBUS DAY ORATION BEFORE ENORMOUS CROWD ON BOSTON COMMON.

Upon the occasion of the observance of Columbus Day, October 12, Chairman William A. Reilly of the School Committee, the orator of the day, spoke as follows:

Mr. Mayor, Distinguished Guests, Ladies and Gentlemen.

No man could stand in this place, in this presence, and on this occasion, without the deepest emotion.

Today we are here on historic Boston Common to pay tribute to a great character in history; a great explorer; a great inventor; the accepted discoverer of this continent.

Four hundred and forty-one years ago, at dawn, the fleet of three tiny vessels, which had sailed out from the Port of Palos many weeks before, came within sight of a low and level land. Frantic with joy the sailors, under the lead of their commander, Christopher Columbus, hastened ashore. The Spanish banner was unfurled and Columbus took possession of the country in the name of the King of Spain. He named the island he had found San Salvador. This simple recital of facts accounts for the beginning of all of the great accomplishments that have taken place on this continent during the past four centuries. Truly it is fitting, therefore, that we pay tribute here today to this discoverer.

I would touch briefly on the historical facts connected with this day and make reference to statements of others who have seen fit to honor Christopher Columbus by oral and written eulogies. Our common school history books tell us that Christopher Columbus was born in the city of Genoa. He was the son of a wool comber, and devoted to the sea. Sometime between the ages of twenty-five and thirty-five, he made his way to Portugal, meanwhile having acquired a knowledge of Latin and geometry. Thereafter, for eighteen years, he endeavored to secure the means for the voyage which is now a highlight of history, and which we honor today.

REAL REASON FOR JOURNEY.

John Fiske, who spoke in 1892 here in Boston, recounted the real reasons for the journey of Columbus. It was part of a great maritime activity during this early century which had been brought about by the desire of the leading nations of the then-known world to secure the wealth of India for themselves. The Turks had captured Constantinople, and the Portuguese realized if they could find a new route to India they would acquire the vast wealth that was supposed to be in that land and thus secure the means to drive the Turks from Constantinople and set free the Holy Sepulchre. The primary cause for the voyage is found in the contest of the followers of the Star of Bethlehem against the followers of the Crescent of Mohammedanism. The secondary object was the desire to establish trade routes between the then western countries and the riches of the East. The leading nations of that time were England, France, Spain and Portugal.

We may dissipate here a common misconception that all the scientists up to the time of Columbus had believed the earth flat. We know now that Aristotle declared the world round, and that seventeen hundred years before Columbus, the geographer Eudoxos declared it would be possible to sail from Spain to India were it not for the vastness of the Atlantic Ocean. In response to this view, Seneca said that the distance was not great and with favorable winds the voyage might be made in a few days. In the year 1267 Roger Bacon suggested that by sailing westward the voyager might reach China. All of this curiosity about the East was stimulated by the elaborate accounts of Marco Polo, in which he had reviewed his extensive travels up to this time.

Nor was Columbus the first to venture in our direction, for we know that he was preceded by Lief who came to Labrador many years before, but voyages which followed the journey of Columbus across the trackless ocean only emphasized the more the greatness of the land which Columbus discovered. May I at this point in a paragraph mention the subsequent historical trips which uncovered the importance of Columbus' discovery, and account for the presence here today of distinguished guests from South, North and Central America.

John Cabot from England in 1497 is believed to have reached Cape Breton Island, or at least some territory north of Halifax; Cabral from Portugal in 1500 reached Brazil; Verrazano from France in 1524 sailed along the coast from what is now Georgia to Nova Scotia; Amerigo Vespucci came from Venice and landed in South America; Balboa in 1513 first viewed the Pacific Ocean; Magellan in 1519 circled the globe and proved that Columbus had discovered a new world; Ponce de Leon sailed from Spain in 1513 and discovered Florida; Cortez and Pizarro found Mexico in 1521; DeSoto in 1539 discovered the Mississippi river. All of these navigators followed in the wake of the tiny ships "Pinta," "Nina" and "Santa Maria," whose romantic voyage made such subsequent explorations easier.

FAILED OF OBJECTIVE.

Columbus died in 1506, never knowing that he had discovered a new continent, but I like the lesson he gave, as found in the lines of Joaquin Miller, whose poem you have just heard, closing with the lines:

A light, a light!
It grew, a starlit flag unfurled,
It grew to be time's burst of dawn.
He gained a world, he gave a world its grandest lesson.
On! Sail on!

Columbus did not reach his objective, but who of us does? He never knew the extent of the land he had discovered. He expected to find a passage to India, but he really found infinitely more, a mighty continent, a new world, stretching from the Arctic to the Antarctic, and washed by the waters of four great oceans.

Columbus died as he was securing the means and preparing a campaign for the rescue of the Holy Sepulchre at Jerusalem from the infidel. He did not know, what time has revealed, that while the mission of the crusades of Bouillon and Richard of the Lion Heart was a bloody and fruitless romance, the discovery of America was the salvation of the world. The one was the symbol, the other the life; the one death, the other life.

It was a happy omen of the position which woman was to hold in America, that the only person who comprehended the majestic scope of his plans, and the invincible quality of his genius, was the able and gracious Queen of Castile. Isabella, alone of the dignitaries of that age, shares with Columbus the honors of the great achievement. She arrayed her kingdom and her private fortune behind the enthusiasm of this mystic mariner, and posterity pays homage to her wisdom and her faith.

I read to you the words of Francis Bellamy, whose views are appropriate on the occasion:

"Today we reach another milestone. We look backward and forward. Backward we see the first mustering of modern ideas; their long conflict with Old World theories, also transported hither. We see stalwart men and brave women, one moment on the shore, then disappearing in dim forests. We hear the ax, we see the flames of burning cabins, and hear the cry of the savage. We see the never-ceasing wagon-trains, always toiling westward. We behold log cabins becoming villages, then cities. We watch the growth of institutions out of little beginnings—schools becoming an educational system; meeting houses leading into organic Christianity; town meetings growing to political movements; country discussions developing federal governments. We see these hardy men, with intense convictions, grappling, struggling, often amid battle-smoke, and some idea characteristic of the New World always triumphing. We see settlements knitting together into a nation with singleness of purpose. And under it all, and through it all, we fasten on certain principles ever operating and regnant,—the leadership of manhood; equal rights for every soul; universal enlightenment as the source of progress. These are the principles that have shaped America; these principles are the true Americanism."

TRIBUTE TO ROOSEVELT.

Specifically, what is our state today? A few years ago we were intoxicated by the sudden wealth which had come to practically every citizen in this country and today we labor in despair, wondering what has become of our prosperity. Our position is akin to that voyage which we commemorate on this day.

Our great President, Franklin D. Roosevelt, is our Christopher Columbus and we the American people are his crew. We have been deluded by the false cries of "Land, land!" and our sea is that of uncertainty, just as was the uncharted route Columbus traversed in 1492. Our goal is the sunshine of peace and happiness, the goal which has been the aim of all mankind since the beginning of time. We need only the faith of Columbus, the courage of Columbus and the character of Columbus to carry us to our objective. We must remember that in this country we have seen the greatest achievements in science that the world has ever known. We have the facilities with which to make great accomplishments. Our aeroplanes can cover in less than two days the route which it took Columbus two and one half months to cover. Our great merchant vessels can cover the same ground in less than a week. By the use of radio we can be in constant communication with the explorers of our day. By the use of the telephone we can hear the voices of those situated in the most remote corners of the globe. By the use of electric power we can light our homes and our cities, and by the use of religion we can light our hearts and our souls. The great skyscrapers of America stand as monuments to the deeds of our fathers; the great railroads and factories make possible comforts hitherto unknown in any previous century. We have more material means to accomplish our ends today than any other generation has ever had. We need therefore only the spiritual and intangible qualities of faith and character to lead us into a new era.

By use of these means America may continue to glorify her name, may prosper and succeed as her fathers desired, and give constant acclamation to the little crew led by Columbus, and their great discovery.

Here in an historic spot we celebrate an historic occasion. Our trials are great but our gifts immeasurable. We must execute our trust with the same fervor, vigor and courage which Columbus executed four hundred years ago. We, here, of every race and country, recognize the horizon which bounded his vision and the infinite scope of his genius. The voice of gratitude and praise for all the blessings which have been showered upon mankind by his adventure is limited to no language, but is uttered in every tongue. Neither marble nor brass can fitly form his statue. Continents are his monument, and unnumbered millions present and to come, who enjoy in their liberties and their happiness the fruits of his faith, will reverently guard and preserve from century to century his name and fame.

All hail, Columbus, discoverer, dreamer, hero and apostle!

OVER 20,000,000 PERSONS GETTING RELIEF LAST WINTER AND SPRING—BIG TASK STILL AHEAD FOR THIS WINTER IS PREDICTED BY HON. HARRY HOPKINS, FEDERAL RELIEF ADMINISTRATOR, AT CHICAGO CONFERENCE OF MAYORS OF UNITED STATES—MAYOR CURLEY WAS PRESIDING OFFICER.

The following is the address of Hon. Harry Hopkins, Federal Relief Administrator, at the annual meeting of the United States Conference of Mayors, September 23, at Chicago, with Mayor Curley presiding:

I am not so sure how much I am going to enlighten you people about this. It is like carrying coals to Newcastle. You fellows are on the spot in this relief business as nobody else in the United States. You have been since 1929. The mayors of the cities have probably been closer in touch with relief business than any other public official in the United States. While I am saying it, I might as well say that in the main the cities have held the bag, when you think of the relative amounts of money that have been put into this picture. Once we found that private agencies could not carry this load, who carried it? The state? The Federal Government? No. The cities carried it, through 1930, through most of 1931, and indeed through most of 1932, at which time some states went into action, and the Federal Government made that three hundred million dollars available as a so-called loan. I am going to be very interested in watching the time five years from now when they try to collect that five hundred million dollars from the states.

I am going to talk about relief because I know something about it. If I get talking about anything else, I am going to get into deep water. I want to tell you just a few things about it. First, how many of these people there are, who they are, how they are cared for, who pays the bill and some look into the future as I see it.

Well, there were 4,800,000 families on relief last February and March. They were able to keep that very nicely dark, nobody knew it. It was a great secret. You couldn't find those figures, nobody could get their hands on those figures no matter how hard they tried. Multiply 4,800,000 families by 4.4 and you get the number of people that were getting public relief last winter, something over 20,000,000, or one person in six in the United States was on public relief. We had whole states where 35 per cent of the population was getting public relief; whole states have now 25 per cent of the population getting public relief. It is unheard of. Not one person in ten thousand had any idea of the extent of this thing. I have a feeling there is not much more than one person in five thousand that has any idea of the extent of it now. Since last March it has dropped from 4,800,000 families to 3,500,000 families, at the end of July, and I think it is about 3,200,000 families at the end of August. That is a good drop, but multiply three and one-half million families times 4.4 and you still get 15,000,000 people.

What is the cause of this drop? Well, part of it is the tightening up of the administration of relief all over the United States; secondly, there is the seasonal factor. The thing drops in the summer time. The third is the recovery situation. I am not going to presume to tell you, because I don't know, the relative values of those three factors in this drop from 4,800,000 families to 3,500,000. I have a chart showing relief in those urban cities you represent, 102 of them. One of the interesting things about this thing, one of the favorable things is that a year ago this summer, in 1932, this thing was going up all the time. This summer, for the first year since this depression started, we are getting a drop in the summer. I say that very quickly and that sounds nice, good news—we are getting a drop.

But bear this in mind. Let us assume this is two months hence. Winter will be on us. As far as I can see, at the present moment we are going to start the winter with a million more families than were on relief a year ago at this time. All you have to do is to look at this chart to see what has happened to this relief business. Do you know we have in some cities in the United States five times as many families as had relief in 1929?

Incidentally, while we are getting a little decline now, the cost of relief has gone up in dollars all over the United States. I am going to get the reasons for that in a moment. All anybody has to do is to look at this chart in terms of families and amount of dollars and see who paid this bill up to the present time.

There are some exceptions, but, in the main, I don't think anybody can throw any bricks at cities for their share of this relief. I am telling you this is serious. I am not going to give any moral lectures here this morning. I think the cities ought to be in this picture right through this thing wherever they can, and I certainly think the states ought to be in it. I think there are a whole lot of states that left the real estate tax in the cities holding the bag in this business. But I am not going to get moral this morning, because, in the first place, it is a complete waste of breath. In the second place, I am not built that way. I am not any good at it and I have more serious business to talk about this morning. I have the figures here for every city in the United States. We have charts made for every city in the United States. You people ought to take a look at some of these if you have not seen them lately.

I want to refer a bit to who these people are. Are they tramps? Are they hoboes? Are they unemployables? Are they a bunch of people who are no good and who are incompetent? Well, you take a look at them if you have not and see who they are. There is not a person in this room who does not know of an intimate friend, people whom you have known all your life, fine, hardworking, upstanding people who have gone overboard and got caught in this relief structure of ours—carpenters, bricklayers, artisans, architects, engineers, clerks, stenographers, doctors, dentists, ministers; the whole crowd are caught in this thing, the finest people in America, the workers, that is who they are.

We talk about the rest of the people getting a beating in this depression. Why, it is ridiculous, because what kind of a beating have these fifteen million people taken? Well, it is not a nice beating. You know and I know what has happened in these families. The landlords have finally shut down on the rent. The grocer won't lend them any money for groceries. They cannot borrow any money from their friends or relatives. They have cashed in on their life insurance policies. Those things have happened day after day. Finally, the children get a little hungry. Being a little hungry is not funny. They finally get hungry and then the man and his wife talk it over some night when the children are in bed about what they are going to do for food for those children and decide they are going to apply for relief. They decide the father should go and do the applying. He says, "Yes, I will go." He starts out the next morning to the relief office, gets within a couple of blocks of it and turns around and comes home again and tells his wife he cannot do it. He has to do it.

The terrible mental suffering in that for fine American citizens is an unspeakable tragedy which has followed in the footsteps of this depression, has gone on in every city, every town, every country in the United States. There is nothing nice about this relief business from beginning to end. I don't like it. None of the relief officials like it, but you may bet the unemployed like it a lot less. All this business about the unemployed liking to sit on these relief rows, I believe, is nonsense. Of course, there are some of them who do. Of course, there are some in this relief list who will stay there forever. I have no doubt that in this depression we have made a lot more paupers because this does something to a man. You cannot have a man go to a relief office and get a grocery order week after week without its doing something to him, especially if he is treated nicely, and you have to treat these people nicely now. You cannot treat them any other way because they won't stand for it and I am delighted that they won't, but it does something to them. It does something to their character. It would do something to you and me. We don't know what it is, but it does something to them to have to get relief.

I think there are the best people in the United States on these relief rolls, I don't think they want to be on there. I know there are fifteen million on the rolls. How do we take care of them? Well, you know a lot about that, too, in your own cities.

In the main, these three and one-half million families in the United States get fifty cents a day for everything, fifteen million people in the United States living on a standard of living based on a little over fifty cents a day a family. I don't think this money is being thrown away then.

We care for them in two ways. We care for them by direct relief either in cash, as is done in the city of Baltimore and a number of other cities, or with a grocery order, order for the rent or the gas bill, or what not. Incidentally, there are very few orders for rent, as you all know. I have learned a way you fellows could beat that game, but I'll be darned if I am going to tell you. I refer to this rent business.

Then there is work relief. Work relief has had a bad name in a number of cities, because they said it didn't amount to anything, that the men loafed. I guess that is true. All I can say is that I have been in a good many cities where the men on work relief didn't loaf, where they do as much work as anybody else and where the jobs they do are good jobs. It all depends on who is running it. You can do a good job with that as much as anything else and I am a great believer in work relief.

We were told, in connection with the old English poor law, which, of course, is our poor law in this country, that the way to keep people from getting relief was to make them work. If people asked for relief at the public charity office, they told them to go out and chop wood. I have heard a lot of people say, "Those bums won't work and we get rid of them." If that theory was ever exploded, it is exploded in this business. Strange to say, wherever you have offered them work, you have far more cases on relief. I don't think there is any argument that you can do relief cheaper by this direct relief business. I think it is a terrible way to take care of these people. I think they deserve better things than that so I am delighted with the way work relief has spread throughout this country. One-half million of these three million men are earning their relief. We have states where 98 per cent of all the relief is given by work relief. I don't believe in grocery orders. I have come around to believe in cash instead of grocery orders if you are going to give relief.

These people have handled money all their lives; they have earned their money, taken it home to their wives. Have they suddenly changed and become different people so they cannot handle a five-dollar bill on Saturday night, where the wife went out and marketed for their food? You say, "Oh, no." Well, something very mysterious must have happened to these people. You say they will drink it up; they will go and buy some gin. They get gin on the food orders, and cigarettes and candy, because the grocers are human beings like everybody else and slip it to them.

I think it is all nonsense, this business about people not being able to handle the money. They can handle the money as well as you can handle your money.

There is this mass feeding thing, this commissary plan. You don't hear much about that any more. I don't know what is going to happen in the future about this commissary thing. Commodity prices have jumped sky high and our dollar has remained a fixed sum. I don't know what is going to happen about that, but, up to the present time, it is my opinion, and it is merely an opinion—if anybody disagrees with me, I have no quarrel with them. As a matter of fact, I don't quarrel with anybody about this whole relief business because I don't think any one knows too much about it. If you don't agree with me, it is all right. You may be right and I may be wrong.

Up to the present time I have not seen anything in the commissary plan to warrant its spread to other communities. In the main, about three-fourths of the commissaries which were started in this country have been closed.

I want to talk a bit about who pays this bill. Of course we all pay for it. Sometimes you see people handling out this relief money who act as though it belonged to them personally. In some cases it is all right, if it means real protection of the public funds. I think we have to tighten up the administration of this thing. I think we have to have absolute conviction in our own mind that nobody is getting this money who is not entitled to it. You have to have conviction on that point and you have to have good administration of relief to do it. You have to have somebody doing it who knows something about it.

I said the other day, "A bootlegger would get somebody who knew something about it to cut his liquor. Why in the world should not we have somebody who knows something about it to administer this relief business?" It is my honest belief that hundreds of thousands of dollars have been wasted in different parts of the country because of incompetent relief administration.

Who should pay the bill? What proportion should be paid by the city, Federal Government and private agencies? About 95 per cent of all the unemployment bill in the United States is now being paid from public funds. This has not gotten entirely beyond the possibility of financing through private effort. I think they are entitled to every credit for holding the bag, for raising these large sums of money during 1930 and 1931. But now we are on the spot as public officials and we get it by the taxation route and some way or other.

When I went to work on the 23d of May, how much do you suppose was being paid out of the Federal funds for this whole business in the United States? How much do you suppose the Federal Government was holding in those so-called loans? Nobody in this room thinks it was a loan. Seventy-five per cent of the whole unemployment relief bill in the United States was being paid out of those loans. What do you suppose they are paying now in the country as a whole? We are paying about 55 per cent out of Federal funds of the total relief bill in the United States. We had $500,000,000, as you know. We spent $164,000,000. I think the bill for a year, say from May to May, is about a billion dollars, public, private and anything else thrown into the hopper, about a billion dollars and we got half of it.

The states have been putting up very substantial sums of money lately. There are bonds issued, to be voted on election day for relief purposes of over a hundred million dollars in only five states. The state of Illinois is going to put up another $20,000,000. Michigan just put up $20,000,000. Ohio just put up more than that altogether. I think the other $500,000,000 is in sight. I think we are in better position to finance unemployment relief for this coming winter than we were last winter, but we certainly are going to be in the soup if any one of these groups let us down. I don't mean to be personal about letting us down. I am talking about all of us now.

We have to finance some states on 100 per cent basis. We are financing Arkansas. I think we are going to pay most of the bill in South Dakota, although they did give us a beer tax for relief out there the other day.

Incidentally, we are going to grab some of these liquor taxes coming on pretty soon for unemployment relief purposes, but it is a big bill and costs a lot of money.

I want to talk a bit about adequate relief. There is no such thing as adequate relief. How can you have adequate relief when you don't pay any rent for a man? Obviously that is elemental. You cannot have adequate relief if you don't do a dozen and one things we don't do and we all know it.

Relief has been grossly inadequate in many places. A number of cities and states have permitted people to go half starved, have given them $6 a month. Well, the Federal Government is not going to stand for it as far as we are concerned. We are not going to co-operate in an enterprise of taking care of these unemployed people on a starvation basis.

We only go through this world once. We hope this is the last winter of this depression, and those of you who have the responsibility of taking care of these people have been given a mandate to do it. We do not intend to go through this winter having city relief commissions, because they have not the money, saying, "We are going to cut relief in two." It is an outrage to do it when you know when you are cutting your relief in two you are taking it out of the mouths of the children of these unemployed.

We are going to take care of these people. We are going to feed them. We are going to get it to these people and get it to them quickly and promptly and adequately. We are going to take these food surpluses about which the President talked the other day. It is perfectly indefensible to have these food surpluses in warehouses, milk poured into the sewers, fruit rotting on the ground, when hundreds of thousands and millions of people in America don't have enough to eat. (Applause.)

We intend to take those surpluses and put them into kitchens of the unemployed where they belong and we are going to do it pretty quickly too.

I want to talk a bit about one or two special things and then I am going to quit.

As to the transient, let us define him first so we get his name right. Everybody has a different definition. We define him arbitrarily and there is no rhyme or reason to this definition. If you asked why, I could not give the answer, but it is this. Any man who has lived in the state less than twelve months is a transient. The Federal Government proposes to finance his care on a 100 per cent basis. We propose to pay the whole bill as a Federal charge. We propose to pay the bill for administration, feeding, transporting, housing him, giving him a bath and what not.

Why do we do that? For a simple reason which all of you know. You have been through this depression for three years and this whole question of caring for single men and single women and transients is always up. Even the single men and women don't get a break if they are residents of a city. I know cities which have a relief policy of not giving relief to any single person in the city. Their argument is they have not enough to feed the families so they won't try to take care of a single man. Whether he eats or how he lives does not seem to bother anybody.

I know a lot of you fellows tell me what is really the funniest story going around the United States today. I will bet all have told this story, which is very dangerous. I have heard mayors and public officials in all these cities get up and say, "This is an outrage. All these unemployed we are taking care of are people from other cities. They don't live here. They are not our residents. We have no business taking care of them."

They come from Cleveland, Chicago, New York, and everywhere. They go from Cleveland to Chicago and vice versa. Chicago people are found all over the United States. Boys from Jacksonville, Florida, are found in Tacoma, Washington. They are everywhere and they get kicked around. I think about 50 per cent of them are hoboes. This is mere guessing on my part. I think 25 per cent are the old timers and know all the ropes. They know how to ride the rails and get fooling around with the machinery. The rest are young fellows who are new ones and who are problems. They don't know how to work the gadgets on the freight car. The railroad companies have to pay $11,000 for a car lot of lettuce because one of these new boys tries to do this. I suggested to one of the officials that they start a school and teach these boys how to run these gadgets.

They have to be taken care of and we propose to do it in transient centers, five or six in each state where these boys gather. I would like to see them cared for in the main by work of some kind. I think it is a terrible thing to shove these fellows into lodging houses and let them sit there all winter long. That may be what we are up against. This requires imagination. It may cost a little more to do it by work, but I think somebody ought to put their minds on a scheme of caring for transient people. We are prepared to pay their transportation home if that is the thing to do. If we have not a plan for them and they have a scheme of their own and want to go a hundred miles away, I am for letting them go.

We are not going to solve this transient problem in a moment, but will not try to solve it by putting them in trucks and having the militia throw them out in the next state. It does not do any good to throw them into jail. We are going to ask the railroads to stop permitting these fellows to ride the trains, to clamp down on them hard; second, to have the city and county enforce the vagrancy act in regard to tramps. We promising on our part to really take care of these transients. That is a large order and the police of all these cities are going to have us on the spot if we say we will do it. They will have those boys on our doorsteps and will say, "You said you would take care of them, or do you want us to put them in jail?" Through the cooperation of the state employees, we believe we can do something to stop the hitchhiking business. We believe we can take the boys off in substantial numbers and really give them a run for their money and handle this transient business better than before. I don't know what it will cost but we are going to take a flier at it. I am frank to say I am none too optimistic. We are interested in other schemes, schemes of adult education, taking these engineers and architects and white colored people able to teach and putting these unemployed in vocational classes, any type of enterprise you want to conduct and give an opportunity for these people who have not anything to do to get some instruction that will help them get back into industry or accommodate themselves to this, which I think is a very ridiculous life of ours at times. I would like to see 30,000 classes established in the United States. I believe it can be done with the cooperation of the universities and city and state departments of education. I believe we can deal with these people in an imaginative way. We are going to stay by you in this thing. We are realistic about it. I know the problems of these cities. I am very sympathetic with a lot of the problems you mayors have in this business. I know a number of you have not liked the personnel put in there. You think they are a lot of fancy people. You want a common, hard sense person to run this game and we tell you it should be some person with some training. I think it ought to be done well. I think it is dynamite if you get fooling around with partisan politics in connection with the administration of relief. It is far above that and far too serious for that. I must say, in the main in the United States, where partisan politics has entered into this thing it has been in the rural counties. Those fellows don't ever seem to learn anything. So we are going to see you through, and for one reason only. The reason is this fifteen million unemployed. I don't give two whoops in terms of seeing the state and city through this crisis on an official ground. The important thing is that fifteen million of our fellow citizens need this.

We are responsible for taking care of them and you cannot spend all winter long quarreling as to whether you are going to do it and who is going to pay this bill. We are going to interpret unemployment relief liberally. We are going after this. We are pledged to do it and intend to see you through. When I say that, we intend to see the unemployed through in every city in this land this winter. I thank you very much. (Applause.)

PAINTING OF WHITE LINES.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, October 7, 1933.

To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I beg to submit herewith communication received from the Traffic Commission, concerning the painting of white lines on street crossings in Ward 19, the same constituting a reply to order adopted by your honorable body under date of October 2, 1933.

Respectfully,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

City of Boston,

Traffic Commission, October 4, 1933.

Hon. James M. Curley,

Mayor of Boston.

—Dear Mr. Mayor,—I have the honor to acknowledge receipt, through your office, of order adopted by the City Council on October 2, 1933, "requesting that the Traffic Commission paint white lines on all street crossings in Ward 19, especially where there are traffic lights and in front of all schools."

There are approximately 500 street crossings at intersections in Ward 19. Under date of May 8 the City Council adopted an order of similar nature "requesting the Traffic Commission to paint safety lanes in front of all school houses in Ward 19." Under date of May 11 the Traffic Commissioner reported that there were seventeen public and private schools in the ward.

At the meeting of department heads held in the office of the Mayor on Saturday, May 6, 1933, your Honor gave instructions that no more street white lines be painted. As a result of this executive order the budget item for paint supplies was reduced to a minimum.

In addition to the lack of money, prudence would discourage painting white lines at this time of year. Rain storms followed by sleet and snow will soon obliterate street lines painted in October.

Yours very truly,

JOSEPH A. CONRY, Commissioner.

Placed on file.

2. How many men are assigned to the handling of traffic and to the tagging of parked automobiles?

3. In view of a crime wave that is sweeping the city, the real facts of which are not being published, how many members of the police force are actually on the streets, either on foot or in motor vehicles, from six o'clock at night until eight o'clock the following morning, on any given night?

Passed under suspension of the rule.

The question came on confirmation. Committee, Coun. Gallagher and Barker. Whole number of ballots 15; yeas 15, and the appointments were confirmed.

SIDEWALK ON SAVIN STREET.

Coun. BRACKMAN offered the following: Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works make a sidewalk along Savin street (south side), from Warren street to No. 69; Savin street (north side), from Warren street to No. 68, Ward 12, in front of the estates bordering thereon; said sidewalk to be from 3 to 10 inches above the gutter adjoining, to be from 5 to 12 feet in width, and to be built of artificial stone, with granite edgestones, under the provisions of chapter 196 of the Special Acts of 1917.

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to lay out and pave Nancia street, Ward 1, with smooth paving.

Severally passed under suspension of the rule.

INCREASED ASSESSMENTS.

Coun. KELLY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Mayor instruct the Assessing Department not to increase assessments on real estate that have been improved by the owners.

Coun. KELLY—Mr. President, word has come to me officially that pieces of property that have been improved by the owners since a year ago have had their assessments increased. I believe that is a very poor policy for the city to pursue. I think home owners should be encouraged to paint their homes, to make alterations and improvements, repairs, in order to not only keep up their property but to cooperate with the N. R. A. program of putting men at work at this time. Property in this city is over-assessed today. There is not an average piece of property, the average home, that would bring at public auction what it is assessed for. So I am calling upon the Mayor to instruct the Assessing Department not to increase the assessment on any home that has been improved since a year ago.

Let us encourage home owners to make repairs, putting men at work in doing so. I move that the order be passed under suspension of the rule.

Coun. BRACKMAN—Mr. President, I am very glad to say a word in support of this order. In my ward in the past year there have been many pieces of property increased in assessed valuation without any increased income from them. It is hard for me to understand the policy that has been pursued by the Assessing Department in that respect, considering the great number of vacancies and the impossibility of collecting rent in many cases. Certainly, under the circumstances, it is very difficult to understand why the Assessing Office has seen fit to increase assessments in that district, and I assume that the same policy may have been followed in other districts. Therefore, I hope this order will be passed.

Coun. MURRAY—Mr. President, the order that has been offered is a good one. The co-operative banks holding mortgages on property have been urging owners to paint and fix up their houses when they could not afford to do it. If mortgages have to be foreclosed, when the houses are not painted or kept in repair, the valuation is naturally much lower. Therefore, home owners have been encouraged to keep their property improved, and it is then submitted to an increased assessment. I think it is double taxation without representation.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

CITY LEAVE FOR HOSPITAL EMPLOYEES.

Coun. DOWD offered the following:
Ordered, That the trustees of the Boston City Hospital be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to grant all employees of the Hospital thirty days sick leave when necessary.

Coun. DOWD—Mr. President, the introduction of such orders as this in reference to the hospital would not be necessary if we had humane individuals in charge of the department. But we have had in charge of help at the hospital an individual to whom I have had occasion to refer before, who is the largest taxpayer in Natick, and who does not vote in Boston. If I had my way, she would be tarred and feathered and sent back to Natick, where she belongs. I don't think the citizens of Boston generally believe that when an employee is sick in bed for two weeks his pay should be stopped and his family suffer. I think there is no place in the city or in the county which has any such practice. So we have a case where there is a special hardship placed on a certain class of our employees, and many of the employees of our institutions are the lowest paid employees of the City of Boston. I have introduced several orders referring to this head matron, Nellie Cutler, who constantly requires an individual who is out sick for one day to present a doctor's certificate before being able to get a day's pay. Imagine the foolishness of that sort of thing, Mr. President, realizing that when a doctor is called into a home it very likely costs more than the individual at the Boston City Hospital will get in a day's pay. I am asking the trustees to be fair and to give the underpaid employee the same consideration that is given to other employees of the City of Boston, the same courtesy that is extended to the $10,000 or $5,000 men. I wonder whether, if any head of department in City Hall was out for four or five months, his pay would not still continue? If a $9,000 head of department is away traveling for a month or two months, his pay still goes on. But if the scrubwoman or the porter, making only a few dollars a week, is out sick for a day, the pay is cut, unless there is a doctor's certificate. I say that the same consideration should be given to every employee in the entire city and county.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

GROTTO GLEN ROAD.

Coun. POWER offered the following:
Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor request the Board of Street Commissioners to accept and lay out Grotto Glen road as a public highway.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

SIDEWALK ON CHEROKEE STREET.

Coun. POWER offered the following:
Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works make a sidewalk along Cherokee street, westerly side, Hillside street to Pontiac street, Ward 10, in front of the estates bordering thereon; said sidewalk to be from 3 to 10 inches above the gutter adjoining, to be from 5 to 12 feet in width, and to be built of artificial stone, with granite edgestones, under the provisions of chapter 196 of the Special Acts of 1917.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

SIDEWALK ON BURNETT STREET.

Coun. ENGLERT offered an order:
Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works make a sidewalk along Burnett street, from Washington street to No. 20, No. 20 to No. 50, No. 50 to Washington street and Washington street to No. 59, Ward 11, in front of the estates bordering thereon; said sidewalk to be from 3 to 10 inches above the gutter adjoining, to be from 5 to 12 feet in width, and to be built of artificial stone, with granite edgestones, under the provisions of Chapter 196 of the Special Acts of 1917.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

AUTOMATIC CONTROL SIGNAL, WARD 2.

Ordered, That the Traffic Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to install an automatic traffic control signal on Devens street, at the junction of Prescott, Harvard, and Main streets, Ward 2.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

TRAFFIC OFFICER AT POND STREET.

Coun. MURRAY offered the following:
Ordered, That the Police Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to station a traffic officer at the junction of Pond street and The Parkway, Ward 19, to allow school children to cross in safety.

Coun. MURRAY—Mr. President, I have introduced this order calling for this action by the Police Commissioner because of the dangerous situation out there. There are five or six lines of traffic crossing at that particular point, near the Jamaica Pond entrance. The cars try to beat the lights, and so the children cannot safely cross the street. Sometimes they have to wait for half an hour until somebody comes along and helps them. I have been trying to have lights provided which would assist, but have been unable to get them. Certainly something should be done so that school children can cross there in safety. Therefore, I trust that this order will be passed, under suspension of the rule and that some action of this sort will be taken.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

SIDEWALK ON ELM STREET.

Coun. MURRAY offered the following:
Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works make a sidewalk along No. 73 and No. 80 Elm street, Ward 19, in front of the estates bordering thereon; said sidewalk to be from 3 to 10 inches above the gutter adjoining, to be from 5 to 12 feet in width, and to be built of artificial stone, with granite edgestones, under the provisions of chapter 196 of the Special Acts of 1917.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON PUBLIC LANDS.

Coun. KELLY, for the Committee on Public Lands, submitted report on order (referred from Executive Committee on September 25) for purchase of land and erection of seawall at end of Mile road to point on Old Colony Boulevard—that same ought to pass.

Report accepted; said order passed.

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works make a sidewalk along Mt. Everett street, at Nos. 17, 21, 44, 34 and from No. 14 to Quincy street, Ward 15, in front of the estates bordering thereon; said sidewalk to be from 3 to 10 inches above the gutter adjoining, to be from 5 to 12 feet in width, and to be built of artificial stone, with granite edgestones, under the provisions of chapter 196 of the Special Acts of 1917.

Severally passed under a suspension of the rule.

CLASSES FOR INSTRUCTION OF UNEMPLOYED.

Chairman: I would like to bring to the Committee at this time a request that a resolution be prepared, because of information which has come to my attention, as follows:

I understand that in Washington, President Roosevelt has assigned to a Commission, with a Secretary, by order of Congress, a sum of money to be used for the employment of teachers to instruct the unemployed. I know also that there is a fund for the employment of teachers who through the depression have lost their positions on account of the abandonment of schools in rural districts. It seems to me that this fund properly could be utilized here in Boston if this Committee would establish classes for the unemployed, either in the evening schools or in the day schools. It would enable us to employ some of our Teachers College graduates who may not be reached for appointment or assignment this year, and perhaps other qualified candidates. Thus the functions of the Commission which the President has established could be carried out in the City of Boston as well as in other communities. Therefore, I request, through the Committee, that the Superintendent secure the necessary information in order that this resolution may be drawn up and made public, and the classes established as soon as authorized by the Federal grant, and so move.

Mr. Hurley: I second the motion.
Chairman: There being no objection, we may consider the order passed.

The Committee adjourned.

Attest:

ELLEN M. CRONIN,
Secretary.

TRAFFIC BOARD CENSURES
POLICE COMMISSIONER.

Mayor Curley has received the following communication from the Traffic Commission:

BOSTON, October 19, 1933.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR MR. MAYOR,—At the meeting of the Traffic Commission held today the following statement of fact was placed on the record.

Very truly yours,

JOSEPH A. CONRY,
Commissioner.

Under the law creating the Traffic Commission, chapter 263, Statutes of 1929, the Police Commissioner is an associate member of the Traffic Commission.

He has refused to perform his duty by failing to attend the meetings of the Traffic Commission since January, 1933, although repeatedly notified of the time and place of said meetings, notwithstanding his office adjoins the office of the Traffic Commission.

A meeting was held in the Mayor's office on September 18, 1933, to consider, among other things, the matter of changing the office location of the Traffic Commission.

At this meeting the Police Commissioner was notified by his Honor the Mayor that the Traffic Commission would vacate the premises occupied in Police Headquarters on or before November 15.

The Police Commissioner offered no objections but acquiesced in, and, by the implication of silence, agreed to the plan submitted by his Honor the Mayor.

On Monday, October 16, without previous notification or warning, agents and employees of the Police Commissioner, acting under his orders and instructions, violently entered the offices of the Traffic Commission and proceeded to demolish said offices, thereby exposing the women employees to fear and danger of personal injury and seriously upsetting and interfering with the official labors of the Traffic Commission.

The facts were reported to the Mayor immediately on his arrival at City Hall.

This brutal transgression on the part of the Police Commissioner, conclusive evidence of total lack of judicial sense and complete absence of manly instinct, deserves the censure of the Traffic Commission.

Resolved, That a copy of this statement be forwarded to his Excellency the Governor of Massachusetts, and to his Honor the Mayor of Boston, and to the Police Commissioner.

OFFICIAL CHRONICLE OF BOSTON MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

VOL. 25.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 28, 1933.

No. 43

BOSTON ONLY LARGE CITY IN AMERICA SOLVENT AT PRESENT—MAYOR CURLEY, IN REGULAR WEEKLY BROADCAST, SAYS ANYONE DECLARING OTHERWISE WITHOUT INQUIRY DOES CITY INJUSTICE AND BOTH INSULTS CITIZENS AND INJURES CITY—PROOF OF SOLVENCY LIES IN READINESS OF FINANCIAL HOUSES TO BUY BONDS WHEN OFFERED BY CITY OFFICIALS—TOPIC OF DISCUSSION IS “YOUR TAX BILL.”

Mayor Curley, in his regular weekly broadcast on October 23, over Station WNAC, said in part as follows:

The subject taken for today, “Your Tax Bill,” is, in my opinion, most timely. The various candidates for the office of Mayor, a majority of whom have no conception of the responsibilities attaching to the office and but an elementary knowledge as to the finances of the city, have been proclaiming nightly throughout the city that in the event of their being elected they will reduce taxes, they will reduce valuations, and they will increase employment.

I want to say to you, my friends, that it is an extremely difficult task to effect further economies in the conduct of the City of Boston. The past four years have been extremely trying years for every city in the entire United States. In the opinion of competent authorities who have been investigating exhaustively into the subject, Boston is the one large city in the United States that may be considered as absolutely solvent. It is the one large city that has met every obligation, financial and humane, during the entire four years of depression, and while meeting its obligations has made possible a reasonable reduction in valuation of properties located in the city; that prior to the receiving of Federal funds in August of this year the entire welfare expenditures, amounting to $12,000,000 last year, was met in its entirety from taxes; that since 1916 all of the expenditures for school buildings and land have been met from taxes, and while this has gone on, a reasonable reduction in the cost of operation in every municipal department has been in progress. Criticism has been directed at the City Auditor for his failure to install a different system of accounting in the Auditing Department. A little investigation would show some of the candidates for Mayor that the accounts of the city are recorded at present and have been for a great number of years so as to show the financial administration of the city in all necessary detail.

Accounting System Sound.

The readiness with which questionnaires of bond houses and banking institutions are answered is conclusive evidence that the accounting system of the city furnishes both in condensed and detailed form those facts in connection with the financial conduct of the city which are vital and necessary.

I might say on this matter that the city is experiencing no difficulty and some three weeks ago floated a loan of eight and one half million dollars and one week ago negotiated a loan of three and one half million dollars additional at an interest rate of not in excess of 4 per cent, while the majority of the larger cities were either unable to float loans or were obliged to pay 6 per cent for loans floated, or, as in the case of Detroit, were unable to meet their maturing obligations and made provision for their extension and a partial payment of interest.

Boston is the only large city in America that is solvent and it is an injustice, an injury and an insult for any individual, without examination, to make a declaration of this character.

Each month the auditor presents a printed exhibit of approximately sixty pages, which shows in considerable detail the appropriation for current expenses and permanent improvements; the monthly expenditures on these accounts and the balances unexpended, together with a clear exhibit of the borrowing power, the authorized loans, and a condensed statement of the gross and net debt of the city. In addition, the Treasury Department and the Collecting Department show monthly statements of the activities of their respective departments, thus every opportunity is furnished to that part of the public which is interested to know the financial status of the city monthly. Notwithstanding this, certain of these candidates in their public addresses have been insinuating that the accounting system of the City of Boston is deficient and antiquated and these statements have been made without any investigation whatsoever of the financial departments of the city.

Some confusion seems to exist in the minds of certain individuals in connection with the installation of an accounting system by the director of municipal accounts at the State House. The following are the facts:

In accordance with chapter 516 of the Acts of 1922, every city and town in which an accounting system had not been installed by the State Division of Accounts was required to place upon the official ballot the following question: “Shall the (city) or (town) petition for the installation of an accounting system by the Commonwealth?”

"O Boston, fair City enthroned like a radiant queen,
From thy hills looking down on the ship-teeming plain of the ocean,
May thy future be bright, thy skies beam with light all serene,
Ensured by thy sons' and thy daughters' unselfish devotion!"

From Boston Centennial Poem by
NATHAN HASKELL DOLE.

MAYOR CURLEY WILL CONTEST RIGHT OF POLICE COMMISSIONER HULTMAN TO MAKE ANY EXPENDITURE FOR RADIO BEYOND SUM DULY AND PROPERLY AVAILABLE FOR PURPOSE — ACTION TAKEN ON ADVICE OF CORPORATION COUNSEL THAT COMMISSIONER HAS NO LEGAL RIGHT TO INCUR ADDED LIABILITY BEYOND LAWFUL APPROPRIATION, AND $300,000 HAS NOT BEEN MADE AVAILABLE.

Mayor Curley, upon being informed that Police Commissioner Hultman proposed to make an expenditure of $300,000 for the extension of the present blinker system and for the installation of radio equipment, despite the fact that no appropriation of such a sum has been made in the city budget and despite the fact that the City Council has, up to the present time, appropriated only $75,000 for the radio equipment, on October 25 stated that he would contest the right of the Police Commissioner to make any expenditure of money beyond the amount duly and properly made available by the city government for that purpose.

The Mayor stated that the Corporation Counsel had advised him that the Police Commissioner has no legal right to incur any liability beyond the appropriations lawfully made for the Police Department by the city government, and since the $300,000 which the Police Commissioner contemplates expending has not been made available by appropriation, the Police Commissioner is without power to make such an appropriation.

The Police Commissioner evidently is relying on the following provision of chapter 291 of the Acts of 1906:

"All expenses for maintenance, buildings, the pay of the police, clerks, stenographers, and other employees, and all incidental expenses incurred in the performance of the duties of the said commissioner and in the administration of said police shall be paid by the city of Boston upon the requisition of said police commissioner."

NO BLANKET POWER.

The Police Commissioner erroneously believes that this gives him blanket power to expend any and all sums which he believes may be required for the carrying on of the Police Department and that these expenditures may be made regardless of appropriation, budgets or even the tax rate. It is apparent that if the Police Commissioner could so incur obligations without regard for the city budget or the tax rate that financial chaos would result to the city government.

This provision of the police statute must be read and construed in connection with those statutes which pertain to the municipal budget and the establishment of the tax rate, for if the Police Commissioner was at liberty to involve the city in financial responsibility for any and all bills which he may incur there could be no definite determination of the tax rate and the tax levy. The 1906 statute must be construed to mean that the Police Commissioner may make requisition upon the city government at the beginning of the fiscal year for the needs of his department, and such requisition, after being agreed upon by the Police Commissioner and the proper municipal officers, becomes a part of the municipal budget and the necessary appropriation must be made to cover such budgetary requirements. When once the budget is established and the appropriations made necessary by the budget are included in the tax rate, there is a necessary finality to the amount which may be expended by the Police Department.

The statutes pertaining to the expenditures of the Police Department are somewhat akin to the statutes relating to the School Committee. Under the law the City of Boston, like all municipalities, is required to make available all the money necessary to provide sufficient funds for the School Committee to carry on its activities.

These laws have been before our Supreme Court and the very question as to whether or not the School Committee can make expenditures beyond that amount appropriated by the city government has been determined by our Supreme Court. While our courts have held that the municipality must make available the necessary funds for the proper carrying on of the School Department, they have, nevertheless, ruled that the expenditures of the School Committee must be in accordance with the budgetary provisions and appropriations made thereunder. For example, in the case of Decatur v. Peabody, 251 Mass. 82, wherein the court ruled that the laws relating to school committees are peculiar to them, for it is provided by such laws that municipalities shall raise by taxation the money necessary for the support of public schools, nevertheless the court said:

"We do not go so far as to hold that the school committee has the power to disregard the provisions of section thirty-one of chapter forty-four of the General Laws (municipal budget law applicable to most cities and towns of the Commonwealth) and involve the city in debt in excess of appropriations."

See, also, Parkhurst v. Revere, 263 Mass. 264, wherein the court reiterated that all expenditures made by the School Committee must be in accordance with the budgetary provisions of the municipality.

In the Decatur v. Peabody case the court further said:

"The purpose of budgetary provisions in the law and the necessary adherence to annual appropriations was to set rigid barriers against expenditures in excess of appropriations, to confine the borrowing of money and the issuance of municipal bonds within strict limits, and to put all cities upon a sound financial basis as far as possible by legislation."

Clearly, if the Police Department comes within the provisions of the municipal charter, which requires all departments of the city and county to submit their annual requirements, to be included in the budget of the city for the purpose of permitting of a definite establishment of a tax rate, then the Police Department is required, when once the appropriations are made for its necessities in the municipal budget, to confine its expenditures to such appropriations.

MUST COMPLY WITH CHARTER.

It cannot be questioned that the Police Department is required to comply with the provisions of the city charter requiring the submission of its requirements to be included in the segregated budget, for section 3 of chapter 486 of the Acts of 1909 (amended city charter), requires that all the departments of both the city and the county shall submit their required estimates for the fiscal year to the Mayor to be included in the annual budget, which the Mayor is required to submit to the City Council for its approval.

That the Police Department is a department of the City of Boston is indicated by the charter provisions which exclude the Police Department from its provisions wherever such exclusion is intended, and which necessarily include the Police Department unless such specific exclusion is made. See, for example, section 14 of the amended city charter, which specifically exempts the School Committee or any officer appointed by the governor from its provisions, which relate to the right of removal by the Mayor. See, also, section 5 of the charter which provides that the Mayor and City Council may reorganize, consolidate or abolish certain departments and from which right specific exemption is made to those departments in charge of officers appointed by the governor. In other words, it is clear that the Police Department is governed by the city charter except where specific provision is made that it shall be exempt. It is apparent that if this were not so then the city government would be unable to regulate its financial structure, would be unable to determine its tax rate, and would inevitably result in financial chaos, for at no time during the fiscal year would the city government be in a position to determine how great a tax levy should be imposed upon the people and what its financial condition or responsibility would be.

It follows, therefore, that the Police Commissioner is precluded from involving the city in any liability in excess of the amount specifically provided in the budget for his department or beyond that amount specifically appropriated by the city government for the use of his department.

I am not unmindful of the decision of the Supreme Judicial Court in the police station case known as Curtis v. Boston, contained in 239 Mass. page 401. An entirely different situation was discussed by the court in that case, and that decision is not applicable to the present controversy.

Any concern which makes a contract with the Police Department to provide radio and blinker equipment does so at its peril and will be required to have the matter adjudicated in the courts.

Why shouldn't the Police Commissioner if he believes his position is sound have the entire matter determined in advance in the courts and thereby obviate the possibility that a contractor will suffer because of the Police Commissioner's ignorance of his legal rights? As far as I am concerned no payment will be made by the City Treasurer until such time as the city is compelled so to do by the courts. The Police Commissioner may, if he so desires, proceed forthwith to equip his department with a proper and sufficient radio system, as the sum of $75,000, an adequate sum, has been made available to him for this purpose in a legal and proper manner.

BROADCAST BY MAYOR CURLEY.

A majority of the voters having voted in the affirmative in 1922, the City Council, in 1923, petitioned the director of accounts for the installation of an accounting system. In the year 1929 the director sent his force of accountants to the financial departments of the city to begin this installation. They have been engaged upon this work for over four years, with every facility for accomplishing this work being furnished by all the officials and employees of the financial departments. The work is stupendous for the city the size of Boston and undoubtedly will require many years more of work to install a system in all of the departments in the city. Any candidate who comments upon the failure to install a new accounting system in the City of Boston is probably not conversant with the facts in the case. If he consulted his real estate tax bills for the past five years he would find an item under "Detail of State Assessments" representing the amounts charged by the state for this service as follows:

1929 Municipal auditing.....	$610 22
1930 Municipal auditing.....	10,860 50
1931 Municipal auditing.....	13,929 24
1932 Municipal auditing.....	11,830 11
1933 Municipal auditing.....	11,232 07

or a total of..... $48,462 14

which has already been included in taxation for services rendered. A little investigation by those interested either at the Division of Accounts at the State House or in the financial departments of the city would have disclosed the facts above stated and would further have disclosed that the city officials and other employees have cooperated to the fullest extent in facilitating the work of the State Division of Accounts in their huge task of devising an accounting system for the City of Boston.

This fact should be kept clearly in mind, that the financial offices of the city are at all times in a position to show from their records the actual financial status of the city to any individual sufficiently interested to make courteous inquiry.

ABATEMENT RACKET.

Now then, a statement has been made with reference to the bonding by the City of Boston. The bonding houses of the city have a uniform fee for bonding so that it is as cheap in one place as it is in another and no more expensive.

Under the administration of former Mayor Nichols, investigation was made of bonding on the ground that favoritism was shown entirely to one house. The Corporation Counsel was called before the Finance Commission and he said, "Yes, one house receives it all; what difference does it make, as there is no saving to the city in distributing it around and the custom has been generally followed."

Now then, with reference to the question of increasing wages and at the same time reducing taxes, and at the same time reducing tax valuations, I want to say that a certain group in this city, the wealthy group, the owners of large properties, secured the enactment of legislation providing for the creation of what is known as the Massachusetts Tax Appeals Board. The Tax Appeals Board has favored abatements in most cases in excess of 30 per cent and with interest refunds extending back to the prosperity years of 1927-28. The total amount of abatements now pending before the Assessing Board is $600,000,000, and in very few cases are these abatements requested from small home owners. The wealthy owners of property employ expert real estate talent and expert legal talent and apparently have friends at Beacon Hill that comply with their recommendations until it has become a racket, a dangerous racket, which tends to threaten the financial security of the city unless checked. I have protested against it, the Law Department has fought it and the Assessing Department has fought it. We have made some headway, but very little, for we have no control over the State Tax Appeals Board, and the racketeers interested in the creation of the State Tax Appeals Board are interested in looting the city in tax refunds through this Board and the same group are interested in the candidate indorsed and supported by the Good Government Association.

Now, as to the matter of economy in government. The School Department in 1930, four years ago, represented an expenditure of $21,078,958.34; this year the appropriation for the School Department is $15,230,000, or nearly six million less than was expended in 1930. Will you contend that there has not been economy in the conduct of the School Department and there is only one way we could go further in the matter of economy in the School Department and that would be to close the schoolhouses; but one of the leading thinkers in America has stated within the last forty-eight hours that it would be better to suspend road construction for three years than to suspend educational facilities for one year. In public works for 1930 we appropriated $9,347,000, but we appropriated this year $6,313,000, or more than three million dollars saved over 1930. The Police Department in 1930 expended $6,158,000, and this year $5,321,000, or nearly one million dollars less than 1930. The Fire Department in 1930 expended $4,783,000, and this year $3,924,000, nearly $400,000 less than four years ago. The Hospital Department in 1930 expended $3,469,000, and this year $3,348,000, more than $100,000 less than four years ago and with an increase of 20 per cent in patients and accommodations this year. The Public Welfare Department expended $3,290,000 in 1930, and in 1933 expended $9,133,000, an increase of six million dollars. The Soldiers' Relief Department expended $503,000 in 1930 and in 1933 expended $1,078,000. That tells the story, plus the Boston Elevated deficit of $1,791,000 in 1933, with no deficit in 1930.

Yes, you can increase salaries and you can reduce the tax rate by carrying out the instructions of a former president of the Boston Chamber of Commerce who was protesting against the tremendous cost of public welfare and who suggested that we cut them all off during the entire summer. I asked him what he would do and he said he did not know, and I said to him "What do you want them to do, go out to Franklin Park and eat grass?" We have an obligation to the unemployed and needy of Boston, who, through no fault of their own, through economic conditions that reach beyond the borders of Boston and which embrace every city and town in America and that obligation is to see that they are properly clothed and properly fed and protected from the cold and the same obligation extends to the men who served their nation in the hour of need.

You want to increase salaries and reduce taxes—there is only one way to do it and that is at the expense of the hungry stomachs of little children and the wasted bodies of mothers, and if it must be done somebody else must do it—I will not.

CHARGES MANSFIELD BACKERS OPPOSED PROVIDING WORK FOR BOSTON'S UNEMPLOYED. MAYOR CURLEY, IN OPENING FORUM FOR WILLIAM J. FOLEY CANDIDACY, TELLS AUDIENCE GOOD GOVERNMENT ASSOCIATION AND MUNICIPAL RESEARCH BUREAU, WHO BLOCKED HUNTINGTON AVENUE SUBWAY PROPOSITION, ARE HIS CHIEF SUPPORTERS.

In opening the forum for the candidacy of William J. Foley for Mayor, Mayor Curley spoke as follows:

The candidate of the Good Government Association displayed his vanity last evening by the length of time that he devoted to a discussion of his pedal extremities and gave rather scant attention to the real issues of the campaign.

It must be apparent to every intelligent observer that he is following instructions and is not permitted to take a position upon the questions that must be solved until authorized to do so by his masters, the Good Government Association and the Municipal Research Bureau. These agencies, and the Boston Finance Commission, with the exception of the chairman, Mr. Mansfield, have already taken a position with reference to providing work for the unemployed of Boston. The Municipal Research Bureau boldly claims credit for the defeat of the original $23,000,000 program that would have provided work for the many thousands of Boston's unemployed and in which was included an item of $8,500,000 for the Huntington Avenue Subway, and requests contributions for the maintenance of the Research Bureau, or in other words, for the financing of your campaign for the office of Mayor in return for their direct blocking of the Roosevelt recovery program.

The action taken by your supporters in this respect should have a particular appeal not only to the supporters of the present President, Franklin D. Roosevelt, in the last campaign, but the supporters of Alfred E. Smith as well, since unemployment affects all citizens alike.

In the morning issues of Boston papers the position of the Finance Commission, unquestionably acting under orders of the Good Government Association and the Municipal Research Bureau, is disclosed as opposed to any expenditure for the extension of the Huntington Avenue Subway. The specious contention of its members, who signed the report to the effect that no action should be taken until Brookline and Newton have arranged to contribute their portion of the cost is made solely for the purpose of defeating the movement to transfer men from the public welfare rolls and soldiers' relief rolls to the regular salary rolls of the Transit Department.

You, Mr. Mansfield, have stressed the fact that you are a veteran of the Spanish-American War and the old uniform, which has been kept in moth balls for the past four years, is now very much in evidence since you have become again a candidate for Mayor. The iodine and arnica stains still appear on the coat as mute evidence of your service as an apothecary's clerk during the war.

The fact remains, however, that an opportunity now presents itself for you to take a courageous and soldierly stand upon the question of employment for the men who actually did serve during the Spanish-American War and the World War. At the present time more than 2,500 of these men are upon the soldiers' relief rolls of the City of Boston. They are self-respecting citizens of the United States who served the nation in the hour of trial. During the progress of the Commonwealth Avenue Subway extension their self-reliance and self-respect was preserved through employment furnished them by this work where to the number of 1,500 they found employment during the year 1931 and a large portion of 1932.

PREVENTED RETURN TO WORK.

Your new found friends, the Good Government Association and the Municipal Research Bureau, have prevented them from returning to work through their opposition to the $8,500,000 expenditure for the Huntington Avenue Subway. The original contention was that the expenditure was too great. Accordingly, with a view to meeting the principal protest, I favored a reduction to $2,500,000 and now they have presented the naked truth to the public, namely, that in their opinion it would be better that men be continued upon the public welfare rolls with just sufficient to keep body and soul together rather than to pay them twice the amount as workers upon the subway extension. It is for you to decide. You cannot evade the issue by denunciation of either myself or of the next Mayor of Boston, William J. Foley.

Every responsible agency which has given real study to the Huntington Avenue Subway extension has approved and recommended it, and this includes the Metropolitan Planning Division, the directors of the Boston Elevated, trustees of the Elevated, trustees of the Metropolitan Planning District, the Metropolitan Transit Council and the Boston City Council.

In the newspapers of December 30, 1926, there appeared an editorial in which they commented on the report of the Metropolitan Planning Board recommending the construction of the Huntington Avenue Subway as follows: "But this much may be said, for example, of the plan for two new subway routes which the Planning Division recommends should at once be adopted, one, from East Boston to Brighton, and the other from Lechmere square to Huntington avenue in Roxbury. These routes, one can promptly agree, would accomplish the greatest single betterment of Boston's Transit System which can be devised anywhere on the lines of the Elevated System."

Again, in an editorial of February 9, 1927, in the heading "Delay Building Subways," the newspapers called upon the Legislature to immediately authorize the subway extension previously recommended by the Metropolitan Planning Division, which included the Huntington avenue extension, and stated, "Procrastination is always a foe to immediate public improvements and is the bright particular enemy of rapid transit. It involves the suspense, dormancy of any and all needed projects for the development of new rapid transit lines, and the improvement and extension of existing lines."

In the issue of March 6, 1928, reference was made to the impressive referendum taken by the Boston Chamber of Commerce, in which 733 of the 1,162 members voting gave unqualified support to the program of the Metropolitan Planning Division, providing for the extension of subways to serve Huntington avenue, North Somerville, East Boston and Brighton. In his annual address to the Legislature in 1928 and in a special message to the Legislature later in the same year, Governor Fuller urged action of the Elevated situation so that rapid transit extensions, including the Huntington Avenue Subway, might be undertaken immediately.

In 1929 Governor Allen, in his inaugural message, made the following statement, "I urge the Legislature to look with favor on a program for liberal extension of rapid transit lines, based on the thought that such extension and improvement of service benefits not simply those who ride upon cars and trains, but the whole community. It increases property values and stimulates business." There we have two governors going on record in favor of the Huntington Avenue Subway.

A Boston newspaper editorial in the issue of December 23, 1930, stated, "After years of study, the routes ratified last night by the Metropolitan Transit Council, consisting of the Mayors and Chairmen of the Board of Selectmen in the district,—the Huntington avenue to Orient Heights line and that from Allston to Arlington, have been recognized as the two best and the most pressing routes for the new rapid transit construction if we are to have any at all."

These editorial views of the past are as sound today as they were when they were expressed. The events of the past few years have furnished additional powerful arguments in favor of a Huntington Avenue Subway project. The public works construction program advanced by President Roosevelt as one of the most important measures for lifting the nation out of the slough of depression has for its immediate aim giving employment to millions of our people. The Federal Government is contributing in the form of a grant of 30 per cent of the cost of construction. While other states of the Union have already received their share of the Federal funds we find that in our own state the Emergency Finance Board is pursuing a policy of obstructing President Roosevelt's program. Unless there is a change in this attitude Massachusetts will find herself in this unenviable position,—while the other states will have availed themselves of their allotment of Federal funds, Massachusetts will receive little or none, and as one of the leading Federal income taxpaying states of the nation, Massachusetts will be paying for unemployment relief in other sections of the country and at the same time denying assistance to her own unemployed.

NEED DEMONSTRATED.

The need for the Huntington avenue route has been demonstrated from every standpoint. The facts are:

1. The present service along the Huntington avenue route is abominable. The proposed subway will serve a territory having 100,000 population. The present running time from Peter Bent Brigham Hospital to Park street is forty-four minutes. A subway will reduce this running time to twenty-six minutes, or a reduction of 40 per cent.

2. A recent survey shows that the yearly attendance at public and private schools, hospitals and exhibition halls in this Huntington avenue area is 7,000,000 persons. No argument is needed that this tremendous group is a lucrative field in which to develop the car riding habit.

3. The work of construction of the proposed subway will provide employment for many men, who would be taken from the Civil Service lists. War veterans would be given preference, a large proportion of whom are now receiving soldiers' relief and public welfare aid. The savings in soldiers' relief and public welfare effected on the Governor square job indicate that similar savings on the Huntington avenue project will approximate $1,000,000.

4. Huntington avenue is the natural artery for connecting the Worcester Turnpike which will be opened within a year. Unless the tracks and reserve space are removed from the surface the worst traffic congestion in the history of the city will occur.

These are the basic reasons which establish the need of the Huntington Avenue Subway. They refute the generalization of critics of the plan, and prove that the action of the State Emergency Finance Board was not based on intelligent or careful study. They confirm the soundness of the favorable report made by the various public bodies which have investigated and reported on this project in the past, and they justify the favorable action taken by the Elevated trustees, the Elevated directors, the Legislature, the last three governors of the Commonwealth and the Boston City Council.

POPULATION OF COUNTIES, 1930.

Total for the 14 counties (39 cities and 316 towns), 4,249,614 or 397,258 (i. e., 10.3 per cent) over 1920. Of said total, 2,940,335 (i. e., 69.19 per cent) were in the cities and 1,309,279 (i. e., 30.81 per cent) in the towns. The four counties, Suffolk, Middlesex, Essex and Bristol, contain 63.00 per cent of the State's inhabitants.

If the municipalities having a population of 5,000 or over are properly called urban, then the percentage of urban population in the entire State reaches the notable figure of 90.71, while the rural shows but 9.29 per cent.

CITY TREASURER ISSUES STATEMENT.

Upon Friday, October 20, the City Treasurer issued the following statement:

The statement appearing in the papers, emanating from a branch of a fraternal organization with which I have been associated for many years is eminently unfair and I am quite certain will be so regarded by every open-minded citizen.

I have been engaged in the bonding business for a period of ten years and as such it was a necessary part of that business for many years to borrow money from time to time on securities. In common with every other business man in America, I experienced no embarrassments or difficulties prior to the financial and industrial upheaval in the latter part of 1929. As a result of the financial and industrial depression, starting in 1929 to the present time, more than 15,000 financial institutions in the United States have been closed and hundreds of thousands of citizens, like myself, as a consequence of the closing of banks, have found themselves in financial difficulty. Fortunately, in my own case, notwithstanding the closing of the institution, where loans had been negotiated by me, I have been able to meet a portion at least, of my indebtedness in the same manner that every other debtor in the United States has been obliged to meet his.

It is needless for me to point out that if the financial institutions of the nation had continued solvent, I, in common with hundreds of thousands of other Americans, would not have been placed in the position of financial embarrassment from the loss of a savings of a lifetime.

Provided a program of permanent punishment for every citizen who suffered financial reverses through the closing of institutions over which he had no control, and for which he was in no way responsible, it would affect a considerable portion of the population of the nation. I am quite certain that any fair-minded individual upon reflection will arrive at the conclusion that the course adopted by me is not only honorable but the only one that could be taken by me under the circumstances.

EXTENSION OF CONTRACTS.

FIRE DEPARTMENT.

M. S. Kelliher has been allowed an extension of the time of completion of the contract for the construction of a new fire station at 560 Huntington avenue, from September 26, 1933, to October 10, 1933.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

Charles J. McCarthy & Co., Incorporated, have been granted an extension of the time of completion of the contract for furnishing two (2) catch-basin cleaning machines, from August 1 to October 1, 1933. This extension of time is occasioned because the contract was not signed until August 7, and a further delay was caused by the late delivery of the truck, and the installation of added equipment at the municipal garage.

The Prompt Contractors, Incorporated, have been granted an extension of the time of completion of the contract, for building sewerage works in Eunice street and Manor street, Dorchester, from October 13 to October 27, fourteen days.

ASKS CITIZENS TO OBSERVE NAVY DAY.

Mayor Curley has addressed the following communication to Chairman Sullivan of the Navy Day Committee in connection with the celebration of this day, October 27:

MY DEAR MR. SULLIVAN,—October 27 has been designated as Navy Day; the celebration of the day has been approved by the President of the United States, and I ask that the citizens of this historic city unite with their countrymen in observing the day in public and private, in school and church, in fitting patriotic fashion.

No city in the republic is more intimately associated with the glory and achievement of the American Navy than Boston. Here were bred the men who builded the ships that held the seas against all comers, men whose valor, audacity and seamanship enabled the patriot armies to fight and function and achieve victory and independence for their country. In the trying days that followed the attainment of American independence, when government was weak and men were wavering, in the face of all odds and hazards, the ships and shipmen of Massachusetts and Boston sailed the seas unflatteringly and triumphantly, destroying the trade of the nation's foes, carrying disaster to their coasts and commerce, and helping to compel an honorable peace and insure, unshaken, our national integrity and independence.

We owe it to ourselves, to our children, to the safety of the republic and the upholding of our national honor to tell the epic of the American Navy again and again; to insist that it be kept at all times ready, efficient, strong, equal to all emergencies, the pledge and protection of our integrity and independence, the defender of our homes, the guardian of our coasts, the safeguard of our commerce. Let us cherish our navy and teach its story to our sons and daughters that national self-respect may endure and patriotism be proud and vital in American hearts.

Sincerely,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

POLICE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.General Order No. 306.

A trial board consisting of Captains Campbell, Casey and Daley having heard by reference a complaint made by Joseph McKinnon, captain, Division 2, against Daniel Broderick, patrolman, Division 2, for alleged violation of the Rules and Regulations of the Police Department, to wit:

Charge: Conduct unbecoming an officer.

Specification 1: In that on the 23d day of September, 1933, at about eight o'clock p. m., the said Patrolman Daniel Broderick, while not on duty and not in uniform, was under the influence of intoxicating liquor to such an extent that he was unable to properly perform the duties of a police officer if called upon so to do.

Specification 2: In that on the 23d day of September, 1933, the said Patrolman Daniel Broderick, while under the influence of intoxicating liquor, did take into custody two persons and did allege them to be idle and disorderly persons, whereas in truth and in fact the said persons were not idle and disorderly; all tending to bring into disrepute and criticism his associates on the police force and the Police Department as a whole, has submitted the following finding and recommendation:

"The Board having heard and carefully considered all the evidence as presented by witnesses accepts the plea of guilty entered by the said Patrolman Daniel Broderick. The Board, considering the fact that his captain has given him an excellent recommendation, and the promise of Patrolman Broderick that he will take a pledge to abstain from the use of intoxicating liquor in the future and submit the same to the superintendent, and also the feeling of the citizen witnesses that the man should not lose his position as a police officer, but realizing the fact that the offense justifies dismissal, respectfully recommends that the said Patrolman Daniel Broderick be suspended from duty, with loss of pay, for a period of thirty days, effective as of October 16, 1933, at 5.45 o'clock p. m., and that at the expiration of the said period of suspension, the said Patrolman Daniel Broderick be ordered to perform two hundred and ten hours of punishment duty."

The commissioner accepts the finding and the recommendation of the Trial Board and hereby orders that the said Patrolman Daniel Broderick be suspended from duty, with loss of pay, for a period of thirty days, effective as of October 16, 1933, at 5.45 o'clock p. m.; and that at the expiration of the said period of suspension the said Patrolman Daniel Broderick perform 210 hours of punishment duty.

Civil Service Rule 23, section 3, requires approval of the Civil Service Commission before reinstatement.

(Rule 23.)

Section 3. With the consent of the Commissioner upon good cause shown, an appointing officer may reinstate in the same position or in a position in the same class and grade any person who has been separated from the service; provided, however, that the Commissioner shall not allow reinstatement of a person discharged for cause.

General Order No. 307.

A trial board consisting of Captains Campbell, Casey and Daley having heard by reference a complaint made by Harry N. Dickinson, captain, Division 11, against Neil A. McDevitt, patrolman, Division 11, for violation of Rules and Regulations of the Police Department, to wit:

Charge: Conduct unbecoming an officer.

Specification 1: In that on the third day of October, 1933, the said Patrolman Neil A. McDevitt, while on duty and in uniform was under the influence of intoxicating liquor to such an extent that he was unable to properly perform police duty.

Specification 2: In that the said Patrolman Neil A. McDevitt is addicted to the habitual use of intoxicating liquor and by such habitual use of liquor has subjected himself and his associates in the Police Department to the criticism of the public, has submitted the following finding and recommendation:

"The Board having heard and carefully considered all the evidence as presented by witnesses accepts the plea of guilty to Specification 1, and finds the said Patrolman Neil A. McDevitt not guilty of Specification 2 of said charge. The Board, considering the fact that the said Patrolman Neil A. McDevitt has taken a pledge from his spiritual adviser to abstain from the use of intoxicating liquor in the future; further, that it is the first time the said Patrolman Neil A. McDevitt has been before a trial board; also taking into consideration the previous good record of the said Patrolman Neil A. McDevitt, respectfully recommends that the said Patrolman Neil A. McDevitt be suspended from duty, with loss of pay, for a period of twenty days, effective as of October 3, 1933, at 5.45 o'clock p. m., and that at the expiration of the said period of suspension, the said Patrolman Neil A. McDevitt be ordered to perform two hundred and ten hours of punishment duty."

The commissioner accepts the finding and the recommendation of the Trial Board and hereby orders that the said Patrolman Neil A. McDevitt be suspended from duty, with loss of pay, for a period of twenty days, effective as of October 3, 1933, at 5.45 o'clock p. m., and that at the expiration of the said period of suspension the said Patrolman Neil A. McDevitt perform two hundred and ten hours of punishment duty.

PURITY OF BOSTON WATER.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, October 7, 1933.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I beg to submit herewith communication received from M. Victor Safford, Acting Health Commissioner, concerning an editorial appearing in the "New England Journal of Medicine."

This communication is submitted in accordance with order passed by your honorable body under date of September 15, 1933.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Health Department, October 3, 1933.
Hon. James M. Curley,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—Pursuant to an order passed in the City Council of Boston on September 15, 1933, and received by me on October 2, directing the Health Commissioner, through his Honor the Mayor, to "advise the Council" relative to an editorial appearing in the "New England Journal of Medicine" for September 14, 1933, "regarding the purity of Boston's water," I am transmitting herewith the memoranda and letters, marked A, B, C and D, which I trust will make the situation clear.

"A" is a copy of the original report to the Health Commissioner from the Deputy Commissioner whose duty it had become to investigate a reported case of chronic lead poisoning in a patient at the Children's Hospital.

A copy of this report was also sent to the City Water Department and the matter became the subject of conferences between Mr. Carven and Doctor Mahoney.

The results of our investigation naturally became known to the physicians on the staff of the Children's Hospital, some of whom have had examinations made of the water supply in their own homes.

The results of our investigation also became known to the editor of the "New England Journal of Medicine" and was made by him the basis of his editorial of September 14, herewith inclosed, marked "B."

"C" is a clipping from the "New England Journal of Medicine" of September 28, showing a letter from Dr. George H. Bigelow, State Commissioner of Public Health, in further reference to the matter.

"D" is a copy of a letter prepared, after the appearance of Doctor Bigelow's letter, by the Acting Health Commissioner of Boston for the "New England Journal of Medicine" in an effort to bring out the facts in the situation more clearly. This letter has not yet been published.

In direct compliance with its order, the Acting Health Commissioner would advise the Boston City Council as follows:

Presumably owing to the construction work about the watershed whence the Boston water supply is derived there would appear to be a danger of contamination of the water by workmen sufficient to make the state officials want to chlorinate our water in order to avoid the criticism which would inevitably fall upon them if a water-borne typhoid fever epidemic should occur in Boston through their failure to chlorinate our water.

The Boston Health Department does not know whether the patient in the Children's Hospital really had lead poisoning, or if so how he got it.

We did not make the diagnosis nor do we know the evidence on which the decision was based that his condition was due to his drinking water at home. We accept the State Department's conclusions with respect to both of these matters.

The case served to cause us to make examinations of Boston drinking water for lead and our analysis have confirmed the State Department's findings with respect to the amount of lead in the drinking water at this patient's house and elsewhere in Boston where both the state officials and we have made examinations. Examinations of samples of water where the Boston Health Department has alone made them have given similar results.

We find no appreciable amount of lead in the tap water in houses in Boston which have no lead pipe connections with the water main.

Where there are such lead pipe connections we find a much greater amount of lead than our records show that we did in the past before the chlorination of our water was begun. We cannot prove that this is due to an increase in the solvent action of the water on lead as a consequence of the chlorination of the water or to some other possible but less plausible cause. Nobody can.

There is certainly no danger of acute lead poisoning from Boston water, such as shows itself as lead colic, for example. The capacity of the human body to eliminate lead is limited and proceeds slowly, although it varies greatly in different individuals. Chronic poisoning may result from the constant absorption of comparatively small amounts of lead in excess of the capacity of the individual to eliminate lead. According to the State Health Department, quoted in "A", and from the report of the United States Public Health Service, also referred to in "A", it seems justifiable to conclude that the amount of lead to be found in Boston drinking water at present is approaching the danger point in this respect. Whether there be actual danger remains to be demonstrated.

Practically no lead is found in Boston water which has not passed through lead pipe water main connections. The Boston Water Department no longer uses lead pipe in its connections from the street main to the house shut-off. House connections beyond are to some extent still made with lead pipe and the city's old lead pipe still remains. Whether the removal of lead pipe connections by the city and by house owners and the replacement of these pipes by pipes of other metal offers the only means of avoiding such possible danger as may arise from the amount of lead to be found in lead pipe conducted water in Boston at present the Acting Health Commissioner is unprepared to say.

Yours respectfully,
M. VICTOR SAFFORD,
Acting Health Commissioner.

SPOTLIGHTS ON THOMAS J. ROBERTS PLAYGROUND.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, October 16, 1933.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I beg to forward herewith reports received from the Park Department and the School Department with reference to the accompanying order adopted by your honorable body under date of September 25, 1933.

Sincerely,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Park Department, October 9, 1933.
John P. Mahoney,
Secretary, Mayor's Office.

Dear Mr. Secretary,—I have your letter of October 7, with inclosures, communication from the School Committee and order passed by the City Council, regarding the use of spotlights on the Thomas J. Roberts Playground.

I regret exceedingly to inform you that the Park Department cannot arrange to pay any of the custodian's expenses for services which would have to be rendered operating these lights, under the present economic conditions.

The Park Department, as you know, received a very drastic cut on this line in the budget, and no further expenses can be added to it under any conditions.

Very truly yours,
WILLIAM P. LONG, Chairman.

School Committee, October 4, 1933.

Hon. James M. Curley,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—At Monday evening's conference, the School Committee received the order passed in City Council September 25, 1933, requesting the School Committee, through your Honor, to cooperate with the Park Commission by allowing the spotlights at the Dorchester High School for Boys to be used in lighting the Thomas J. Roberts Playground evenings for football practice.

The School Committee would respectfully report that since the use of the spotlights at the Dorchester High School for Boys will require the attendance of a custodian during the period of lighting, the custodian would have to be compensated for this evening attendance.

If the Park Department can arrange to pay for the custodian service involved, the School Committee will be glad to cooperate and will arrange for the use of the spotlights as suggested in the order of the City Council.

Very truly yours,
ELLEN M. CRONIN, Secretary.

City of Boston,
Health Department, October 10, 1933.
Hon. James M. Curley,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—The Health Commissioner has received an order from the City Council, requesting the Health Commissioner, through his Honor the Mayor, to continue the "sun-ray" treatments at the Health Unit in the East Boston district.

I regret to inform you that the activities on the roofs of all the Health Units, to which I assume the order refers, have been suspended since June, 1933, because of the necessity for reduction of our budget.

Yours respectfully,
by authority of the Health Commissioner,
JOSEPH A. CAHALAN, Secretary.

SERVICE ON ASHMONT STREET.

The following was received:

Boston Elevated Railway,
October 10, 1933.

To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—In connection with your notice of September 25th relative to Ashmont street service, the Board of Trustees have directed me to advise you that they are running only a minimum number of rush hour trips through Ashmont street, which is for the purpose of providing improved service to the people using the motor coaches and to change this would add to the operating expense as well as require passengers to ride a longer distance.

It was for this purpose that the route was granted by the City Council and approved by the Department of Public Utilities.

In cooperation with those in the district the operation through this street during the non-rush and evening hours was discontinued. The Board feels that this is as far as they can go on the matter.

Yours very truly,

EDWARD DANA,
Executive Vice President and General Manager.

FINANCE COMMISSION REPORT IN RE PUBLIC WELFARE DEPARTMENT.

The following was received:

Boston, October 10, 1933.

Hon. James M. Curley,

Mayor of Boston.

Sir,—On July 12 the Acting Mayor requested the Finance Commission to investigate "the payments by the Welfare Department in certain specific cases," contained in a list turned over to the commission. Subsequently the Acting Mayor stated orally that he believed these cases to be questionable on one or more of the following grounds:

1. That the names of the recipients could not be found at the addresses given by the Welfare Department, either on the police list of 1933 or in the City Directory of 1932.

2. That automobiles were registered in 1932 or 1933 in the names of recipients of welfare aid.

3. That at the addresses given by the Welfare Department as the residences of the recipients of aid, such recipients were unknown.

4. That aid received by certain recipients was receipted for on the pay roll by a cross denoting that the recipient could not write, yet evidence was in possession of the Acting Mayor that these persons were able to write their names.

Except in a few cases, the ground of suspicion given was either Ground 1 or Ground 3.

Many of the listed recipients were women. It is well known that the City Directory does not contain the names of all the women living in Boston. It is also well known that persons of the kind who ordinarily would receive aid from the City, and particularly persons who during this depression have been receiving aid, might very easily and unintentionally escape police listing. The breaking up of homes, the frequent moving from lodging house to lodging house, and the time necessarily spent away from the place of residence in seeking employment explain these omissions.

The Finance Commission investigated all the cases on the list submitted by the Acting Mayor. Various explanations of the grounds for the Acting Mayor's suspicions were found. In some cases a name was misspelled; in some the person aided had originally applied from one address and had moved to another; in some the person aided was a roomer at a lodging house, the keeper of which had failed to give his or her name to the police; and in others the person aided had owned an automobile in 1932 and even at one time in 1933, but by force of circumstances had been compelled to lay it up or get rid of it and subsequently to apply for aid. Nothing was found in any case to warrant the conclusion that it should not have received city aid.

The Finance Commission does not by the foregoing wish it to be inferred that the time and effort spent under the direction of the Statistics Department in the accumulation of information concerning recipients of public aid is not valuable. It does, however, desire to point out that the grounds for suspicion advanced by the Acting Mayor, even when proved correct, do not necessarily lead to the conclusion that the giving of aid in the particular case was improper.

Nevertheless, the investigation established anew the existence of a situation of which this commission has repeatedly complained in the last three years, namely, that the records and clerical work of the Welfare Department were extremely unreliable and that its methods of operation, although showing some improvement since the previous investigation by the commission, are still very far from the perfection essential if the city is to reduce materially and promptly the heavy cost of welfare aid. As a result of the facts disclosed, the Finance Commission then, on its own initiative, extended its investigations by picking out one or more sections of the city and by making an intensive investigation into a substantial number of cases in each.

The results of this broader investigation confirm the conclusion previously reiterated by the Finance Commission, that not only is the system wide open to fraud, but also that fraud is actually existing, although the exact extent in comparison with the total number of cases being aided by the city cannot be determined without an examination of each case and a careful statistical recapitulation of the data thus obtained.

The state of the records in the Public Welfare Department is one of the chief reasons why the system is wide open to fraud. The department still lacks a reliable central index of the cases being aided. The frequent misplacement of records or the delay in returning them which naturally result when a large number of employees have ready access to and may withdraw files from a central repository, renders it impossible to set up and maintain a central index which can be relied upon.

In an organization like the Public Welfare Department the keeping of accurate records is as important as the visitation of the cases recorded. Failure in the first instance to make accurate records and in the second instance to keep them constantly available when made will vitiate the most heroic efforts in the field. This deficiency has been called to the attention of the department so frequently and from so many sources that the failure to remedy it after so long a lapse of time is inexcusable. Certain specific instances and causes are herein enumerated. The necessity of proper qualifications for the kind of work to be done has been overlooked and persons of little or no experience at small pay have been assigned to the keeping of records. This condition, however, is not necessarily due to the fault of the overseers; it may be traced to the failure of the city government to realize that the personnel of the department must be high in quality as well as great in quantity. Irrespective of the cause, however, the result is unfortunate. Errors abound far beyond due allowances. In a total of 536 cases investigated by the Finance Commission, mistakes, other than trivial and unimportant ones, occurred in 128 cases. The errors were in names or addresses or date of receipt of aid or the like. Errors of this sort result in a wholly unnecessary waste of time and effort.

Furthermore, the handling of the assignments of welfare recipients to the various departments is loose and unbusinesslike. The system is simple. The Public Welfare Department furnishes a recipient with a work card which must be stamped by the responsible official of the department to which the recipient is assigned and for which he worked, and later shown so stamped to the paymaster at the Public Welfare Department before aid can be received. In practice, however, the system is breaking down. A department to which recipients are assigned is not provided with information either as to the number or the identity of the persons assigned to it, and there are far too many instances of improper or unauthorized use of stamps. There are 112 work stamps scattered through the city which are accessible to too many persons, and instances of petty graft in regard to their use have grown altogether too numerous.

Furthermore, in the matter of the choice of the department of jobs to which aid recipients are assigned, there is cause for just criticism. The city department heads generally report that no attempt is made to classify the aid recipients in accordance with their training, experience or ability, so that often men are sent out entirely unsuited to the work required of them. Due in part to this condition and in part to the attitude of the aid recipients, the department heads examined by the Finance Commission were unanimously of the opinion that the welfare workers, particularly in the departments requiring manual labor, demoralized the regular city employees to such an extent that they were about as much hindrance as they were help.

Furthermore, considerable time is lost through confusion resulting from the lack of a uniform office system for the visitors. To draw off a list of cases in the hands of any visitor, or to check an individual name among the cases of any one visitor, requires reference to index cards, history records, pay orders, and pay cards, instead of to a single accurate and complete file.

In the field, also, the work of the Public Welfare Department is of a character such as to lay itself wide open to fraud. The scope of the work can be judged by the following figures: In 1932 the highest number of cases (the week of December 26) was 28,168. In 1933 it had risen (week of April 10) to 32,404, and in spite of all efforts, local and national, to reduce unemployment, stood on the week of September 11, 1933, at 31,053. The staff of visitors necessary to keep in touch with these cases is insufficient. A test case of several of the fifteen districts as to the approximate case load carried resulted as follows:

In the Dorchester district approximately 2,176 cases are handled by a senior visitor of not quite five years' experience with the Overseers. His staff consists of three Assistant Visitors, one of two years' experience, and the others with about a year each.

The South Boston-Dorchester district, in charge of a senior visitor of two years and three months' experience and with three assistant temporary visitors, one with two years and two with one years experience, has a case load of about 2,100.

One Roxbury district carries about 1,650 cases, in charge of a senior visitor of six years' experience, aided by three assistants, one of whom has been in the department since May, 1931, another since October, 1932, and the third since April, 1933.

In Brighton, Allston and the West End, in charge of a senior visitor of six years' service, assisted by one assistant of three years' service, a temporary assistant of one year's service and a recent temporary appointee of a few weeks, there are 2,100 cases.

The South Boston district has about 1,933 cases, in charge of a senior visitor of the department for nine years, with assistants who have had a year and a half, a year, and a few weeks' experience, respectively.

In a second Roxbury district, in charge of a senior visitor who has been with the department since May, 1931, and has two assistant temporary visitors of about the same experience, the case load is about 2,500 cases.

From the above it can be seen that the average case load of a district is about 2,100 cases with an average of four visitors to the district. This volume would severely tax the time and ability of the best case workers or visitors; and this department has not been able to employ the best obtainable.

The effect of this case load is such that after the initial visit the visitor seldom sees the aid recipient within a period of six months. It is obvious that many and important changes in the condition of an average recipient of unemployed relief may take place in such a period. It is easily possible for a lingering aid recipient to remain on the welfare list long after a change of circumstances should require a severance therefrom.

It should be added, however, that the overhead cost of the Public Welfare Department is extremely low. It averages between three and four per cent of the sum expended. Therein, however, lies to a large extent the explanation of the heavy case load borne by the visitors. This is accentuated also by the fact that the department has been adding as visitors persons of little or no previous experience in this work at a compensation sometimes less than half the current wages which experienced visitors would expect.

On the question of actual fraud, the Finance Commission found, in the 536 cases investigated, twenty-four, which, in the opinion of the commission's investigators, should not have been receiving city aid. These cases are as follows:

1. Case No. 65,886.

Aid—$15 weekly. Basis: Man, wife, ten children.

This was a case of misuse of work stamps by someone not determined. Work card was stamped at Boston City Hospital, but foreman in charge of Boston City Hospital work crew gave a written statement that this man never worked there. Recipient has constant use of Packard sedan, Reg. No. 724,986, garaged in rear of his house in city, although actual registration is in name of a Bridgewater man. Recipient is president of a local club which buys groceries and resells them to welfare recipients at a 5 per cent margin. Bootlegging activities may be connected with this case as well.

2. Case No. 98,730.

Aid—$12 weekly. Basis: Man, wife, three children (7-5-2).

Investigation disclosed man not reporting for work but work cards apparently stamped. Statements obtained from foreman of city yards concerned with work cards that man never reported there for work. Strong evidence man was working outside.

3. Case No. 56,449.

Aid—$15 weekly. Basis: Man, wife, seven children.

Case on and off rolls since February 4, 1925. Investigation located a Hudson sedan, Reg. No. 742,979, registered for 1932 and 1933 in maiden name of wife. Also a truck, Reg. B10,265, registered in name of another but actually belonging to recipient. Aid stopped July 6, 1933.

4. Case No. 63,907.

Aid—$15 weekly. Basis: Woman, seven children (22-15-12-9-8-7).

Investigation disclosed two daughters working for better part of last two years. Home conditions highly indicative of bootlegging, as still found to be in operation upon visit.

5. Case No. 102,133.

Aid—$10 weekly. Basis: Man, wife, two children (1-3).

Investigation developed man separated from family and not supporting them. Always stated they were about to return and live with him. Facts would indicate that for period of April 17-July 17 man should have been allowed at maximum only $4 or $5 weekly. Unable to contact case. "Stop" notice put on pay card by visitor, and man has not shown up at Overseers since.

6. Case No. 54,446.

Aid—$11 weekly. Basis: Widow, three children (21-17-15).

Case seems to be one of bold fraud. Recipient working nights earning $13 a week since May, 1931. One son in Conservation Corps for May and June, 1933. Same son went to work for Edison Company on August 25, 1933. Visitor now has wage reports and has stopped aid pending further investigation.

7. Case No. 68,136.

Aid—$13 weekly. Basis: Man, wife, four children.

Case where investigator satisfied himself woman was working nights. On August 30, woman reported husband working and aid no longer needed. No question that attention of investigator forced case off rolls.

8. Case No. 99,258.

Aid—$7 weekly. Basis: Man, wife.

Case where investigator established fact woman was working.

9. Case No. 82,611.

Aid—$9 weekly. Basis: Man, wife, one child (3).

Case where investigator established fact man working Sundays and week days. Apparently a forged rent receipt being used, as landlord complained of no rent and rent card was apparently properly signed.

10. Case No. 105,622.

Aid—$4 weekly. Basis: Woman (deserted).

Case disclosed bank account of $2,071.52 in Provident Institution for Savings.

11. Case No. 104,078.

Aid—$4 weekly. Basis: Man (divorced).

The recipient could not be located, but after visit of investigator to address given the recipient is reported to have advised visitor he no longer needed aid and aid stopped.

12. Case No. 99,364.

Aid—$7 weekly. Basis: Man, wife.

Many calls failed to find this recipient at home. Evidence was to effect man was working. Referred to visitor and recipient never returned for aid.

13. Case No. 101,105.

Aid—$10 weekly. Basis: Man, wife, two children (17-11).

Case showed family moved to Boston from Everett to get on aid list there. Man is a contractor and investigation disclosed he unquestionably was working. He owns a dump truck, 1933 Reg. No. A21,072, also a cement mixer. St. Vincent de Paul Society stopped aiding this family after finding liquor used extensively.

14. Case No. 97,496.

Aid—$7 weekly. Basis: Man, wife.

Investigation established ownership of automobile which when inquired about of recipient immediately caused his withdrawal from the Overseers' lists.

15. Case No. 79,083.

Aid—$9 weekly. Basis: Man, wife, three children (21-18-12).

Case where information was that aid was squandered on women and that recipient was always driving an auto registered No. 693,899. Further investigation by visitor disclosed registration of another car in name of recipient. Case closed by visitor.

16. Case No. 63,526.

Aid—$7 weekly. Basis: Man, wife.

Recipient found working and investigator advised visitor and aid closed, July 27, 1933.

17. Case No. 63,285.

Aid—$13 weekly. Basis: Man, wife, four children. Recipient working. Visitor advised and aid stopped.

18. Case No. 96,693.

Aid—$10 weekly. Basis: Man, wife, two children (3-2).

Unable to locate this recipient at home. Information found indicated recipient is working.

19. Case No. 73,267.

Aid—$10 weekly. Basis: Man, wife.

Wife working. Visitor advised and case closed August 13, 1933.

20. Case No. 68,239.

Aid—$9 weekly. Basis: Man, wife, one child (3).

Case investigated from angle of man getting work card stamped without working. Fact not established but case closed by visitor on basis of bootlegging and working.

21. Case No. 89,278.

Aid—$7 weekly. Basis: Man, wife.

Recipient found working. Visitor advised and case closed August 28, 1933.

22. Case No. 94,159.

Aid—$7 weekly. Basis: Man, wife.

Recipient found working. Visitor advised. Aid stopped.

23. Case No. 86,134.

Aid—$9 weekly. Basis: Man, wife, one child (1).

Investigation developed recipient working. Visitor advised. Aid stopped.

24. Case No. 45,061.

Aid—$8 (food order) weekly. Basis: Man, wife, four children, (19-17-12).

Case developed ownership of automobile, register No. 732,822, in 1933. When ownership was questioned the plates were turned in to Registry and case withdrawn from Overseers. Case presented questionable real estate equities.

In addition to these twenty-four cases there were twenty-six other cases in each of which either the actual necessity of giving any aid at all, or the actual necessity of giving the sum paid, was in doubt.

The expenditures of the Department of Public Welfare are one of the chief problems facing the City of Boston. From an average of $2,159,310.30 for the five years ending December 31, 1929, they have risen as follows:

For 1930.....	$3,881,388 24
For 1931.....	7,383,021 43
For 1932.....	12,535,583 81
For first six months of 1933	7,106,839 05

Of this sum a portion was contributed in 1931, 1932 and in the early part of 1933 by city employees. Contributions from other sources also, notably in 1932, served to reduce the burden upon the taxpayer. But these contributions have now substantially ceased, and except to the extent of Federal aid, the whole burden of relief must fall upon the taxpayers of the City of Boston.

To reduce these expenditures properly and fairly is a most difficult problem. For convenience, it may be subdivided into two parts: The first and most obvious is the problem of the prevention of waste, extravagance and fraud in the daily operations of the department; the second involves the policy of gradual reduction of the number aided as business revives and the chances of employment multiply.

Concerning the first, the commission recommends:

1. That the city government provide the means that will enable the Welfare Department to engage experienced visitors or case workers.

2. That the department retain the services of an expert in Welfare Department work to systematize this department.

3. That capable and experienced office help be placed in charge of the clerical work.

4. That more attention be paid to the assignment of welfare workers to other departments to the end that the men may fit the jobs.

5. That your Honor require city departments using welfare workers to supervise more closely the work of the men assigned and require a fair day's work from each assigned.

6. Finally, in general, the Finance Commission believes that the most rapid progress toward eliminating the deficiencies of the present department will be made by the substitution for the unpaid twelve overseers of a high-class business manager who will not be handicapped either by the traditions of the department or by long association with the present personnel and consequent reluctance to make the radical changes necessary to perfect the system.

Respectfully submitted,

THE FINANCE COMMISSION,

SOLDIERS' RELIEF.

Coun. NORTON, for the Committee on Soldiers' Relief, submitted report recommending passage of order for payment of aid to soldiers and sailors and their families in City of Boston for month of October, 1933.

Report accepted; said order passed.

REPAVING OF BENNINGTON STREET.

Coun. BARKER offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to repave Bennington street, from Central square to Day square, Ward 1, with smooth paving.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

FREE PASSAGE IN TUNNEL FOR EAST BOSTON VEHICLES.

Coun. BARKER offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to arrange for free passage through the East Boston Vehicular Tunnel for all automobiles and trucks owned and registered in East Boston.

Coun. BARKER—Mr. President, for a great many years the people of East Boston have been faced with a toll of one kind or another. For many years they paid a ferry toll and for a period of approximately ten years after the tunnel was built they also had to pay a toll. East Boston is one of the oldest annexations to the City of Boston and it certainly is as much entitled to a highway into the city proper as is either Chelsea, Cambridge or South Boston. The population of East Boston is as great, if not greater, than any other ward in Boston. It has an amount of taxable property that is probably larger than any other ward excepting the Back Bay ward and Ward 3, which is the city proper. The majority of the citizens of East Boston are in ordinary circumstances and the proposition of charging a toll to these people for the use of the new tunnel is certainly an injustice. In practically every other part of Boston the Boston Elevated have a car line running for which they charge a fare of five cents. East Boston has the shortest run of any district in Boston, the time of a trip through the tunnel being but two minutes and a half, and they have to pay a ten-cent fare. My proposal that all residents of East Boston who own automobiles or trucks registered therein shall be accorded the privilege of free transportation through the tunnel is only right and proper. If the City of Boston can maintain three bridges to Cambridge, one enormous bridge to Chelsea and pay part of the cost of the Cambridge Tunnel, certainly for its own citizens in East Boston it can allow them to use the tunnel free of charge. Therefore, Mr. President, I ask for a suspension of the rule and the passage of the order.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

PLANS FOR MILLION DOLLAR STRANDWAY.

Coun. DOWD offered the following:

Ordered, That the Park Commission be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to submit to the City Council the plans for the proposed million dollar strandway in East Boston before letting contracts for same.

Coun. DOWD—Mr. President, I realize, of course, as well as any other member of the Council, that once this Council accepts an act of the Legislature, we have nothing more to do with it whatsoever, that it is then entirely an executive matter. On June 29, 1931, this act came before the City Council and in executive session the question was asked by Councilor Curtis and by other members of the Council whether, if we accepted the act, the Mayor would be compelled to send in a loan order for a million and we were advised that he would be. It was felt in regard to this order, as in regard to acts in general passed by the Legislature, that after we had accepted the act the Mayor of Boston would send in a loan order and thereupon the merits of the matter could be discussed. But this million was passed under a subterfuge and after we had accepted the act we were given no further right to pass upon the merits of the bill. On the floor of the Council on July 13, 1931, that question was raised, and it was charged by various members of the Council, including myself, that it was nothing more than a subterfuge. At that time the matter was discussed at length and the Mayor stated that in his mind conditions were not ripe and that he would not avail himself of the proposition. But now, in 1933, at the far end of the administration, we see a report from the Finance Commission. We don't know whether it is correct or not, but if it is correct, I say that this City Council should have an opportunity to examine and study the proposed plan of the Park Department before the thing becomes a contract. And why shouldn't we have that opportunity? Who is behind this thing, Mr. President and fellow members? W. J. McDonald, who a short time ago came out in the Boston papers with head lines in regard to this huge project in East Boston that he stated would give work to thousands and thousands of men, a project on which it was expected that Federal money would be expended. And what happened? The Government said to Mr. McDonald and his colleagues, "Your land is too high in price, and we will not buy." We don't have to tell you, Mr. President and members of the Council, about the time when this same Mr. McDonald received $106,000 for land in East Boston that was assessed for $25,000, and it is the same man who received a large abatement on land at the rear of the Copley-Plaza Hotel. I could go on and enumerate various steals in which this gentleman has been implicated before, but I don't think it is necessary in this body. Let us go back only a short time ago, to the case of the Boston Port Development Company's land; and this gentleman has appeared the same way in many other land deals. Certainly, at a time like this, the city's money should not be wasted by paying large sums to Mr. McDonald and his colleagues, 500 per cent more than the land is worth. We need whatever money the city can spend for public welfare relief, and for other things. I objected in 1931, and I objected to the Park Commissioner. I sincerely hope at a time like this, when all classes of our people are crying for relief, when not only recipients of welfare need additional assistance, but when the taxpayers are also demanding a lightening of their burdens, we should not allow people to come in and mulct the City of Boston in the sum of at least $255,000, if the Fin Com report is correct—and I assume that it must be, or they would not take the action they have taken in the matter. If it is correct, I say that this body, while legally we may have no right to inspect the plans, is a part of the city government and morally should have the right to look over the proposed plans before the thing becomes law. We have a right to know what the Park Department is going to pay Mr. McDonald for that land, and we have a right to know something about what is proposed in the matter. For that reason I am asking the Park Department to submit to the Council before the contract is made just what is proposed to be done and what price is to be paid. Don't let us be misled. Don't let them tell you that this money is to be spent to relieve unemployment, when it is simply going into the pockets of land sharks. Don't let them again get under cover with that old phrase. We have had three years of this sort of thing, deals of this kind being put through under the guise of relieving unemployment, and I say to you, Mr. President, and to the members of the Council that I am not going to sit here quietly and allow Mr. McDonald or any other individual to loot the city at this time. If the Park Department does not submit the required information next Monday or in two weeks, I intend as an individual and as a citizen, not merely as a member of the City Council, to take action which will result in ten taxpayers bringing an injunction against looting the city treasury of $255,000 that will otherwise simply get to Mr. McDonald and his colleagues.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

AMBULANCE DRIVERS' QUARTERS.

Coun. DOWD offered the following:

Ordered, That the Board of Trustees of the Boston City Hospital be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to provide more suitable quarters for the ambulance drivers in the new ambulance building.

Coun. DOWD—Mr. President, some time ago this Council without any dissenting vote passed an order looking to a new ambulance station in connection with the Pathological Building at the Boston City Hospital. We assumed at that time that it would be an ambulance station in which provision would be made for our ambulance drivers; but I find after a thorough investigation that only one third is to be allotted to the hospital ambulances and that two thirds is to be allotted to private individuals, who can then place their cars there. In other words, it is getting to be nothing but a monster Harvard laboratory, for Harvard men to go in there at the expense of the City of Boston. A committee of the drivers waited on the architect and asked that they be given suitable quarters, but we now find that very small quarters are assigned to the ambulance drivers, not suitable at all. While quarters are assigned to others where they can rest and be taken care of, there are no such suitable quarters for the ambulance drivers. Therefore, Mr. President, I am asking, through the Mayor and the trustees, that those men, who are rendering service for twenty-four hours in the day, be given suitable quarters where they may rest and eat their meals.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

RADIOS FOR POLICE AUTOS.

Coun. RUBY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Police Commissioner be requested to appear before the City Council this afternoon to inform the members what progress has been made in the installation of radio communication in the police automobiles of the City of Boston.

Coun. RUBY—Mr. President, this is an order along similar lines to orders I have introduced previously. We appropriated some time ago money for police radio equipment in our city, and we have received no information about what is being done or what progress is being made. It has got to a point where the smaller cities and towns of the Commonwealth are referring to the laxity of the slow-moving City of Boston and are insisting on police radio being introduced in their towns without regard to what we are doing in our city. I believe the time has come when there should be a showdown. I don't know what can be done. We have requested his Excellency the Governor to ask the Police Commissioner to install a radio system. I believe his Honor the Mayor, from a statement he made some time ago, is in entire accord with the members of this body in advocacy of the installation of police radio in the City of Boston. Certainly, I believe the time has come when we ought to know what is being done or what is proposed to be done with the money we have appropriated for this specific purpose. If nothing is to be done in the way of installing police radio, certainly there are purposes for which any available money can be used in Boston. As members of this body we have unanimously taken the attitude that police radio is necessary in our city, but the Police Commissioner has constantly refused to accede to our wish to obtain information. Personally, I have no quarrel with the Police Commissioner, but I believe there are times when we or any other group of public officials have a right to demand information that we should properly have. I believe we ought not to be obliged to wait until we have a bank holdup similar to what we have seen, for example, in Brookline within a short time; and I do not believe we should wait until the gangsters murder another old man in our city, or until we wake up and find that some other outrage has been perpetrated. I do not believe we should wait until the gangsters visit hospitals and other institutions, commit robberies, and make their getaway, because we do not have proper police equipment. I believe the time has arrived when the Police Commissioner should tell us point-blank whether or not he is ready to equip the department with up-to-date facilities for the proper functioning of the Police Force. For that reason I am asking that the Police Commissioner appear this afternoon before our body and state what his intentions are in the matter of radio equipment for the department. Therefore, I ask a suspension of the rule and the passage of the order.

President McGRATH—The order will be referred to the Executive Committee, and the City Messenger will be instructed to notify the Police Commissioner's office of our desire to have the Police Commissioner appear before us.

The order was referred to the Executive Committee.

EAST BOSTON TUNNEL TAKINGS.

Coun. KELLY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Transit Department and Law Department submit to the Council the amounts of money that are to be paid to owners of property in relation to the East Boston Tunnel and takings by the City of Boston.

Coun. KELLY—Mr. President, within the past week the Mayor of Boston, with the aid of his notorious City Treasurer, Edmund L. Dolan, has issued bonds to the extent of $2,000,000 at enormous rates of interest. This money is to be spent for land-takings in connection with the entrance to the new East Boston Tunnel on the Haymarket square site. This is what is known to those who are in the know as one of the final clean-ups of the present administration. In connection with that clean-up practically two individuals can make the settlements, namely, the head of the Transit Department and the head of the Law Department, both officials appointed by the Mayor of Boston. There is a plot on foot now to steal over $500,000 of that $2,000,000 that is to be spent for land-takings within the closing months of this administration. I am calling the attention of the press and the public of Boston to something now in the making before it becomes a reality. Let us make a start in saving the city's money. Poor people are losing their homes, people on welfare are hardly able to live on the small pittance allowed by the city; and yet we have here a few land sharks attempting to mulct the city to the extent of $500,000 in this time of need. I say that one of the best things that could be done in this Commonwealth today, if we had the power, would be to step over to Charlestown, let every one of the inmates of the prison out, and in their place put this gentleman on the second floor, his thieving treasurer on the first floor, and some of the other racketeers who are stealing from the poor people of Boston, confining them there and allowing the people who are let out to run the city. If that were done, the city would probably save five or ten million dollars a year, run by amateur burglars instead of by the regular burglars who are now outside of State Prison. These are cold facts, Mr. President, and I know that they are sometimes hard to swallow. We all know what happened a few days ago in the Federal National Bank case, where the little fellow whom we now have as City Treasurer settled on the basis of seven cents on the dollar. That is what we are up against in this community—our millionaire treasurer settling in that case for seven cents on the dollar, a man who claims to be broke, when it comes to meeting his obligations. Four years of looting the City of Boston, and they are broke. Their money is not deposited in Massachusetts banks, not in the defunct Federal National Bank, along with the money of many of our poor taxpayers; but if you will go to the banks in New York State you will find how much Dolan has there in his own name or in the names of straw men, for himself and for the Mayor of Boston. Mr. President, I am against this final clean-up, with people starving in Boston, people trying to get a few dollars a week to keep their families together, and I am simply trying to shed light on this burglary before it is committed by the powers that be in this city, so that they will not dare to commit it. Mr. President, burglars are honorable men compared to the gentlemen now about to loot our city treasury of $500,000 of this $2,000,000. The ordinary burglar takes a chance when he breaks into a house at night that some man or woman will grapple with him and hold him until the police come. But these people are not taking their chance, and they are robbing the poor people of this city, whose future welfare depends on what little help we may be able to give them with the means at our command. They have only the twenty-two men in this body to protect their interest, and I, for one, am endeavoring now to protect their interest. I am hoping that no burglary will be committed, that there will be no larceny such as is contemplated through the payment of this amount to these land sharks within the next few months. I ask that this order be passed under suspension of the rule.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON PUBLIC LANDS.

Coun. KELLY, for the Committee on Public Lands, submitted the following, viz.:

1. Report on message of Mayor and order (referred October 2) for lease of land and buildings on La Grange street in Boston, formerly known as Police Station 4, for term of five years at rental of $3,000 a year—that same ought not to pass.

Coun. KELLY—Mr. President, as chairman of the Committee on Public Lands I feel that I should rise and make a few remarks on this report. We had two meetings on this particular proposition, in an attempt to get some new revenue for the city. We find out from the two men who intended to lease this particular piece of unused city property that the terms of the lease as set forth in the communication submitted to us by the Mayor were not what they desired. So there was nothing for us to do, there was nothing we could do, except make this report on the communication from the Mayor, because the communication does not embody what these gentlemen desire. Accordingly, the Committee on Public Lands have voted unanimously that this particular proposition should not pass.

Report accepted; order rejected.

EXPENDITURES OF MONEY FOR PUBLIC WORKS.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Mayor be requested to immediately take steps to spend the $13,000,000 now awaiting expenditure on Boston's public works.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, the Mayor of Boston has still $10,000,000 to spend under the Reconstruction Finance Emergency Relief plan, and yet not one dollar has been requested from the State Emergency Finance Board. There is also in addition available $3,000,000 for sewers and streets. Nevertheless, not one thing has been done in the last few weeks to use this money. What is the matter? I raised this question a week ago. The Mayor has been saying right along that there is only way of relieving the present deplorable situation, and that is, "Work and wages." Then, why doesn't he take action which will put men at work? He has $13,000,000 available there to spend. But because he could not have the subway, his pet proposition, put through, he says, "I won't play any more." There are hundreds of streets in Boston that need repair. Why should we not do what Chicago and other cities are doing, repair our streets? What better work can be done than repairing our streets, which certainly, as we all know, are in bad condition and which need attention. All that is needed is a little bituminous product, a roller, and engineer, and the men to do the work. What is the reason why in Boston we cannot do this report from the Acting Health Commissioner pointing out the danger from lead pipe and stating that there are certain water mains that should be replaced.

One of our leading medical publications, the "New England Journal of Medicine," pointed out three weeks ago the threat from lead poisoning in water in the City of Boston. I think it might be in order for the Mayor to ask the State Emergency Finance Board for a couple of million to replace those lead pipes. What is the matter, Mr. President? Why is the Mayor waiting?

Coun. COX—Mr. President, do I understand the councilor to wish to convey the idea that the City of Boston is now using or has at any time used lead pipes for the purpose of carrying water in our city, or is he referring to the lead pipe on individual pieces of property? If the City of Boston has ever used lead pipe for the purpose of conveying water, it certainly is news to me.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, quoting from the report of Acting Health Commissioner M. Victor Safford, submitted to us by the Mayor under date of October 7, 1933, it says:

"The Boston Water Department no longer uses lead pipe in its connections from the street main to the house shut-off. House connections beyond are to some extent still made with lead pipe, and the city's old lead pipe still remains."

Coun. COX—Mr. President, as a matter of fact, in connecting up with the water mains, the city is liable from the main itself to the land owned by the abutter. In most cases the connection is put in by the private owner and the city, of course, is not in any way responsible. In addition to that, with all due respects to this Professor So-and-So, we all live in the present day, and the cases of menace of lead poisoning through the use of water pipes is so minor that it certainly should not be considered by this body. While we are on the subject, I don't think I need to defend in any way the Mayor of this city as regards the $3,000,000 for streets and sewers that has not been expended. The $3,000,000 has not been expended for the reason that this work is now in process. Some of the contracts have been let; others are ready to be let. It is not consistent to say in one breath that the Mayor of Boston is desirous of getting his hands on all the money he can get his hands on, and in the next breath say that there is $3,000,000 that he is letting go to his successor in office. That is certainly inconsistent.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, I am glad to have listened to this dissertation on lead pipe. It certainly has been enlightening, to say the least. I never knew that lead pipe had to be entirely paid for by the home owner and that the city used none. The official documents show that there is still in this city lead pipe in our mains that has been introduced in the past. The Acting Commissioner of Public Health has so stated. As regards the Mayor of Boston spending this money, the Mayor has had $3,000,000 for the last six months and nothing has been done about spending it. So far as the $10,000,000 is concerned, on August 21, the State Emergency Finance Board told the Mayor to come along with his proposed projects for the expenditure of the $10,000,000. The Mayor merely submitted the proposed Huntington Avenue Subway, to which the State Emergency Finance Board would not agree, and that ended it. Because the Mayor could not get the appropriation for that subway, he suggested nothing else. There appears to be no real reason why the Mayor should not suggest the expenditure of money for other public works, and I have instanced work that might well be done in repairing hundreds of streets in the City of Boston. Certainly we all know that there are plenty of streets that need to be repaired. Why should we not do the same as Frank Miller is doing in Pittsburgh, the same as they are doing in Cleveland and other places, using money allotted by the United States Government for street repairs? And here is this report that has been submitted to us by the Mayor, from the Acting Commissioner of Public Health, regarding the menace from the lead pipe situation in Boston. Something might be done in that respect. We have had an article on that menace which has appeared recently in the "New England Journal of Medicine," which also made it the subject of an editorial, showing the danger that we are in here at the present time. Do those men know what they are talking about, or does some one here who is defending the Mayor know what he is talking about? I am not a doctor of medicine and am not an expert on metallurgy as it concerns water pipes. I am just trying to use a little common sense here. Here is this report, and we have had published in the "New England Journal of Medicine" of September 28 a letter from Dr. George H. Bigelow, State Commissioner of Public Health, a report of our own Health Department in regard to reported lead poisoning, and an editorial on the subject in the "Journal," a leading editorial. I am pleased to contrast what these others state with what our colleague says.

Coun. COX—On what date did those appear?

Coun. NORTON—This is all very recent—in September, 1933. Regarding your statement that there is no lead pipe of the city's now in use, we have the statement of the Acting Commissioner that there is some old lead pipe of the city still in use.

Coun. COX—In city mains?

Coun. NORTON—Exactly. So either you are wrong or I am wrong.

Coun. COX—Or we are both wrong! (Laughter.)

Coun. NORTON—Or we are both wrong or both right. But I am willing to stand on the statements that have appeared in this high class medical journal as against the opinion of the colleague from West Roxbury.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

COST OF TWO-WAY RADIO.

Coun. DOWD offered the following:

Ordered, That Police Commissioner Hultman, through his Honor the Mayor, be requested to inform the Council regarding the cost of two-way radio.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

CORNELIUS J. O'NEILL SQUARE.

Coun. GREEN offered the following:

Ordered, That the space at the junction of Rutherford avenue and Austin street, Ward 2, be named Cornelius J. O'Neill square in honor of said O'Neill, who was killed in action during the World War.

APPROPRIATION FOR SUBSTITUTE TEACHERS.

Coun. BRACKMAN offered the following:

Ordered, That the School Committee be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to provide the sum of $25,000 per month during the school months for the purpose of putting substitute teachers to work.

CONFIRMATION OF APPOINTMENTS.

President McGRATH called up, under unfinished business, No. 3 on the calendar, viz:

3. Action on appointments submitted by the Mayor October 9, 1933, of Joseph B. Steinberg, I. R. Waller, Charles Parrott and Frederick Clemmons, to be Weighers of Coal.

The question came on confirmation of the appointments. Committee, Coun. Hein and Barker. Whole number of ballots 14, yeas 14, and the appointments were confirmed.

THOMAS J. ROBERTS PLAYGROUND.

Coun. BURKE offered the following:

Ordered, That the Park Commission be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to make the shower facilities available for the athletes at the Thomas J. Roberts Playground, Ward 17.

Ordered, That the Park Commission be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to level off and grade the playing surface of the Thomas J. Roberts Playground on Dunbar avenue, Ward 17.

Ordered, That the Park Commission be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to investigate the drainage system at the Thomas J. Roberts Playground with a view to preventing the water from flowing into the cellars adjacent to said playground.

Coun. BURKE—Mr. President, those three orders pertain to a certain location in my ward that needs some attention. I am putting in these orders, requesting both the Public Works and the Park Department to take cognizance of the fact that conditions there are not what they should be. Certainly, something should be done so that the people surrounding the playground will be able to keep their windows open and will not be subjected to the annoying conditions that exist at present.

The orders were passed under suspension of the rule.

WARD 17 IMPROVEMENTS.

Coun. BURKE offered the following:

Ordered, That the Board of Street Commissioners be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to accept and lay out Wentworth terrace, Ward 17, as a public highway.

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to resurface Burt street, Ward 17, from Ashmont to Washington street.

Severally passed under suspension of the rule.

REST FACILITIES FOR AMBULANCE DRIVERS.

Coun. BURKE offered the following:

Ordered, That the Trustees of the Boston City Hospital be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to provide proper rest room facilities for the ambulance drivers in the new building which they will occupy.

Coun. BURKE—Mr. President, I don't know whether a similar order has been placed before the Council, but, if not, let me say that I find from personal observation that no facilities have been provided for a rest room for the ambulance drivers in the new quarters. They have taken care of doctors, nurses and everybody else who find it necessary to stay there on call for emergencies, but nothing has been done for the ambulance drivers. I think the ambulance drivers should be accorded the same facilities as all others. I am, therefore, asking that such facilities be provided for them.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

RECESS.

The Council, by direction of President McGRATH, went into recess at 3.29 p. m., and reassembled and were called to order by the PRESIDENT at 3.43 p. m.

MANSFIELD BRANDS HIMSELF AS DESERTER FROM DEMOCRATIC PARTY WHEN HE ACCEPTS INDORSEMENT OF GOOD GOVERNMENT ASSOCIATION AS AGAINST THE INDORSEMENT OF WILLIAM J. FOLEY BY DEMOCRATIC CITY COMMITTEE, MAYOR CURLEY CHARGES IN BROADCAST OVER WNAC ON SUNDAY AFTERNOON—ALSO SAYS INDORSEMENT IS PREDICATED UPON AGREEMENT TO CARRY OUT DECREES OF ANTI-DEMOCRATIC ORGANIZATION. PRAISES DISTRICT ATTORNEY FOR ABILITY AND EXPERIENCE.

Mayor James M. Curley, talking over Station WNAC, on October 29, from 3 to 3.15 p. m., in the interests of William J. Foley for Mayor, said in part:

In the acceptance of the indorsement of the Good Government Association, notwithstanding the indorsement by the Boston Democratic City Committee of William J. Foley for the office of Mayor, Frederick W. Mansfield stamps himself as a deserter from the Democratic party. The officials who constitute the membership of the Good Government Association supported Herbert C. Hoover for the Presidency not only against Alfred E. Smith but against Franklin D. Roosevelt, and it is not unreasonable to anticipate that the acceptance of the indorsement is predicated upon an agreement to carry out the decrees of the anti-Democratic organization whose indorsement Mr. Mansfield has accepted.

In view of the fact that the Democracy has honored him with election as State Treasurer and as nominee of the Democratic party for the office of Governor of the Commonwealth, he may be properly classified as the "lost leader" and the motley aggregation of payroll patriots and pseudo reformers who are supporting his candidacy might be rightly classified as Hessians. Robert Browning, the poet, referring to the "Lost Leader," has written:

"Just for a handful of silver he left us,
Just for a riband to stick in his coat;—
Found the one gift which fortune bereft us,
Lost all the others she lets us devote;
They, with the gold to give, doled him out silver,
So much was theirs who so little allowed;

Blot out his name, then, record one lost evermore,
One task more declined, one more footpath untrod,
One more devil's triumph and sorrow for angels,
One wrong more to man, one more insult to God!"

In obedience to the command of his masters, he assails the party that honored him and the representatives of the party who bestowed honors upon him. Like the cuckoo, who, when strong enough, drives its own mother from its nest, he disowns the nest that sheltered him, the Democratic party, and takes to his bosom his new-found friends, the Good Government Association, enemies of Democracy. The sponsor of that organization, Alexander Whiteside, Public Enemy No. 1, in a recent address at Harvard University declared that the tax appropriation for the conduct of municipal activities in Boston should be reduced $15,000,000 and Mr. Mansfield echoes the cry with a statement that, if elected Mayor of Boston, he will make further reductions and demand that the Mayor of Boston state what reductions in the cost of operating the activities of the city have been made since 1930.

For the benefit of this feeble pupil in the elementary phases of municipal administration, I desire to state that in 1930 the cost of conducting the activities of the public schools of Boston was in excess of $21,000,000 and that this appropriation for 1933 was but slightly in excess of $15,000,000. In other words, a reduction of nearly $6,000,000 has been accomplished during the past four years. A further reduction of one third would mean not only the discharge of a large number of our educators, but the permanent closing of many public schools. Is this the progressive program that Candidate Mansfield would have the city adopt? The appropriation for public works in 1930 was $9,347,000 and in 1933 but $5,313,000, a reduction of more than $3,000,000 in a period of four years. A further reduction in the public works program of one third would mean the discharge of many hundreds of men whose services are necessary for the proper conduct of the activities of the Public Works Department. The cost of conducting the Police Department in 1930 was $6,158,000 and in 1933 but $5,321,000, a reduction of nearly $1,000,000, and the adoption of the program as recommended by the Good Government Association and its candidate, Mansfield, would mean the discharge of additional policemen and make impossible the filling of the ranks and the restoration of wages or the sliding scale of increases.

MUNICIPAL DEFAULT AND ITS REMEDIES—MAYOR CURLEY DISCUSSES AND POINTS OUT ADVANTAGES TO CITIZENS AIMED TO BE GIVEN BY WILCOX OR SUMNER BILL, WHICH PROVIDES SAFETY FOR MUNICIPALITIES FACING BANKRUPTCY IN THESE TIMES OF DISTRESS—BILL AIMS TO PREVENT MINORITY FROM CALLING DOWN CALAMITY ON HEADS OF MAJORITY OF ANY COMMUNITY.

Municipal default and its remedies was the subject discussed by Mayor Curley in broadcast on Tuesday evening, October 31. He spoke as follows:

It seems rather strange and peculiar to discuss the question of municipal default and what we shall do about it. In all my long experience in governmental matters I have not heard discussed this subject matter until very recently. What brought about the change? Naturally the answer is the world's worst economic depression,—a depression which has struck an almost deadly blow at all commercial and industrial institutions, among which must be included the great commercial institution—the municipality—which deals in "service." Every corporation that does business must rely upon credit. This is especially true of the municipal corporation. Indeed the very structure and set-up of the municipal corporation as it is chartered by the state anticipates that the municipal corporation shall live and exist on credit. The amount of its credit as well as that of the private corporation is always determined by its financial condition and prospects.

On the whole, municipal corporations of the country prior to the depression were sound business institutions entitled to credit with their stockholders consisting of the respectable citizenry within its confines. Almost overnight that same sound business institution, like thousands of other sound private business institutions, became enmeshed in financial troubles brought on by increased requirements for social and welfare relief while at the same time the receipts from taxes and other sources diminished. Just like the business corporation, the municipal corporation had at its head honest and sound executives. Economies were practiced only to have the money saved by these economies spent for the relief of a stricken people. In other instances municipalities which during the pre-depression days had expended large sums of borrowed money to meet the requirements of the inflation period found that during the depression their population had diminished, the business interests who came to it during the boom period had closed up and gone and had left the municipality without the necessary income to meet its debt coming due, all of which had been incurred for these very people by the municipality. In other words, the municipal corporation, like the private corporation, had over-built and over-extended itself, due to the demands made upon it during the boom period.

What did the private business corporation do to save itself from its dilemma,—a dilemma for which it was not wholly to blame? In most instances it called in its bondholders, stockholders and creditors and with a full discussion of its financial problems was able to compromise or readjust its financial obligations, compelling all to share in the dilemma by taking a share of the loss or by agreeing to defer the immediate payment of debt due. Thereafter the private corporation with a new lease of life started forward under the inspiration of a new leadership and a new deal with the hope of success. Thus was saved from the wreckage something for the creditor rather than a resulting total loss.

What the private corporation has done the municipal corporation must do if it cannot get further credit or cannot meet its obligations. Surely it cannot close—it must not close—up its doors. Its creditors must be made to give it at least the same opportunity to live as do the creditors of the private corporation. To this end Congress has had placed before it the Wilcox or Sumner's bill, so called, which provides the necessary machinery whereby the municipal corporation may have the same opportunity as the private corporation to straighten out its financial problems. This bill has been erroneously called a bankruptcy bill. It was unfortunate that it had to be tied to the Federal Bankruptcy Act. Its purpose is not to permit a defaulted city to become a bankrupt and to discharge itself of its obligations and liabilities and then start anew without debt. This bill seeks to present a minority—in some cases only one bondholder—from blocking a plan to permit of an adjustment of the municipality's financial situation. It establishes a forum, namely, the Federal Court, where the creditors and debtors may meet to adjust their differences. It does not necessarily mean that the creditors will be compelled to compromise their claims or sustain any loss.

The court may approve an arrangement between the municipality and its creditors whereby the maturities may be postponed without substantial or perhaps any loss of principal or interest. Under the bill there is no compulsion on the part of the municipality to act under its provisions. Nor can proceedings be commenced without the consent of one third of the municipal creditors, and any plan of adjustment must be ratified and approved by two thirds of the creditors and the court. In other words, the bill prevents a stubborn and sometimes unfair and unreasonable minority from destroying the opportunity for a majority of the creditors to get together in a legal and well-established forum to discuss the problems involved and adjust them for the best interests of all concerned by compromise, if necessary, or by deferring the date of payment of principal or interest or both, if that is wise or necessary, or by re-arranging or refunding the existing outstanding maturing debt and obligation so that it may be entirely paid at some future time by deferring for the time being the interest or principal payment due.

This bill does not seek to permit municipalities to repudiate their obligations, nor does it provide necessarily for any arbitrary cutting or scaling down of debts of the municipality. Nor do the municipal officers or the court have the right to determine just what payment or arrangement shall be made. It does provide, however, for the possibility of an agreement between the municipal officers and two thirds of the debt holders with the right to prevent that agreement from being nullified by one creditor or a small minority of creditors. Every precaution is taken to prevent unscrupulous officers from defrauding innocent creditors, for by its terms the municipality cannot even commence proceedings until at least one third of the creditors have agreed it may. Then proper notice must be given to all the creditors that a plan for readjustment, already assented to by at least one third of the creditors, has been filed with the court and an opportunity to meet and discuss and contest the plan is given to all concerned.

The court may only consent to a readjustment plan which has been approved by two thirds or more of the creditors if, after such approval by the creditors, the court is satisfied that the approving creditors may preserve and protect the rights of the minority and that the plan can be carried out legally and financially by the municipality and that there is no discrimination against or unfairness to any one involved, the creditors, the taxpayers and the minorities.

ANGER TO CITIES.

The great danger that now confronts the municipality is that the majority creditors who seek preferential treatment or who hold out in order that they may be bought out, may defeat a wholesome and wise readjustment plan which is fair and equitable to the great majority of the creditors. It is to remove this evil that the bill is aimed. The taxpayer who is on the side lines and who is not only interested in the present plight of the municipality but also in the readjustment of that plight is also fully protected by the bill. Nothing can be done without the approval of the court. The creditors and the municipal officers cannot bargain away the taxpayers' rights.

The court protects the taxpayer. In fact, under the bill the court retains jurisdiction of the entire subject matter until the readjustment has been finally consummated and fully complied with.

The experience of many of the defaulted municipalities has shown the vital necessity for this bill. In many cases plans for readjustment had been made and agreed to by 99 per cent of the creditors and one bondholder, who held out seeking a preference and who went into the courts to secure a judgment against a municipality, upset the entire plan. Unless some plan such as that contemplated by this bill is provided there will be thousands of bondholders of municipal obligations throughout the country who will be compelled to hold on to their bonds, receive no payment of interest or principal, and continue to wonder what is going to be done about the situation.

Isn't the situation which now confronts the European nations and their war debts to the United States comparable to the municipal defaults? The European nations have their forum. They make or seek a readjustment of their debts. They even go further, they seek cancellation of their debts which the American municipality does not want. It wants a chance to rehabilitate—a chance to collect its debts now difficult of collection because of the taxpayers' plight. It wants an opportunity to make payment of its debts with justice to all its creditors and with honor to its taxpayers. It aims to restore civic confidence and to reestablish its credit and financial standing. It should not be denied opportunity.

UTMOST ECONOMY PRACTICAL.

I know it has been said that this bill will permit office-holders who have failed to practise economy to continue their orgy of spending. This is not a true or sound argument. I believe municipal officers have during this crisis practised the utmost economy even to the point of failing to provide essential and vital service to the community. They have had no choice in the matter. They did not have sufficient revenue from taxes nor did they receive money from borrowings to render such service. These avenues have been in the main closed to municipal officers. It is despite all possible economies that the municipality is unable now to pay its interest and principal on outstanding obligations.

The economic depression was not caused by the municipality. It is not responsible for the unemployment of thousands of its citizens and its residents who must be fed and sheltered. It is not responsible for the failure of private business which cannot pay taxes now. It is not responsible for the failure of the home owner to pay his taxes to municipalities. If all this be true, then the municipality as such must also be given some relief,—a breathing spell until economic conditions improve and until the taxpayer is able to pay his taxes and the necessity for providing poor, hospital or other welfare relief in enormous sums has passed.

If this assistance is not given to the municipality, and given soon, the inevitable result must be a total loss to the bondholders, the total destruction of credit to municipalities, the strong to suffer as well as the weak, and a resulting governmental chaos leading ultimately to the Federal Government which, in the final analysis, is made up of the municipalities of the several states of the Union. If the Federal Government deems it essential to prevent the breaking down of railroads, insurance companies, banks, and public utilities generally, it must deem it more essential to prevent the collapse of the backbone of the country—its municipalities.

MAYOR CURLEY ADDRESSES THE WOMEN'S DIVISION OF THE DEMOCRATIC CITY COMMITTEE IN INTEREST OF WILLIAM J. FOLEY.

Mayor Curley, addressing the Women's Division of the Democratic City Committee, on Tuesday, October 31, at the Parker House, said in part as follows:

I want to congratulate Miss Keane and the ladies associated with her for the assembling here today of such a valued asset to Mr. Foley in the winning of this election, and coming at this particular time it is doubly of value.

Three weeks ago the feeling was general in the city that there was a possibility that former Mayor Nichols would succeed himself and then when the Good Government Association indorsed Mr. Mansfield for the office of Mayor certain prominent citizens recorded themselves in favor of the candidacy of Mr. Mansfield and the impression became quite general that Mr. Mansfield had a better chance. Within the last week the picture has changed completely. The Democratic City Committee indorsed the candidacy of William J. Foley for Mayor and that made him the choice of the Democratic organization of Boston, which has carried the city in the last two Presidential elections by better than 100,000 majority.

Then we had a meeting of over one thousand workers who volunteered their services to work at the polls on election day and solicit votes for William J. Foley and then we had the Boston Evening American and the Boston Daily Record, two organs which are read by the people who vote the Democratic ticket, declare in favor of Mr. Foley, and they have opened their columns in behalf of his candidacy, and so it has been a series of events, one after another.

Within the last week the opinion has been expressed in nearly every portion of the city that the candidacies of Mansfield and Nichols will fail due to the activity of Senator Parkman. Two weeks ago it looked as though Parkman would not get 15,000 votes, but it looks now as if he will get 40,000 votes. Out of a total Republican registration of 60,000, or figuring 70,000 people voting the regular Republican ticket, that would leave Nichols and Mansfield to split 30,000 votes.

If either is to win he will have to get 50,000 Democratic votes in addition and there are not that number of purchasable Democrats in the City of Boston today, so that as it now stands today there is every indication that the election of William J. Foley as Mayor of Boston is a certainty.

A man does not hold office for twenty years by accident; he holds it by virtue of his qualifications. Foley has held office for twenty years. No one has ever questioned his honesty; no one has ever questioned the largeness of his heart or his kindness of nature and God knows in this trying hour in the life of America when no one knows what the future has in store, a man who will be independent of action and not controlled by the Good Government Association or any other body, a man like Foley is needed who is acquainted with the miseries of the poor and unemployed and who can be relied upon to give to their cases a kindly interest and a generous aid. Yes, "Boston Needs Foley"; you need him and I need him. If you will go out from this meeting and work between now and the time the polls close on Tuesday we can aid in building up a vote for Foley and then we will be performing a service creditable to ourselves and beneficial to those who have too long traveled the road of despair.

LAND-TAKING IN BRIGHTON.

MAYOR CURLEY REPLIES TO EDITORIAL IN BOSTON "POST" WHICH TOOK HIM TO TASK FOR LINKING IN SAME GROUP REAL ESTATE RACKETEERS AND TAX DODGERS WITH GANGSTERS, JURY BRIBERS AND BANK PILLAGERS. POINTS TO FACT HE HAS EVER BEEN RELENTLESS FOE OF GANGSTER AND LAW-BREAKING CRIMINALS.

Mayor Curley in his regular Monday broadcast from City Hall, over Station WNAC, said in part, as follows:

The Boston Post in its edition of today published an article with a caption "No Worse" and sets forth as follows:

Mayor Curley in his campaign speech on Friday said that while the pillaging of the Federal National Bank, the murders by gangsters and the bribing of juries were bad, still they were no worse than real estate racketeers or tax dodgers.

Is this an apology for the bankers, the gangsters and the jury bribers?

Surely the assurance that they are no more harmful to the community than men who get inflated prices for real estate and seek to dodge their taxes will comfort them.

But it is cold comfort for the 67,000 depositors, many of whom had their life's savings in the Federal National Bank and who, because of slippery and greedy bankers and grafting politicians, will get very little of their money back.

The Mayor's statement will not comfort the families of the victims of gunmen released from jail on straw bail to commit murder and robbery.

It won't comfort the honest citizen seeking justice in the courts and denied it because a few dollars given to a crooked juror turns the scales against him.

By all means get after the real estate racketeers and the tax dodgers. They are bad enough. But they have been as immune as the bankers, the gangsters and the jury bribers. Why have they not been rounded up? Who protects the real estate racketeers and the tax dodgers?

The Mayor has never, in all his career, been the man to soft pedal the activities of those defiant of the law in the city.

It is not in keeping with his character. Why does he do it now?

I want to say to you my friends that no one could be more active or more vindictive in his characterization and in his pursuit of the tax abatement racketeers and tax dodgers than I have been during the entire time the Massachusetts Tax Title Association has been in existence. I have received but very scant support in either the news or in the editorials from any of the newspapers and so I have taken the liberty of writing to the editor of the Boston Post as follows:

October 30, 1933.

To the Editor, Boston Post.

DEAR SIR,—In your editorial columns of the Boston Post dated Monday, October 30, you seem disturbed that I stated that "while the pillaging of the Federal National Bank, the murders by gangsters and the bribing of juries were bad, still they were no worse than the real estate racketeers or tax dodgers" and you ask if this statement was an apology for the bankers, the gangsters and the jury bribers.

Of course, your paper knows that I have always been in the forefront in the attempt to rid this city of the gangster and the hoodlum who have been such a menace to the well-being of the citizens of Boston. Not for one moment have I ever receded from my relentless opposition to those who attempt to destroy the constitutional rights of the people to the full enjoyment of life, liberty and property. All respectable citizens in our community are joined in the warfare against the deadly gangster, racketeer and criminal element in the community. These men act in violation of existing law. My chief concern and purpose, when I placed in the same category the real estate racketeer and the tax dodger, was to indicate to the public that these men are just as criminal as the gangster and the mobster, for the tax racketeer and the tax dodger commits a serious crime under the apparent protection of the law and public officials who are sworn to uphold the law, while the gangster commits his dastardly deeds in direct violation of the law and the efforts of public officials to prevent him.

So, too, the entire community is familiar with the type of individual who robs or steals, but he is not acquainted with the gentleman who, under the cloak of respectability, indulges in equally culpable criminal acts of theft and destruction. The real estate racketeer and the tax dodger robs the home owner and the taxpayer of his money and in many cases his property and renders helpless women and children who are the principal sufferers.

The public should be acquainted with the scheme that has been evolved whereby the tax dodger and the real estate racketeer has been permitted to discriminate against the small home owner to his own advantage. The legislative enactment creating the State Board of Tax Appeals was the first step in this conspiracy. Immediately after its creation the real estate racketeer and the tax dodger flooded the Board with petitions for abatements, seeking refunds of in many instances from 30 per cent to 50 per cent in reductions on the assessed valuations of property. Ninety-five per cent of the petitions pending before the State Board of Tax Appeals are those filed by owners and trustees of large properties in the city but very few petitions have been filed by the small home owner. After the petition is filed by the real estate racketeer, professional real estate experts are employed, who invariably testify for these racketeers that the valuations of properties in downtown Boston should be reduced from 50 per cent to 60 per cent and these experts, augmented by the comfort which they receive from certain members of the Board, are able to secure tax abatements in many instances reaching as high as 40 per cent to 50 per cent and in some cases these abatements go back to the prosperous years of '27, '28, '29. To this large refund of from 40 per cent to 50 per cent the Board adds interest for these years at 6 per cent. The result is that hundreds of thousands of dollars is paid out of the city treasury to these racketeers and the burden borne by the small home owner, because the money so paid from the city treasury must be raised by the imposition in the tax levy on real estate, primarily.

It is indeed significant that so many of these large real estate interests in the city have deemed it advisable to have their cases before this Board in the name of one attorney whom I have so aptly described as Public Enemy No. 1.

Alexander Whiteside who is the gentleman who appeared at Harvard University and stated that the cost of operating the City of Boston could be reduced by $15,000,000, and this notwithstanding the fact that reductions outside of charity, hospital and institutions, have been more than 33½ per cent during the last four years of Curley. You could reduce $15,000,000 more by cutting down the allotment to the City of Boston by reducing the salary of those now employed by the city and by adding to the Army of the Unemployed, through the discharge of women and men working for the city, which would mean that one out of every three at present employed would be discharged, but it would be reflected in the falling off of every business in the city and would mean the discharge of a similar number by every business establishment in Boston, and would make the present chaotic condition appear heavenly alongside the condition that would thus be created if Mr. Whiteside's suggestion were followed.

This lawyer, prior to the creation of the State Tax Appeal Board, had but little taxation business and who now has the established reputation of being able to control the actions of some of the members of the Board. There is one saving grace to this situation, however, and that is, since the Board of Tax Appeals has been increased from three to five members some of the newly appointed members have seen through this scheme of favoritism and have indicated that they do not propose, in so far as they are able, to permit further plundering of the taxpayers' money.

I want to pay a special tribute at this time to former Civil Service Commissioner Paul E. Tierney. We have not been the best of friends, but he has stood, as a member of the enlarged Tax Appeal Board, for what is right and for what is just and is deserving of commendation for so doing, because it is difficult work to hold out against the wealthy interests who have a control over banking institutions and through the control of the banking institutions exercise a control over certain of the press of the city.

It may be illuminating to the public to know that at the present time there is pending in the Assessing Department applications for abatement approximating $600,000,000 in valuations, out of a total assessed valuation of the city of $1,650,000,000, or about 40 per cent of the total assessed valuation of the city.

When I came in in 1930 as Mayor of Boston the last time the assessed valuation of the city was approximately $1,960,000,000. We have reduced about $310,000,000 in assessed valuations in the last four years. We have endeavored to make these reductions gradually so that not too great a burden would fall upon the property owner and the rent payer. Yet these men, if they succeed in electing the man the Good Government Association have endorsed for Mayor they will have a pliant piece of putty in the chair of the Mayor who will never protest as long as they continue their raids upon the city treasury.

Organized society has awakened to the necessity for the elimination of the gangster and those evil influences in our community who are destroying the morale of the people and government, but it is not awakened or organized to eliminate one who is equally destructive of the morale of the public and government, namely, the real estate racketeer and the tax dodger, who, by his actions, robs the small home owner, destroys his morale and at the same time makes almost impossible the proper carrying on of government and the rendition of proper service to the people in these days of the world's worst economic depression.

Your paper has been ever alert in the battle of society to rid itself of the gangster and the hoodlum. Should it not be equally as active in the campaign that must be commenced at once to rid the city of the treacherous and insidious real estate racketeer and tax dodger?

There is the work cut out for every honest citizen of Boston. You cannot afford to allow the Good Government Association to succeed in this most flagrant and audacious attempt to control the office of Mayor as well as the control of the State Tax Appeal Board. Your duty is clear. Vote for the humane, kindly, courageous, capable man for Mayor, William J. Foley.

Sincerely,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

The Fire Department in 1930 expended $4,783,000 and the appropriation for 1933 was but $3,924,000, a reduction of nearly $800,000, and a further reduction would only be possible through the discharge of additional men. The Park Department appropriation in 1930 was $2,040,000 and in 1933 $1,333,000, a reduction of three-quarters of a million dollars and a further reduction would only be possible through the discharge of additional men. The appropriation of the Library Department in 1930 was $1,175,000 and in 1933 but $1,004,000, a reduction of nearly $170,000 and a further reduction would only be possible through the discharge of many women and men whose services are necessary. The appropriation for the Health Department for 1930 was $1,077,000 and in 1933 but $943,000, a reduction of more than $130,000, and a further reduction would only be possible through the discharge of large numbers of men.

CITY UPKEEP COSTS.

The increase in the cost of conducting the activities of the City of Boston during the past four years have been due wholly to the increase in public welfare and soldiers, relief and unless the city had adopted a liberal policy neither life nor property would be safe, since the individual with a wife and children hungry at home and cold, never reckons with consequences when their loved ones cry out in their hour of need. Boston has met every financial and humanitarian obligation during the past four years and the need of the hour is a man large of heart, broad of mind, and uncontrolled by any outside agency, who will labor whole-heartedly and unselfishly for the conservation of the rights of the needy, of the service men, of the municipal employees and of the public of Boston as a whole.

For a period of twenty years William J. Foley has been a prominent figure in the public life of Boston. During this period he has served four terms as a member of the State Legislature and two terms as State Senator and for seven years has held the office of District Attorney of Suffolk County. During this long and honorable public service no one has ever questioned his honesty until Mr. Mansfield had received the indorsement of the Good Government Association and proceeded to carry out their orders. No one questioned his ability to fill any of the offices which he has held or the office to which he now aspires. The chief argument advanced in opposition to his candidacy has been that he is lacking in forensic ability, that he is not an orator, but the office of Mayor of Boston does not call for superior oratorical ability, rather does it call for the most rugged character of honesty upon the part of the individual who will fill the office of Mayor. If candidate Mansfield had indulged in retrospect in his consideration of outstanding characters in the life of America, he would have hesitated in his condemnation of Mr. Foley's lack of forensic ability as an essential to the office of Mayor of Boston.

Every American is familiar with the two speeches delivered at the Gettysburg battlefield during the period of the Civil War. One of the orators upon that occasion was a citizen of Massachusetts, the Honorable Edward Everett, whose address required more than an hour and a half to deliver. The other was the sainted emancipator, Abraham Lincoln, whose address required scarcely more than five minutes in its delivery. I question that there are one hundred persons in America who can recall a single sentence quoted by Edward Everett upon that historic occasion, as against the countless hundreds of thousands, including the boys and girls in our public schools, who can recite verbatim the Gettysburg address of Abraham Lincoln. One of the outstanding orators in this period in the life of American was Stephen A. Douglas. He was universally regarded as the silver-tongued orator of America. Douglas challenged Lincoln to debate and the friends of Lincoln protested against his acceptance because of the superior forensic ability of Douglas. Lincoln, however, fortified with the armor of truth and simplicity, debated with Douglas and not only won the debate, but won the hearts of the people of America and became President of the United States. Lincoln was not regarded as a great orator but he was loved and will be loved until the end of time for his qualities of heart and of mind.

I can recall in 1924 the campaign for the Presidency between John W. Davis, the Democratic nominee, regarded as the ablest legal mind in the world, and rightly so, and our own Calvin Coolidge. The addresses delivered in the campaign by John W. Davis were most masterly in character and exquisite in presentation, while those of Calvin Coolidge were most simple but understood and accepted for the simplicity of presentation and sincerity of appeal to the average citizen. If the choice of the American people had been made upon the oratorical ability of the two candidates, John W. Davis would have been elected, but the people looked beneath the veneer of oratory into the hearts of the two men and they accepted in the nation, by the largest majority up to that election ever recorded in favor of any candidate, the simple, plain man of the people, honest Calvin Coolidge of our own Commonwealth. John W. Davis received but 225,000 votes in Massachusetts, while I, as a candidate for Governor, received nearly a half million votes and Coolidge carried Massachusetts by 800,000 votes over John W. Davis. Calvin Coolidge carried Massachusetts because the people of this Commonwealth had faith in his honesty and were firm in the belief that in the office of President he could be relied upon to conserve and safeguard the welfare of the citizens of America.

One of the greatest leaders the Republican party has known in Massachusetts in its entire history was the late Senator W. Murray Crane, of Dalton. No member of the United States Senate spoke a less number of times as a member of that body, or for a shorter period of time upon any occasion than did Senator W. Murray Crane, and yet no member of that body wielded a greater power than that wielded by Senator Crane. He was respected, admired and loved by the people of this Commonwealth and by the members of the United States Senate for his human qualities, for his simplicity, for his modesty and for his honesty.

The candidate of the Democratic party in this contest may well be likened to all of these three characters whom I have enumerated. He is the embodiment of the simplicity of Lincoln, the honesty of Coolidge and the reserve and modesty of Senator Crane. To the office of District Attorney of Suffolk County countless thousands of women and children who have erred have wended their way during the past seven years without paid counsel or without powerful or influential pleaders to appear in their behalf. They have found in the office of the District Attorney of Suffolk County a man kind of heart, generous of nature, and big enough at all times to overlook error, forgive reasonable transgressions of the law and, whenever it was humanly possible to do so, temper justice with mercy. Surely no one could ask more in the office of a prosecuting attorney.

There is no means of determining when opportunity will be afforded the unemployed of America to return to work and until that time arrives, it is imperative that the man selected for the office of Mayor shall be selected for the qualities that are most predominant in William J. Foley—not necessarily the great orator but the kind, gentle, considerate executive, who can at all times be relied upon to give the human equation precedence over the dollar equation. Mr. Foley has been tried in the crucible of adversity and has measured up to the most exacting standards. As you love Boston and hope for its future, as you love your own family and have consideration for your neighbor and your neighbor's family, I ask you to cast your vote for the standard bearer of Democracy, William J. Foley.

BOSTON TO HAVE RAILWAY MAIL POST OFFICE TO COST $3,750,000. MAYOR CURLEY ANNOUNCES AGREEMENT TO BUILD STRUCTURE DURING MEETING AT MARY E. CURLEY SCHOOL. CONTRACT TO BE LET BEFORE JANUARY 1 AND WORK TO START SOON AFTER. ANNOUNCES OTHER CONSTRUCTION PROJECTS TO BEGIN SOON.

Mayor Curley spoke as follows at the Mary E. Curley School, Tuesday, October 31, at the William J. Foley rally for Mayor:

Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen.

We have had under consideration for nearly three years the question of a railway mail post office in the vicinity of the South Station, at Dorchester avenue. We found it extremely difficult to reach an agreement with reference to changes in the grade of streets and who should bear the cost. I want to bring to you the cheering news that we finally reached an agreement yesterday for the building of that structure which will represent an outlay of an expenditure of $3,750,000, and the contract will be awarded before the first of January for the foundation, and for the superstructure before the middle of February. It is likewise comforting to be able to say to you that I have been reliably informed that the State Emergency Finance Board appointed by his Excellency the Governor has receded from its position and are going to recommend $2,500,000 for subway construction on Huntington avenue and a program representing about $9,500,000, with the prospect of additional millions in the immediate future. The expenditure of this money by the Federal Government, coupled with the announcement in the morning papers that favorable recommendation had been accorded the project for housing at the Strandway and the Calf Pasture, will mean the putting into circulation of somewhere in the neighborhood of twenty million dollars additional within the next six months.

If one may gauge the future by these activities and what they represent it would appear reasonable to believe that there will be many more opportunities for employment for men in the next six months than there has been during the last three years. It is a cheerful sign and we should be grateful to the great leader in Washington through whose courage this construction program has been inaugurated and through whose leadership the faith of America as to the future has been developed and restored,—Franklin D. Roosevelt. It is peculiarly fitting that some man be in the office of Mayor who represents the same party as Franklin D. Roosevelt.

EMPLOYEES GOOD BAROMETER.

Now, I think that the greatest political barometer we have is not the newspaper editors or reporters or even the men holding public office. If you want to find the real barometer as to the outcome of a political contest ask the ordinary city employee, employed as laborer, elevator-man or janitor. Those boys know, because it is their business to know, it is their bread and butter to be on the right side. Three weeks ago if you talked to a city employee and if he expressed an opinion, which they rarely do, you would have found him for Nichols. If you had talked with him the day after the Good Government Association had endorsed Mr. Mansfield you would have found him for Mansfield, but if you talked to him within the last forty-eight hours you would find that the only one that he can see is Mr. Foley.

I listened on the radio the other night to the man that is doing more than any individual to elect Foley — Henry Parkman. He is doing more than myself or anyone that I know of to elect Foley. We have been receiving some reports at the Parker House headquarters and we saw a report from Ward 12, Precinct 13, and it has been checked very carefully by a very reliable and very intelligent man. When a Democrat and Republican run in this ward, the Republican running receives 450 votes and the Democrat 300. What was the return today? Foley 286, Nichols 248, Mansfield 110 and Parkman 155. Every vote Parkman receives is one taken away from either Nichols or Mansfield. Parkman, two weeks ago, was figured to receive not more than 15,000 votes. They figure now that Parkman will receive between 35,000 and 40,000 votes. If he gets 40,000 votes, that leaves only 20,000 registered Republican votes to be split between Nichols and Mansfield, and if he allows Mansfield 10,000 and Nichols 10,000 where are they going to receive the other 55,000 Democratic votes to win out?

This afternoon I attended a most interesting meeting at the Parker House held by the Women's Division of the City Committee and a group of educators of Boston. They are a little bit disturbed as to the future of the school teachers in the event of some candidate other than Foley being successful and there were four hundred and fifty highly intelligent and eminently capable women at the meeting at the Parker House and they all signed the little blue card signifying their intention of working for Foley from now until the polls close on election day.

CITES ECONOMIES.

In the meantime I have cut down to the bone for the last four years on city expenditures. Of course, in this campaign perhaps it is fortunate for Foley that I have taken sides, because I have been bearing the brunt of the attack. I can stand it because I am not a candidate and we have kept the fire away from the candidate up to the present time. We have cut down in every department except hospital, charities by one third. Now they say they are going to cut $15,000,000 more. It is now done to about $62,000,000, and of this amount about $40,000,000 is represented in salaries. There is no way you can cut down any further except by the discharge of men or the cutting down of salaries or cutting of the welfare and soldiers' relief. So the people look to Foley with confidence and courage and with a realization that he has a background of honesty that no one has assailed in this campaign. Twenty years of public service with an unblemished record,—quite a striking contrast with little Mal and big Freddie,—a record that has won for him the support of not only the people of South Boston but the people of the entire County of Suffolk. He has been elected on his record. At this point the Mayor referred to a recent speech of "Senator Wagner who predicted that the coming winter would be equally as bad from the standpoint of unemployment" and the Mayor said I do not agree with him, but if Senator Wagner is right then we need a man in the office of Mayor of Boston who will stand between the greed of the Good Government Association and the misery of the unfortunate poor and unemployed, who are in no way responsible for their condition, and that man is William J. Foley.

HUNTINGTON AVENUE SUBWAY EXTENSION.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, October 19, 1933.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—Your honorable body approved an expenditure in the sum of $8,500,000 for an extension of the Huntington Avenue Subway, from Copley square to Longwood avenue. In the judgment of the State Emergency Finance Board, this sum was too great for a single project and as a consequence, they refused approval. A counter proposal was submitted by the municipality providing for an extension to West Newton street at a cost of $2,500,000.

A vote of the City Council is necessary in order to comply with the requirements of the State Emergency Finance Board before they can pass upon the revised project. The necessary preliminary engineering work has been completed by the Boston Transit Commission and final approval should result in the immediate employment of a large number of men. The number of former service men at present upon the Soldiers' Relief rolls could be materially reduced and a most substantial saving in the Soldiers' Relief appropriation would be possible.

An immediate approval by the City Council will make possible an early consideration of the major portion of the original N. R. A. public works program as previously adopted by the City Council.

I accordingly recommend the passage of the accompanying order.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

Ordered, That in accordance with the provisions of section 2, Part 1, of chapter 366, of the Acts of 1933, the City of Boston shall engage in the following public work project:

Subway under Huntington avenue from Copley square to West Newton street, at an estimated cost of $2,500,000.

Coun. DOWD—Mr. President, in view of the fact that the Committee on Finance has on two different occasions favored this tunnel, and also in view of the fact that too much time has been lost in starting to do something on this project, as chairman of the Committee on Finance, I am going to move you, sir, that this order be passed under suspension of the rule, so that work may be begun as soon as possible, providing the state authorities pass favorably upon it.

Coun. KELLY—Mr. President, this, in my opinion, is a very serious matter. I do not like to take issue with the chairman of the Finance Committee of the Council, but at the same time I wish to call attention to the fact that here is an entirely new project, involving two and one half million dollars of the people's money. With the order being presented here at two o'clock today, I don't think we should put it through without any consideration whatever. I think we should sit down this week and go over the proposition very thoroughly, to see if it is a worthwhile project. If it is, and will provide work for men and their families, I say that we should hustle it through the Council next Monday. But I am against voting for an expenditure of two and one half million dollars for a project I know nothing about, under suspension of the rule.

Coun. CURTIS—Mr. President, I feel that we should have the plans here before us so that we may know upon what we are voting before we act. This is a large amount of money, two and one half million dollars, and it seems to me that the members of the Council themselves might have valuable suggestions to offer if they had a chance to go over the plans and know what it is all about. I have heard the suggestion, for example, that it might be possible to use the subway station at Copley square and save money in that way. I don't know whether that is covered in this project or not. But I do think we should not act blindly by passing the order under suspension of the rule. I don't say at all that there should be opposition to the plan, and it may very likely be that it will meet with the approval of the body. But it does seem to me that we should look at the plans first so that we may know what is proposed and what it is all about.

Coun. DOWD—Mr. President, I moved suspension of the rule because of the fact that this Council has already on two different occasions practically approved the plans previously submitted to us, involving an expenditure of eight and one-half millions, and this plan, I understand, proposes the expenditure of two and one-half millions, in order to get a start on the subway. Personally, I don't care whether the rule is suspended or not, but I do believe that the members of the Council have already given considerable study to this subway proposition, and I believe that the suggestion of the councilor from the Back Bay is undoubtedly true, that there will probably be no opposition from the Council finally, in any event. I firmly believe that there will not be opposition, because we have been favorable to this subway when the matter has come up here before; and I know that we as a body are anxious to do what we can to put men at work. Here is an opportunity to get the tunnel started, and a week's delay at this time of the year may mean that the whole thing will have to be put off until next year. We all know what this proposition is. We know that it is a tunnel, and I think we all know in a general way what it is proposed to do, where it is going to start and where it is going to end. We have already considered this Huntington avenue proposition. Now, what more do we want? The only thing I am interested in is that it is an important public work and that it is going to furnish employment to a good many men. In this matter I am not agreeing with the Mayor of Boston, but with my people. I know that they want work, and I feel that it is up to us to provide work where we can do so. I don't think any member of the Council should stand here and offer the suggestion that we should have more time to consider it. We have had plenty of time to study this whole matter. Also, this is money from a Federal allotment. The money is allotted by the Federal Government and not a five-cent piece has to be raised from the taxpayers of Boston. As to who has been to blame for holding up this project up to the present time, I don't know, but if we hold it up today, we will be blamed. It has been gone into by us previously from all angles, and I think now we should pass this order under suspension of the rule.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, I agree with my two colleagues who are opposed to hasty action, without a chance being given us to look over the proposition. So far as unnecessary delay on public works in this city is concerned, under the proposed Federal appropriation, the Mayor of Boston on September 24 was told by the State Emergency Finance Board that he could spend $10,000,000. But until now he has not acted. Where has he been in the meantime? Why the rush now? Why does he now come in and ask for the passage of an order providing two and one half millions for something we know nothing about? Where are the plans? Why should we be expected to act without knowing anything whatever about what is proposed to be done? I think that to expect us to come in here today and vote immediately in favor of an expenditure of two and one half million dollars here, when we don't know what we are acting on, is wrong. Moreover, there are other extremely important things for which this money can well be spent, and of which the State Emergency Finance Board undoubtedly would approve. For example, much work might be done on the streets of Boston and done to great advantage, work that is greatly needed. There has been a good deal of talk about this subway proposition putting men at work? Is the subway the only thing that will put men at work? Is the only answer, "Subway and work"? The people who will really be benefitted by the subway work are the ready-mix concrete men and the lumbermen. But we hear this cry about doing something for the American Legion, furnishing work for the veterans. The real ones to benefit will be the ready-mixed concrete men and the lumbermen. So why wrap this subway proposition up in the American flag and tie it up with the American Legion? That is wrong, Mr. President. If we want to spend two and one half millions, why not have something done immediately for the streets of Boston. Work on the streets can be started immediately, all over this city, and it is very much needed; and, Mr. President, that will furnish employment to a large number of men. But, no, they want the subway. But the story of the subway is the ready-mixed concrete and the lumbermen. We already have $70,000,000 in subways, mostly unpaid for, and we know the story in connection with the East Boston Tunnel, to be opened up within a few months, in connection with which it is already proposed to charge those driving vehicles through it 25 cents apiece. Imagine that, Mr. President,—charging the people who they think will use that vehicular tunnel a quarter apiece for doing so! Can you imagine, using the greatest stretch of your imagination, anybody wanting to drive a vehicle to East Boston and willing to pay 25 cents to go through the tunnel, and then pay 25 cents more to come back, when they can go by way of Charlestown free and take but a few minutes more in doing so, and when really the opening up of a tunnel should be regarded in the same light as the opening up of a bridge, for the use of the public? Of course, we are all in favor of putting men at work. But the Mayor of Boston has had all this time to make suggestions in regard to the spending of $10,000,000 on different projects, and until now has not availed himself of the opportunity. Now, this order has come in here and we are simply asking for a week's delay before we vote upon it, so that we may at least know something about it.

Coun. BARKER—Mr. President, not merely as a representative in this body of the East Boston section, but as a representative of the people of Boston, realizing the importance at this time of employing our citizens on important public works, I certainly favor the passage of this order. We all know what a serious situation is confronting many people in this city. If I were not a member of the body, I perhaps might be in the line below. I certainly agree with everything that the gentleman from Ward 8 (Coun. Dowd) has said, and I feel that this order should pass today.

Coun. HEIN—Mr. President, I move reference of the matter to the Executive Committee.

Coun. POWER—Mr. President, before this is referred to the Executive Committee, I desire to say just a word. I happened to be outside and have not heard all that has been going on, but I did hear the councilor from Hyde Park (Coun. Norton) say that all there was in the subway was helping out the mixed concrete and lumber men. I wonder if he takes into consideration the fact that this subway out Huntington avenue is necessary. We are going out that way today in street cars, about a mile and a quarter or a mile and a half outside of the city, and it takes three-quarters of an hour to an hour, whereas if this subway was put through we could run out in ten or twelve minutes. That is the only section of Boston that has not got rapid transit. We are not interested in contractors or anything of the sort in my section of the city. We are interested in having a subway, so that we may have better transportation, the same transportation that is afforded to every other part of the City of Boston. The councilor will admit that traffic has been greatly delayed on Huntington avenue, Elevated traffic and automobile traffic, and we are going to have that traffic increased by perhaps millions of automobiles on Huntington avenue next year when the new Worcester turnpike comes down to Brookline Village and into Huntington avenue. He admitted awhile ago that he would favor underpasses and over-passes on Huntington avenue. If he admits that, it is clear that relief is needed. And still he is simply talking about concrete and lumber men. I say that this subway is positively necessary. We are not interested in concrete or lumber, but we are interested in having the proper transportation facilities for our people. Then, this work is to be done by men living in our city, and there is no doubt that a large number of men will be employed. We all know what a large number of men were put at work at Governor square, which was probably the greatest achievement in the City of Boston, if not in the whole state, both in the importance of the work itself to the people and in the fact that employment was furnished to those men. When he now talks about work on the streets and the employment that will be furnished to a large number of men, he himself, a few months ago, quoting some expert in London or England, said that on roads involving an expense of millions of dollars only a few men were employed. But he now says, "Put men at work on streets, thereby employing more men than you would on subways." We know that if the $5,500,000 were given, 3,000 men would be put at work on this subway, and when two and one half millions are given, while the number employed will be proportionately smaller, there will still be a large number of men put at work, many more men than would ever be put at work on the streets, and different classes of men. Draftsmen, rodmen, engineers, all kinds of mechanics, will be employed, as well as laborers, while work on the streets would practically take in laborers and no others. I am in favor of work on the streets, also; I am in favor of whatever building can be done, of any public works program that is going to put men at work. Our President says that 4,000,000 men have gone back to work throughout the country under the new program, which hasn't really got started yet. I say, let us cut out the red tape; let us do something substantial, and let us help the President in putting men back at work.

Coun. ROBERTS—Mr. President, I also desire to say just a word in line with what has been said by the gentleman who has just spoken. Let us get in line, in this matter of public works, with other large cities of the country, with New York, New Orleans, San Francisco, and other large cities of the United States, which have already started and have well under way a public works program, while Boston and Massachusetts stand alone in having started nothing. Being satisfied that this project is not only going to be a valuable project from the point of view of the public, but is also going to put men at work, I am going to favor it and I think the time to vote for it is today, so that a start may be made as soon as possible. Personally, I am in favor of taking it up today in our executive session, under the motion that has been made, and sending for Colonel Sullivan, so that we may find out what is proposed and how many men are going to be put at work.

President McGRATH—The matter will be referred to the Executive Committee, and the City Messenger will be instructed to ask Colonel Sullivan or his representative to appear before us in the committee.

The order was referred to Executive Committee.

The question came on the confirmation of all the names under No. 3 on the calendar.

Coun. POWER—Mr. President, at the same time I would like to have Nos. 4 and 5 taken up. The Council voted to take up Nos. 4 and 5 on the calendar, under unfinished business, viz.:

4. Action on appointment submitted by the Mayor October 16, 1933, of David I. O'Connor, to be a Constable, without authority to serve civil process.

5. Action on appointment submitted by the Mayor October 16, 1933, of Freeda Sacks, to be a Weigher of Coal.

The question came on confirmation of the above appointments. Committee, Coun. Gallagher and Barker. Whole number of ballots 16—yeas 16, and the appointments were confirmed.

WARD 13 IMPROVEMENTS.

President McGRATH offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to repave Virginia street, Ward 13, with smooth paving.

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to repave Monadnock street, Ward 13, with smooth paving.

Severally passed under suspension of the rule.

COLUMBIA GARDENS.

President McGRATH offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to intercede with the Massachusetts Housing Commission and ask immediate action on the approval of the Columbia Gardens, so-called, in Ward 13, a hearing for which is being held before the Housing Commission today. This development will employ seventeen hundred and fifty men, and it is urgent that the matter be expedited in order to start employment at the earliest possible moment.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

TIMOTHY F. DONOVAN BOULEVARD.

Coun. BARKER offered the following:

Ordered, That the Board of Street Commissioners be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to change the name of Porter street, Ward 1, to Timothy F. Donovan Boulevard.

Coun. BARKER—Mr. President, by changing the name of Porter street, East Boston, to Timothy F. Donovan Boulevard, we are honoring a young man who served for years in this body and who had the love and admiration of every member of the body. This particular street, the name of which it is proposed to change, is in the part of East Boston where the late Timothy F. Donovan was born, raised and lived his life. Since the coming of the East Boston Tunnel, Porter street has been widened to about three times its original width. It has been made into a boulevard, being no longer a street, and I know that each and every member of the body who served with the late Timothy F. Donovan will be pleased to have this change of name made. It will be quite an honor to the memory of the late member, also. Therefore, I ask a suspension of the rule and a passage of the order.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

NIGHT SESSIONS FOR TRAFFIC CASES.

Coun. BARKER offered the following:

Ordered, That the Chief Justice of the Municipal Court be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to establish a night session for the judging of traffic cases in Suffolk County.

Coun. BARKER—Mr. President, I am interested in this order because of the fact that, in East Boston, as in other sections of the city—as many of my colleagues know—there are many traffic cases where men who work hard in the daytime are called into court and are put to great inconvenience and loss of a day's pay, simply in connection with traffic violations. I think, therefore, that we should have a night session, so that these persons violating the traffic rules may be saved expense and may be prevented from being taken away from their work when they have to come into court. I ask a suspension of the rule for the passage of the order.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

REPAVING OF SEA VIEW AVENUE.

Coun. BARKER offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to repave Sea View avenue, Ward 1, with smooth paving.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

SIDEWALK CONSTRUCTION.

Coun. BURKE offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works make a sidewalk along Medway street, at numbers 18 and 20 and 24, Ward 17, in front of the estates bordering thereon; said sidewalk to be from 3 to 10 inches above the gutter adjoining, to be from 5 to 12 feet in width, and to be built of artificial stone, with granite edgestones, under the provisions of chapter 196 of the Special Acts of 1917.

Coun. ENGLERT offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works make a sidewalk along South street, from No. 233 to the Arborway (inclusive), Ward 11, in front of the estates bordering thereon; said sidewalk to be from 3 to 10 inches above the gutter adjoining, to be from 5 to 12 feet in width, and to be built of artificial stone, with granite edgestones, under the provisions of chapter 196 of the Special Acts of 1917.

Severally passed under suspension of the rule.

PAYMENT TO MRS. HENRY KRAKE.

Coun. BURKE offered the following:

Ordered, That there be allowed and paid to Mrs. Henry Krake, widow of the late Henry Krake of the Fire Department, who died in the performance of his duty, an annuity of six hundred dollars, same to be charged to the Reserve Fund.

Referred to Executive Committee.

INFORMATION ASKED OF INSTITUTIONS COMMISSIONER.

Coun. DOWD offered the following:

Ordered, That the Institutions Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to answer the following interrogations propounded by the City Council:

First, What statute or ordinance, if any, allows the Institutions Commissioner to collect his salary and in addition is found, from the City of Boston?

Second, Why the commissioner wrote to the Chancellor of the Catholic Archdiocese demanding the removal of the Reverend Chaplain at Long Island?

Third, Why was the nine hundred-dollar piano, Model F, Chickering Grand, bought August 16, 1932, department order 4273, for the Recreation Building, taken away from the inmates and transferred to the commissioner's home?

Fourth, Who issued the order forbidding bathing at the front beach, and why?

Fifth, Who issued the order forbidding the employees to walk on the granolithic walks at night when off duty, and why?

Sixth, Under what authority does the commissioner use the Institutions boat for pleasure?

Seventh, Who is the real Institutions Commissioner?

Coun. DOWD—Mr. President and members of the Council, some time ago the Superintendent of Long Island was deliberately framed and his position was abolished. Chapter 3 of the Ordinances of 1920 specifically provides merely that the Institutions Commissioner shall receive a salary of $7,500 a year. When the position of superintendent was abolished, Commissioner Maguire moved to Long Island, where he received the compensation provided for under the ordinances, and is also found. According to the commissioner's own statement, at the time when Superintendent Higgins' position was abolished, according to Commissioner Maguire, the "found" amounted to $4,500 a year. If that is so, in addition to his compensation of $7,500 the commissioner is now receiving an amount which brings his compensation up to $12,000 a year. It is also rather a peculiar coincidence, in connection with the allotment of food to the commissioner at Long Island, something to which he has no right at all under our ordinances, three times the necessary amount of food is used in that house. For example, two weeks ago yesterday nine chickens and a leg of lamb were sent to the commissioner's house. I wonder if all the relatives of the Maguires in and around the City of Boston were being entertained? Then, we find in one week alone down at the laundry, that over eighteen linen tablecloths were sent to the laundry by the Maguire household. In my second request I want the commissioner to advise us why the Reverend Chidwick was removed. For eight years he was on Long Island, beloved by every individual, by the old inmates, so greatly beloved that up to the present time the very mention of his name brings tears to their eyes, because this Reverend Chaplain for eight years went through the different wards with a smile and a cheerful word for each one. Why was he framed by Commissioner Maguire? Why was his removal asked for? And there was a girl—we all know the scandal of a few months ago—who, on the advice of a social worker and the consent of the commissioner, underwent an illegal operation. She reported it, as a Catholic, to the chaplain, and the chaplain said, "This practice has got to stop." And it wasn't this girl alone, but there were seven other women, unmarried women, at the Long Island Hospital, who had illegal operations performed on them, and one of those women is now a mental wreck at the State Hospital. But because this Reverend Father did his duty, reporting it through the regular channels, he was framed. The commissioner applied for his removal to the Provincial at St. Mary's Church, in which the island lies, and wanted the chaplain removed. But the Provincial Father said, "As long as I am in charge, he will never be removed." And then the commissioner did what? He waited until the highest authority in the Catholic Archdiocese had sailed from America, and wrote a cowardly letter to the Chancellor of the Diocese attacking this chaplain who for all these years had served at Long Island, and the Reverend Father was removed from the island. Then, when the inmates wanted to tender him a reception at the island, on his departure, the commissioner refused to allow them to do so. They were not even given a chance to say good-by, although a few did so. But a stool pigeon of Commissioner Maguire was there and mentioned the names of every individual who did so, and every one of them was called before the commissioner and reprimanded for saying good-by to the Reverend Father. I know full well that I have disagreed at times very strongly with the Mayor of Boston, but I realize at the same time that he has done everything he possibly could for those poor souls who probably will never again see the mainland, and I know that he does not realize what the conditions existing at Long Island are. On the commissioner's say-so this chaplain was removed, a chaplain who was dear to the inmates, as I say, and the mere mention of his name today brings tears to their eyes. The Reverend Father was sent away from the island heartbroken. I am, therefore, going to ask the Mayor, if he finds my allegations correct—as he certainly will—to remove the commissioner for malfeasance in office. He raised his right hand to God when he took the office, and took an oath that he would administer the affairs of the island as they should be administered. But what do we find? I now come to my third question, in regard to the piano that was bought for the Recreation Building down there. This Council in its wisdom, desiring to do what could be done for the comfort of those at Long Island, appropriated $300,000 for a new Recreation Building, for which we provided furniture and fixtures and means of entertainment. One of those means was a Chickering Grand piano. Now, Mr. President, the statutes and ordinances specifically state that money appropriated must be used for the purpose for which it was appropriated. This piano, costing $900, was bought for that new Recreation Building and it went down there and was placed in the Recreation Building. But, lo and behold, the Maguires having taken charge of the island, Mrs. Maguire went down there and played the piano, and then made this caustic and sarcastic remark,—"This piano is too good for the paupers. Send it to my house." So they sent the piano to the Maguire home on Long Island. Can you, Mr. President, or can any member of this Council justify that act? Is there anything more low, more degrading or small, than taking a little bit of pleasure away from the lives of those inmates? That piano was thus taken away, and then they went down into the cellar of the Maguire household and picked up a $10 antiquated tin can that had been there seventy-five years, without a back, and sent it to the new $300,000 Recreation Building, and put up an old soap box upon which they could sit to play. Can you imagine the picture of an old soap box with some books on it, if somebody wants to play that piano? And that is where the money that this Council appropriated went to, into Commissioner Maguire's home. And so I charge the Mayor with the responsibility, if my allegation is correct,—and it is,—of removing the commissioner. I understand that the commissioner is going to resign, but I challenge the Mayor of Boston with the duty of removing him before he gets a chance to resign from that position. What else do we find? For many years employees of the institution were allowed to bathe on the front beach at Long Island. Nobody questioned it or stopped it until the Maguires took charge at the island, and they immediately issued an order to stop bathing on the front beach, so that if anybody wanted to go bathing they had to go to the back wharf, where there was great danger and no protection whatever. And conditions at Long Island got so bad that something else happened. The Mayor of Boston, out of the generosity of his heart, donated an altar in memory of his beloved wife, and the man in charge of the garden day in and day out provided flowers for the little altar. But when the Maguires took charge, all flowers went to their house. And how about the amount paid for a shipkeeper, Mr. Commissioner? What do you want a shipkeeper for? He is only a temporary man, and you want to give him $2,000 a year, although he is pensioned by the United States Government. I telephoned the Mayor's office not to allow that to go through. Then, the Maguires use the boat down there as a pleasure yacht. At any time when any member of the Maguire household wants to get a finger wave or a pair of stockings, the boat is on call. It is supposed to make two trips a day, instead of seven or eight trips. That can be proven by the coal consumption and by the help on the boat. Now, as to the question of who is the commissioner; is it Commissioner Maguire or his wife? I challenge that Long Island has been demoralized with the advent of the Maguires on the island. Girls who have studied to become nurses and who have lived in good homes have been insulted through the arrogance of Mrs. Maguire, who goes into their apartments telling them what to do and what not to do. Oh, I know only too well that the Mayor of Boston does not know what is going on down there. Some one may say that it is only through breach of etiquette that these things are done, but I say that they are done in defiance of our laws and ordinances. What right has a man who is allowed under the ordinances $7,500 a year to go down there to Long Island and be found at an expense of thousands and thousands of dollars? I say that the lowest thing was to send this scandalous letter in regard to the chaplain to the Chancellor of the Archdiocese, asking that the chaplain be removed. I hope that the Mayor of Boston will look into these things and that he will immediately order this baby grand piano to be taken away from the Maguire home and placed where it belongs. I hope also that the Mayor will immediately order the Maguires off the island, and if the Mayor complies with the law he has nothing else to do. As I have said in regard to the piano, the money was appropriated for one specific purpose, and could properly be used only for that purpose, and Commissioner Maguire in this as in other matters has committed malfeasance in office and should be removed at once. He is also inefficient; and if you, Mr. President, or any other member goes down there you cannot get a private interview with the commissioner. Mrs. Maguire stands over you. As a matter of fact, she is the real commissioner. I now call upon the Mayor of Boston to act if my allegations are correct, as I know they are, and to discharge the commissioner without any further delay or hesitation.

Coun. BURKE—Mr. President, I move that we send for the commissioner. I don't know how long it might take to get the commissioner here, but these charges are sufficient, I think, to warrant immediate action, if true. I move, therefore, that we send for the commissioner to come before the body.

President McGRATH—The question is on suspension of the rule.

The rule was suspended and the order was passed.

Coun. BARKER—Mr. President, I move that we go into recess.

Coun. BURKE—Mr. President, I think that we should have an opportunity to have the commissioner come before the body.

President McGRATH—The matter can be taken up in executive session.

RECESS.

The Council voted at 3.15 p. m., on motion of Coun. BARKER, to take a recess subject to the call of the Chair. The members reassembled in the Council Chamber and were called to order by President McGRATH at 4.22 p. m.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE REPORTS.

Coun. GALLAGHER, for the Executive Committee, submitted the following:

1. Report on order (referred today) that the Mayor be asked to intercede with Massachusetts Housing Commission and ask immediate action on approval of Columbia Gardens, in Ward 13—that same ought to pass.

Report accepted; said order passed.

2. Report on message of Mayor and order (referred today) for transfers within departmental appropriations—that same ought to pass.

Report accepted; said orders passed, yeas 20, nays 0.

3. Report on message of Mayor and order (referred today) transferring $4,000 for Welfare Department equipment—that same ought to pass.

Report accepted; said order passed, yeas 19, nays—Coun. Curtis—1.

4. Report on message of Mayor and order (referred today) approving expenditure of $2,500,000 for subway under Huntington avenue, from Copley square to West Newton street, in accordance with section 2, Part 1, chapter 366, of Acts of 1933,—that same ought to pass.

The report was accepted, and the question came on the passage of the order.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, I shall be very brief. I am opposed to the expenditure of two and one-half millions for the subway, especially when it is considered in connection with the expenditure we are already making in connection with the new East Boston Vehicular Tunnel, and in other directions. We have a tremendous financial burden on our hands. Last year the Boston Elevated placed on the backs of our Boston taxpayers a deficit of one and three-fourths millions. This is really merely the old item of eight and one-half millions for Huntington avenue, because it is simply the start. It does not take care of the main problem of congestion on Massachusetts and Huntington avenues. It will take care of only about twenty electric cars per hour. And we ought to be particularly slow in making appropriations of this kind, having in view the pending improvements in new electric cars, high speed trolleys, and motor buses. Therefore, I am opposed to this proposed expenditure of two and one-half million dollars. If we want to employ men and also carry out important public work, we can start next week spending money on our streets. It may be said that we could not put many men at work on the streets; that the work would be done by machines. That is so on many of the new street projects, but when it comes to fixing up our streets, putting them in the condition they should be in, many men can be employed. I am, therefore, opposed to this proposed expenditure of two and one-half millions in connection with the subway out Huntington avenue. It will simply mean additional money coming out of the taxpayers of Boston—largely, as I have said, to be paid to concrete and lumber men—at a time when our people, and this means very largely in the final analysis the rentpayers, are being greatly overburdened.

Coun. CURTIS—Mr. President, I would like to record my position on the proposition, also. I believe the only merit of a scheme like this is that it will put men at work. That is something that we should all be very glad—and which I personally would be very glad—to vote for, if it was also accomplishing a corresponding public benefit; but I believe it is possible to put men at work and spend two and one-half million dollars in this city on some proposition that is going to be a real utility to the people of Boston. I do not believe that this proposition would be of real utility to the people of Boston in general, for three reasons. In the first place, what have we got? Look at the plan. It simply covers a short little stretch from Copley square up to Mechanics Hall. That is all it is. We have already a subway running up Boylston street, with an entrance at Copley square. So this proposition is neither one thing nor the other. It does not provide rapid transit for the people of the district that would be served by this line. It is only a short stretch, not a real rapid transit proposition. Second, it is not a real traffic relief proposition. We have had opportunities to make expenditures of money that would be a great improvement to our traffic conditions—like the traffic circle at Charles street. If anybody is looking for a chance to improve traffic conditions, something like that would offer an opportunity for the expenditure of money that would be of real benefit to the traveling public, accomplishing far more than would be accomplished by this little proposed stretch of subway from Copley square up to Mechanics Hall. In the third place, we all know that subway lines and trolley lines may be pretty nearly obsolete in twenty-five years. They are a burden on the people of Boston. So I believe we have a proposition here that originally may have been a useful rapid transit project that was worth the money, but now it is neither one thing nor the other. It is neither a real rapid transit improvement nor a real traffic improvement. It is just a way of spending money and putting men at work, and I say that a dozen ways can be found around the city of placing men at work on things that would be of more real utility to the people of Boston. So I hope the order will not go through. President McGrath spoke to us today about a proposition that would mean the building of housing for the people of Boston near the waterfront on land that is now simply a dump. It looks as if there might be something in that proposition, and I would say offhand that something of that sort appeals to me a great deal more than this proposition, which I believe will be a liability and not an asset to the people of Boston. When we come to pass the budget next year, we must remember that the debt requirement on this two and one-half million dollars must be met, as it must be met for the next forty years, adding materially to the debt of the city. The interest on the loan requirement will be over $100,000 a year. We have got to be careful, Mr. President. We have to go in for propositions that will be of real benefit to the city and will also help out in relieving the unemployment situation, but let us go in for the right ones.

Coun. ROBERTS—Mr. President, the remarks of the two distinguished colleagues who have spoken in opposition to this plan indicate the difficulty of getting together on a program, the working out of which will not only mean a benefit to the public but the relieving of unemployment. I remember when a street program was discussed awhile ago both of the colleagues expressed an opinion against the construction of streets. At the present time their opinion seems to have changed. Of course, they are not to be subjected to criticism for having changed their minds, but it simply indicates the difficulty we have in getting started on public improvements. And we are behind other large cities of this country, Mr. President, in a public works program. The President of the United States is committed to public works in the present crisis with which we are confronted, but Boston is lagging behind. The trouble is that every program suggested is met with this same opposition. One of the things I wanted to learn from the chairman of the Transit Commission when he came before us today was how many men this proposition would put at work. He said that if we passed the order it would mean that 700 would be put at work within a reasonable time. We have discussed the Huntington avenue situation pro and con several times already in the body, and I don't think any man can justly say that the carrying out of the project now suggested will not mean an improvement in our transportation facilities. In New York they are building another tunnel across the Hudson river, San Francisco is spending millions of dollars along this same line, similar work is being done in Detroit, and it seems to me that Boston should also do its part, not only in carrying out an important public improvement, but in helping out our working class, who have not had a break for years. For that reason I propose to vote for this order, which will mean putting a large number of men at work, and putting them at work right away.

Coun. KELLY—Mr. President, I propose to vote for the project. The reason I intend to vote for it is because of the fact that the job is going to be conducted by day labor, and that within a short time several hundred men, who must be citizens and residents of Boston, will go to work on the project. Due to the fact that many of the men who will thus receive work are now getting welfare or soldiers' relief from the city, I claim that the people of Boston will not only get the benefit of a great public improvement, but will also save thousands of dollars that would otherwise be given out without any such return. If this were a question of contractors getting the money, I would be against it, because I know that they are hiring residents of adjoining cities and towns on Boston projects. That I would certainly be against. But under the supervision of the Federal Government I know that the men who will go to work will be residents or citizens of Boston, and 70 per cent of the amount appropriated will be spent in wages. I realize that there may be approximately a million dollars go in some form of graft. I realize that there will be plenty of money spent for ready-mixed concrete and for the buying of lumber, iron and steel. But it will put some men at work, and will do so immediately, and doing that benefits not only the home owner but the rent payer, because many a man now out of work is unable to pay his rent to the overburdened taxpayer. He will now have a weekly stipend coming in for perhaps a year and will be able to pay his rent, past and present, to the owner. I realize that perhaps there might be better projects submitted, but nobody seems to me submitting them. I agree with the colleague from Hyde Park (Coun. Norton) that construction of streets is a very beneficial way to spend money at the present time, and I hope the Mayor will see fit out of the remaining seven and one half millions to spend a good deal of it for day labor on the streets of Boston, employing citizens and residents of Boston to do the work.

Coun. MURRAY—Mr. President, I believe this is a project that will put men at work, and I know that many men in my district and in other parts of the city greatly need work at the present time. This will at least mean a start on this plan, which I think is a very important plan and very greatly for the benefit of the citizens of Boston, and I trust that in the near future the subway will go to South Huntington avenue and that it will ultimately result in taking down the Elevated structure at Forest Hills. We will then have subway accommodations to properly take care of the people of that district. I asked the chairman of the Transit Commission if it was proposed to put citizens of Boston only at work, and he assured me that that was so; that some of the work at Kenmore was done outside of Boston, and was somewhat different in that respect. But he informed me that this was a Boston project and that the money coming from Washington to Boston would be spent only for Boston men.

Coun. BRACKMAN—Mr. President, ever since I have been a member of the Council we have weighed many projects with reference to the number of people who would be put at work by the passage of a particular proposition. I think the best possible opportunity to put men at work is afforded through a project of this kind, a subway. In most of the things brought before us only a handful of men are put at work, even though many thousand dollars are spent. But I feel that we must consider that the putting of a large number of men at work is the real prime motive in balancing up these things, assuming, of course, that the thing done is for the public benefit. I certainly feel that this proposed improvement, building this subway at the present time, will be a real benefit to the people of this city, and I believe that in time to come all our transportation should be underground and not on the surface. We realize that we now have an archaic system, and that eventually we will have to spend the money necessary to put that kind of transportation underground. We now have an opportunity to do that with government money, obtained at a very low interest charge against the city. So I feel that we should take advantage of the opportunity at this time, because when times are normalized we will have a great deal of difficulty in raising the necessary funds to meet increased cost of materials. For that reason, I intend to vote for the measure.

Coun. POWER—Mr. President, I don't want to take up too much time of the Council again on this project. Every time it has come up I have had something to say, and I thought I had made myself clear on those different occasions. But it does seem to me that we should in this way take advantage of the financial opportunity given to us by the Federal Government. Every other city and town in the United States has taken advantage of it already, and, as the councillor from Ward 4 (Coun. Roberts) has said, we have not yet got started. So I feel that we might as well get started right away and take advantage of this chance which has been given to us. It is not a question of putting the thing through without an opportunity of thinking it over. We have had it before us in one form or another for a year and a half or two years. Last year the Legislature passed it and the Governor signed it. And here it is again now, after its rejection previously. I say, let us get to work and put men back at work. There are plenty of them loafing now, and let us cut the red tape and get going. We now hear objection from some of the members on the ground that this is only a small subway. Well, they opposed this subway also when it was going out to South Huntington avenue. But what is here proposed is in line with what we are after. It is what we have been after for a long time in my section. Don't let us be fooled, either, by this talk about ready-mixed concrete. There will be only $200,000 or $300,000 spent on ready-mixed concrete, which is a small item, and men comprising every kind of mechanic and laborer will be put at work on this subway. I say, cut out the red tape and let us get going.

Coun. BURKE—Mr. President, being one of the proponents of the original subway, I feel that we should now go along on this subway project, regardless of the limitations placed upon it. We will at least be starting the public works program that has been delayed by dilatory action at the State House. This is the beginning of a plan initiated by the President of the United States to put men at work during the winter of 1933-34. It is the only practical plan so far presented for putting men at work in the wintertime. We know that it is then impossible to do street work. The opportunity is now afforded to put 700 men at work on this subway, and that will be only a start. Even the State Emergency Finance Commission admits that $10,000,000 should be used on public works in this city, and this will leave $7,500,000 more for other projects that will be presented following this particular project. Our job at the present time, Mr. President, is to take care of people out of employment and to work along that end in harmony with the National Recovery Act. Our job is to see that the money is spent on projects that are utilitarian, useful to the people of Boston, and I don't think even the councillor from the Back Bay can really deny that this particular project has a great deal of merit. I trust that shortly after this project has started, the State Emergency Finance Commission may see fit to review the other part of the project and have the work carried on, so that 3,000 or 4,000 men may be employed. So I trust that we will carry out a work and wages policy, letting the state government know that we are cooperating with them in this matter and will also be glad to cooperate with them in the expenditure of the other $7,500,000 in a way that will put a few thousand more men at work.

The order was passed, yeas 18, nays 2:

Yeas—Coun. Barker, Brackman, Burke, Donovan, Dowd, Englert, Fish, Gallagher, Gleason, Green, Hein, Kelly, Lynch, McGrath, Murray, Power, Roberts, Ruby—18.

Nays—Coun. Curtis, Norton—2.

PROTECTION OF SCHOOL CHILDREN.

Coun. RUBY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Police Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to inform the Council what instructions or orders, if any, have been given with reference to the protection of children going to school by the police.

Coun. RUBY—Mr. President, I was rather astounded to read the report of the Police Commissioner today in answer to my request for information about the number of men placed in the different police stations of Boston. It appears that in the first four stations of Boston—Divisions 1, 2, 4 and 6—there are 764 men out of the entire total of 1,890 for the city. It may be of interest to note that in a location such as Hyde Park, with all the miles of territory that have to be covered, there are only fifty-one men. In the district I am privileged to represent in this body, Division 19, where there are upwards of 65,000 men, women and children, going as far as Dorchester Lower Mills, from Columbia road out Blue Hill avenue, and then going to Mattapan square, there are but eighty-four men assigned. On the basis of the men working eight hours a day, for that entire section, covering miles and miles of territory, there are but twenty-eight men at any one time to travel to and fro and protect the lives and property of those living in that division. Is it any wonder that the captains of such divisions are unable to give us men for the protection of children at the very dangerous crossings? Is it fair that the personnel of such a division as 19, which should be normally 120 men, should stand as it is today, so seriously under-manned? That sort of thing is the reason why there are so many breaks in the residential part of Boston, why there are so many accidents which, I maintain, could be avoided if a certain number of police officers could be instructed to be at important crossings when children are going to and coming from school. Is it fair that in such an important division as 14, in Brighton, there should be only ninety-five men? Is it fair that such a section as Hyde Park should have the smallest division, with only fifty-one men, allowing less than seventeen men to take care of such a division as that? Is it fair that there should be only twenty-eight men available at one time in my section of Boston, on the basis of eight-hour periods? Is it any wonder that the men, compelled to patrol beats four and five times as long as the average are physically unable to perform their duty? Then, the day officers have other duties to perform, going to court, and one thing and another, with the result that we have not more than eight or twelve men a day patrolling mile after mile of territory in such extensive districts as I have referred to. I do not see how it is possible for a patrolman, sworn to do his duty, to cover the number of miles he has to travel, in an hour or two before he reaches his box. I do not see how we can expect to avoid accidents. There seems to be nothing to be done about it. The present commissioner will not install radio to help relieve the situation. If he installed police radio, with at least two or three cars travelling through our section of the city, we would certainly have that additional protection. But as it is, when you pick up the paper any day you will see that bandits have visited this store or that place, that criminals have committed crimes in this or that section, and the only way in which that sort of thing is combated is by having a patrolman or two go through the streets of the city every day. Is it any wonder, under the circumstances, that crime is prevalent? Is it any wonder that criminals are able to continue to rob and kill the people of our city, when the commissioner will not do his sworn duty? I believe that in my district 120 men should be the minimum, so that we might have thirty or forty of those men at important crossings at times when they might protect our children. What is more important than the protection and the safety of children? Those of us who are married and have children have those children sent to school by our wives in the morning, and we continually wonder whether they will reach their destination in safety. In my own case, I have two children, one five and the other ten, who are compelled to cross Blue Hill avenue at Grove Hall without protection against automobile or street car traffic, because the Police Department cannot spare men to patrol that particular section of the city at that hour in the day. And so I believe we should continue this battle for better protection of our children and for better general protection of our lives and property. For that reason I am asking in this order that we be informed what the Police Commissioner is doing in the matter of safeguarding the lives of your children and my children, the lives and safety of the children of the entire city, who are compelled to walk ten or fifteen minutes from their homes to and from school, in order that we may try to take steps to give them proper protection. What does the cost in money mean, Mr. President, in comparison with the safety of the life of one of those children? I cannot see why the Police Commissioner will not take steps to bring the personnel of the department up to its proper strength so that we in Boston may get proper police protection. I am not interested in the rating of a particular station so much as I am in the protection of the life of children. Instead of having 213 men in Division 1, send some of those men where they will do the most good, to the suburban parts of Boston, where the automobile traffic is so heavy in the morning and the afternoon, and give us the protection for our children that we deserve and ought to get. Instead of keeping 500 or 600 men in the heart of Boston, send them into the suburban districts, in order that our children may be protected. I ask a suspension of the rule and the passage of the order.

Coun. BURKE—Mr. President, I am quite interested in the figures quoted by the councillor. Station 9 happens to have jurisdiction of a part of my ward. Only the other night I was called up by the lady in charge of the library, at the junction of Washington and Richmond streets, and asked to go down there, because of what was going on. When I got there I found that there were twelve or thirteen young boys and girls throwing books, apple cores and everything else at each other, and the lady said that that condition existed every day and that it was impossible for her to get a police officer to come in and stop it. As a result, hundreds are deprived of library accommodations in the district. I have received at least ten letters from people in the Codman Hill section, where houses have been broken in—in the case of one woman three times, once in one week and twice the second week. The Police Commissioner of the City of Boston should take cognizance of the fact that he is not doing his job as Police Commissioner unless he gives the protection that can properly be required; and if he cannot do so the matter should be called to the attention of the Governor of Massachusetts who, if the commissioner is not able to perform his duty properly, should appoint somebody else qualified to do the work, somebody who will give the proper protection to our citizens.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

Voted, That this Board determines that no person sustains damages in his estate by the making of the public improvement, consisting of the laying out and construction of Assabet street, Dorchester district, as a highway, from Neponset avenue to Train street, under the order of the Board of October 27, 1933, and awards no damages therefor.

REAL ENEMY OF UNEMPLOYED AND NEEDY, MAYOR CURLEY POINTS OUT IN RALLY ADDRESS, ARE ORGANIZATIONS SUPPORTING CANDIDACY OF MANSFIELD FOR MAYOR. REFERS TO GOOD GOVERNMENT ASSOCIATION AND BETTER BUSINESS BUREAU IN YOUNG'S HOTEL FORUM MEETING.

In the Foley-for-Mayor rally at Old Young's Hotel, on October 27, Mayor Curley spoke as follows:

That the records may be kept in proper order, now that the Comptroller of Currency has directed attention to the fact that the candidate who was most vitriolic in his denunciation of all persons who had anything to do with the Federal National Bank was himself a borrower from this institution and not only a borrower but in addition had failed to pay anything, it is but proper that other corrections be made.

It has been charged that I was a director of the Federal National Bank. I have never been a director of the Federal National Bank or held any position in that institution. Its owners are its manipulators. In common with many thousands of other persons, I too was a victim. I had a small checking account of $700, and I had deposited some years ago $1,000 in the name of one of my children, in the savings department, to discover when the bank closed that it had been transferred to the commercial department. Evidently this was a part of the system of pillaging. I had purchased some stock which was in the name of my daughter and upon which I was required to pay $20 per share assessment. The deposits by the city in the Federal National Bank were about the proportional amount carried in other banks in which the city had deposited at the time.

The Federal National Bank, as its name implied, is, as Attorneys O'Connell and Mansfield should know, subject only to supervision and prosecution by the Federal Government and does not come within the purview of the District Attorney of the county in which the bank is located. Candidate O'Connell has seen fit to attempt an explanation of his charge that I had interceded in behalf of another victim of the closed Federal National Bank, Mr. Dolan. It would be but proper that he now make explanation and apology for his charge that I was a director of the Federal National Bank.

After all, it is difficult to understand why anyone other than the officials of the bank should be held responsible for the misconduct of the affairs of the bank, and surely the candidates for office cannot themselves believe that it is possible to deceive the public as to their real purpose, namely, the creation of political capital, and the lining up of the stockholders of the bank against any other candidate. So far as I am able to ascertain, pretty nearly everybody who carried an account in this bank was a victim rather than a beneficiary as a consequence of its closing.

The promissory stage of the campaign apparently has been reached and the profusion with which impossible promises are being made is but added evidence of the absolute lack of knowledge of certain of the candidates as to conditions, either governed by law or by circumstance, in the conduct of affairs of the various departments of the city.

Candidate O'Connell stated last night that he proposed to reduce by $5,000,000 the cost of conducting the School Department, while Mr. Mansfield stated that the increase in the cost of the city departments was most appalling. Candidate Mansfield laid great stress upon the failure of Mayor Curley to include in his comparative table of Good Government Mayors and his own administrations the expenditures of the past four years. I beg to state for the benefit of candidates O'Connell and Mansfield that it would be advisable for them, because of their elementary knowledge of municipal affairs, to confer with the City Auditor or with someone who is sufficiently informed to protect them from making themselves absolutely ridiculous by the character of statements that from time to time they are making. The statement by Candidate O'Connell that he could further reduce the cost of the conduct of the School Department by $5,000,000 in event of his election is as ridiculous as the statement by Candidate Mansfield made some time ago that 65 cents of every dollar is wasted.

I beg to state for the benefit of these two gentlemen that the expenditures of the School Department have been reduced by nearly $6,000,000 since 1930. The actual allotment in 1931 was $21,780,219.34 and the appropriation for 1933 was $15,230,145.64 and there is no way in which a further reduction of one third can be made except through a discharge of one in every three of the employees of the School Department.

I do not believe the present is quite the time to embark upon such a program with more than ten millions of persons without employment in the United States and in view of the fact that a further reduction in the School Department appropriation would unquestionably result in the crippling of the entire department.

Contrary to the general belief, excluding public welfare and Soldiers' Relief allotments, the actual expenditures directly in the control of the Mayor is less than 30 cents of every dollar received by the city, so that 70 cents of every dollar if we exclude public welfare and Soldiers' Relief is beyond the control of the Mayor and I invite comparison as to the program that has been made and all of which has been necessary in order that sufficient money be provided to prevent breadlines and soup kitchens and to continue the humane and liberal policy that has been in operation during the past four years for the benefit of the needy and unemployed of Boston.

The real enemy, Mr. Mansfield, of the unemployed and the needy and the home owner of Boston are the men with whom you are associated and who are backing your candidacy and who are appealing for funds with which to corrupt the electorate of Boston, the Good Government Association and the Boston Better Business Bureau. These are the agencies that have prevented the adoption of a Federal construction program that would have provided work for the people. These are the agencies constantly raiding the city treasury for their own enrichment.

The public are, or will be, informed as to their infamous conduct and, informed, the public can be relied upon to elect as Mayor of Boston on the seventh day of November the choice of the Democratic party in Boston, William J. Foley.

QUESTION OF WHETHER PEOPLE OR FEW GREEDY CITIZENS SHALL CONTROL CITY.

Mayor James M. Curley speaking at rally in the interest of the candidacy of William J. Foley said:

There has been an attempt made by one of the Congressmen speaking in behalf of Mr. Mansfield to convey the impression that the interests of the veterans would be better served through the election of Mr. Mansfield than through the election of Mr. Foley. An endeavor was made to convey the impression that a direct attempt has been made to reflect on the engagements that took place during the Spanish-American War. No one attempted to reflect on any individual who participated in any engagement. We only discussed in a mild way the service of one individual who desired to pose as a hero because of his service as an apothecary clerk during that war.

Now, then, the fact remains that the very forces aligned with Mansfield in this campaign are the men who were interested in defaming the soldiers upon the question of paying their bonus during the last year. Carl Dennett was the leader of this movement in this section of the United States. Members of the Good Government Association were also his supporters, and members of the Municipal Research Bureau were also aligned with him, and the men associated with Mr. Foley are the men who stood with the veterans and opposed and exposed the work of these organizations in their attempt to defame and detract from the services rendered by patriotic citizens during the war.

This man Whiteside, Public Enemy No. 1, is the chief supporter of Mr. Mansfield. He secured abatements of over three million dollars.

Whiteside says, "Elect Mansfield and we will cut down the valuations of properties of Boston $300,000,000." The total valuations of Boston properties is $1,650,000,000. To cut these values down now means a reduction in the amount that will have to be paid by the wealthy property owners, but he said to offset it by cutting down the cost of running the city $15,000,000. You can only cut it down more by discharging 3,000 city employees, or by cutting the wages 15 per cent in addition to what they have already been cut and by reducing the allotment for food, shelter and protection to the unemployed and needy of the city.

That is the issue. Are we going to allow ten selfish, greedy creatures to have control of the City of Boston, or are we going to demand our rights to run our own affairs, as Democrats, of the Democratic City of Boston?

WELFARE DEPARTMENT BOARD REPLIES TO CHARGES OF FINANCE COMMISSION—DENIES DEPARTMENT HAS NO CENTRAL VISIBLE INDEX AND ASSERTS RECORDS ACCURATELY AND FULLY REFLECT ESSENTIAL AND SALIENT FACTS IN EVERY CASE BEING AIDED—MISCONCEPTIONS AND MISUNDERSTANDINGS MIGHT HAVE BEEN PREVENTED AND CONFERENCES PROPOSED AND AGREED UPON AS HELPFUL MIGHT HAVE BEEN HELD.

Upon October 20 the Mayor received the following report from the Overseers of the Public Welfare:

Boston, October 20, 1933.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY.

DEAR SIR,—In compliance with your request the Overseers of the Public Welfare have given careful consideration to the report of the Finance Commission dated October 10, 1933, concerning certain matters pertaining to the Public Welfare Department and respectfully submit the following report.

At the outset the Board desires to express its pleasure and satisfaction in the findings of the Finance Commission with reference to the thirty-nine "specific cases" investigated at the request of the Acting Mayor. The Finance Commission summarizes its investigation of these cases in the following statement: "The Finance Commission investigated all the cases on the list submitted by the Acting Mayor. Nothing was found in any case to warrant the conclusion that it should not have received city aid."

Having disposed in unequivocal language of charges which, when originally voiced, unfortunately created in the minds of the public a false and erroneous conception of the manner in which the work of the Public Welfare Department was being conducted, the Finance Commission offers several conclusions resulting from an "intensive" investigation on their part.

The chief criticism of the Finance Commission is that the system in operation in this department is "wide open to fraud," and that this condition is due largely to the manner in which the records of the department are maintained. Specifically, the commission contends that the department lacks a reliable central index of the cases being aided. The Board protests this statement as not being warranted in fact, and answers that an active central visible index is maintained by the department and that the commission investigators made frequent use of this index during their investigation. The Board also desires to state that no records are released from the file room until requisitions in writing are presented to the file clerks and that the records released on such requisitions are chargeable to the persons taking same. A regular follow-up of records "out of file" is in effect and no records are permitted to remain out of file for an unreasonable period of time.

The Board is in thorough agreement with the commission that the keeping of accurate records is as important as the visitation of the cases recorded. It contends, however, that the records of the department, as they exist today, accurately and fully reflect the essential and salient facts in every case being aided. This statement is supported by the admission of the commission that improvement in the records of the department has been made since their previous investigation.

The commission criticizes the assignment of welfare recipients to the various city departments and particularly mentions the unauthorized use of stamps with instances of petty graft in regard to their use.

The Board recognizes that this is a real and difficult problem and is making every effort to improve the system. In connection with this phase of our work the Board advises that prosecution has been made in several cases discovered in the course of regular departmental investigation and that only this week a sentence of one year was imposed in the Superior Court upon an offender found guilty of the fraudulent use of a work stamp.

The Board is surprised at the statement of the commission that "the City Department heads generally report that no attempt is made to classify the aid recipients in accordance with their training, experience or ability so that often men are sent out entirely unsuited to the work required of them." The commission must be aware of the fact that the department maintains an active classified index of all unemployed men who are in receipt of aid and that we have been able to supply properly qualified men to all city department heads on their request. As an example, the Statistics Department alone has the use of some sixty unemployed men with clerical and statistical experience assigned by our department. No complaints have been registered with the Board by any city department head but rather have we heard many favorable comments from city officials with reference to the work performed by the aid men assigned to their departments. It must be noted, however, that a large percentage of our unemployed men are manual workers and if as stated they tend to demoralize the regular city employees, the fault would seem to rest on the supervisory officials of the departments to which these men are assigned. The Board has no alternative with reference to this class of men and the commission offers no plan or solution.

The commission states that "the expenditures of the department of Public Welfare are one of the chief problems facing the City of Boston." The commission should add that this problem is one of the chief problems facing every community in the United States today and that no community has met the problem in a more adequate and humane manner than our city with your counsel and generous support.

SPECIFIC CASES CITED.

In addition to the thirty-nine specific cases investigated at the request of the Acting Mayor the commission on its own initiative extended its investigations by picking out several sections of the city and made an intensive investigation covering 536 cases in the several sections. In this connection the commission states that on the question of actual fraud, the Finance Commission found "in the 536 cases investigated, twenty-four which in the opinion of the commission's investigators should not have been receiving city aid."

In passing the Board feels it desirable to point out that the percentage of "possible fraud" represented by the findings of the commission's investigators, namely, 4½ per cent, reflects a marked reduction from the amount of "fraud" which has been charged against the department on previous occasions when investigations of welfare recipients have been conducted.

The Board has made a very thorough check-up of the twenty-four cases in question and respectfully presents the facts in each case as they appear in the official records of this department:

1. Case No. 65,886.

Aid—$15 weekly. Basis: Man, wife, ten children.

Finance Commission statement:

This was a case of misuse of work stamps by some one not determined. Work card was stamped at Boston City Hospital, but foreman in charge of Boston City Hospital work crew gave a written statement that this man never worked there. Recipient has constant use of Packard sedan, Reg. No. 724986, garaged in rear of his house in city although actual registration is in name of a Bridgewater man. Recipient is president of a local club which buys groceries and resells them to welfare recipients at a 5 per cent margin. Bootlegging activities may be connected with this case as well.

Public Welfare Department answer:

Packard sedan is owned and registered in name of man's brother-in-law, a taxicab driver at present rooming in the South End, though his home is in Bridgewater. He puts car in rear of applicant's house to save garage fee. Applicant vehemently denies statement that he did not work at the Boston City Hospital as assigned, and has produced weekly his work card bearing the official Boston City Hospital stamp certifying to his work there. Man is the president of an organization of his countrymen paying dues of 50 cents monthly. There are 150 members and groceries are purchased in bulk at a wholesale price with the dues paid in. Each member is allowed his share of such purchases at the lower price made possible by the bulk buying. He receives no financial benefit by reason of his holding office in the organization. No tangible evidence of bootlegging ever found by department and the commission's investigator admitted his findings were only suspicions. Investigator further admitted that family numbering twelve persons needed aid, and such aid is being granted.

2. Case No. 98,730.

Aid—$12 weekly. Basis: Man, wife, three children (7-5-2).

Finance Commission statement:

Investigation disclosed man not reporting for work but work cards apparently stamped. Statements obtained from foreman of city yards concerned with work cards that man never reported there for work. Strong evidence man was working outside.

Public Welfare Department answer:

This man voluntarily advised department visitor that he had obtained work and aid was discontinued on August 24, 1933. Commission investigator knew that aid had been stopped. Man had worked on assignment for his aid up to the time he secured regular employment. Work cards stamped by the foreman of the yard where man was assigned presented weekly to the department.

3. Case No. 36,449.

Aid—$15 weekly. Basis: Man, wife, seven children.

Finance Commission statement:

Case on and off rolls since February 4, 1925.

Investigation located a Hudson sedan, Reg. No. 742979, registered for 1932 and 1933 in maiden name of wife. Also a truck, Reg. B10265, registered in name of another but actually belonging to recipient. Aid stopped July 6, 1933.

Public Welfare Department answer:

This man voluntarily advised department visitor he had obtained work, and aid was discontinued on July 7, 1933. Family not being aided when commission investigated. There is no automobile or truck registered in applicant's name. Registry of Motor Vehicles records show Reg. No. 742979 in a name which is not the maiden name of man's wife, as it appears on our record. Registry of Motor Vehicles records show Reg. No. B10265 in name of Hood Milk Company. Hood Milk Company reports that driver of this truck is a R. C. living in South Boston. No one by applicant's name is employed by the company.

4. Case No. 63,907.

Aid—$15 weekly. Basis: Woman, seven children (22-19-15-12-9-8-7).

Finance Commission statement:

Investigation disclosed two daughters working for better part of last two years. Home conditions highly indicative of bootlegging as still found to be in operation upon visit.

Public Welfare Department answer:

Oldest girl in family, twenty-two years of age, has not lived at home for several months and is not living at home now. Nineteen-year old girl formerly employed at Dress Corporation. Statement on file in department's record of recent date states this girl not in its employ for over one year. Next oldest child fourteen years attends school. No evidence of any still in house. Department requested the Society for Prevention of Cruelty of Children to make an independent investigation. This organization after careful investigation reported only evidence of a still found was "an ordinary copper boiler" but no evidence of bootlegging.

5. Case No. 102,133.

Aid—$10 weekly. Basis: Man, wife, two children (1-3).

Finance Commission statement:

Investigation developed man separated from family and not supporting them. Always stated they were about to return and live with him. Facts would indicate that for period of April 17—July 17 man should have been allowed at maximum only $4 or $5 weekly. Unable to contact case. "Stop" notice put on pay card by visitor and man has not shown up at overseers since.

Public Welfare Department answer:

Family applied for aid in April, 1933. Department visitor called and talked with the father who explained that his wife and two babies had gone to his mother's house the day before because they had no food or fuel. Department visitor contacted man's mother who stated that her daughter-in-law and the two babies stayed at her house until the department gave relief when they immediately returned to their own home. Department visitor contacted the owner of the property where family resided and she stated the family had lived in her house from October, 1930, to June, 1933, and in fact although they have since moved, she has stored some of their furniture in her house. She further stated that the mother and her two children were always at home except for occasional visits to the man's mother. She added that the family moved owing six months rent but she was perfectly satisfied that this debt would be paid when man secured employment. She stated that he was a fine type man and she would not think of pressing him for the rent owed. There has never been any question of family discord and particularly no question of any separation of husband and wife.

6. Case No. 34,446.

Aid—$11 weekly. Basis: Widow three children (21-17-15).

Finance Commission statement:

Case seems to be one of bold fraud. Recipient working nights earning $13 a week since May, 1931. One son in Conservation Corps for May and June, 1933. Same son went to work for Edison Company on August 25, 1933. Visitor now has wage reports and has stopped and pending further investigation.

Public Welfare Department answer:

Aid was discontinued by the department visitor on August 30, 1933, because of evidence that woman was employed at night. This action was taken by the department prior to the Finance Commission investigation. Following our regular procedure this case has been referred to our special officer for legal action.

7. Case No. 65,136.

Aid—$13 weekly. Basis: Man, wife, four children.

Finance Commission statement:

Case where investigator satisfied himself woman was working nights. On August 30 woman reported husband working and aid no longer needed. No question that attention of investigator forced case off rolls.

Public Welfare Department answer:

Department visitor was suspicious that woman was working nights but had been unable to secure evidence sufficiently definite to discontinue aid. Woman steadfastly denied that she was working. Her husband was working four days each week for the department in return for the aid granted. Aid was discontinued August 30 when woman reported to department visitor that her husband had secured employment at the foundry. This case has been referred to our special officer for legal action.

8. Case No. 99,258.

Aid—$7 weekly. Basis: Man, wife.

Finance Commission statement:

Case where investigator established fact woman was working.

Public Welfare Department answer:

In course of Finance Commission investigation their investigator was informed by a neighbor's child that woman was working in a shoe factory in Boston. Investigation at one factory was unsuccessful but investigation at a second factory disclosed that woman was employed there since May 1933, and earned a total of $50 for thirteen weeks. The Finance Commission properly takes credit for this discovery. Case is in the hands of special officer for prosecution.

9. Case No. 32,611.

Aid—$9 weekly. Basis: Man, wife, one child (3).

Finance Commission statement:

Case where investigator established fact man working Sundays and week days. Apparently a forged rent receipt being used as landlord complained of no rent and rent card was apparently properly signed.

Public Welfare Department answer:

Finance Commission investigator advised department visitor that man was working as a bootblack but at the same time recommended that aid which had been temporarily suspended be restored. Two days later the man's employer wrote department visitor that man was working an average of one hour and a half on Sundays only earning fifty cents. Landlord complained that man was not paying rent regularly and department visitor arranged several times to have a conference of all parties in order to adjust the matter. Landlord, however, failed to attend conference as arranged. Family have since moved from this house.

10. Case No. 105,622.

Aid—$4 weekly. Basis: Woman (deserted).

Finance Commission statement:

Case disclosed bank account of $2,071.32 in Provident Institution for Savings.

Public Welfare Department answer:

Aid was granted on a total amount of $24. In the course of the regular department investigation banks were written to and one bank reply disclosed an account of $2,071.32. On our request the City Law Department immediately attached this account and the woman was forced to make full reimbursement in the amount of $24. The Finance Commission had absolutely nothing to do with this discovery. The information was given to the Finance Commission investigator very innocently by a department clerk. This is clearly an evidence of unfair methods.

11. Case No. 104,078.

Aid—$4 weekly. Basis: Man (deserted).

Finance Commission statement:

The recipient could not be located but after visit of investigator to address given the recipient is reported to have advised visitor he no longer needed aid and aid stopped.

Public Welfare Department answer:

Finance Commission investigator unable to secure information from landlord as to where man could be located.

Landlord has advised department visitor that man lived at her house during the time he was aided but that when he secured employment he left her house to be nearer his work. She stated that he calls occasionally to see a friend who lives in her house. Aid was granted for two months only and was discontinued by department visitor on man's statement that he had secured employment.

12. Case No. 97,354.

Aid—$7 weekly. Basis: Man, wife.

Finance Commission statement:

Many calls failed to find this recipient.

at home. Evidence was to effect man was working. Referred to visitor and recipient never returned for aid.

Public Welfare Department answer:

Man was assigned to work at the Statistics Department at City Hall two days a week but frequently worked there three and four days a week voluntarily. Aid was temporarily suspended for a check-up at which time man emphatically stated he was not working and the fact that he was at that time reporting and working at the Statistics Department confirmed his statement. A few days after Finance Commission visit to his home he reported to department visitor that he had secured work but thought it would not last very long.

13. Case No. 101,105.

Aid—$10 weekly. Basis: Man, wife, two children (17-11).

Finance Commission statement:

Case showed family moved to Boston from Everett to get on aid list there. Man is a contractor and investigation disclosed he unquestionably was working. He owns a dump truck, 1933 register No. A21072, also a cement mixer. St. Vincent de Paul Society stopped aiding this family after finding liquor used extensively.

Public Welfare Department answer:

Family moved to Boston from Everett as stated. However, all aid given this family is reimbursed by Everett to Boston since the family has a legal settlement in Everett. Department visitor always aware that man was working part time for a contractor and encouraged such effort. His earnings were verified weekly by visitor and the aid granted varied in amount each week dependent on the amount of his earnings. The total amount of aid plus earnings was never in excess of $10 a week. Man was a patient in hospital during month of June. Department visitor had no knowledge of man's ownership of dump truck in wife's name, until informed by Finance Commission. Man denied ownership. No aid is being granted at present time.

14. Case No. 97,496.

Aid—$7 weekly. Basis: Man, wife.

Finance Commission statement:

Investigation established ownership of automobile which when inquired about of recipient immediately caused his withdrawal from the overseers' lists.

Public Welfare Department answer:

No aid has been granted this family since March, 1933, at which time man reported to department visitor that he had secured employment. Family did not own an automobile during time aid was granted and recent inquiry at the Registry of Motor Vehicles failed to find any registration in name of man or wife, man's parents or wife's parents for 1932 or 1933.

Family reapplied for aid on August 24 but no aid was granted because department visitor had knowledge that man was making payments on a Ford coupe. This car, however, is not registered in man's name.

15. Case No. 79,083.

Aid—$9 weekly. Basis: Man, wife, three children (21-18-12).

Finance Commission statement:

Case where information was that aid was squandered on women and that recipient was always driving an auto register No. 693899. Further investigation by visitor disclosed registration of another car in name of recipient. Case closed by visitor.

Public Welfare Department answer:

Finance Commission erroneously reports family consists of man, wife and three children. Man is a widower and has but two children with him.

Aid was temporarily suspended when Finance Commission investigator reported a Ford car registered in applicant's name. Aid was resumed when department visitor verified that car in question was not registered in his name but in the name of a Mr. K. . . . although he was not the owner. The owner had lost his registration and license to operate and applicant occasionally drove the car as an accommodation.

On September 14 department visitor saw man driving a different car and immediately checked up finding this car registered in applicant's name. Aid discontinued when department visitor discovered second car registration. This car was registered September 11, 1933, and aid was discontinued on September 14, 1933. Department visitor is to be commended in this case.

16. Case No. 63,526.

Aid—$7 weekly. Basis: Man, wife.

Finance Commission statement:

Recipient found working and investigator advised visitor and aid closed July 27, 1933.

Public Welfare Department answer:

Aid discontinued July 27, 1933, when man voluntarily reported he had secured a position at the B. . . . Dye House. This concern reported to department visitor that man was laid off last March and reinstated August 1, 1933. Aid was discontinued prior to any investigation by the Finance Commission.

17. Case No. 63,285.

Aid—$13 weekly. Basis: Man, wife, four children.

Finance Commission statement:

Recipient working. Visitor advised and aid stopped.

Public Welfare Department answer:

August 21, 1933, woman stated upon reapplication that she had no food in the house. A five-dollar grocery order was given. Husband had been working for a traveling carnival but had been laid off three weeks previously. Aid was recommended in the amount of $13 but was not called for because child was operated upon for tonsils. On August 28, 1933, woman reported man left August 24, 1933, for Bangor, Maine, to work on a carnival commencing September 4, 1933, explaining he left Boston ten days early because he had a chance of free transportation. On August 28, 1933, visitor recommended $12 a week for a period of two weeks. On September 13, 1933, man reapplied for assistance stating he earned but $5 in Maine. Case was reopened and is now being aided. Above facts reported in each instance by the family to visitor.

18. Case No. 96,693.

Aid—$10 weekly. Basis: Man, wife, two children (3-2).

Finance Commission statement:

Unable to locate this recipient at home. Information found indicated recipient is working.

Public Welfare Department answer:

Finance Commission investigator reported to department visitor that on August 11, 1933, applicant's wife stated husband had gone to work the day before for a contractor named L. . . . Applicant called on visitor the next day and stated his employer's name was M. . . . not L. . . . Last aid at that time was on August 14, 1933. Man was employed by Mr. M. . . . during the period August 10, 1933, to September 15, 1933, at which time he was laid off. Man reapplied September 26, 1933, and aid is now being granted. All facts have been verified by department visitor and he is of opinion man is perfectly honest and had every intention of reporting his employment to this office.

19. Case No. 73,267.

Aid—$10 weekly. Bases: Man, wife.

Finance Commission statement:

Wife working. Visitor advised and case closed August 13, 1933.

Public Welfare Department answer:

Unable to understand the Finance Commission's investigation of this case; no aid has been granted for over two years.

20. Case No. 68,239.

Aid—$9 weekly. Bases: Man, wife, one child (3).

Finance Commission statement:

Case investigated from angle of man getting work card stamped without working. Fact not established but case closed by visitor on basis of bootlegging and working.

Public Welfare Department answer:

Finance Commission investigator, department visitor and man had conference at which time man admitted he had sold "a pint or two of liquor." Department visitor has been suspicious of man for some time. No evidence of liquor selling, however, could be obtained and aid was necessary for wife and baby. Family discord present in the family and a suit for legal separation filed by wife is pending.

On August 29, 1933, wife voluntarily reported to department visitor that she had secured employment and could now support herself and baby.

21. Case No. 89,278.

Aid—$7 weekly. Basis: Man, wife.

Finance Commission statement:

Recipient found working. Visitor advised and case closed on August 28, 1933.

Public Welfare Department answer:

Family reapplied for aid August 3, 1933. The P. . . . Baking Company where man had formerly worked advised department visitor that they were forced to close their stores on August 9, 1933, and man was laid off prior to this date.

On August 28, 1933, man voluntarily reported to department visitor that he had secured employment and case was closed on that date.

22. Case No. 94,159.

Aid—$7 weekly. Basis: Man, wife.

Finance Commission statement:

Recipient found working. Visitor advised. Aid stopped.

Public Welfare Department answer:

On June, 1933, department visitor learned that man was seen on a truck owned by the M. . . . Express Company, and immediately contacted this firm. The following reply was received:

"This man is not in our employ and is anxious to drive a truck for us and has been riding around in his spare time with different drivers to learn the routes, etc. We have promised him employment and he is very desirous of obtaining the job which will be the next one open."

On August 28, 1933, man voluntarily reported to department visitor that he had been given the job with the M. . . . Express Company, which he had been trying for so long to get.

Finance Commission investigation had nothing to do with closing this case.

23. Case No. 86,134.

Aid—$9 weekly. Basis: Man, wife, one child (1).

Finance Commission statement:

Investigation developed recipient working. Visitor advised. Aid stopped.

Public Welfare Department answer:

On August 8, 1933, man reported to department visitor that he had secured employment. This was prior to the Finance Commission investigation of the case.

The man was being treated for pleurisy at a Boston hospital as an out-patient for some time and not in condition to work prior to August. Aid was discontinued on August 3, 1933.

24. Case No. 45,061.

Aid—$8 (food order) weekly. Basis: - Man, wife, four children (19-17-12-7).

Finance Committee statement:

Case developed ownership of automobile, register No. 732822 in 1933. When ownership was questioned the plates were turned in to Registry and case withdrawn from overseers. Case presented questionable real estate equities.

Public Welfare Department answer:

Aid was suspended by department visitor upon information regarding automobile disclosed by Finance Commission investigator. Automobile in question is a 1926 truck registered in name of applicant's son and owned jointly with two of his chums. The boys purchased the truck for $5 and earned a few dollars weekly peddling. The plates have since been turned in and the insurance canceled.

Aid was discontinued on October 11, 1933, because the man had secured employment. The property mentioned in Finance Commission's statement came within the limits set by the Board but because of this ownership the aid granted was in the form of groceries.

It is to be noted that out of the twenty-four cases enumerated the City of Boston receives full reimbursement for all aid rendered in eight cases, the state reimbursing in seven cases and the city of Everett in one.

The Board desires to remind your Honor that there is on record in this department correspondence with the Finance Commission requesting that a conference be arranged between the commission and the Board on the completion of the investigation and prior to the publication of the commission's report. It was the opinion of the Board that such conference would be beneficial to both groups and extremely valuable to welfare and relief work in general. An impartial analysis of the summaries previously presented in connection with the twenty-four "specific cases" of the Finance Commission clearly indicates that if a conference as suggested had been held, much of the misconceptions and misunderstandings contained in the reports of the commission's investigators would have been explained and removed.

Unfortunately our request was not honored in the spirit offered and once again the Public Welfare Department has been subjected to unwarranted, unfounded and undesirable criticism and publicity.

Respectfully submitted,

OVERSEERS OF THE PUBLIC WELFARE,
by WALTER V. MCCARTHY,
Executive Director.

FIRE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Order No. 47.

I. FUEL OIL INSPECTIONS.

The following communication which has been received from the Fire Marshal is published for the information of the department:

THE COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS,
DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC SAFETY.
STATE HOUSE,
BOSTON, October 24, 1933.

To Heads of Fire Departments in Massachusetts.

Subject: Approval of use of decalcomania transfer.

1. This is to certify that I have approved of the use of the decalcomania transfer in place of the metal tag required by Section 6 of the current rules and regulations of this department governing the keeping and use of fuel oil in buildings or other structures.

2. This approval is given with the provision that the transfer is applied to some metal part of the burner.

STEPHEN C. GARRITY,
State Fire Marshal.

The attention of inspecting officers of the department is again called to the regulations governing fuel oil. Special care must be taken to see that all installations, burners, tanks and appliances comply with the regulations of the State Fire Marshal.

It has come to the attention of the Fire Commissioner that tanks which have been used as containers for highly inflammable fluids are being converted for the storage of fuel oil with the result that there have been serious explosions in two very recent instances, one at 3 Hamlet street, Dorchester, on Thursday, October 26 and the other on K street, South Boston, on Friday, October 27.

In the case of Hamlet street the son of the owner of the tank was removing the filler plug when there was an explosion destroying the tank and severely burning the young man. In the case in South Boston a 275-gallon tank was purchased to be adapted for use on a delivery truck and an explosion occurred throwing a boy, eleven, who was sitting on the truck, to the ground. The tank was shattered, 18 panes of glass were broken in a nearby three-family dwelling. It is important, therefore, that the inspecting officers in this department be very diligent in passing upon oil burner equipment.

POLICE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Order No. 309.

On October 18, 1933, a trial board consisting of Captains Dickinson, Lewis and Fallon, in accordance with the provisions of General Order No. 284, dated September 21, 1933, reopened the case of Capt. John J. Hanrahan of Division 17 against Patrolman William S. Foster, Division 17, for the purpose of making final disposition of the following charges, to wit:

Charge 1: Neglecting to pay a just debt.

Specification: In that the said Patrolman William S. Foster did rent and occupy an apartment with his family, on the second floor at 79 Ten Hill road, Somerville, Mass., owned by Alban and Alice K. Chamberlain of 77 Ten Hill road, from May 1, 1932, to date, agreeing when he hired said apartment to pay $55 a month, payable in advance, and which rent was reduced on April 1, 1933, to $50 a month, and that the said Patrolman William S. Foster is now in arrears to the amount of $150 for the months of June, July and August, 1933, and that by so neglecting to pay this just debt has brought himself and his associates in the Police Department into criticism and disrepute.

Charge 2: Violation of rule No. 35.

Specification: In that the said Patrolman William S. Foster has been residing at 79 Ten Hill road, Somerville, Mass., from May 1, 1932, to date, said address not being located in the City of Boston, as required by the Rules and Regulations of the Police Department, and that by so doing he has committed an act contrary to good order and discipline.

has submitted the following finding and recommendation:

Patrolman William S. Foster promised the Board on September 18, 1933, that he would pay his just debt within one month, and up to the present time he has failed to do so. The said Patrolman William S. Foster did not offer any evidence to show that he had made any attempt to pay this just debt. On September 18, 1933, Patrolman William S. Foster was charged with living outside of the City of Boston, and the Board disposed of this charge on the promise made by Patrolman Foster that he would move into the City of Boston as soon as possible. Up to the present time the said Patrolman William S. Foster has not kept his promise, and he is now living in Medford, Mass.

Patrolman William S. Foster has proved to the Board that he is not a responsible person, that he is not worthy of any further consideration; therefore the Board respectfully recommends that the said patrolman William S. Foster be dismissed from the Police Department.

The commissioner accepts the finding and recommendation of the Trial Board, and hereby orders that the said Patrolman William S. Foster be dismissed from the Police Department, effective as of October 27, 1933, at 5.45 o'clock p. m.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

EUGENE C. HULTMAN,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 310.

A trial board consisting of Captains Campbell, Casey and Daley, having heard by reference a complaint made by Edward W. Fallon, captain, Division 6, against John J. Flynn, 2d, patrolman,

Division 6, for alleged violation of the Rules and Regulations of the Police Department, to wit:

Charge: Conduct unbecoming an officer.

Specification: In that on October 15, 1933, at 3.30 p. m., while on duty at St. Augustine's Church, the said Patrolman John J. Flynn, 2d, was under the influence of intoxicating liquor to such an extent that he was unable to properly perform his duty as a police officer, has submitted the following finding and recommendation:

The Board having heard and carefully considered all the evidence as presented by witnesses, accepts the plea of guilty made by Patrolman John J. Flynn, 2d. Although there was no pledge presented to the Board, Patrolman Flynn's commanding officer stated to the Board that he received a communication from Father Waters of South Boston stating that this man had taken a pledge to abstain from the use of intoxicating liquors in the future; therefore, in consideration of the previous good record of the said Patrolman John J. Flynn, 2d, and the recommendation of his commanding officer, the Board respectfully recommends that the said Patrolman John J. Flynn, 2d, be suspended from duty for a period of fifteen days, effective October 16, 1933, at 5.45 o'clock p. m., with loss of pay; and that at the expiration of the said period of suspension the said Patrolman John J. Flynn, 2d, be ordered to perform 210 hours of punishment duty.

The commissioner accepts the finding and the recommendation of the Trial Board and hereby orders that the said Patrolman John J. Flynn, 2d, be suspended from duty for a period of fifteen days effective October 16, 1933, at 5.45 o'clock p. m., with loss of pay; and that at the expiration of the said period of suspension the said Patrolman John J. Flynn, 2d, perform 210 hours of punishment duty.

Civil Service Rule 23, section 3, requires approval of the Civil Service Commission before reinstatement.

Rule 23, Section 3. "With the consent of the Commissioner upon good cause shown, an appointing officer may reinstate in the same position or in a position in the same class and grade any person who has been separated from the service; provided, however, that the Commissioner shall not allow reinstatement of a person discharged for cause."

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

EUGENE C. HULTMAN,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 311.

It gives the commissioner great pleasure to publish for the information of the department the following letter:

BROOKLINE, MASS.,
DEPARTMENT OF POLICE.

October 28, 1933.

HON. EUGENE C. HULTMAN,
Commissioner of Police.

DEAR COMMISSIONER,—I wish to express my appreciation for the service rendered by your department in connection with the bank robbery at the Brookline Trust Company on October 2, 1933. The personnel of the B. C. I. and officers and men in various divisions were untiring in their efforts in assisting us, even to the extent of working with our men until the early hours of the morning.

It is such cooperation as this that brings results and I trust that at some time or in some way we may be able to reciprocate.

Sincerely yours,

H. ALLEN RUTHERFORD,
Chief of Police.

7. Commanding officers are to take notice that it is of the greatest importance, also, that the patrolmen herein detailed report at the polling places in the various precincts promptly according to schedule.

Failure for any reason of an officer to be on hand at a polling place at the appointed time delays the sergeant in the motor vehicle in his delivery of the ballot boxes, ballots, etc., and interferes, as is plainly seen, with the balance of the delivery schedule.

8. This detail of patrolmen at the various precincts will continue until the ballots are counted and the results declared. The officers are then to bring the ballots and returns to the Election Commissioners' Office.

9. Cards with the ward and precinct number and location of voting booth printed thereon have been forwarded to the several police divisions, on which the division commander will write the name, the division number, and the number of the officer detailed at the time stated on the morning of November 7, 1933, at the voting booth of each respective precinct on his division. This card, to be given to the officer so detailed at the voting booth, will be retained in his possession until delivered by him to an employee of the Board of Election Commissioners, who will arrive accompanying a sergeant on motor vehicle from the Election Commissioners' Office on the morning of November 7, with ballot boxes, ballots, etc., as hereinbefore stated.

This card, when returned by such employee to the office of the Election Commissioners, will be receipt that the ballot boxes, ballots, etc., have arrived at their proper destination.

10. On receipt by the patrolman, from the sergeant, detailed on motor vehicle, as herein provided, of registering ballot box, ballots, voting lists and such other documents as may have been received from the Election Commissioners, the patrolman detailed at polling place will deliver same to the warden or clerk of the precinct, allowing no person to take or handle them before such delivery, and hand the key of the registering ballot box to the warden. On delivery of the ballots to the warden, the patrolman will take from him a receipt for the same, which receipt will be returned to the Election Commissioners.

11. After the warden has opened the box and allowed the election officers and the public to see that it is empty, the box is to be again locked and the key given to the patrolman who is to retain it until after the polls have closed, except that, at the request of the warden, the patrolman may allow him to open the box for the purpose of pressing down the ballots, in order to make room for more ballots, after which the patrolman will see that the box is again locked, and the key returned to the police officer.

12. The patrolman will obtain from the warden copies of poster, which will be sent to the latter, in relation to smoking and the use of liquor in polling places, and post same in conspicuous places where they may be easily read. Tacks will be sent for the purpose.

13. The warden will deliver to the patrolman detailed at the polling place for his use at that place a copy of the descriptive voting list, which must be returned to the warden at the close of the polls.

14. When the polls are opened, the patrolman will mark in the place indicated on the tag attached to the key the figures which the register shows before any ballots are cast.

15. At 8 p. m., Tuesday, November 7, when the polls close, one sergeant will report in each of the 22 wards (excepting Ward 1, East Boston, for which two sergeants and two motor trucks are provided), to meet motor vehicle at last point of morning distribution; thence to proceed to each of the several precincts in his respective ward, and receive registering ballot box (which must be locked) and key thereof, voting lists envelope, signed by the warden and other election officers, receipts for ballots, unused ballot envelope, sealed and certified (containing unused and spoiled ballots), stamps for marking spoiled ballots, receipts for ballots and check lists, carry them to the Election Commissioners' Office and deliver same to some member of the Board of Election Commissioners.

16. When the polls are closed, the patrolman will mark on the same tag the figures which the register shows after all ballots have been cast. He will then hand the key to the warden, who will open the box and take out all the ballots to be sorted and counted. The warden will then cause the voting lists, including the list used by the police officer, to be sealed up in an envelope and the envelope certified by the signatures of himself and the other election officers and the same returned to the Election Commissioners, as described in Section 15 of this order. The patrolman will not allow this envelope to be put into the ballot box. The sergeant who will report on motor vehicle will keep it about his person until delivery at the office of the Election Commissioners. The unused and spoiled ballots are then to be put in the envelope for unused ballots, and the envelopes sealed and certified.

17. When returning from polls, all motor vehicles must drive to the easterly side of City Hall Annex, Court square, where ballot boxes will be conveyed by chute to the basement.

18. It is important that the patrolman sees that the voting lists envelope is signed by the warden, clerk and all the inspectors. The patrolman will also see that the special book for signatures of voters is returned in the registering ballot box.

19. In case a patrolman is detailed to relieve another after the close of the polls, the commanding officer will see that he is properly instructed as to the duty of bringing the official returns, the box of ballots cast, and the press return to the Election Commissioners' office as soon as they are delivered to him by the election officers.

20. When the ballots have all been counted, the ballots thus counted, tally sheets and nothing else, shall be placed by the warden in the leatheroid box for that purpose, which must be sealed up and signed by all the election officers. The patrolman will particularly see that this box is properly sealed up and that all the election officers have signed their names to the certificate on the box. The patrolman will then bring the box, official return, record book, and press return to the City Hall Annex, Court square, and deliver same to the Election Commissioners. The patrolman is directed not to allow the official return, press return or record book to be placed in the leatheroid box.

21. While the polls remain open, an officer of rank will visit the polling place in each division at stated intervals, to be designated by the captain, and in case of any disturbance will report the fact to the commanding officer of the station house without delay. If additional men are needed beyond the number available in that division, the officer in charge will communicate immediately with headquarters.

22. Attention is called to the fact that the polls at the City Election on Tuesday, November 7, 1933, shall open at 8 o'clock a. m., and close at 8 o'clock p. m.

23. Commanding officers of divisions will see that the officers detailed for duty on City Election Day are furnished with a copy of the circular issued by the Board of Election Commissioners, entitled: "Instructions to Police Officers on . . . Election Days."

24. The counting of ballots will be done on one table only with two inspectors counting and two inspectors watching the count.

NOTES.

1. Attention is again called to the last paragraph of the circular, "Instructions to Police Officers on . . . Election Days," which reads: "The police officer is directed not to allow the official return or record book to be placed in the leatheroid box."

That this may not happen (as it has in the past notwithstanding repeated instructions) in any of the precincts of this city at the coming election, the officer of rank who will visit the polling places in each division (provided for in Section 21 of this Order), shall at an appropriate time, call to the attention of the police officer and of the warden on duty at the polls, that the official return, press return and record book are not to be placed in the leatheroid box.

They shall be handed to the police officer who will deliver them as set out in the paragraph immediately following.

2. The officer going to the office of the Board of Election Commissioners with the leatheroid box, after the counting of the ballots, will take with him, in a separate package, the official return, press return and record book, which he shall safely deliver to the Election Commissioners with the leatheroid box, as provided in Section 20 of this order.

3. The police shall enforce the order that smoking is prohibited within the confines of the polling places, during the entire day, while the polls are open, as well as after they are closed.

The Board of Election Commissioners makes special request that the officers detailed at the 362 precincts be instructed to see that this is enforced.

As polling places and their approaches and exits are, in many instances, in buildings used for places of religious worship, to say nothing of the danger to valuable property from careless persons, the importance of these instructions is apparent.

Commanding officers will take notice, and provide means to correct, the following conditions set out in a paragraph of a letter received by the Police Commissioner from the Board of Election Commissioners:

"May we again call your attention to the law which prohibits smoking in any polling place, and ask you to have the officers who are detailed to the three hundred and sixty-two (362) precincts make a special effort to see that there is no smoking during the entire day, while the polls are open, as well as after they are closed."

4. The following matter has been brought particularly to the attention of the Police Commissioner in writing by the Board of Election Commissioners. Commanding officers will see that this cause of complaint is corrected:

"During the hours from 6 p. m. to 8 p. m. there has been a large increase in the number of persons who congregate outside the polling places. This makes it disagreeable to voters who are entering and leaving the polling places. May we ask that the police use every effort to relieve this congestion?"

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

EUGENE C. HULTMAN,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 313.

Patrolmen Thomas J. Mundy and Daniel Fitzgerald, both of Division 14, are hereby commended in General Orders and each is given three days additional vacation for meritorious police duty performed on October 4, 1933, when they rescued a mother and several children from a burning dwelling.

The commissioner is pleased to recognize the prompt and effective duty performed by these officers in this hazardous undertaking, which probably prevented the loss of life.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

EUGENE C. HULTMAN,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 314.

Patrolmen John R. Donovan, John S. Rice and Joseph L. Ferreira, all of Division 15, are commended and granted three days' additional vacation for meritorious police duty performed on September 29, 1933. As the result of an arrest of a person on suspicion, the officers learned upon questioning the man that an armed hold-up and robbery had been committed in Nashua, N. H., on the night of September 25, 1933, of an insurance agent who was forced into his own automobile and driven from Nashua, N. H., to Somerville, Mass., where he was robbed of a sum of money and thrown out of the auto. As a result of information obtained these officers arrested two men who were both identified by the victim of the robbery.

Both men waived extradition and were turned over to the Nashua, N. H., Police Department where they pleaded guilty to armed robbery.

The commissioner is pleased to recognize the splendid police duty performed by these officers who gave generously of their own time in accomplishing the arrest of these dangerous criminals.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

EUGENE C. HULTMAN,
Commissioner.

The following communication was presented:

City of Boston—Department of School Buildings.

Oct. 4, 1933.

School Committee of the City of Boston, 15 Beacon Street, Boston, Mass.

Gentlemen:

Under date of Sept. 28, 1933, the School Committee forwarded to the Board of Commissioners of School Buildings the following proposed orders:

ORDERED, That of the amount appropriated by the School Committee under date of Feb. 15, 1932, by transfer (see pp. 23-24), the following amount is hereby transferred to the 1933 item of school accommodations listed below:

FROM

Item 2, 1932—Gilbert Stuart District, Dorchester: Furnishing of Woodrow Wilson intermediate school building $2,000.00

TO

Item 12, 1933—Robert Gould Shaw District, West Roxbury: Furnishing of four-classroom addition, second story on original building, Randall G. Morris School $2,000.00

ORDERED, That of the amounts appropriated by the School Committee under dates of Feb. 15, 1932, by transfer (see pp. 23-24) and Mar. 21, 1932, by transfer (see p. 48), the following amounts are hereby transferred to the 1933 item of school accommodations listed below:

FROM

Item 2, 1932—Gilbert Stuart District, Dorchester: Furnishing of Woodrow Wilson intermediate school building $5,041.89

Item 3, 1932—Bennett District, Brighton: Furnishing of Thomas A. Edison intermediate school building 17,958.11

TO

Item 11, 1933—Robert Gould Shaw District, West Roxbury: Complete construction of four-classroom addition, second story on original building, Randall G. Morris School $23,000.00

Total amount of these two proposed orders is $25,000.00, and are transfer orders of unexpended balances to the credit of this department, to be used to complete the construction and to furnish four additional classrooms in the Randall G. Morris School. This construction will eliminate the necessity of two portables in the yard.

Being in a growing district, it is a project that we readily approve. The preparation for these four additional classrooms, and remodeling the old building was a well thought out project. It was in no sense an extra, but an addition which, in view of present needs of this school, was an excellent plan. It was approved by us when the plans were made for this four-room addition and we are pleased to approve the completion of the project. The Board of Commissioners of School Buildings therefore, in accordance with the provisions of Chapter 351, Acts of 1929, report to the School Committee that these proposed orders are approved.

Very truly yours,

Board of Commissioners of School Buildings.

Chairman.

The total of these proposed orders is the sum of $30,000.00, and the money available thereby is to be used in connection with the proposed construction of the fourteen classroom addition at the Joseph H. Barnes School.

While this contract has not yet been advertised, in view of changes which have been made on request of the Superintendent of Schools in order to make a more satisfactory addition and alteration in the old building, it was necessary to increase our estimate of the proposed cost of these accommodations. It is also to be noticed that the amounts of these proposed orders are taken from unexpended balances in this Department left after other construction projects have been completed.

It gives us the opportunity to clean up amounts that were left after the completion of the various schools named in the Items, and the Board of Commissioners of School Buildings have voted to approve these transfer orders.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS

The order laid over at the meeting of Oct. 2, 1933, making a change in the Authorized List of Text Books, was taken up and passed unanimously.

PROPOSED CHANGE IN SYS- TEM OF MARKING

Chairman: The Chair is very happy to make an announcement with reference to the marking system which he sponsored some time ago. At the Conference last week it was agreed by the Committee, unanimously, that hereafter the supervisors shall mark teachers on the basis of 1 to 100 instead of as heretofore on the basis of A, A1 minus, 1 plus 1, and so on. The teacher who is being rated by a supervisor will receive from the supervisor the usual slip on which her mark will be stated on the mathematical basis of 1 to 100. In this way it will be very easy for teachers to average their own marks and determine their department rating. Heretofore there has been much confusion and misunderstanding; girls have believed they were getting perfect marks, and then have been disappointed in the final rating when they did not come as high as they thought their ratings warranted. It will have a clarifying effect, I am sure, in the minds of the teachers for it will enable them to know at any period during the year exactly what their standing is.

The second step refers to the marking of pupils. It has been agreed that in all schools of our system, regardless of grades, from I to XII a uniform system of marking shall be adopted on the basis of 1 to 100, so the old system of A to E, or 1 to 6, will disappear.

My original proposition was to grade pupils on the system of—passed, passed with honor, failed etc., but for the sake of precision and clearness, it was felt, after deliberation, more desirable and more consistent with what other systems are doing, to establish the numerical system of marking, namely, the percentage basis. In any event, it seems to me that now we will have a uniform system that is simple, that is definite, that is correct, that is clear. I am happy to announce that the Committee has agreed upon this change in basis of marking by unanimous vote and that it is to be put into immediate effect.

COLLECTION OF CLOTHING AND SHOES

Dr. Mackey: Mr. Chairman, we are on the verge of winter weather and an effort should be made to protect the children from health hazards on account of insufficient wearing apparel. A drive for children's clothing is bound to be successful. The teachers who have given so generously of their own personal income in the past, I know will co-operate one hundred per cent, and the result will be warmer clothing and good shoes for every child in the system.

Therefore, I move that a day be appointed by the Superintendent during the first week of November for the collection of children's clothing and shoes in all the schools, for children whose parents cannot at this time afford to buy them; the clothing collected in one school to be sent to another in order that the recipients may not in any way be embarrassed.

The motion, seconded by the Chairman, passed by unanimous vote.

The Committee adjourned.
Attest:

ELLEN M. CRONIN,
Secretary.

Patrolman John F. Hourihan of Division 4 is commended in General Orders and granted three days' additional vacation for meritorious police duty performed on October 11, 1933, in the arrest of two men who had broken into a store and stolen several overcoats.

In the struggle to overcome the resistance offered by the prisoner, both prisoner and officer fell through the window of a store. The other man was located later in the morning and placed under arrest. It was later learned that a large window had been broken in a down-town store and the overcoats stolen.

Kelley pleaded guilty. He was not represented by counsel, has submitted the following finding and recommendation:

The Board having heard and carefully considered all the evidence as presented by witnesses, accepts the plea of guilty made by the said Patrolman William H. Kelley; and in view of the fact that Patrolman Kelley as recently as two months ago pleaded guilty before a trial board to a charge of violation of the rules and regulations of the department, and at that time was suspended from duty with loss of pay for thirty days and given 210 hours of punishment duty, said punishment duty not having been completed, and the promise of the said Patrolman Kelley at that time that if he were given another chance there would be no occasion for his ever appearing before a trial board again, it is the opinion of the Board that the said Patrolman William H. Kelley is not sufficiently dependable to be retained in the Police Department; therefore, the Board respectfully recommends that the said Patrolman William H. Kelley be dismissed from the Police Department.

The commissioner accepts the finding and the recommendation of the trial board and hereby orders that the said Patrolman William H. Kelley be dismissed from the Police Department.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

General Order No. 323.

Superintendent Martin H. King in accordance with my instructions to make a thorough investigation in the matter of Charles Hoffman, a fugitive from justice from New Jersey, has reported to me as follows:

November 6, 1933.

HON. EUGENE C. HULTMAN,
Police Commissioner.

SIR,—In accordance with your instructions concerning a fugitive warrant issued in New Jersey for the arrest of Charles Hoffman, instructing me to make a thorough investigation in this matter, I beg to report as follows:

On October 21, 1933, I forwarded to you reports of all officers concerned in this matter, and stated that I would further investigate the same and later forward my recommendations.

William Sherman, alias Charles F. Hoffman, was arrested on May 6, 1933, by Sergt. John V. Miller and other officers of Division 15, for attempted robbery while armed. In the evening of the same day Sergeant Miller brought the defendant to the Bureau of Records, and Patrolman John Cameron of the Bureau of Records fingerprinted him. An immediate search of the files disclosed the circular containing fingerprints and photograph of the prisoner under the name of William Sherman, with other aliases, stating that he had escaped from the Bordentown Prison Farm of New Jersey, September 2, 1931.

Under the rules of this department all warrants coming from points outside of Boston to this department with a request for service are cleared through the Bureau of Records. When these warrants are received at the Bureau of Records, the communication accompanying the warrant is stamped with the date of the day of receipt, and the letter and accompanying warrant are promptly handed to Sergeant Taylor who is assigned to the warrant file. It is Sergeant Taylor's duty to forward them to the appropriate division for service. For that purpose there is a form which accompanies the warrant. This form is made in duplicate, the original being sent with warrant to the commanding officer of the division, and the copy is retained in the files of the case. In cases when warrants are received from out of the state requesting the arrest of persons as fugitives from justice, the procedure is the same in all warrants, it is sent to the commanding officer of the appropriate division. If the fugitive is not under arrest it is the duty of the commanding officer to have an officer apply to the court for a fugitive from justice warrant. If the person is under arrest it is the duty of the commanding officer to have a fugitive from justice warrant promptly obtained and lodged against the prisoner, if he is still under arrest either in the station house or in any penal institution, the reason for this being that if the fugitive or the person named as a fugitive is transferred from the institution where he then may be to any other institution, the warrant should go forward with him, or if he is in jail, the keeper of the jail should then take into consideration if he should be bailed that there is a fugitive warrant outstanding. Of course, the bail commissioner then can set bail with the approval of the proper authorities. In other words, the bail commissioner then would take into consideration this fugitive from justice warrant, and place bail on this offense.

My investigation discloses the fact that Capt. Harry T. Grace, commanding officer of Division 15, states that neither he nor his division received the warrant from the Bureau of Records. However, the commanding officer admits that this case was called to his attention on May 12, 1933, that is, shortly after the arrest of Hoffman. I am of the opinion that the commanding officer should have ascertained from his subordinates that Hoffman was a fugitive from justice from the State of New Jersey, and should not have allowed any time to elapse regardless of his explanation that he did not receive a warrant from the Bureau of Records, and further, should have instructed his subordinates in his division to obtain a warrant for the arrest of Hoffman as a fugitive from justice. Commanding officers must understand that they are responsible for all matters in their divisions, and it is their duty to be certain that all police matters are carried out by their subordinates in proper manner. I am of the opinion, therefore, that Captain Grace was remiss in his duty, in that no effort was made by any member of his division to obtain a fugitive warrant for the arrest of Hoffman as a fugitive from justice. However, in view of Captain Grace's excellent record in this department previous to this matter, I am not recommending the type of punishment that ordinarily this case would warrant. My recommendation, therefore, is that Capt. Harry T. Grace be reprimanded in General Orders.

My investigation causes me to believe that Sergeant Taylor, who is in direct charge of warrants in the Bureau of Records, was remiss in his duty, as the facts disclose that the warrant was received by the Bureau of Records on May 9, 1933, and was delivered in the custody of Sergeant Taylor of this Bureau. This warrant remained in his possession from May 9, 1933, until June 18, 1933, when he stated it was forwarded to Division 15. The explanation offered by the Bureau of Records for this delay was that along the early to middle part of June every man in the Bureau of Records was busily engaged in compiling certain information requested by the District Attorney of Suffolk County, for use before the Grand Jury which at that time was in the act of making a so-called investigation of matters concerning the Boston Police Department. The Bureau of Records further stated that all men in this Bureau had been working night and day, and that Sergeant Taylor was called upon to assist in this work. However, there is no excuse for this delay in the forwarding of the warrant. Further, when a warrant is forwarded to any unit or division of this department by the Bureau of Records, it is the duty of Sergeant Taylor to see that a warrant card is returned from the station receiving the warrant, and placed in the warrant file. Apparently, Sergeant Taylor neglected to do this, and was again remiss in his duty. I am of the opinion, however, that Sergeant Taylor's action in this matter was nothing more than carelessness but I am of the opinion also that this was serious carelessness, and therefore, in view of the dereliction of duty of Sergeant William N. Taylor in this case, I respectfully recommend that he be reprimanded in General Orders.

My investigation also discloses that when Sergt. John V. Miller arrested Hoffman, he was brought to Headquarters to be fingerprinted, and that Sergeant Miller was shown the circular from New Jersey in the presence of the prisoner. Sergeant Miller then knew he was an escaped prisoner. Sergeant Miller's excuse that warrants in similar cases were always taken care of by the Bureau of Records, and that they were always sent to him for service, in my opinion, is not a sufficient explanation. Sergeant Miller, having knowledge that Hoffman was an escaped prisoner and therefore a fugitive from justice, should have followed this case through regardless of any carelessness that may have occurred in any other unit. However, I have in mind that Sergeant Miller has been commended for meritorious police work five times since August 1, 1930, and in view of this, I recommend that he be reprimanded in General Orders instead of a more severe punishment.

I feel, however, that I should call to your attention the fact that the failure of obtaining a fugitive from justice warrant or the failure to forward it to the jail is not the outstanding factor in this case, for the reason as I have stated before, that if this warrant was left at the Charles Street Jail the bail commissioner could have increased Hoffman's bail $5,000 more, and Hoffman then would have been released on this charge also. In other words, the bail may have been $45,000 instead of $40,000.

The meat of this whole case, in my opinion, is that the bail in this case was a straw bail. If the bail was a straw bail in the amount of $40,000, no doubt the bail would have been straw even though it may have been fifty or sixty thousand dollars.

However, there is no excuse for the carelessness of Capt. Harry T. Grace, Sergt. William N. Taylor and Sergt. John V. Miller, and I am of the opinion that they should be punished. My recommendation, as I have stated before, is that they all be reprimanded in General Orders instead of a suspension or dismissal, for the reason that I am of the opinion that the actions of Captain Grace and Sergeants Taylor and Miller consisted only of carelessness, and not anything more serious.

I have warned the members of this department that I will not accept such excuses in the future, and even though officers may be only guilty of carelessness in a matter of this kind, that it is my intention if it occurs again to recommend to you more drastic punishment.

Respectfully submitted,

MARTIN H. KING,
Superintendent of Police.

The Police Commissioner accepts the recommendations of the superintendent, and Capt. Harry T. Grace, Sergt. William N. Taylor, and Sergt. John V. Miller are reprimanded.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

Commissioner.

FIRE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Order No. 48.

I. APPRECIATION.

The Fire Commissioner wishes to express his sincere appreciation of the efficient and capable operation of the Fire Department at the fourth alarm fire, Box 1431, Thursday morning, November 2, 1933.

The fire was in the six-story brick building at 35 Bedford street surrounded by other mercantile buildings. The principal hazards which the department had to encounter were the exposures of two of Boston's largest department stores. The fire was so efficiently handled and the exposures were so well covered that the commissioner desires to commend the Chief of Department Henry A. Fox and every man who worked under him in extinguishing the fire and confining it to the building of origin.

In this connection the commissioner is pleased to publish for the information of the department a letter received today from Mr. Edward R. Mitton, vice president of the Jordan Marsh Company.

JORDAN MARSH COMPANY,
BOSTON, November 2, 1933.

MR. EUGENE M. MCSWEENEY,
Fire Commissioner.

DEAR MR. MCSWEENEY,—I am writing this letter to you to express our appreciation of the extremely fine work which your men did this morning in combatting the fire which started in a building adjacent to our store and to other stores in the downtown shopping area.

Competent observers have already made the comment that but for the intelligent and efficient work on the part of the Fire Department a large section of the downtown shopping district might well have been burned out.

This would have been a genuine calamity right now on the threshold of the Christmas season, and, in addition, would have seriously impaired the movement of merchandise so essential to the President's recovery program.

Your department deserves the most sincere congratulations for preventing a situation that might have been serious not only to downtown stores but to Boston and to the entire business structure.

Yours very truly,

EDWARD R. MITTON,
Vice President.

It is most gratifying to know that the effective and efficient work of the men of the department is so promptly and gratefully appreciated by the business men of Boston.

By order of Fire Commissioner EUGENE M. MCSWEENEY.

HENRY A. FOX,
Chief of Department.

General Order No. 49.

I. FIRE DEPARTMENT BAND.

There will be no meeting or rehearsal of the Fire Department Band this week.

II. GARAGE REGULATIONS.

The following notice, which has been received from the State Fire Marshal, under date of November 2, 1933, is hereby published for the information of the department:

"No tank wagon or tank truck used for the transportation of gasoline or oil shall be kept in any portion of a garage unless the garage is used exclusively for the keeping of such vehicles or unless the portion so used is separated from the rest of the garage by a fire wall."

2. I have ruled this day that the provisions of the above quoted section shall not prohibit the keeping of tank wagons or tank trucks in a garage with other motor vehicles in any case where such tank wagons or tank trucks and motor vehicles are the property of the owner of the garage, and therefore it will not be necessary to construct a fire wall as mentioned in said section.

STEPHEN C. GARRITY,
State Fire Marshal.

EMPLOYMENT OF MEN TO BREAK STRIKES.

Coun. DOWD offered the following:

Ordered, That the Municipal Employment Bureau be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, not to hire any individuals to send to Michigan, where a strike is in progress at the present time.

Coun. DOWD—Mr. President, I was rather astonished to read that the City of Boston had gone into the official business of breaking strikes. I have before me an advertisement in the Boston Globe of last Friday, October 27, in which our Municipal Employment Office, which we pay for out of the taxpayers' money, is asking for strike breakers to go to Michigan and break a strike. I do not believe it is the intention of his Honor the Mayor to put the City of Boston in the position of saying that we will send men to other sections of the country to break strikes, although the position I have always taken on the floor of the Council in regard to the man at the head of that office is that he might do so. I now call on the Mayor of Boston to immediately have him discontinue such ads.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

LEASE TO SOUTH END POST 105.

Coun. DOWD offered the following:

Ordered, That the Superintendent of Public Buildings of the City of Boston be, and hereby is, authorized in the name and behalf of the City of Boston, with the approval of the Mayor of the City of Boston, and in form satisfactory to the Law Department of the City of Boston, to lease for Post headquarters to the South End Post 105, American Legion, for the term of five years, at an annual rental of one dollar a year, police station at 21 East Dedham street, when vacated, with the right to cancel said lease by giving thirty days' notice in writing of its intention so to do.

Referred to the Committee on Public Lands.

SUBSISTENCE OF INSTITUTIONS COMMISSIONER.

Coun. DOWD offered the following:

Ordered, That the Corporation Counsel be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to proceed to collect from the Institutions Commissioner the money expended by the city for his subsistence during the last six months.

Coun. DOWD—Mr. President, may I ask whether or not the City Clerk has received any reply from the commissioner in answer to my inquiry at the last meeting?

President McGRATH—The Chair is informed that no reply has been received.

Coun. DOWD—Mr. President, in view of the fact that he has had one week to answer and has not done so, it would seem that he has taken the attitude that he will not answer. I have now offered this order asking the Mayor of Boston to instruct the Corporation Counsel to immediately proceed to collect from the commissioner any subsistence money that has been expended in his behalf by the city during the last six months.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

MASSACHUSETTS BAY COLONY.

The first chartered colony in New England, charter granted by Charles I on March 4, 1629. About a year before, a patent had been granted to six prominent men of Dorchester, west of England, among whom was Capt. John Endicott. He sailed in June, 1628, with a party of fifty or sixty persons, arriving in September and settling at Naumkeag, afterward named Salem. In the spring of 1629, the Bay Company fitted out three ships conveying about four hundred persons and arriving at Salem in June. Endicott sent a small party to effect a settlement on the Bay in Mishawum, afterward named by the settlers Charlestown, the first town in New England to assume the town polity, Plymouth and Salem being governed by a governor and council. Endicott was appointed in London as the first resident governor on April 30, 1629. The Massachusetts Bay Company was reorganized in London on October 20, 1629, when John Winthrop was chosen as governor. He arrived at Salem on June 12, 1630, soon proceeded to Charlestown with a large following and finding that place unsuitable, finally settled in Boston. Winthrop served thirteen years as governor in four different periods ending in 1649 and Endicott fifteen years at various times ending in 1665. Other governors were Thomas Dudley, Richard Bellingham, John Haynes, Henry Vane, John Leverett and Simon Bradstreet, the latter serving twelve years until 1692 when the Bay Colony and the Plymouth Colony were merged, becoming the Royal Province of Massachusetts Bay, which existed eighty-two years to 1774, the governors being appointed by the King.

The name, Massachusetts, is Indian and signifies "near the big hills."

BOSTON AS A TOWN.

From its foundation until 1755, or a period of 125 years, Boston was not only the most outstanding but the most populous town in the American colonies. In 1760, Philadelphia's population was ahead, viz., 18,756, Boston's then being 15,631 and New York's about 14,000. In the last year of town government, viz., 1821, Boston's population was about 45,000 and its public debt $100,000, all incurred for new county buildings.

The history of Boston as a town during a period of nearly two centuries surpasses in civic interest that of Boston as a city because of the untiring zeal and successful efforts of its townsmen to realize more of true democracy than had ever been attained before. Their obligations were held as sacred as their liberties.

MAYOR CURLEY PROMISES EMPLOYMENT FOR MANY THOUSANDS EARLY IN 1934 AS RESULT OF PUBLIC IMPROVEMENTS PLANNED AND APPROVED BY STATE EMERGENCY FINANCE BOARD — ANNOUNCEMENT IS MADE IN REGULAR WEEKLY BROADCAST FROM CITY HALL STATION ON EVE OF CONFERENCE CALLED BY PRESIDENT IN WASHINGTON.

The following is the address broadcasted by Mayor Curley on Monday, November 13, from the City Hall station:

A conference has been arranged at Washington to be held on Wednesday next, at the Mayflower, called by Mr. Conant, Director of Public Welfare Relief in the United States. It is proposed by President Roosevelt that $400,000,000 be made available for public works projects in order that men may be taken off the public welfare rolls and given an opportunity to do construction work and receive money in return for the same. With a view to expediting Boston's particular portion of this work, I conferred with his Excellency, the Governor.

You will recall about two months ago we submitted a proposal to the State Emergency Finance Board, requesting that the Board allocate $19,000,000 for a public works program. The chairman of the Public Works Board declared that no money would be allowed for subway construction which item represented $8,500,000 and but $10,000,000 would be the total allocation for the City of Boston.

When the Federal program was announced some months ago it was stated that $75,000,000 would be allocated to the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. Boston pays as its portion of the cost of maintaining the state a little over 26 per cent of the total, so that on that basis Boston would be entitled to $20,000,000. When the State Emergency Finance Board failed to approve the program in its entirety I announced that I would refuse to accept of any amount unless I received the total amount requested and which Boston was entitled to.

Importance to Boston.

You will understand that the matter of a subway extension on Huntington avenue and Boylston street has been under consideration for a period of years and that the proposal for $8,500,000 expenditure for the extension of a subway under Huntington avenue to the junction of Tremont street, in the vicinity of the Brigham Hospital, was readily justified. The directors of the Boston Elevated System, fearful of impairing their revenues, have always opposed the proposition, but we finally induced them to approve of it in view of the contribution of the Federal Government of 30 per cent of the cost, which would be the equivalent of $2,600,000, plus the saving effected in the Soldiers' Relief Department of the City of Boston by taking men off that department's rolls and putting them to work, which would result in a further saving of $1,500,000.

The City Council gave their consent and the Metropolitan Transit Commission gave their approval so that the only step left up to this point was the approval of the State Emergency Finance Board and the State Emergency Finance Board some two months ago rejected the proposal.

Now, we made the necessary borings and I just want you to visualize, if you will, what this single improvement will mean to the City of Boston. It will mean not only the removal of the street car tracks from Huntington avenue and Boylston street but it will likewise mean the removal of that unsightly structure on Boylston street between Charles street and Arlington street in front of the L. P. Hollander Company. It would make possible the removal of 5 feet from the sidewalks on either side of Boylston street between Arlington street and Copley square, making the street 10 feet wider than its present width, and the removal of car tracks on Huntington avenue from Copley square, making possible the beautifying of Copley square with a suitable memorial either to the veterans of the recent World War, or Paul Revere, or some other historical character.

The removal of the reservation space along Huntington avenue would give the city a boulevard about eighty feet in width and would make possible a free flow of traffic on this boulevard, and an underpass at Massachusetts avenue would end congestion at this particular point. It would in addition anticipate in a sense the tremendous flow of traffic that will come into Boston upon the completion of the Worcester super-highway which will have its terminus at Brookline Village.

It is only a matter of a very few years when it will be necessary for the expenditure from two to three to four millions of dollars to extend the Huntington Avenue Boulevard to Brookline Village from Tremont street and Huntington avenue. This must be done. This portion can be completed for about $4,900,000. It will make possible better transit facilities for the traveling public. It would lessen the distance from forty-five minutes between South Huntington avenue and Boylston street to about twenty minutes; perhaps fifteen minutes. It would in addition provide a great boulevard unequaled in any city in America and were the city required to lay out a similar boulevard of equal width and length it would represent an expenditure of not less than 50 per cent greater than the total cost of the present construction.

Funds for Hospital.

The State Emergency Finance Board has allowed $2,000,000 for city hospitalization. The Boston City Hospital is the busiest hospital in America and will treat in the Out-Patient Department and in the wards a number equal to the total population of Boston by the end of the year. They average 1,600 patients per day every single day of the year at the hospital. Since 1923 when I inaugurated the present hospital construction program, we have raised the major portion of the buildings upon the hospital grounds to the value of $11,000,000.

MAYOR CURLEY OFFICIATES AT DEDICATION OF PRADO IN NORTH END ON ARMISTICE DAY—FITTING TRIBUTE AND ENDURING MEMORIAL TO DISCOVERER OF AMERICA—WILL SERVE AS SAFEGUARD FOR ONE OF THE MOST INSPIRING MEMORIALS IN NATION, THE OLD NORTH CHURCH—ALSO TO SERVE AS TRIBUTE TO FAITH OF EARLY HEROES, HE TELLS AUDIENCE ASSEMBLED TO SHARE IN EXERCISES.

Mayor Curley, speaking at the dedication of the Prado, Hanover street, on November 11, said in part as follows:

It is fitting that Armistice Day be selected as the day upon which the Prado, as an enduring memorial of the discoverer of America, be dedicated. Four hundred and forty-one years ago, there met in the Dominican Convent of St. Stephen a council of learned laymen and ecclesiastics, presided over by the Jeronimite prior of the monastery of Prado, to consider the theories advanced by Columbus and the feasibility of his voyage of discovery. The Rev. Hernando De Talavera, who later became Archbishop of Granada, presided over the deliberations of the council which rejected the theory of Columbus as "vain, impracticable and resting on grounds too weak to merit the support of the government of Spain."

It is fitting that this memorial, which will serve as a place of assembly for the people of Boston, should be designated as the Prado, and it is likewise interesting that the church erected to the memory of St. Stephen overlooks the Prado, recalling as it does that historic meeting of well-intentioned ecclesiastics and laymen who found it impossible, more than four centuries ago, to agree in the conclusions reached by the great discoverer, and whose judgment, if accepted, would have made impossible at that time the discovery of America and the linking of the new world with the old.

It is pleasing to us as Americans that the Prado will serve as a safeguard for one of the most inspiring memorials to be found in the nation, the Old North Church. May it ever recall to our minds the courage and devotion of the intrepid handful through whose fearless spirit of devotion to liberty the American Republic became a reality. May the spirit of Paul Revere, guided by the lanterns that flashed their rays from the spires of yonder church, ever serve as an inspiration to service and sacrifice to God, humanity and country.

This memorial, made possible through the generosity of a Boston citizen, may be likened to an oasis in a desert. Here in the heart of a great city in the center of teeming population will assemble as long as the city remains in a distance the men, women and children seeking recreation and solace from the elements during the trying days and nights of a summer season. Here in their hours of leisure will be afforded opportunities for retrospection and introspection with memorials that inspire at either end of the Prado. Let us trust that the spiritual inspiration which they receive from these memorials and the lesson of faith which they so beautifully express will find a place in the heart of all who journey hither.

May the story of the conclave, held at the monastery of the Prado with its lesson of the lack of faith upon the part of the supposedly learned ecclesiastics and laymen and the beautiful inspiring faith of Columbus, promote in each and every one a greater love of God and a higher regard for their obligations to their fellow man and their country.

Columbus, like Paul Revere, was the embodiment of faith; one by his faith made possible the success of a voyage over uncharted seas and the other by his faith made possible the preservation at its inception of a movement for the establishment of the American republic. This republic of ours, grown from a handful of three million in the day of Paul Revere to a nation in our day of one hundred and thirty millions of people and whose territory comprises forty-eight states with territorial possessions scattered throughout the world, is a symbol not only of faith in God but the faith of man in his fellowman.

To the faith of Columbus, we give thanks for the discovery of a new world; to the faith of Washington, Jefferson, Franklin, Adams, Otis, Paul Revere and those associated with him, we give thanks for the establishment of the American nation; to the faith of succeeding generations of Americans we are grateful for the preservation of American liberty and the progress of the American nation; in our present hour of national distress we give thanks for a leadership at Washington that is the embodiment of the faith of the leaders who have gone before, President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Under his inspiring leadership, animated by faith in God and his fellowman, we shall brush aside the clouds that have too long hovered over our country and overcome the obstacles that have so long harassed the people of the nation, moving forward to a brighter and better and happier and more prosperous day than has ever fallen to the lot of the generations which have preceded us.

May the Prado become the mecca for the people of this section of our city; may the visitors who journey here from afar become imbued with the lesson that it teaches and through the inspiration for service and sacrifice to God and country which is here generated, unfold the lesson to all with whom they come in contact that they may here glean, namely, that with faith in God nothing is impossible.

PUBLIC IMPROVEMENTS PLANNED.

In addition to the surgical buildings, pathological building and bacteriological building, we have erected the finest maternity building, municipally owned, in the entire world. Last year more than 3,500 children were born in this single building. It is the only institution in which the expectant mother can be assured of every conceivable facility for the protection of her life and health and the baby who she is bringing into the world. We have dedicated in the last sixty days a building solely for children with a greater bed capacity than all of the publicly owned hospitals in Cambridge.

The State Emergency Finance Board have informed me that they are prepared to allow $1,000,000 for an intermediate school for South Boston and a high school for West Roxbury costing a similar amount. This will be most welcome news to these two particular sections of the city, where the children are required to travel many miles to school each day.

In addition they will approve $1,000,000 for streets, and with this money it will be possible to repave many streets which are not in suitable condition at the present time and construct new ones.

They also report $1,000,000 for sewer construction. This will be very essential when new streets are being installed.

They have also approved our request for $350,000 for additional water mains for the City of Boston. We originally asked for $800,000 but the best we could get was $350,000. However, I shall return and ask for $500,000 additional for these new water mains for the protection from conflagration in event of fire.

We will enter the year of 1934 with many thousands more persons working in Boston than have found it possible to secure employment during the last two years. It is a source of pleasure for me to make this contribution, which means so much to the city and its people as my gift to my successor in the interests of the people of Boston.

PENAL INSTITUTIONS DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON, October 23, 1933.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—Permission is respectfully requested to award a contract without publicly advertising the same to the Singer Sewing Machine Company for the installation of machines at the House of Correction, Deer Island, in the sum of four thousand six dollars ($4,006), the same to be charged to the industry account.

As the Singer Sewing Machine Company are the sole manufacturers nothing would be gained by publicly advertising.

Respectfully yours,
WILLIAM G. O'HARE,
Penal Institutions Commissioner.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT (Paving Service).

BOSTON, November 13, 1933.

To the Mayor of Boston.

Your permission is respectfully requested for the awarding of a contract, without advertising, to Samuel J. Tomasello for the construction of Coleridge street, East Boston, from Wordsworth street to Rice street.

The prices to be paid will be identical with those on Coleridge street, from Wordsworth street to Byron street with the exception that the contractor will be paid $50 for taking down all trees and will be paid $2 a linear foot for wooden fence constructed, also $4 per square yard for slope paving which is to be done.

The reason for this award in Coleridge street is that this contractor now has that part of the street, between Wordsworth and Byron streets, under contract, and it is to the city's advantage that the section of Coleridge street, between Wordsworth and Rice streets, be given to this contractor at the present time as he will complete the entire street this year.

The approximate amount for this work will be $3,000.

Respectfully,
C. J. CARVEN,
Commissioner of Public Works.

Boston, September 6, 1933.

To the Mayor of Boston.

Your permission is respectfully requested to the award of a contract for the construction of artificial stone sidewalks in the public streets, without advertising, to Hugh Nawn, Incorporated, 77 Floydell street, Roxbury, on the ground that this contractor is not selected by the city in the first instance but by the abutters; secondly, the expense of construction is to be divided by the city and abutters; and also because such contracts vary greatly in amounts and seldom involve one thousand (1,000) dollars.

Respectfully yours,

C. J. CARVEN,
Commissioner of Public Works.

Boston, October 20, 1933.

To the Mayor of Boston.

Permission is respectfully requested to the award of a contract, without advertising, for the construction of artificial stone sidewalks in the public streets to M. Spinelli & Sons Company, Incorporated, 333 Washington street, Boston, on the ground that this contractor is not selected by the city in the first instance but by the abutters; secondly, the expense of construction is to be divided by the city and abutters; and also because such contracts vary greatly in amounts and seldom involve one thousand (1,000) dollars.

Respectfully yours,

C. J. CARVEN,
Commissioner of Public Works.

Boston, October 30, 1933.

To the Mayor of Boston.

Your approval is respectfully requested to the award of a contract, without advertising, to Simpson Brothers Corporation for laying asphalt pavement in Adams street, Dorchester, from King street to Centre street, at an estimated cost of $1,300. The pavement in this section of Adams street was destroyed recently by the bursting of a water main. Adams street is within the limits of Simpson Brothers' contract for asphalt patching, and the prices to be paid for this replacement are identical with those in the asphalt patching contract.

Yours respectfully,

C. J. CARVEN,
Commissioner of Public Works.

Boston, October 30, 1933.

To the Mayor of Boston.

Your approval is respectfully requested to the award of a contract, without advertising, to the Simpson Brothers Corporation for replacing the asphalt pavement destroyed by the breaking of a water main in Washington street, city proper, from Water street about 300 feet northerly. The estimated amount of this contract is $2,500, and the unit prices to be paid are identical with those in the contract of the Simpson Brothers Corporation for repairing asphalt pavement in the section of the city including this portion of Washington street.

Yours respectfully,

C. J. CARVEN,
Commissioner of Public Works.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT (Sewer Service).

Boston, November 1, 1933.

To the Mayor of Boston:

Your approval is respectfully requested to the award of a contract, without advertising, to the Boston Engineering Company, Incorporated, 308 Atlantic avenue, Boston, for repairing the No. 5 engine at the Calf Pasture pumping station, at an estimated cost of $1,250.

This engine is now out of commission, due to a break-down, and as it is the most important engine at the plant it is absolutely necessary that it be restored to service at the earliest possible time. Invitation bids were requested from the Boston Engineering Company, Incorporated, which quoted this price of $1,250 and from the Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corporation, Limited, which agreed to do the work for $1,495.

In our opinion the price quoted is fair and reasonable.

Yours respectfully,

C. J. CARVEN,
Commissioner of Public Works.

JAMAICA SPENDS $1,000,000 ANNUALLY ON ROAD CONSTRUCTION AND MAINTENANCE.

Jamaica, an English possession, has a highway system which is almost entirely constructed of waterbound macadam, some 70 miles of which has been surface-treated. Many of the roads are under the supervision of the Department of Public Works and various parochial boards. There are about 2,500 miles of bridle and foot paths. The highway system connects all parts of the island in a very satisfactory manner, and the problem is not that of the construction of new roads, but the improvement of old ones, the surfacing and widening of these roads, and protective coatings. The roads are well maintained and, as there are not many heavy trucks, the maintenance is satisfactory. There are approximately 4,000 miles of highways, or 1.11 square miles of area to one mile of highway.

About a million dollars per year is spent on new construction and maintenance, the machinery used being both European and American.
